Superintendent Frank H. Eisele of the Honesdale Consolidated Electric Light, Heat and Power company is working on a plan that will be a great benefit to our merchants and townspeople. It is the purpose of the electric light company to furnish electricity to the business places on Main street for illuminating purposes from dusk to midnight at a flat rate. The operating that is turning off and on will be taken care of by the electric light company by means of switches. A partial canvas of the town was made on Wednesday by Superintendent Eisele and N. B. Spencer of the Business Men's Association and Mr. Eisele told a Citizen representative that about 90 per cent. of the places visited favored the project. It should be supported by every business place on Main street.

Are you running shy of nickels? If you are, don't worry, for the mint will have a supply of the new ones within the next week. All you will need to secure them is an equivalent in the coin favored by Uncle Sam. Don't be alarmed and think that some one is trying to palm off a counterfeit on you when you notice that they are different in design from those usually accepted by the trolley car conductor. The new coins were designed by J. E. Fraiser, a New York artist. On one side is the reproduction of the head of an Indian. At the top is the word "Liberty," and at the bottom the year. On the other side appears the figure of a buffalo and the denomination of the coin. The design is severely simple, and is regarded by treasury officials as one of the most artistic pieces ever turned out.

HARRISBURG LETTER

Harrisburg, Jan. 23.—The reform measures in which the Republican state convention was pledged in the platform adopted on May 1, at Harrisburg, were introduced in the house by S. B. Scott of Philadelphia; John R. Jones and T. H. Walnut, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Humes, Crawford, put in a resolution which fixed Jan. 28 as the time for electing the rules committee and providing that each member may vote for two members.

The bills are: Public utilities, child labor, female workers, department of charities, non-partisan ballot and election reforms, and the constitutional convention resolution. Drafts of the bills have been published freely within the past few weeks, publicity having been one of the methods adopted by the Republican state committee in fostering interest for the bills. Briefly the public utilities bill is to be enforced by a commission that will have wide powers in compelling public service.

Child Labor Bill. It was evident today that the first split over reform measures will come over the bill for a convention to draft a new state constitution. This bill is favored by the Independent Republicans and the Democrats have appointed a committee to help it along. The regular Republicans will stand out against a constitutional convention, having decided to sustain the position taken by Governor Tener, that needed changes can be made by amendments to the constitution. The "regulars," it became known today are counting on the senate to defeat the measure should it pass the house.

Other Bills. Among other bills introduced were the following: Dunn, Huntingdon—An anti-treating bill; provides penalty of $500 to $5,000 for holder of liquor license who permits treating.

Walter, Philadelphia—Establishing a county court in Philadelphia. Dunn, Philadelphia—Putting cold storage plants under supervision of the state, and prohibiting storage of food for more than three months.

Baldwin—Requiring jury lists to be printed in pamphlet form. Baldwin, Delaware—Creating office of county controller in counties of 100,000 population and over.

The house today adopted a resolution by Barnes, Democrat, of Cumberland, asking the state highway department to report expenditures and work done.

Wolle's Recital A Phenomenal Success. There can be no doubt about the great pleasure of the large audience that greeted Dr. J. Fred Wolle, famous disciple of Bach and organist of Salem Lutheran church, Bethlehem, Pa. The large assemblage in St. John's Lutheran church, Tuesday evening, evidently came in an expectant response to the attractive program announced and was on the alert to get the fullest enjoyment.

For a program, that provided for the performance of selections from Bach, Beethoven's "Minuet," Liebstod from "Tristan and Isolde," by Wagner, Handel's "Gavotte," etc., was surely attractive to the lover of good music.

It was a joyful gathering that listened to the recital and there were cordial manifestations of delight. Wolle is an artist and his interpretation of the selections he rendered was marked by a rarely discriminating delicacy.

The program was not long, but sufficiently varied in character to satisfy at once the most critical and diversified of tastes. Volkmen's "Lay of the Hero" was smoothly given with great declaration. Indeed, the player's heart from beginning of the program to the end was near his fingertips. When Mr. Wolle was asked what he thought of the new organ, he said: "The two manual organ on which I gave the inaugural recital last night in the Lutheran church, was built by M. P. Maller of Hagerstown, Md. The action is tubular pneumatic and therefore quick, responsive and easy. The individual stops are characteristically varied, so there is a real charm in the flute and string qualities. The diapason tone is ample in breadth and strength, and the pedal is full-toned. The very soft stops are of delicious delicacy. In general, there is no doubt that the instrument will meet all legitimate demands made upon it, either for church or recital use."

William Daniels, of White Mills, purchased of Mrs. T. E. Callaway the latter's property on Dyberry Place Wednesday afternoon. Consideration private. The lot is 60x150 feet upon which is located a large two and a half story frame dwelling also a summer kitchen, 16x24.

Mr. Daniels takes possession Feb. 15. His son-in-law, Joseph Sonner, who now occupies the house at the corner of High street and Dyberry Place, will move into the rooms to be vacated by Mrs. Callaway. Mr. Daniels intending to occupy the corner house himself. His family consists of his wife and four sons. Mr. Daniels intends to erect a large porch on the front and side of the corner house property.

Mrs. Callaway and son, C. R. Callaway have leased rooms in flat No. 6 of the Dunard brick block. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Callaway expect to occupy their new home at the corner of East and Fourteenth streets March 1st.

William B. Ammerman visited his son, Roy, of Wilkes-Barre, on Thursday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tuttle, of the East Side, returned home Friday evening from Port Jervis.

The shareholders of the Hawley bank on Thursday afternoon elected the following directors: T. F. Mangan, William Schardt, M. J. Leonard, James Drake, P. J. Bower, Isaac Male, Peter Corcoran, and C. P. Nell, of Hawley; Walter Vetterlein, of Paupack; Walter Keesler, of Glen Eyre; Miles C. Rowland, of Kimble; Daniel Hatton and Samuel Vennie, Jr., of Blooming Grove, and Frank Fetherman, of Newfoundland.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Broadhead were at Montrose recently. J. D. Blaisure, of East Dimock, was here Monday.

J. G. Cart is spending the week in Montrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Green were recent guests at Francis Bedella's. Mrs. M. L. Blaescker is spending a few days with Montrose friends. Samuel Katz and H. Horowitz, of Montrose, were business men here Tuesday.

In St. John's Lutheran church, services will be as follows on Sunday, Jan. 26: 10:30 a. m. German sermon, "Das Himmelreich in Gleichnissen"; 11:45 a. m. Bible school; 7:30 p. m. "Secret Sins."

At the mid-week prayer meeting at the chapel of the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening Rev. Ferdinand Von Krug, Presbyterian missionary from Wyoming, spoke on the work among the foreign elements of this state. He spoke in a general way on the work being done to educate them and the establishing of churches among them. It was a very interesting talk.

HONESDALE GUESTS ROYALLY ENTERTAINED.

Miles Rowland, of Kimbles, a director in the Hawley bank of that place, royally entertained 36 of his friends at a sumptuous dinner given at the Park View Hotel, Hawley, Tuesday evening. The dinner was given in honor of the Hawley bank reaching the $200,000 mark on deposits.

Thomas Mangan, president of that institution, was toastmaster. Director Rowland and his guests, the following being from Honesdale, enjoyed a several course dinner nicely served by Mrs. Chris. Lehman: Dr. H. B. Ely, W. F. Riefler, Joseph Fisch, Clarence Wright, E. W. Gammell, L. A. Howell, S. A. McMullen, William Metzgar, J. A. Bodie, Jr., F. A. Jenkins, H. G. Rowland and P. H. Skelton.

Theodore Middlestead, of New York City, joined the Honesdale delegation. Impromptu speeches were made by all present. Oschmann brothers, singers, entertained between the courses. Chorus singing was also enjoyed by the banqueters. The following menu was deftly served:

- Oyster coctail in glasses
Celery Radishes Olives
Green Turtle Soup Force Meat Balls Rolls
Salmon Croquettes Wafers
Roast Turkey Dressing
Lettuce Giblet Gravy Tomatoes
Craberry Sauce Asparagus Tips
Browned Sweets Mashed Potatoes
Browned Nuts

Neapolitan Ice Cream Strawberries Cakes Coffee

The affair was one of the finest ever given in Hawley and the Honesdale guests speak in words of highest praise of their host and the excellent menu prepared by Mrs. Lehman. Eight of the Honesdale guests were conveyed in E. W. Gammell's auto truck.

AUTO LICENSE MONEY FOR STATE ROADS. Harrisburg, Jan. 23.—Senator W. C. Sprouls' interest in the good roads movement was accentuated today by the presentation of two bills which will divert to the State Highway Department the money collected from automobile licenses.

At present there is an accumulated fund from such licenses which aggregates about $1,800,000 in the State treasury available for this purpose, and Senator Sprouls' bills will not only make this money immediately available, but will put at the disposal of the State Highway Commissioner immediately all future payments for automobile licenses.
