LOUIS JEITZ SUCCEUMS IN DOCTOR'S ARMS

Aged Veteran and Stone Mason Died While in Physician's Office Where He Went for Consultation.

Louis Jeitz, for many years a resident of Honesdale, died suddenly of heart trouble in the office of Dr. L. B. Nielsen, on Tenth street, about 5:30 Friday afternoon.

Mr. Jeitz had not been feeling well of late, having just returned from Carbondale, where he spent the past two weeks. When Dr. Nielsen came home from a call he found Mr. Jeitz on the porch of his office. A chair was on the porch in which he waited part of the time, but was walking on the porch when the doctor arrived. Mr. Jeitz walked from his home at 1530 West street to Dr. Nielsen's. The doctor invited Mr. Jeitz in his office. The latter stated that he did not feel very well and came down to be "looked over." Dr. Nielsen asked him if he had walked down, to which Mr. Jeitz replied that he had. He told him that he ought not to have done so. While in conversation with him the doctor got Mr. Jeitz's consent to have the liver taken him home. Dr. Nielsen then felt Mr. Jeitz's pulse, which was beating rapidly. He also sounded his heart and that too was irregular, but did not murmur, indicating valvular trouble. Mr. Jeitz then told the doctor that he needed more air. In response to his request the windows of the office were raised. This did not appease Mr. Jeitz. Remarking to Dr. Nielsen that he must get outside to breathe easily, he started for the door. The doctor took his arm and assisted him. As he approached the doorway he gave a gasp and fell backwards, dying in Dr. Nielsen's arms. A hypodermic was injected in Mr. Jeitz's arm, but it was of no avail. Death had conquered. The doctor phoned Coroner P. B. Peterson who claimed an inquest was unnecessary.

Louis Jeitz was a son of Louis and Mary Jeitz. He was born Jan. 24, 1843 in Germany and at the age of eight years came to Honesdale with his parents. He was a stone mason by trade and was an industrious workman. Mr. Jeitz was a member of Company F, 97th Pennsylvania Volunteers. After the close of the War his entire time was spent at his trade. He was a member of Captain James Ham Post.

Mr. Jeitz is survived by his wife, who was nee Barbara Weiser and the following children: Mrs. George Malfeld, of Carbondale; Mrs. William Willis, of Brooklyn; Mrs. Gustave Denke, of Rockville Center, N. Y.; Louis, of Texas; Walter, of Detroit, Mich.; Charles at home; also by two brothers and one sister, namely, Richard, of New York; Charles of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Frank Wetz, of Scranton.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the house at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. H. Swift, D. D., officiating. Interment was made in the German Lutheran cemetery. The pallbearers were Graham Watts, E. J. Cook, Earl Sherwood, W. W. Wood, Henry Parish and Peter Collum.

The Department of Child Study held one session and the Department of Nature Study, one session.

Secretary of Internal Affairs, Henry Houck, delivered the address of welcome at the opening of the general session at 2 p. m. Thursday and Supt. Brumbaugh of Philadelphia responded. Dr. Brumbaugh laid much stress on the inspirational benefit derived by educators in attending large educational gatherings. He also emphasized the fact that the school is LIFE as well as preparation for life.

Dr. Frecht, secretary of the State Board of Education, delivered an address, a president of the association, which he mentioned the need of federal aid for teaching agriculture, the need of a permanent state school fund and the equalization of educational opportunities by means of added appropriations to districts that can not care for themselves. HARRY THOMAS LOCATED AT ALDENVILLE.

When He Heard That His Mother Cried for Him in Delirium Young Thomas Hastened to Her Bedside.

The Citizen published a story in its last issue to the effect that Mrs. Thomas Thomas, of Scranton, was very ill and in her delirium called for her son Harry, who it was claimed was either in LaPlume or Honesdale. Thomas had been in Honesdale, but later went to Aldenville. It was here that he saw a paper containing the article of his mother's illness and how she yearned for his return home. The son went to Scranton, embraced his mother and the glad home coming may mean the speedy recovery of the sick mother.

J. J. BIPPUS TAKES HIS LIFE

Port Jervis Merchant and Prominent Citizen Committed Suicide on Saturday Afternoon.

Jacob J. Bippus, for many years one of Port Jervis' most prominent business men, took his life in his home last Saturday afternoon by inhaling illuminating gas. Mr. Bippus was found in the bathroom, his wife, who was Kate Lohman, formerly of this place, being at the home of her mother here. Mrs. Bippus left Honesdale Saturday night at 6:30 and drove overland to Cochecton where she took the 2:40 Erie train Sunday morning for Port Jervis. Mrs. Bippus left home last Thursday and her husband went to the Erie train and bid her good-bye.

It was first thought that Mr. Bippus' death was caused by apoplexy but Port Jervis relatives now state that it was suicide.

Mr. Bippus was deeply interested financially in a number of Port Jervis enterprises. It is presumed that these weighed heavily upon his mind and in a fit of despondency chose this method of doing away with his life.

Mr. Bippus was well known in Honesdale, having visited here upon different occasions. He is survived by his wife.

Mr. H. S. Salmon, cashier of the Wayne County Savings Bank, to-day, Monday, January 20, celebrated the fortieth year of his connection with that institution and also his fifteenth year as its cashier.

The bank was organized on November 1, 1871, and a year and a quarter later Mr. Salmon began his duties there as a clerk. When he entered the bank, and that was about fifteen months after the organization, the deposits were $206,000; the capital stock $25,000, and the resources were $240,000. That was in January, 1873.

At that time Mr. H. C. Hand was the cashier of the bank and when he was elected as its president in 1898, Mr. Salmon succeeded to the cashiership. At the time when he was made cashier the deposits of the bank had grown to $1,160,000. The capital stock had increased to $100,000 and the surplus and undivided profits were reckoned at $100,500. The total resources were $1,370,000. Mr. Salmon was born in Susquehanna on August 24, 1854. His grandfather came up the Delaware and Hudson canal in the early sixties. Mr. Salmon made his home in Port Jervis for a number of years and came to Honesdale in 1869. He has always been actively engaged in building up the business of the bank and has succeeded to a great extent in that effort.

As proof of this the last financial statement of the Wayne County Savings Bank for the past year is produced. During 1912 over $66,000 in interest was paid to depositors on savings deposits which was an increase over last year. The total deposits of the bank, of which Mr. Salmon has been the efficient cashier for fifteen years, at the close of business of the past year, were $2,521,000. The capital stock was $200,000. The surplus and undivided profits amounted to $384,700. The resources were figured at $3,087,900.

Mr. Salmon has always been interested in civic and industrial development of Honesdale. He was a school director for fifteen years and held the position as secretary of the board for fourteen years. He is now and has been for the last twenty years one of the trustees of the Presbyterian church. The friends of Mr. Salmon will agree with us when we say that he has made a remarkable record during the forty years he has been connected with the bank.

HONSDALE AXES WIN IN CONTEST

The G. White Axe Selected by the Virginia and Rainy Lake Company Against All Other Brands.

Honesdale is always at the front. Its industrial banner is in the lead on all occasions, in all zones and also in every state in the United States. Honesdale made goods and articles are known from coast to coast and from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada. They are always in great demand and in thousands of cities and localities where Honesdale quality goods are shipped the buyers will take no substitute, the name "Honesdale" must in some manner be identified with the manufactured article.

Every day our manufacturers receive complimentary and encouraging letters from their patrons and the trade concerning their goods which are made in Honesdale. One of the latest is from The Virginia and Rainy Lake Company, of Virginia, Minn., one of the largest lumber manufacturers in the country. This company has a daily capacity of 1,000,000 feet shipments. Through The G. White Axe Co.'s western representative ten dozen doublebit axes, made by the G. White Axe company, Honesdale, Pa., were placed in competition against all the axes in the country and won out.

Honesdale against the country! What an advertisement for the town where the first locomotive, on the American continent turned a wheel. It was the Stourbridge Lion, in Honesdale on August 8, 1829, on the Delaware and Hudson railroad.

UNCLE SAM'S DOUBLE DIES.

Col. Ellsworth N. Phelps, of Connecticut, Victim of Short Illness.

Hartford, Conn.—Colonel Ellsworth N. Phelps, Windsor's best known citizen, who blocked traffic in Pennsylvania avenue when he first visited Washington, D. C., because of his remarkable resemblance to the accepted type of caricature of "Uncle Sam," died at his home in Windsor Friday after a short illness.

Colonel Phelps who was born February 9, 1826, in the same house in which he died, was with General Phil Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley and he rode that memorable 20 miles in Winchester with Sheridan until his horse collapsed.

He was more than six feet tall and as straight as a ramrod. With his carefully cropped chin whiskers and his Yankee wit, uttered with an inimitable "way down East" drawl, he was just what the artist-likes to portray as "Uncle Sam."

WILL EXTEND ELECTRIC LINE IN SULLIVAN.

Believing that it will be for the best interest of a popular summer resort section, the Public Service Commission, Friday, authorized the Liberty & Callicoon railroad to extend its tracks from the New York Ontario & Western station in Liberty, to Jeffersonville. This will make accessible several pretty little villages within a radius of 14 miles of the starting place and let out large quantities of farm produce in the county of Sullivan. An issue of $200,000 common stock and $250,000 six per cent. 25-year first mortgage gold bonds is authorized for the work.

SCHULTZ HEIRS GET $150,000

Three Sons of Schultz, the Wife Murderer, Who Was Hanged in Milford in 1897, to Divide the Legacy—Want Adv. Lucky.

Through the publication of an advertisement in the "personal" column of the New York Deutsche Journal in which information was asked of the whereabouts of Herman Paul Schultz (the only murderer ever hanged in Pike county) or his heirs three families will receive $150,000. The advertisement also led to the clearing of the mystery regarding the paternal ancestry of the three families, for until its publication they were in ignorance of the history of their family.

The families are those of Charles Edwin Schultz of No. 16 Russell Place, Brooklyn; William Schultz of No. 1584 Avenue A, Brooklyn, and Paul Schultz of No. 434 East 83rd street, New York city. Negotiations through the German Consul, New York city, and Herr Gerhard Hermann of Nowawes, near Potsdam, Germany, are about completed and soon the heirs will get possession of their property.

The $150,000 is one-half of the estate of Gottlieb Schultz, a felt manufacturer, who died in Germany in 1905. He willed his property to his daughter, Miss Clara Schultz, and his son, Herman Paul Schultz. The son had left home years before and since the manufacturer's death repeated efforts have been made to find him. They personal located the sons, and brought out the story of their father's base crime and his exploitation on the galleys, and the grandchildren will receive his share of the estate.

Schultz Murder Recalled.

Herman Paul Schultz was a name that was notorious sixteen years ago, for he shot and killed his wife while the latter was living in Pike county. There was but little evidence to connect him with the crime until a New York city newspaper investigated the case and Schultz was finally brought to justice. He was hanged in December, 1897, in the county jail here.

Schultz had been a prosperous tailor in New York, but his domestic relations were tempestuous. Once while living on Ninth avenue he tried to kill his wife by setting fire to her bed. She left him and went with her son to work at the High Point Farm House in Shohola township, then conducted by John Wohlforth. The husband appeared one day in September, 1896, and murdered her as she slept that night. He never informed his sons of any facts in regard to his family.—Milford Dispatch.
