A divorce was granted Monday to Libbie M. Blanchard, of Winwood, from her husband, George W. Blanchard. The couple were married June 5, 1880, but separated a few years ago. The charge was cruel and barbarous treatment.

The following letters remain at the Honesdale postoffice unclaimed: U. G. Cool, Horace Geer, Grace Jones, Mrs. Bertha Lee, Glen Sergeant, August Sheridan, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Mary Williams. Persons calling for above will say "Advertised." Martin B. Allen, Postmaster.

Phelix Zuson, of Forest City, employed as a miner in the Northwest mine was admitted to Emergency hospital, Carbondale, Monday afternoon, suffering from a compound fracture of the leg and a fractured arm. Zuson was caught under a fall of rock while engaged in loading a car. His condition is not considered serious.

James O. Mumford, son of E. C. Mumford, who has been a student of the University of Pennsylvania, has successfully passed the examination of the State Board of Law Examiners which was held in Philadelphia recently. Mr. Mumford is now prepared to enter the bar of Wayne county. The Citizen's congratulations are heartily extended.

Fred G. Weniger has purchased the grocery store on Main street recently conducted by E. E. Lawyer and took possession Tuesday. The new proprietor has some mercantile experience, having been a clerk in this store several years ago when it was owned by the Co-operative company. Since that time, however, he had been engaged in the carting business.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the new musical play, "The Girl of My Dreams" at the Lyric on Wednesday evening. It was one of the cleanest and cleverest comedies that has ever visited the Marble City. John Hyams and Lella McIntyre, the leading characters, supported by a large cast, proved themselves the captivating amusement of the season. The play proved itself a winner and would draw a large house were the management to receive a return date.

County Commissioners John Male, Earl Rockwell and Neville Holgate have been in session since Monday, engaged in straightening out difficulties in the assessments of property in the various townships of Wayne county. There have been comparatively few revisions made in the townships already considered. The assessment of Honesdale of $2,223,895 may be a trifle lower, but taking the county as a whole, the assessment will stand about as it was last year. The county levy for 1913 is 4 mills.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania State College, held January 20, Prof. R. L. Watts was elected Dean of the School of Agriculture and Director of the Pennsylvania Experiment Station. Prof. Carl W. Larson, former Assistant Professor of Dairy Husbandry, was made Professor in that department, to fill the position recently made vacant by the resignation of Professor Van Norman.

The tuberculosis exhibit was opened to the public Wednesday afternoon in the city hall. The exhibit was advertised to be ready Tuesday but was delayed one day in transit. Dr. W. C. Miller of the state health department, is in charge of the exhibit, which contains many things of interest and gives one an idea of the work being carried on for the prevention of that disease. Maps of state institutions where tuberculosis patients are taken adorn the walls. In parts of the room are model houses and tents used by patients. The work of the department of the laboratory is also an interesting study. Dr. Miller lectured in Hawley Wednesday night. Thursday afternoon an illustrated lecture was given in the High school and this evening Dr. Miller will speak on the work of the department in the High school auditorium. The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon views.

The redemption of state bonds to the extent of $2,950 leaves but $6,000 of the 4 per cent. issue of 1911 outstanding, and they are held by a resident of Bermuda. Just a year ago the State called the bonds of the issue, amounting to $1,644,400, of which $1,112,150 were 4 per cent. and $532,250 3 1/2 per cents. All of the 3 1/2 per cents. have been paid off. The State debt now amounts to $657,100.02, of which $500,000 are what is known as agricultural college bonds and bear 6 per cent. They have some time to run. The balance is made up of old loans on which interest ceased long ago and which have been called time and again. One of these loans dates from 1821 and amounts to $230. No one knows where it is held. Of the 1841, $96,093 is outstanding and interest ceased about forty years ago. At present the State has $100,000 over and above its bonded debt and could pay off every cent if the holders of the securities would present them for redemption.

ENGINEER STRIKE VOTE

TO BE KNOWN SATURDAY. New York, Feb. 5.—All of the votes in the strike ballot now being counted by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers on the fifty-four eastern railroads will have been received by Saturday night, according to a statement made by T. Shea, assistant to President W. S. Carter, of the Brotherhood. Mr. Carter is expected here Sunday, when the result of the ballot probably will be in hand. Mr. Shea would not say what the votes already received indicated, but it is reported from other sources that eighty per cent. of the members favor a strike unless the railroads grant their demands.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HELD AT WAYMART.

The local institute for the teachers of Waymart, Canaan, South Canaan, Prompton and Clinton was held in the High school building at Waymart on Friday evening and Saturday, Jan. 31, and Feb. 1, 1913.

Dr. La Rue, of Stroudsburg, gave a lecture Friday evening which was well attended considering the weather.

Saturday morning the session opened by singing "Mount Vernon Bells." The chairman then introduced Dr. La Rue who gave a talk upon the subject of "Primary Reading."

Perceiving must precede pronouncing. The child's eye must be able to look ahead of what he is pronouncing. Most children do not hear enough reading. Reading is thinking the thought of the page and also feeling it. Hesitancy in reading shows a mechanical pronunciation of words. To the child, reading is like translating a foreign language. The child's resources are instincts and abilities. The child should be able to express himself. They must be able to talk well before we can hope to have them read well.

He then spoke of the methods of teaching Primary reading, the alphabetic method, teaching the letters of the alphabet first. The phonic method, teaching the sounds of which the words is composed. The phonetic method, teaching use of diacritical marks. The Word method, teaching words at sight. The child is unable to do much studying by himself, therefore most of the child's studying should be done in close with the teacher.

Miss Gleason then gave a short talk upon State College. She spoke of the different courses of study of the advantages derived from them and the expenses of the six weeks' course during the summer.

The morning session then came to a close. The afternoon session opened promptly at 1:30 p. m. by singing "The Blue Bells of Scotland." Mr. Koehler gave a short talk on "Phonics in Primary Reading." If the sounds are taught it will materially help the child in spelling. The child must be able to recognize the old in the new. A great deal of written work should be done, as written work teaches exactness. Many examples were given upon the black board.

A paper upon "Primary Geography" was then read by Miss Miller. A short discussion followed. Miss Palmer read a paper upon "The Teacher's Problem." The teacher's problem is the pupil,—the material with which the teacher has to work. A teacher should be careful of her language, personal appearance and habits so that a good example may be set before the pupils. Mr. Koehler then discussed Miss Palmer's paper. One of the most important examples the teacher can set before the pupils is her use of correct English. Do not use unnecessary adjectives and interjections in their presence. Never use sarcasm. It is more than harmful to the pupils. It has a tendency to make the child sullen and they may form a habit of being sarcastic with their companions.

A paper upon "The Recitation" was read by Philip Nolan. The results of the recitation depend upon the preparation. This paper was discussed by Mr. Koehler and Mr. Howell.

Miss Hauenstein then gave a talk upon Literature. Mr. Koehler then explained a point in Arithmetic which sometimes was not perfectly plain to the pupils. He then gave a lesson in Civics, taking as his subject "The Election of President and Vice-President." He spoke of old time methods of election of these officers and that of the present time. He also gave his experience as a presidential elector, how he received his commission, and the mode of procedure necessary in the election.

The Institute was then closed, the teachers all feeling that they had spent a very pleasant and profitable day.

GIBSON'S NEW TRIAL IN MAY.

Attorney Elder Visits Man Accused of Killing Rosa Szabo.

Goshen, Feb. 6.—Burton W. Gibson, who is confined in the county jail here awaiting a second trial on the charge of causing the death by strangulation of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, while they were out in a boat on Greenwood Lake on July 16, received a visit from his attorney, Robert H. Elder of New York, yesterday.

This was Elder's first visit to Goshen since the jury was discharged by Judge Tompkins after they failed to agree last November.

District Attorney J. D. Wilson, Jr., stated that Gibson would be tried again on the same charge at Newburgh next May.

VASSAR GIRL LOST IN LAKE.

Miss Mylod Drowned in Coasting Accident—Four Others Rescued.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Five young women, seniors of Vassar college, were borne down Sunset hill last night in a toboggan that crashed through the ice of the artificial lake on the Vassar campus. One of them, Miss Elizabeth B. Mylod, twenty-one years old, daughter of John J. Mylod, corporation counsel and Democratic leader of Poughkeepsie, was caught under the frozen surface of the water and drowned.

Heroic aid came to the other girls from a classmate, Miss Phoebe Briggs, a daughter of Dr. William L. Briggs of Sacramento, Cal. An expert swimmer and athlete, she plunged into the icy water and drew four of the young women to the ice's edge. There they were able to cling until Professor George B. Shattuck pushed out a plank and dragged them to safety.

Besides Miss Mylod, the girls on the toboggan were Mildred Kenniston, daughter of Fred A. Kenniston of Cambridge, Mass.; Myra Hulst, daughter of C. J. Hulst of New Hamburg, N. Y.; Laura Reiner, daughter of John Reiner of Kingston, N. Y., and Annie J. Oldham, daughter of J. R. Oldham of Cleveland, O.

Professor Shattuck heard the cries in his laboratory and hastened to the lake. He tore away one of the "danger" planks and thrust it out to the imperiled young women. Then he crawled out on the plank and drew the girls one by one out of the water.

Miss Mylod's father was informed, and gardeners and other attendants were put at the work of breaking the ice and dredging for her body. After an hour it was found.

WILSON AT WORK ON SPEECH

Inaugural Address to Be Ready Ten Days Before Ceremonies.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 6.—President Elect Wilson began work on his inaugural address today.

He said last night he had not yet put his mind to it and was unable to say whether he would set forth general principles by which he wishes those associated with him to be guided or would make specific recommendations respecting legislation. The governor expects that the document will be in the hands of the printer at least ten days before the inauguration.

When Governor Wilson was asked if he desired to express any opinion in regard to a scheme to guarantee the deposits in national banks such as has been reported to be a feature of the banking and currency bills now being prepared by a house subcommittee, of which Representative Carter Glass is chairman, he said he did not add and that this phase of the banking question had not been touched upon during the two conferences which he has had with Mr. Glass. He said: "I have just received from Mr. Glass a letter in which he states that the report that the bills in his charge contain a provision for a scheme of bank deposit guaranteed is entirely without foundation and that the alleged resumes of the bills are entirely fictional."

The governor added that it had been remembered that the house committee which is now handling this matter of banking and currency may not be the committee to have it in charge during the next administration.

BURGLAR TRAPS HIMSELF.

Robs Saloon and Then Yields to Craving Thirst.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—"Every saloon its own burglar trap" is the triumphant slogan of Gustave Feldman, a saloon keeper of 567 West Madison street. Opening for business he found Bill Littner, of repute among crooks, stretched out in a deep sleep on the floor of his place with a bag of loot and all available cash prepared for transportation.

Bill's breath was the answer.
