71th YEAR .-- NO. 19

HONESDALE, WAYNE CO., PA., FRIDAY, MARCH 7, 1913.

GRAND JURY FINDS 3 TRUE

OUT ONE DAY, MAKING THEIR REPORT TUESDAY AFTER-NOON-ONE BILL IGNORED.

Recommendations Include New Chairs and Carpets For Court Room and Judges' Retiring Room.

The grand jury completed their work for the March term Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock, hav-ing considered four matters, and inspected the county buildings. Three true bills were found by them and

The Commonwealth case against Warren Hurd, charged with assault and battery, was ignored by the grand jury. True bills were found as follows: Commonwealth vs. Archie Blaine, indictment, fornication; Common-wealth vs. Walter Watts, indictment, assault and battery; Common-wealth vs. Bessie Hafner, indictment, adultery. The grand jury made the fol-lowing recommendations to the Court which were approved: That the faucets in lavatories, escape valves in radiators, and the flushing devices in closets in the cells of the county jail be examined and needed repairs made.

That the rubbish in the cellar of the court house, especially the large accumulation of paper in the east and south corners be removed at once since it is a positive menace to the building.

That the partition of the lavatory on the main floor of the court house be moved forward and three modern lavatories installed.

That new chairs, which will be more comfortable, be installed in the traverse jury box.

That rubber matting be placed in the space between the rail and the judges' bench in the court room; also that new carpets and curtains be put into the judges' retiring room and also be put into the room now used as a consulting room. It was respectfully submitted that the carpets in these three places are in a most delapidated condition and are so unsanitary as to be a menace to the health of the Court.

That the doors back of the Judges' bench be refinished or repaired and made to correspond to their surroundings These recommendations signed by W. W. Mumford, foreman, and E. G. Jenkins, secretary. A copy of these was ordered sent to the county commissioners.

INTERFERING WITH MAIL BOX GETS BOYS IN TROUBLE.

C. W. Lovelass, of Fallsdale, had a warrant sworn out the first of the week for Frank Snavely, Ivan Wilson and Wayne Seely, all of Damascus township, charging them with disorderly conduct and destroying his mail box on the night of Febraury 20. Detective N. B. Spen-cer went after the young men Wednesday morning and a hearing was held before 'Squire Smith Wednes-day afternoon. Frank Snavely and Wayne Seeley plead guilty to the charges but Wilson stated he did not touch the box but was along with the boys when the mischief was done. As Wilson is 27 years old and the other two are minors, Wilson was considered as guilty as the rest. Lovelass wished to be lenient with the boys and had no wish to see them serve a couple of years' term in Leavenworth prison, which would be the case if the postal authorities took up the matter and punished them for interfering with the United States mails. He advised the 'Squire to be lenient and as a result 'Squire Smith imposed a fine of $2.00 on each of the boys. The costs were also to be paid by them which amounted to $4.25 each.

SCRANTON-MOOSIC LAKE

ARIEL-HONESDALE. Following the application of other parties for a franchise from the Dunmore council in the interest of a trolley line to Lake Ariel, which was made last night, Timothy Burke, contractor, and part owner of Moosic Lake, said today that officers of the American Railway company have definitely decided upon building a trolley line to Lake Ariel and they will come to Scranton shortly to pass

"Our road is sure to be built," said Mr. Burke. It will be a continuation of the Scranton Railway com-pany's line to Moosic Lake and as this company already holds franchises in Dunmore, there will be no necessity for its seeking another franchise there. The line would be a spur of the Moosic Lake line.—

Local Woman Rushes to Neighbor's Porch and Falls in Faint When Man Chases Her—Log in Ditch Mistaken for Man.

Honesdale people were greatly agitated Wednesday on hearing of the attempted assault upon Mrs. C. A. Emery, wife of the cashier of the Farmers & Mechanics bank Tuesday evening near her home on upper West street.

Mrs. Emery left her home about eight o'clock that evening to go down town and was walking along West street when she noticed a man on the opposite side of the street. She thought nothing of this until the man stopped, turned toward her and started to run across the road in her direction. She became frightened and started to run. The man follow-ed her into the yard of William Kreltner's residence where she turn-ed and ran up the steps. When she reached the top of the stoop she called out and then lost conscious-The man started to get away when she screamed and Mr. Kreitner came out onto the porch to assist Mrs. Emery. He could not see the man's features, but saw him disappear between two buildings not far away. He was not seen again. Mrs. Emery was prostrated by the shock and Dr. Powell was called to attend her. She says she does not know whether the man reached her or not before she became unconscious.

Foot prints were the only clues the authorities had to work on, but several known characters are sus-pected and will be watched.

Wednesday evening a telephone call was sent in from upper West street for an officer. It was stated that two women had been held up and an officer was wanted at once. Detective N. B. Spencer went there but found that the ladies had mistaken a large log lying in the ditch, to be a man, crouching in readiness to grab them.

MAKING CIRCUIT OF GLOBE.

Miss Elizabeth Rutherford Stops in Honesdale on Long Trip—First Saw Snow Here—Sails Saturday.

Miss Elizabeth Rutherford, of Melbourne, Australia, who is mak-ing a circuit of the globe, after visiting relatives in Honesdale and Scranton, resumed her long journey race street. Mrs. Horace Dexter, of Smith Hill, another cousin, also Mrs. Adalaide Freethy and Mrs. Victoria Noble, both of East Honesdale, were among the relatives visited in this vicinity. She spent a fortnight with Edwin and Walter Evans in Scran-ton. Miss Rutherford first saw snow while in Honesdale and asked the writer if there was no possible way of taking some home with her. "It's so beautiful," she remarked.

When asked what part of the country impressed her as being especially attractive, Miss Rutherford remarked the Rocky and Canadian Mountains. "Why, it seemed like heaven, away up above the clouds and looking down upon the earth," she said. Miss Rutherford also ad-mired the lakes and streams of America, stating that they were wonderful, remarking that the lakes in Australia are very small. The temperature of her native city is 104 degrees in the shade. Miss Rutherford said it was noticeable when the tropic of cancer was crossed, being very, very hot. The mercury registered 118 degrees in the shade.

Miss Rutherford started her trip around the world from Melbourne, Australia, via Pacific ocean. New Zealand, Honolulu, Victoria, British Columbia, to San Francisco, coming across the United States by the northern route to Toronto, Canada, and thence to Buffalo, to Honesdale. Miss Rutherford will sail Saturday from New York City on the Oceanica to London. After going to Glasgow, Scotland, for an extended visit with Edward and Polly Hazelton in that city, Miss Rutherford will go to Liverpool where she will sail via South Africa across the ocean to Melbourne, her home city, When she will have reached Australia 27,-000 miles will have been covered by Miss Rutherford, Her many friends and relatives here wish her

SPEAKS ENCOURAGINGLY

OF CHAUTAUQUA. Oxford, Pa., Feb. 14, 1913.

My Dear Miss Petersen:

The "Chautauqua" movement was started by the Research women. When Dr. Pierson came to us to explain the Chautauqua as Dr. Turner has to you, we invited the business men of the town to meet with us. They volunteered to finance it. club women pledged some for five, some for ten tickets. One lady sold twenty-two. We did not have much trouble in selling our tickets. No, there was no deficit. We were over a hundrd dollars ahead when the Chautauqua people came. The trade people claim it was a benefit financially as it brought so many strangers to town. The strongest plea in favor of it is in the fact the men have taken full charge and responsibility for this year. As for the educational and entertaining part it can not be surpassed. Wishing you every success

MANY CASES CONTINUED OR SETTLED, LEAVING ONLY FOUR CIVIL CASES.

Out of Twenty-One Cases First Listed Only Four Remain-Several Commonwealth Cases,

Four trial cases, four Commonwealth cases and ten cases for argument make up at the present time the total business listed for the March term of court for Wayne coun-ty which sits in Honesdale one week beginning Monday afternoon, March 10th. Out of twenty-one cases listed for trial, only four remain to be tried at this term. Seven were con-tinued and several cases were settled out of court.

Beside this list of trial and argu-ment cases the list of licenses hum-bering about 73 will be read, and if not remonstrated against will be granted. Up to the time alloted for filing remonstrances only two places were filed against.

The Commonwealth list is short and will probably finish Tuesday morning. The case of the Commonwealth against A. F. Severson, charg-ed in the indictment with larceny and continued from the January term of court, will be the first case for trial Monday. There are three other Commonwealth cases. On go-ing to press on our inside run it was thought that the whole list would be tried but this morning in court several cases were reported settled and others asked for continuance.

The civil cases listed for trial at this session number only four and all are likely to be tried if time will permit. It is the intention of the court at this session to clean up the docket if possible. There are five trespass suits, two in assumpsit; one mechanics lien and thirteen cases in appeal. The following is a list of the trial cases:

Charles Kordman vs. Lafayette Denio, action for trespass on land and taking timber; McCarty attorney for plaintiff and Searle & Salmon for defendant. Case continued.

Ezra Sellick vs. Frank De Bruen nd Martin De Bruen: Claim for $184.50 balance due for digging a well on verbal contract. Kimble and Mumford for defendant. Case continued. Ruel Wilcox vs. Winfred Mumford: Plaintiff claims damages to the amount of $2,000 for injuries received when he fell from wagon, when defendant's automobile ran into his wagon on August 16, 1911. Hoff and Garratt for plaintiff and Mum-for & Mumford for defendant. Case continued.

George Hittinger vs. Railroad Co.: Plaintiff claims damages of $5,000 for injuries received by his person and also to horse and wagon when defendant stood on a

MISSING BOY LOCATED IN CALIFORNIA.

George Hayward, Missing Since Feb. 13, Sends Word Home-Says Doesn't Know Why He Left.

George Hayward, who has been missing from his home since Feb. 13, and who had been given up as lost by his widowed mother, has located in Los Angeles, California.

In an interview with the mother, she stated that she had received a from her son Wednesday, which stated that George was well and had accepted a good position there and would remain for the present. He said he did not know why he had left home as he did, but that the sudden desire came and he vield-ed blindly to it. Information was gained as to his whereabouts, when a letter was received here asking for papers of a certain date. The receiver of the letter was suspicious and took it to Mrs. Hayward, who identified it as being in her son's handwriting. It was plain that the writer had at-tempted to disguise some of the let-The letter was signed "S. W." A full description and particulars concerning the case were sent to Los Angeles, where the papers were directed to be sent, and the authorities were on the lookout for the person calling for mail addressed to "S. W. General Delivery." A telegram was received later saying that the description tallied exactly and that the young man said he was from Hones-The mother was overjoyed to hear of her son being safe. "The news of the whereabouts of my son greatly relieved me," said Mrs. Hayward, in an interview yesterday.

-Mr. and Mrs. James Mullen, of Carrol street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a young daughter.

-About twenty-five carloads of ice are shipped daily from Lake Lodore to New York and other points down the line.

Tribune-Republican To-day's contained an article concerning the naming of the state flower. The naming of the state flower. The credit for which is given to a Wayne county school teacher. The idea of setting aside a state flower originated with Miss Elsa B. Brown, a school teacher, of Atco, Wayne county, and was introduced into the state legislature by the representative from that district. From the first it found favor in all parts of the state and passed readily the three neces-sary readings in the lower house. Hundreds of letters have been sent to the senators by the school chil-dren all of whom favor the daisy design. There have been a few objections to the flower, however, one of them from Miss Anna N.
