The insurance on the T. D. O'Connell building has been adjusted and Mr. O'Connell is now making extensive repairs on same. The floors of the stores occupied by Michael Galvin and Harry Deck are being lowered 30 inches by Contractor E. D. Pearce. New and modern front display windows will also be installed.

While driving from Deposit, N. Y., to Sherman, on Monday last, George Reigles narrowly escaped death. While descending a hill with a load of coal the wagon slurred and the whole outfit were precipitated over a 50-foot embankment. Mr. Reigles had a leg and shoulder injured. One of the horses was killed.

Emerson W. Gammell delivered to W. B. Holmes a 1913 model Overland car on Wednesday. Mr. Gammell drove the car from Scranton to Honesdale in two and a half hours. The machine is a beauty and is equipped with electric lights, electric self-starter, engine tire pump, etc. Agent Gammell went to Scranton again on Thursday to deliver a similar machine to another business man here.

"The Traveling Salesman," J. Forbes' latest comedy which will be at the Lyric to-night, is a first-class play. It is the first play written that takes the thoroughly American character, the drummer, as the central figure. That Mr. Forbes' delineation of the "night of the grip" is true to life is evidenced by the fact that it has received the endorsement of the United Commercial Travelers and the Travelers' Protective Association.

Taylor Daily and Frank Wilmarth, glass cutters employed in Krantz & Smith's factory, had a warrant sworn out Wednesday for George Miller, a glass cutter working in the Union Cut Glass shop. A hearing was held Thursday morning before Squire Smith. Miller is charged with disorderly conduct, having, it is alleged, called the defendants vile names from the shop windows as they passed on their way to work in the Krantz & Smith factory. Miller denied the charges and brought witnesses to show that he was not in the shop Wednesday at the time Daily and Wilmarth passed the Union shop. Attorney Mumford, who represented Miller, advised for a settlement of the difficulties for all time. The case is a trivial one and has no business in the courts of Wayne county. Squire Smith deferred his decision for a few days.

Chester Lord, who for 41 years has been in the service of the New York Sun, has resigned. He has been managing editor since 1880 and was appointed to that position by Charles Dana, the founder of the Sun.

Howard McAllister, engineer, of Port Jervis, is manning the engine of the Honesdale Erie passenger train this week. No. 363 comes out of the shop on Friday practically a new locomotive and will hereafter be run on the branch by Engineer Michael F. Fritz.

Grangers are requested to make the apple and corn display to be held in Odd Fellows' hall next Tuesday the best ever shown. Hon. W. T. Creasy, master granger, will be in Honesdale on Tuesday and address the Pomona that evening. By all means plan to be present.

Archie Blain and Mrs. Bessie Hofner, of Texas township, were arraigned before Squire Ham Tuesday afternoon. They were charged with a statutory offense. Blain was sent to jail to await the action of the March grand jury while Mrs. Hofner secured bail for her appearance at court.

Fred LaPoint and Adam Briedenbaker got into a disagreement on the street Tuesday evening which resulted in a few disfigurements for Adam. Before Squire Smith Wednesday morning they decided to settle their differences by LaPoint paying the costs of about $3.40 and $10 to Adam.

Monday was the last day for filing liquor licenses and seventy-three applications were filed with Prothonotary Barnes. There are two new applicants for hotels, Horace H. Hoyle, of Dyberry and John and W. E. Callahan of Lehigh. Several remonstrances will probably be filed against the new houses and many of the old places.

Over eighty news bills swept into the house Tuesday night, embracing twenty-four different subjects. Six related to liquor traffic and about thirty carried appropriations. The House passed but three of the bills on final passage. They limited the hours of employment of fire bosses in anthracite mines; validated sales in orphans' court proceedings and regulated payment of jury fees in trials.

A very enjoyable luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. M. J. Mitchell, Scranton, in honor of her guest, Mrs. E. E. White, of Hollisterville. Mrs. Mitchell was assisted in serving by her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Long. Those present were: Mrs. C. E. White, Hollisterville; Mrs. M. J. Mitchell, Mrs. A. W. Long, Miss Martha Davenport, Mrs. Fred Berry, Mrs. Fred Bidwell, Mrs. D. W. Hornbake, Miss Irene White, Mrs. Geo. Noack, Mrs. Fred McFarland.

Rev. A. S. Anspacher, Ph. D., for twelve years pastor of Aushe Chessed congregation in Scranton and well known in Honesdale, has resigned to accept a call from the Mt. Nebo congregation on Washington Heights, New York. The congregation to which Rabbi Anspacher is called is one of the most important in New York, with a field much larger than the one in Scranton. At present the congregation worships in a synagogue on One Hundred and Fifty-second street. He expects to leave Scranton in the middle of June.

The Paupack Power company, of Hawley, through a letter from their secretary, L. W. Henley, of Scranton, made known to council of Carbonate Tuesday evening their desire to furnish electricity in that city. They also sent a draft of an ordinance they wished council to act upon. The matter was referred to the city solicitor and the light, fire and water committee, and the city clerk was instructed to notify the officials of the company when the matter was to be taken up by the committee in order that they might be represented.

A bill granting to the Delaware and Hudson company for railroad and depot purposes, a piece of land containing about one acre in Canaan township, was introduced in the Senate Tuesday night by Senator Walter McNichols of Scranton. The piece of land is part of the large tract given by the D. & H. for a nominal sum, to the state for the erection of the State hospital for the insane, now in operation there. The station has been built at the point in question at the suggestion of the commission which had charge of the building of the institution, for the convenience of the hospital authorities and employees, as well as the inmates under the state's care there.

A well attended meeting of the Harford Agricultural society was recently held at which it was decided to incorporate and hold a three days' fair in the future. No change in the name will be made. Twelve directors were elected and the officers at the annual meeting in January were chosen as officers of the corporation. A charter will be applied for at once. It was decided to hold the fair this year on September 9, 10 and 11. The membership in the new organization will be free. With Harford in the ring there will be three fairs in the county asking for state aid, Montrose and Uniondale being the other two. The appropriation at best is small and with an additional competitor it is doubtful if any of the societies will gain enough to defray the additional expense incurred in order to obtain the state aid.—Forest City News.

There will be a meeting of the Wayne County Poultry Association on Friday evening at the home of E. O. Lindsay, beginning at eight o'clock.

Mrs. E. G. Jenkins pleasantly entertained a number of relatives and friends of her mother, Mrs. E. H. Clark Monday afternoon. The occasion was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Clark. A very pleasant afternoon was spent.

The funeral services of the late Michael Murran of East Honesdale were held in St. John's church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning with requiem high mass. Rev. E. H. Burke officiated. Solos were rendered by Miss Katherine Finerty and William Kalligan.

A libel in divorce was filed in the Prothonotary's office Wednesday by Florence M. Hodencamp, libellant, against her husband, Bruce L. Hodencamp. The couple were married in September, 1900, and lived together until Jan. 25, 1909, when she asserts she was forced to leave his home on account of cruel treatment.

Senator Walter McNichols Monday night introduced the Farview hospital appropriation bill, calling for $445,280 for the hospital for the criminal insane. Of the amount requested $55,000 is asked for maintenance for two years, and the balance for the completion of the plant in Wayne county. The additional money for buildings is to be expended for the construction of two additional wards, addition to the boiler plant, home for attendants, superintendents home and infirmary. The Farview hospital as it stands to-day cost the state $400,000.

A musicale and dance, the first of a series of events along entertainment lines, was given at the State hospital for the criminal insane at Farview, Tuesday evening, by the superintendent, Dr. T. C. Fitzsimons, who is of the belief that these entertainments will prove beneficial for the patients and a dance will be given once every month. The dance was held in the main building. Only seventeen out of the one hundred and forty were absent from the festivities. Lynnott's orchestra furnished the music. There were about forty people from the outside present.

Henry M. Tilford, of New York and Tuxedo, of the firm of Park & Tilford, who recently purchased the S. G. Bush farm, southeast of Monroe, Orange county, N. Y., has contracted with the Harriman Industrial Corporation to build on the property a mammoth barn, the total size of which will be 337 feet by 168 feet. The total cost of the building is to be in the neighborhood of $50,000. It is to be built of native stone, have concrete floors and a slate roof. It is understood that Mr. Tilford expects to carry on the breeding of registered stock on the farm.

According to a letter received from James J. Britt, third assistant postmaster general, all newspapers are required to send in an affidavit of all papers mailed, sent out by carriers and otherwise. Also we must tell how many copies of our paper are mailed to subscribers who are in arrears more than one year. In sending copies to such subscribers we are required to attach thereto a penny stamp. We will appreciate it, if our subscribers who are in arrears for more than one year, would make payment at once so that it will not be necessary to attach the stamp. We have accommodated you, now we ask you to accommodate us.

The following people from this section attended the funeral of Wm. H. Arthur in Scranton Monday afternoon: Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bodie, of Cherry Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bodie, of Irwin; General Bodie, Miss Olive Bodie, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Collins, of Prompton; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Collins and daughter, Lulu; Mr. and Mrs. Switzer of Scranton; Thomas Arthur of Steene; Mr. and Mrs. George Arthur, of Vandling; Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur and L. Arthur of Forest City; Mrs. B. S. Howell, Miss Kathryn Crandall, Joseph Bates, of Waymart; Oscar Bates, of Pleasant Mount; John and Daniel Arthur, of Bethany; Mrs. Jos. Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Arthur, of Jermyn; Mrs. Jasper Gritman and Mrs. William Gritman, of Wilkes-Barre.

Honesdale is making an earnest and enthusiastic effort to provide the people of that pretty little town with a public library. For some months the library has been furnishing instruction and pleasure to over five hundred patrons. The plan being followed is the soliciting of the entire town, every home, every business place, every man, woman and child, to give something. To date this has met with marked success. The committee has not only been encouraged, but it has been kindly received and heartily welcomed almost everywhere. But it is necessary to keep the library up to a certain standard and to improve it from time to time and in this work the leaders of the movement are asking the Honesdale public to co-operate in every reasonable way.—Scranton Truth.

Charles E. Lathrop, the veteran journalist of this section, and Mrs. Lathrop quietly celebrated the sixty-fourth anniversary of their wedding at their home in Carbonate Tuesday. In honor of the event a family dinner party was given that evening at the home of their son, E. D. Lathrop, which was followed by a reception to the many friends of the aged couple. During the evening a large number of friends and relatives called at the home to offer their congratulations and wish them continued health and happiness. Although both Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop have passed the eightieth year of their lives they are both in the best of health. Neither appear to be afflicted in any way with the infirmities attendant to old age. Mr. Lathrop, who founded the Carbonate Leader, one of the oldest newspapers of this section, and continued as the editor in chief up to about one year ago, still visits the newspaper office daily and manifests a keen interest in the work. He has been engaged in newspaper work practically all of his life and is probably the oldest journalist in the state.

Coe R. Jackson and wife of Binghamton, N. Y., are visiting the former's brother, Thomas F. Jackson, of Tyler Hill, also Mrs. Jackson's father, Lewis A. Lybolt, of Fallsdale. On Sunday last the former Mr. Jackson and wife, and Thomas Jackson, wife and daughter, Helen, called upon some of their Galilee relatives.

Luke Levy, of New York city, returned home today from a pleasant visit with his many Honesdale friends. Mr. Levy left Honesdale thirty years ago and has held responsible positions in New York and Kansas City, Mo. The latter place he has a brother who conducts a large gent's furnishing house. Ten years ago Mr. Levy was employed at Katz Bros. stores of this place.

While a resident of Honesdale a quarter of a century ago Mr. Levy was a member of the old national guard and our fire fighters.

Daniel W. Hull, of Waymart, returned home Wednesday from Port Jervis where he spent the first of the week with his sister, Mrs. W. C. Shaffer. Mr. Hull is deeply interested in the organization of an agricultural association for Wayne county. He is presenting the matter before the farmers of his home township and is meeting with exceptional success. Mr. Hull is a very enthusiastic horticulturalist and is confident that Wayne county is possible of great development along these lines. The Citizen's columns are always open for articles of this character and will give its support, editorially and otherwise, to anything that will benefit the farmer or make a better and greater producing agriculture district of dear old Wayne.

WEDDING RING KILLS COW.

It Embedded Itself in Lower Portion of Valued Animal's Heart.

Corydon, Pa., Feb. 20.—Peggy Wharton, a pedigreed Holstein cow belonging to Ira Williams of this place and valued at $3,000, is dead.

A veterinary surgeon who had ministered to the animal during her illness performed an autopsy on the carcass of the Holstein, and it was found that Peggy had come to her death through a wedding ring which was embedded in the lower portion of her big heart.

OBITUARY.

Death of A. R. Taylor.

Arthur R. Taylor, a former resident of Scranton, died Tuesday evening at the home of his brother-in-law, Truman Daniels, of South Canaan. He had been visiting there only a few days.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Justus Parry, of South Canaan. The funeral will take place at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon from the Daniels' home at South Canaan. Interment will be made in the South Canaan cemetery.

Death of Patrick Moylan.

Patrick F. Moylan, an esteemed citizen of South Canaan, died after a prolonged illness at his home at that place Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, aged 64 years. Mr. Moylan had been a life-long resident of Canaan township and was a son of John and Julia Moylan. Mr. Moylan is survived by the following children: Charles, Agnes and Leo, of Waymart; James and William, of Scranton; Mrs. Patrick McKeon, of Wilkes-Barre; Julia, Frank and Ambrose at home. James F. Moylan and Charles, of western Pennsylvania are brothers of the deceased and Hon. C. A. McCarty is a nephew.

The funeral will be held from the Canaan Roman Catholic church Saturday morning, Rev. Edward Burke, of Honesdale, officiating. Interment will be made in the Canaan cemetery.

Sad Death of Mildred Holgate.

In the death of Miss Mildred Holgate, daughter of Mrs. Ida Holgate Lewis, of Fair avenue, which occurred Tuesday afternoon, there has passed from us a sweet life just budding into womanhood. After ten days' illness Mildred, being too weak to battle against that dread malady, pneumonia, passed peacefully from this life to her Heavenly Home. She possessed a beautiful Christian character and enjoyed her church life, being a member of the Central Methodist Episcopal church of this place for the past few years. Mildred was of a cheerful disposition, her face at all times reflecting the actions of her heart. She was a patient sufferer and was resigned to her illness.

Mildred was born in Girland nearly 19 years ago and besides her mother one sister, Mrs. Charles E. Gibbs, of this place, survives.

The deceased was bookkeeper for the Honesdale Milling company, having previously been employed at the Ready Pay Store.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home near the Henwood bridge, Rev. W. H. Hiller officiating. Interment will be made at East Dyberry cemetery.

Mrs. Bridget Dermody Dies From Shock.

Mrs. Bridget Dermody, of Cochecon, died at her late home on Thursday, February 6th, of heart trouble, in the sixty-eighth year of her age. She was a native of Ireland, coming to America at an early age, locating in Cochecon, where she was united in the holy ties of matrimony with the late John Dermody, who passed away only three months ago, while in the act of offering condolence to the family of a very dear and life-long friend. The shock caused by the sudden death of her beloved husband so overcome her that she never recovered from the shock.

A loved and loving wife, an affectionate and idolized mother, a kind and sympathetic and obliging neighbor, her death leaves a vacancy in the family that can never be filled. The deceased was a member of St. Lucy's R. C. church, of Cochecon, of which she was a devout and untiring worker. Funeral services took place on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the beautiful church she so well loved, where a solemn requiem mass was offered by Rev. Fr. Antonius, O. F. M., of St. Joseph's College, Callicoon. A choir composed of students of St. Joseph's rendered very appropriate music. Interment in the family plot in Nobody's cemetery in charge of Undertaker Valentine.

Seven sons, one daughter and two brothers are left to mourn her death. They are: Peter, of Endicott, N. Y.; Thomas, of Hancock, N. Y.; John, of Lookout; and Charles, Martin, William and Edward, of Cochecon, N. Y., and Mrs. J. Flynn, of Lookout, Pa.; the brothers are Edward and Thomas Reagan, of Callicoon, N. Y.

Death of William Box.

William Box, foreman of the mixing department of the Dorflinger Cut Glass factory, at White Mills, died Tuesday morning at the home of John Gibbs, in Carbonate, from a stroke of paralysis suffered Monday noon. He was sixty years old. Mr. Box was operated upon one year ago for cancer at the Emergency hospital, and since then has been in failing health. Last Saturday he and his wife went to Carbonate, and Monday he intended to visit a local physician to receive treatment. Shortly before noon, while planning this visit he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and remained unconscious up to the time of his death.

He was born in England, but came to America when a boy, locating at White Mills, where he had since resided. For thirty years he was a foreman in the Dorflinger factory, an industrious workman and a man highly respected in the community.

He was a member of the Grace Protestant Episcopal church, of Honesdale; and also of the Heptosaphs and the Golden Eagles. Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters and five sons; Mrs. John Duthell, of White Hills; Mrs. Harold Smith, of Towanda; Frank and William, of Waymart; and Arthur, Benjamin and Burton, at home. The body was removed Wednesday to White Mills where funeral and interment took place.

The funeral was held in Carbonate at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Rev. G. C. Graham, rector of Trinity Episcopal church officiating. The body was brought to Honesdale Wednesday afternoon and interment was made in the Indian Orchard cemetery.
