—A contest is on in a sub-committee of the house on education over the merits of the daisy and the violet as the prospective official flower of Pennsylvania. The committee was given the bill presented to make the daisy the official flower and to designate June 14 as daisy day and sent it for study to a sub-committee composed of Messrs. Jackson, Wayne, Post, Washington, and Savacool, Bucks. Mr. Post suggested the violet saying the daisy was more of a nuisance than an ornament, and Mr. Savacool lined up with him, the daisy being championed by Mr. Jackson. The whole committee met Wednesday to consider the bill.

—Pennsylvania will be a "wet" state for at least five years more, for the house of representatives, by a vote of 105 yeas to 90 yeas, declined to adopt the Steele joint resolution which would have amended the state constitution so as to prevent the manufacture or sale of vinous, malt, brewed or spirituous liquors. Even if it has been passed later by the senate and signed by the governor, it would have been necessary to go through the same operation two years hence before it could have been submitted to a vote of the people. That would take three years. This set-back for the "dry" cause, therefore, added at least two more years to the time when the people of the state will have a chance to express their opinion.

—The Elite Club banquet was held in Hawley on Tuesday evening, March 11th, at the Hawley Inn. W. F. REMARKABLE VITALITY TO THE GATES OF DEATH.

The will of Mrs. Azuba Mandeville, sister of Mrs. S. A. Shattuck, who both died last Sunday night at their home on Dyberry Place, which we publish in its entirety, was made by the former before she passed into the Great Beyond at midnight. Mrs. Mandeville directed to whom she chose her belongings to be given and signed her will in a firm hand writing before the end came, and was conscious until about a half hour before called home. It is a remarkable fact that a person in her 82nd year should retain her faculties to the last as did Mrs. Mandeville.

Know all men by these presents, that I, Azuba Mandeville of Honesdale, Wayne county, Pa., considering the uncertainty of life, and being of sound mind and memory, do make, declare and publish, this my last will and testament.

First—I give and bequeath to Mary Bader, my niece, one-half of all my money I have in the bank or elsewhere; also my gold watch and chain, the share of Automatic Electric Stock which I own, the best pair of pillows and all the household furniture and goods and property of whatever kind excepting such things as is otherwise specified below.

Second—I give and bequeath to my niece, Della Whaley one hundred dollars, also the quilt I pieced myself and is not quilted.

Third—I give and bequeath to Mrs. W. W. Baker one haircloth chair.

Fourth—I give and bequeath to my nephew, George W. Shattuck, all the remainder of the money I have after other bequests are made and all debts or bills paid, and Lucy Warg one quilt.

Fifth—I do name and appoint John E. Mandeville of Hawley, Pa., to be the executor of this my last will and testament.

In Testimony whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my seal this ninth day of March, 1913.

AZUBA J. MANDEVILLE, (Seal) Signed, sealed, declared and published by the said Azuba Mandeville as her last will and testament in presence of us, who at her request and in her presence and in the presence of each other have subscribed our names as witnesses hereto.

MRS. GEO. P. ROSS, MRS. GEO. B. KIMBLE, GEORGE P. ROSS.

COMING OF "BABY MINE."

With a laugh in every line, and a laugh quite worth while, such as will echo in your memory as you go home; with this requisite for a comedy that is destined to last indefinitely, "Baby Mine" appears at the Lyric on Monday, March 24, under the direction of William A. Brady (Ltd). The cast is made up of such clever comedy players as Nanon Welch, J. A. Bliss, Eda Von Buelow and William Courneon, all of them from the New York cast.

"Baby Mine" has been variously called, by well known critics, a perpetual delight and a cure for the blues, the most phenomenal comedy success of a decade and is without a doubt the funniest play ever written. It has actually put a girdle of mirth around the world, for it has enjoyed prolonged runs in London, where it ran for two years at Sir Chas. Wyndham's Theatre, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, Austria, St. Petersburg, and Japan, and now comes the information that Mr. Brady is to include the comedy in a repertoire of noted plays which he is sending around the world next spring.

The story of the play is much more intricate than is usually considered necessary for comedies, the action is rapid and very little time is allowed between laughs.

TRADE DAY FOR HONESDALE.

Plans are well under way for the establishment of a regular monthly Trade Day by the progressive merchants of Honesdale, some details of which may be found under another heading in to-day's Citizen. This move is along right lines, and is to be commended. Honesdale's monthly Trade Day will be a big success, and it will do much to advertise our town as a place where dependable goods along standard lines can be purchased at prices as low as are offered by merchants of any other city in this part of the United States.

The Citizen is prepared to perform an important part in pushing Honesdale's Trade Day. It has every facility for doing affective advertising, including a large circulation right among those who purchase goods, and an advertisement writer who has had experience along all lines of publicity that tend to sell goods. Yes, The Citizen will be right there when it comes to pushing the Trade Day Idea.

OBITUARY.

John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nearing, died at his home near Cochecon Center, N. Y., Sunday morning, March 2, following an illness of about one week from pneumonia. Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at Fosterdale on Wednesday afternoon, March 5, Rev. Reynolds, of Kenosha Lake, officiating. The deceased who was about 23 years old was a carpenter by trade, and was a young man who had a host of friends and was well liked by all who knew him. He is survived by his parents, one sister and one brother. The entire community, extending their sincere sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Death of Abraham Bennett.

Abraham Bennett died at his home at Hankins, N. Y., at 8 a. m., Tuesday, March 11, 1913, and the funeral will be held at the M. E. church, Damascus, at 11 a. m., Friday, Mar. 14th. He had been in failing health for some time but was able to attend to business until a few weeks ago. About a month ago he was in Honesdale, accompanied by W. V. Ross, on business in connection with the transfer of some real estate which he owned in this state. He was at the Allen house over night and was taken ill in the night and since that time he grew weaker until death relieved him of his suffering.

Mr. Bennett was born near Rileyville, this county, October 16, 1830, and at the age of 18 years he went to Cooley, near Kellams, where he was employed at lumbering. For two years he resided with his sister at Cooley and then entered the home of Benjamin Tyler with whom he resided continuously until he died. On June 1st, 1865, he married Hannah Jane, eldest daughter of Benjamin and Rosetta Ross Tyler. She died October 29, 1897.

The parents of the deceased, Abram and Nellie Ross Bennett, came from Orange county, N. Y., in 1823, and settled at Rileyville. Mrs. Bennett was a daughter of James and Rosanna Laton Ross of Callicoon. Benjamin Bennett, grandfather of the deceased, was one of the heroes who fell in the battle of the Minisink, near Lackawaxen, on July 22, 1779, and his name appears on the monument at Goshen, N. Y.

Mr. Bennett was one of the best known men in the upper Delaware valley. He was extensively engaged in lumbering for many years and made a comfortable fortune in that industry. After his lumber had been all marketed, he assisted his father-in-law in conducting a general store at Hankins. He and his wife were always active in church work. Both were ardent Methodists and all struggling church societies within miles of their home, regardless of denomination, were liberally aided by them. They were always present at dedicatory ceremonies and were very active in raising the funds to clear off all indebtedness. Not only in church work, but no individual ever appealed to Mr. Bennett for aid and was refused. He was a man of good judgment and his advice and counsel was sought by many. He was of a quiet, unassuming disposition, a lifetime Democrat, but never accepted any political preferment. As has been said of him, he has made the world better for having lived in it.

Aeroplanes in Hunting.

Hunting game from an aeroplane will likely be one of the recognized field sports. In France recently an aeronaut was invited to take part in such an event, and while flying about the field he was struck in the eye by a bullet from one of the guns and painfully, though not seriously, injured. He managed to bring the machine safely to the ground and then had his wound dressed by a surgeon.

NOT LIABLE FOR DAMAGE TO GOAT

JURY RETURN A VERDICT IN FAVOR OF DEFENDANT WEDNESDAY.

Action in Trespass Brought by Dr. Noble To Recover $100 For Loss of Goat Caused by Being Gored by Neighbor's Bull.

The action in trespass brought by Dr. Homer C. Noble, of Waymart, against William Glanville, was started Tuesday morning in court. F. C. Kimble and Chester A. Garratt represented the plaintiff. Charles P. Searle and Charles A. McCarty represented the defendant.

A jury was drawn composed of the following men: C. H. Karcher, Scott; Peter H. Cole, Manchester; Fred Bryant, Honesdale; Wm. Welsh, Paupack; Millard Lewis, Lebanon; Geo. A. Mott, Salem; Appley Mitchell, Damascus; Joseph G. Schwartz, Berlin; Richard Reichert, Hawley; John B. Gray, Honesdale; John Thompkins, Buckingham; C. B. Tegler, Damascus.

The action in trespass brought by Dr. Noble, was occasioned by the fact, as he alleges, that on June 11, 1912, he owned a farm in Mount Pleasant township, near the village of Pleasant Mount. William Glanville owned a farm adjoining. On this farm was a meadow where Glanville kept a bull pastured; in the adjoining pasture Dr. Noble kept a goat. On this day Dr. Noble alleges that Mr. Glanville's bull broke down the fence between the adjoining pastures and gored his goat so that it was necessary to shoot the animal in order to put it out of misery. The goat was gored in the groin. The defense also allege that the bull had a roaming nature. Dr. Noble placed the value of the goat at $100 and he brought this action to recover that amount. The principal witnesses for the plaintiff were Dr. H. C. Noble, Paul Cramer, William Myers, Oscar Bates and James Dalton.

The defense took up their case a little before noon Tuesday. The witnesses were: William Glanville, William Bates, Thomas Brenlon, Horace Wagner, and John Vithoole. They alleged that it was not the bull belonging to the defendant that injured Dr. Noble's goat but that there was a small stump in the latter's pasture on which the goat gored itself as the blood on the ground started at that point. They also denied that there was blood on the bull's head or horns. The case went to the jury early Tuesday afternoon and a sealed verdict was brought in Wednesday morning in favor of the defendant.

The court held that the owner of a bull was liable for all damage done by the animal while at large but as the evidence produced at the trial brought out the fact that there were several yearling bulls in the same pasture with the goat at the time, the liability for the death of the goat was not placed on the defendant.

The March Wayne Countean Out on Friday, March 21. Besides the regular grist of articles and matters of local interest to Wayne County readers, the March number will contain the first of four chapters of a story written by the editor that he doesn't know whether it is worth reading or not. It is called THE MARBLE CROSS. and it is a story of the Great Coal Strike. You might try a chapter of it and see what it is like. P. S.—The Wayne Countean is a pretty good spot to plant your advertisement. Woodward will see you next week about it.
