—"Baby Mine," Margaret Mayo's enormously funny comedy which comes to the Lyric on Monday, March 24th, enjoys a record of one solid year at Daly's Theatre, New York. "Baby Mine" is said to be without any suggestive dialogue or scenes, depending entirely upon sparkling wit and humor or mirth provoking elements. It is a play to make the cares of the day steal silently away. If you are a tired business man go and see "Baby Mine" and take your wife with you; it will do her a world of good, you both will feel five years younger by the end of the evening. William A. Brady, (L't'd), under whose management the attraction visits us, will send a carefully selected company to interpret the various parts at the head of which will be seen Nanon Welch, J. A. Bliss and Eda Von Buelow from the New York production.

—A special from Susquehanna says: Quietly and to the surprise of the town, Edgar B. Curtis, a lawyer, disappeared Friday, leaving a lot of creditors behind, and some men, it is asserted, whose names he used on notes floated to raise money. Curtis was looked upon as a good citizen. He was forty years old and has a wife and little girl two years old. They left for Carlisle where Mrs. Curtis' father lives. It is said that the father and a sister have lost in the neighborhood of $7,000 through the lawyer's behavior. The rumor places the total gone through close to $20,000. Some of the men whose names appeared on the notes are said not to have known it until one of the banks started to investigate a note given two years ago which was renewed every three months. When one of the endorsers was asked about it, he denied that he signed it. This was a few days ago and it is thought that Curtis, seeing no way out, decided to leave. It is understood that every dollar Curtis could get towards the finish went into the stock market with a view to recouping previous losses and with the hope of by one great plunge to wipe off the slate.

—The steam sawmill of Johns & Cole, of Forest City, at Whites Valley, turns out over ten thousand feet of lumber every day and teams are busy hauling to Forest City.

—President Wilson's remark that he intends to keep a sharp eye on Jersey is in all probability made with the sincerest of intentions, but there seems to be a prevailing impression that, when he finds out what is expected of him as Chief Executive of the United States, he will conclude to let foreign matters regulate themselves.

—Fred Weinman, of Oregon, was given a hearing before Burgess C. A. McCarty on Saturday for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was arrested by Sheriff Kimble. The burgess sentenced Weinman to 10 days in the county jail but instead of serving sentence he paroled him in care of the sheriff. Should he break his parole, Weinman will be brought to jail. His home is in Oregon.

—The bill to increase the amount of money to be paid for live stock slaughtered by order of the state live stock sanitary board was favorably reported by the house agricultural committee recently. —Miss Anna Baker, a former attaché of The Citizen office, is in line for a Carnegie hero medal. One day the latter part of last week she stopped a team of horses belonging to Mr. Borscht from running away. True there were men upon the street, but Miss Baker was right on the spot when the horses started. She stepped right out into the deep, thick mud on Main street, grabbed a rein and by talking to the team brought the horses to a stand still.

—Fire consumed a large two-family dwelling at Rowlands Sunday evening. The house was occupied by Cornelius Perry and Lewis Kizer and their families. Flames were discovered leaping from the roof of the house by neighbors about 7 o'clock Sunday evening. Very little furniture was saved. The fire is supposed to have caught from a defective chimney, as the flames were confined at first to the roof. The building was the property of the Kimble Lumber company.

—The sewing club, composed of Mrs. Emma Taylor, Mrs. H. E. Bassett, Mrs. T. E. Smith, Mrs. F. W. Powell, Mrs. C. M. Betz, Mrs. Frank Shumway, Mrs. Isaac Tibbits, Mrs. John Kratz, Mrs. Bunnell, Mrs. H. A. Oday, Mrs. J. S. Brown and Misses Anna Brown, Emma Brown, Etta Bunnell and Cora Keen enjoyed an afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Darwin Penwarden last Friday. Besides the members of the sewing circle several invited guests were present.

—A pretzel factory is the latest industry for Wilkes-Barre and it is expected to be in full operation in two months. The building will be a two-story brick structure, containing all the latest machinery for the making of pretzels, two large ovens, packing, shipping, boiling, drying and salting rooms. The manufacture of pretzels is an interesting process. The flour is mixed as if to make bread, raised, then twisted into the shape of a pretzel, boiled, salted and baked. But few people know that the pretzel is boiled in one of its processes and that there is no machinery for twisting it into its complicated form, this all being done by hand.

—Every person of good moral character is assured by the Constitution of Indiana, adopted in 1851, the privilege of practicing law in any Court of the State. Nor is this privilege confined to those who wish to prosecute or defend their own causes—a right which is common in many States besides Indiana. The Circuit Court recently ruled out a "constitutional" lawyer, who confessed that all he knew of the mysteries of jurisprudence was what he picked up in his job printing office or gathered from the newspapers. The Supreme Court, however, sustained him in his constitutional right to have for clients other fools as well as himself. Thus has "special privilege" been put down and popular liberty sustained in Hoosierdom. But there are schools of jurisprudence inferior in merit to job printeries, and the law writ in the books is often more monstrous than that which proclaims itself through the public press.

—A special from Hackensack, N. J., says: "Saved by a postage stamp" is the title which postal clerks here give to a comic scene on Main street last week in which John Keenan, a special delivery mail carrier was principal. Keenan loves dogs. He spied one in the postoffice that was wandering around without a license. Keenan took a fancy to it and as he started out on his rounds he allowed the dog to trail behind him. At a street corner Joseph Dalla, the official dog catcher of Hackensack, made his appearance. Dalla has a record of 662 dogs caught in the last year and he was about to pronounce upon the little unlicensed fox terrier which was following the mail carrier. "Don't touch that dog," exclaimed Keenan as he hastily drew a parcel post stamp from his pocket, licked it and attached it to the dog's ear. "That dog is mail matter and under the protection of Uncle Sam." The dog catcher was properly awed by the federal authority and withdrew.

—Board of Trade meeting on Friday night of this week.

There will be a Business Men's meeting at the City Hall, Wednesday evening, March 12th, at 8 o'clock. Several important matters will come before the Association for consideration. Election of officers will also be held.

—In one of our neighboring schools the teacher was instructing a class in composition and said: "You should not attempt any flight of fancy; simply be yourselves and write what is in you. Do not imitate any other person writing or drawing information from outside sources." As a result of this advice one bright lad turned in the following: "We should not attempt any flights of fancy but write what is in us. In me there is my lungs, stomach, heart, liver, two apples, one piece of pie, one stick of lemon candy and my dinner."

—From expressions made in Carbondale Sunday it would seem that Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, state commissioner of health, will have a fight on his hands if he attempts to place Carbondale under quarantine, as he threatened last week. It is learned from what is considered excellent authority that if the state health commissioner attempts to place an embargo on the town the matter will be taken to court to decide his power in the matter, in view of existing conditions. William Davidson, chairman of select council, and recognized as the leader in that branch in the fight relative to the board of health, in an interview recently, said: "There is absolutely nothing to back the doctor up in this matter. We have a board of health, Mayor Murrin and Dr. Dixon to the contrary notwithstanding."

—Kaidy Bros., manufacturers and jobbers of fancy knit goods, have leased the building on Church street owned by Richard Reichert and used by him the past ten months as a garage, and will start a knitting factory therein. Men are now at work erecting the machinery and it is expected the plant will begin operations about March 15th. Their principal product will be fancy knit scarfs and shawls, for the manufacture of which they have six machines. They will employ about twelve people at the start. Mr. Kollmer, who was formerly employed by the Bower Knitting Co., of this place, will manage the new industry. He now has charge of installing the machinery. Kaidy Bros. do an extensive business in the southern states, Mexico, Cuba and Porto Rico, and the new industry will doubtless be of great benefit to this community.—Hawley Times.

—A special from Stroudsburg says: A $40,000 opera house is to be erected on a site purchased from the Wyckoff and Houston estate. The theatre will be financed by the Stroudsburg Opera House company. Architect Weaver is drawing the plans. The theatre will be commodious, with club quarters on the second floor. It is altogether possible that these and a room on the third floor, will be even more agreeably planned than the original plans for this section of the building. Some idea of the size of the lot may be had from the fact that it is 90 feet wide and 125 feet in depth. So sanguine are the members of the company that there will be no hitch, whatsoever in the progress of excavation, building, etc.—and they have every reason not to believe anything but rapid progress will result once the first shovel of dirt is excavated—that they count on the completion of the opera house in time for its formal opening October 1.

MUNICIPAL DOCKS.

Everett, Wash., Will Also Have Natorium and Recreation Pier.

At an election held in the city of Everett, Wash., the citizens authorized the issuance of $65,000 in bonds with which to purchase the improvements on the municipal dock site, to extend the present dock 200 feet and to construct additional dock facilities.

It is planned in this connection to purchase the Everett Improvement company's dock and about eight acres of water front land lying between the two docks for the purpose of constructing a municipal natorium, wading pools, tennis courts, sand pits, yacht clubs and recreation piers.

It is also proposed that an incinerator will be constructed and that refuse consumed will heat the salt water for the natorium and furnish the necessary power to operate the machinery on the municipal docks.

SOME SAYINGS OF WILLIAM C. REDFIELD, THE NEW SECRETARY OF COMMERCE.

Extracts from Mr. Redfield's "The New Industrial Day."

Never give up self study. There will always be something to learn about your ways.

Don't let your initiative become sterilized by a tariff or anything else. (This may be, as a friend says it is, "grossly inferential," but it is true nevertheless.)

It is not wise to destroy the initiative of your working force by looking so hard at a quarter yourself that you can't see the five dollar bill beyond.

A justly discontented force can cost you more directly and indirectly than the most expert and costly supervision can ever find out.

The cheapest and most efficient discipline is that which is well paid, hopeful and zealous work naturally creates.

The cutting of piece work rates and wages is the hall mark of inefficient management.

Obsolete machinery is the foe of profits, the brother of high cost and the friend of bad methods.

Export trade begins at home, in your own shop and first with the head of it. To get it bring your wages and output up, your costs and prices down. Know what is doing in your own plant and you can smile at a competing world.

When you have good stuff to sell, well and cheaply made, properly designed and of regular quality, well packed, you will have no trouble to sell it abroad. What one country or market won't take another will. It's a large world.

ERIE R. R. NOTES.

The new block system on the Erie railroad between Port Jervis and Lackawaxen is now in operation. This is the first part of the Delaware Division to be equipped with the electric block system. Erie employees are now engaged in erecting the system along other parts of the division. Two towers, those at the Hawk's Nest and Shohola, were put out of commission by the new system.

New Telephone System on Erie.

The new telephone system of the Erie railroad over the Susquehanna division was completed Saturday and was placed in use at once. All trains over the division are now handled by the telephone instead of telegraph. The new line has been installed at a cost of $50,000. The work has taken close to three months and is one of the most complete lines along the railroad.

Two circuits were established, one to be used as a message wire and the other as a dispatcher's wire. All instruments along the line are connected with Hornell and all messages are transmitted through the dispatcher's office at Hornell. The line is connected with the company's private exchange and the connection with the Bell Telephone company's lines can be had at this point.

Each station and block tower is on the telephone line and each caboose is equipped with an apparatus which enables the crew at any time to throw a connection over the wires at any point and get into connection with the chief dispatcher's office without going to the nearest tower or station.

The Delaware division from Port Jervis to Lackawaxen has been completed with the telephone system and Erie employees are engaged in equipping the rest of this division.

—If you miss Frank P. Woodward's description of the Billy Sunday meetings you will be sorry. In Friday's Citizen.
