Born, to Levi Mills and wife of Laurella, on Wednesday morning, a daughter.

The third annual concert and ball of Hose Co. No. 1 Easter Monday night at the state armory.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bates, of Prompton, were given a farewell party Monday night by neighbors and friends. A delightful evening was spent and refreshments were served. They left for the West on Tuesday expecting to make short stops in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

The six-weeks old child of Mr. and Mrs. William Bassney, of White Mills, was found dead in its bed Tuesday morning when they awoke. The child had not been ill. The funeral services were held from St. Mary Magdalen's church Thursday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Balta officiating. Interment will be made in the German Catholic cemetery.

After going to press on Monday we noticed that we gave Miss Harriet Rockwell credit for being a member of the decorating committee for the Martha Washington supper. It should have been stated that Mrs. Harry Rockwell was a member of the committee instead. By this correction we wish to place the credit with the rightful owner.

"Baby Mine," the comedy success of two continents, which had New York in a delirium of laughter for one solid year at Daly's Theatre, and has just concluded its second year at Sir Charles Wyndham's Criterion Theatre, is announced under the personal direction of William A. Brady (Ltd.) with the usual Brady cast and production. Ashton Stevens, the able critic of the Chicago Examiner, openly declared that "Baby Mine" was the funniest play ever written, and Alan Dale, of the New York American, "Not a baby mine but an adult mine of fun." Other well known writers have vied with one another in an effort to do full justice to the exceeding cleverness of Margaret Mayo's laugh play. Indeed, seldom has it occurred that newspaper men have raved over the humor of any comedy as they have over "Baby Mine," which is sending a gale of laughter around the world.

Bregstein Brothers have had the interior of their clothing store newly painted and papered.

A marriage license was issued Wednesday to John E. Reed and Miss Mathilda K. Harder, both of Honesdale.

Mrs. Albert Jones and her son, Paul, of Matamoras, who have been visiting relatives at Gravity, Pa., for the past two weeks, have returned home.

Mrs. Emma Secor and family moved their household goods to-day from West street to rooms in the G. Wm. Sell property on Main street.

The Citizen contains the financial statement of Wayne county in to-day's issue. It occupies the whole of page six and one column on the seventh page.

Several employees of the Honesdale Footwear Company have gone to Binghamton where they have secured work. Among them are Geo. Disch, John Rippe and Henry Miller.

John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, had his life insured last week for $100,000. This amount is now considered the most valuable asset that the baseball club has.

Among Honesdalers who were in Scranton on Tuesday were T. B. Clark, W. M. Fowler, F. G. Terwilliger, W. H. Krantz, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mumford, C. P. Searle and R. M. Salmon.

"A Bit of Scenery," written by Miss Beulah Freeman, and the "View from the Bridge" by Miss Jeanette Pohle, pupils of the High school, were both descriptive articles of beautiful Irving Cliff.

The revival meetings at the Methodist church continue to draw numbers of people. On Wednesday evening Dr. Murdock, district superintendent, preached an interesting sermon after which the fourth quarterly conference was held.

St. John's Lutheran Men's Guild has added about forty new members to their list since starting their membership contest about a month ago. Final returns of the contest will be made by the captain Thursday evening when a meeting of the Guild will be held.

Two cases of typhoid fever were recently reported to the county health officers as being in White Mills. The patients are Misses Blanche and Verna Williams. Dr. Rodman of Hawley, is attending them. The house in which they live has been placed under quarantine.

Eugene H. Cortright, the local agent for the Buick automobile, who formerly conducted the garage on North Main street, expects to go to Susquehanna in the near future where he has secured the agency for the Buick car for that county. Mr. Cortright is an energetic and able salesman and will undoubtedly do considerable business in the new field.

District State Horticulturist William H. Bullock has just received a communication from Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, that he will be in Honesdale on March 21 to organize the Wayne Horticultural Association in which Mr. Bullock and other individuals are interested in forming. This is exceedingly gratifying news. Prof. Surface informed Mr. Bullock that he would be glad to come to Honesdale.

Charles M. Elmendorf, who "ran" the Hotel Wayne here for about one year, went to Binghamton to conduct the same business at the Hotel Sterling, but his way of management the police of that city didn't like and consequently "The Sterling" was raided on Saturday night last. Charles went to the Loomis House for shelter but was soon found and arrested. He is under $500 bail to appear in court on Saturday, March 1. He is charged with keeping a disorderly house and violating the Raines law.

A quiet marriage occurred on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of R. Duane Reed on East street Extension when his son, John Egbert Reed, and Miss Mathilda Harder of Cherry Ridge were married by Rev. W. H. Swift, D. D. The affair was a quiet one and was attended by only the immediate relatives. Those who witnessed the nuptial event were Mrs. Charles Harder of Cherry Ridge, mother of the bride, and R. D. Reed and daughter, Miss Mabel, father and sister of the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Reed will reside at No. 1607 East Street Extension.

Rev. L. C. Murdock, district superintendent of the Methodist church of the Wyoming conference chose as his text at Wednesday evening's meeting, "Every Man Having This Hope Purifies Himself, Even as He is Pure." It was an excellent sermon. Among other things Dr. Murdock said concerning "Billy" Sunday, the evangelist, who is conducting meetings in Wilkes-Barre: "Good people who heard Billy Sunday knew that he was doing good work and would heartily commend him. It would be a good thing for many a congregation if the pastors would reproduce Sunday's sermons." Special revival services this Thursday and Friday evenings. Preaching morning and evening as usual on Sunday, March 2nd.

There was a representative gathering in the High school Tuesday evening when Dr. A. E. Turner, associate director of the Chautauqua Association, explained the workings of a Chautauqua for Honesdale this coming summer. It was a very enthusiastic meeting and those present were highly in favor of the movement. Dr. Turner spoke here several weeks ago and explained the benefits to be gained by having a Chautauqua in a town. Rev. Geo. L. Kieffer, who is one of the platform managers of the Chautauqua, arrived Thursday morning and this afternoon will begin a canvass of the town to secure the names of thirty persons who are willing to be guarantors that the tickets will be sold for the Chautauqua. Nearly the required number have expressed their willingness to be one of the guarantors and it is expected that the required thirty names will be secured to-day.

If the people of Honesdale do not want the Chautauqua there are several other towns and places that do. If the proposition is turned down now Honesdale will never have the opportunity to secure it again. When Rev. G. L. Kieffer calls on you, sign the guarantee petition. It might not be hard work to get 20 signers to insure the Chautauqua.

Marcy Ely, son of Dr. H. B. Ely, who is not in very good health, will leave Friday morning for the south where he will spend the month of March and in case his health permits he will go to Baltimore about April 1st and put in about six weeks special work on Pathology and bacteriology under the distinguished Dr. Marden of that city. Marcy expects to return home about the middle of May.

Two large ten-ton Shaw cranes are being installed in the Gurney Electric Elevator plant at this place. The crane in the main machine shop is completed. It travels on a track the entire length of the shop and is operated by a man seated in the car. The huge crane will easily carry a ten-ton weight from any part of the shop. The little car runs forward and backward on the cross section. About two thirds of the floor has been laid. There is a force of laborers who work night and until 10 o'clock in order that the job may be completed as soon as possible.

A special meeting of the county commissioners and town council was held in the court house last Tuesday morning at which time the proposition of the foot bridge, which will span the Lackawaxen at the head of Court street, was discussed. It is understood that everything is now satisfactory with the commissioners to advertise for bids for the erection of the bridge. This will probably be acted upon at the regular session of the commissioners which will be held on Tuesday, March 4. The board was also in session with the council Tuesday afternoon on matters pertaining to the trolley as to the crossing of county bridges by proposed road.

Miss Grace Barnes spent the fore part of the week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barnes, returning to Scranton Tuesday.

Mrs. M. O'Malley returned to her home in Susquehanna Wednesday after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. James P. Kelly on Church street.

Mildred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Greiner, of Seelyville, is suffering from an attack of appendicitis. She will be operated upon by Dr. Peck, of Scranton, this Friday morning.

H. T. Menner left Monday for New York, and he expects to be joined there the latter part of this week by W. S. Birdsall, of Seelyville. They will leave for Cuba and the Canal Zone and expect to be absent about five weeks.

Mrs. Frances D. Woodward, of Hoadleys, is quite seriously ill. Mrs. Woodward is one of the oldest residents of the county. She was born April 28, 1821, and is consequently nearly 92 years of age. Dr. E. W. Burns is in attendance.

Jerome C. Curtis, of Scranton, was renewing acquaintances in Honesdale the first of the week. Mr. Curtis is a veteran of the Civil War, having enlisted in Honesdale under the late Colonel Coe Durland, who was at that time captain of Company M, 17th Pennsylvania Cavalry.

Miss Katherine Briggs, who is superintendent of the Margaret Pillsbury hospital at Concord, Mass., returned on Wednesday after spending several days with her parents. Monday night she entertained at dinner in honor of Miss Louise Chambers, who is a guest of Mrs. W. C. Bauman.

George Eck, who for some time has been The Citizen's valued correspondent at Angels, this county, will leave soon for the West, where he expects to carve out a new future, his trade being that of a carpenter. The Citizen hopes that Mr. Eck will be successful in his chosen profession and that prosperity may follow him through life.

J. W. Pello, of Scranton, was a Honesdale caller on Saturday last. Mr. Pello was at one time a Honesdale boy, and always rejoices to visit the scenes of his earlier struggles in the great battle of life in which we all are taking a strenuous part. Mr. Pello is a distributor of "the highest priced flour in America, and worth all it costs"; and this is no advertisement, either.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Peter Schmidt.

Mrs. Peter Schmidt, an aged and respected resident of Hawley, died at her late home there Thursday morning at the age of 83 years. General debility was the cause of death. Mrs. Schmidt was a native of Germany and came to this county settling in Swamp Brook. About fifteen years ago the family moved from there to Hawley where she has since resided. Her husband preceded her in death about four years ago. She is survived by four sons, Peter S., at home; Joseph, Batavia, N. Y.; Jacob, of Swamp Brook; John, of Rochester, N. Y.; one daughter, Anna, at home. The funeral services will be held from St. Mary Magdalen's church, Honesdale, the date of which has not yet been set.

Death of Miss Hattie E. Minor.

Miss Hattie E. Minor, one of Honesdale's highly esteemed ladies died at her late home on Church street Tuesday morning, Feb. 25. She had suffered from a severe cold about a week ago but was taken worse Sunday. Her sister, Miss Kate Minor, of Yonkers, N. Y., was summoned and arrived on Monday. The community was grieved to learn of Miss Minor's death as she was loved by all who knew her. She was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. She is survived by her aged mother and sister. Miss Minor was a daughter of the late C. S. Minor, and was born in Honesdale about 58 years ago. The funeral services were held this (Thursday) afternoon from her late home, Rev. W. H. Swift officiating, using the Episcopal service. Interment was made in Glen Dyberry. The pallbearers were J. B. Nielsen, M. J. Hanlan, L. J. Dorfinger, Thomas M. Fuller, O. T. Chambers and W. J. Ward.

Death of Mrs. Adaline Young.

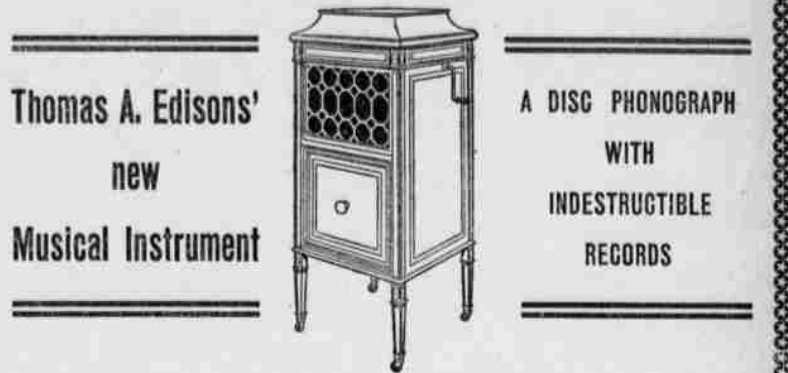

Mrs. Adaline A. Young, widow of Coe Young, Sr., died at Braham, Pa., on Monday, February 17th, 1913. Her death was due to pneumonia. Mrs. Young had not been well for some time, but her last illness was less than a week; and the family and a trained nurse did all in their power to restore her to health again, but to no avail. Deceased was born in Orange county, N. Y., on January 20th, 1845, and was the daughter of David C. Swezey and Eliza Ann Gilet. Before her marriage to Coe Young, Sr., in November 17, 1866, she resided in Middletown, N. Y. She is survived by one son, Coe F. Young, Jr., at home, and one daughter, Jennie, wife of Louis Ranner of Braham; also by six grandchildren and two great grand children. She was united with the M. E. church at Middletown when quite young and was devoted to her home and family. Mrs. Young was beloved by all who knew her and will be sadly missed by the many who have had the honor of her acquaintance. She was always pleased to see her loved ones and friends, but seldom went away from home. Prior to her marriage she taught school in Orange county successfully for seven years. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held on Wednesday, Feb. 19th. Rev. Franklin Bowen officiated. Serices at the Braman M. E. church. Rev. Bowen took for his text Matt. 12:14—"Therefore be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh." The Citizen extends sympathy to the bereaved family.

Russell Ridd, of Dyberry, left on Monday for New York city. He was accompanied by his uncle, Levi Schooner, who has been spending the past several weeks with J. W. Ridd and other relatives.
