THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

EASTER.

Most glorious Lord of Life! On this day: Didst make Thy triumph over death and sin. And having harrowed hell, didst bring away Captivity thence captive, us to win. This joyous day, deare Lord, with joy begin: And grant that we, for whom thou diddest dye. Being with thy deare blood cleane washed from sin, May live for ever in felicity! And that Thy love we weighing worthily, May likewise love Thee for the same againe; And for Thy sake, that all lyke deare didst buy. With love may one another entertaine! So let us love, deare Love, lyke as we ought. —Love is the lesson which the Lord us taught. —Edmund Spenser.

HOW ABOUT YOUR BOY?

What is your boy doing? Where does he spend his evenings. Is he kept safe within the limits of his home, or do you allow him to run the streets, mingling with whom he will? Are you acquainted with his habits? What does he read?

EASTER MESSAGE.

"And the third day He rose again, according to the Scriptures."

The Easter message is one of new life, beauty and glory. The day the Nation celebrates the risen Lord is one of great rejoicing.

"Exalted high at God's right hand, The Lord of all below, Through Him is pardoning love dispensed, And boundless blessings flow."

The Citizen hopes its readers and subscribers will enjoy Easter in the fullest sense of the word. It extends to all the Season's greetings.

The management of The Citizen takes pleasure in presenting to its patrons this Easter edition of the paper.

The "Easter Message" is presented to our readers in a most entertaining manner. The stories are all well written, beautifully illustrated, and appropriate for the season. Aside from a literary standpoint our advertisers have an "Easter Message" which appeals to you. Their advertisements are written in a catchy manner, concise and to the point. They tell you what they have to offer and in a way that cannot help but convince you that they have some Easter articles for sale which you want to purchase.

IN THE SENATE.

Senator Penrose, like about 20 other Republican Senators of long service, was given a chairmanship—that of the Committee on Additional Accommodations for the Congressional Library. Senator Penrose also remains on Finance, Immigration, Post Offices and Naval Affairs.

Senator Oliver was not one of the Republicans given a minority chairmanship, owing to his comparatively brief service in the Senate. But he retains membership on several important committees, including Appropriations, Canadian Relations, Industrial, Expositions, Interstate Commerce and Privileges and Elections.

Here Are Reasons Why The Honesdale National Bank Succeeds.

Readers of The Citizen have noted, doubtless, the unique advertisement the Honesdale National Bank has recently been running in its columns. If they have missed it, turn to it right away and look it over. The object of the advertisement is to give a little object lesson that is calculated to show what has led to that famous old banking institution's remarkable success. Here are the several lines:

Years of Experience. That bank was started in 1836, when Honesdale was only nine years old. In all of these 77 years the bank has always been growing, and has never had a "sick" day. There is experience for you.

Security of Funds. The Honesdale National has the whole United States back of it. Could more security possibly be offered?

Soundness of Principle. The very foundation of the Honesdale National Bank is the bed-rock of integrity and a practical application of the "golden rule." This foundation is sometimes called "a square deal for everybody."

Safety of Investment. Conservatism has been in the past a marked characteristic of the Honesdale National Bank. A past record of 77 years surely points to a continuance along that line.

Liberality of Treatment. People who begin to do business with the Honesdale National Bank always go right along with that institution. They never have anything to complain about. That is the reason.

Economy of Management. This is a line that means that the Bank has a true sense of the moral responsibility that rests upon it as the custodian of the money of so vast a number of Wayne County people.

On such lines as these is it any wonder that the Honesdale National Bank is so popular and so successful?

Easter Attractions—Ladies' neck-wear, corsets, corset covers, auto veils and a beautiful line of trimmed hats for spring and summer at Kate McKenna's.

PROF. SURFACE HERE FRIDAY.

Everything is in readiness for the reception of Professor H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, of Harrisburg, and W. J. Lewis, of Pittston. Both of these gentlemen come to Honesdale, to-day, (Friday), March 21, to assist in organizing the Wayne County Agricultural Society. They will also give instructive talks during the day, which consists of two sessions, morning and afternoon.

The program outlined in our last issue will be observed as close as possible. It is subject to changes, however. Professor Surface is considered the best authority in the state of Pennsylvania upon horticultural and agricultural matters and the coming of a man of his standing into Honesdale is a drawing card that ought to fill every seat in the court house. Mr. Lewis, who is considered one of the best orchardists in the East will present to the farmers of Wayne county something that will be worth coming miles to hear. The apples from his farm near Pittston are sent to California, Louisiana, northwest and in fact all over the United States.

All interested in fruit growing or soil culture are requested to attend the sessions to be held in the court house on Friday of this week. There will be something new presented and it will be given in a bright and intelligent manner. The meeting is free and it should be largely attended. It is expected that the society will be organized with over 100 members. Considerable credit is due W. H. Bullock and his corps of excellent helpers for the preliminary work in making possible the organization of the Wayne County Agricultural Society.

S. T. Ham Guarantees His Harness.

Easter is a time for rejoicing, therefore your team of horses would rejoice if you presented them with a new set of harness or a pair of our excellent quality blankets. I have been in the harness business forty years and when I recommend a set of harness to a customer I know the quality of the leather used in its manufacture. True, you can buy cheap harness, but in the long run a better grade harness is cheaper in the end. You save money by buying quality harnesses. Every set of harness sold by me is guaranteed. S. T. Ham, near State bridge.

Bregstein Bros. Give Full Value

For your money when you trade at their store. When they sell you a suit of clothes, gents' furnishing goods or an overcoat, they do so with the expectation that you will return when in need again. They believe in quick sales and small profits and if you need anything in Men's and Children's Suits, Gents' furnishings, fancy hats, etc., you will find it to your advantage to deal with them. Make it a point to shop around a bit before coming to them to buy clothing. In that way the comparisons you make will show you why so many people prefer their store. The more closely their stock of clothing and gents' furnishings is examined the more surely its high quality and fair price will appeal to you. A high price doesn't always mean a corresponding high quality and many so called bargains are bargains in name only. This is a point to remember. Their Easter line is complete.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, on the evening of Monday, March third, the messenger of death passed our sentinel and invaded our Post, and summoned from his post of duty our Commander, Henry Wilson; and whereas, as we shall never again enjoy his genial comradeship and wise counsel. Always a leader and willing worker in the Grand Army, we mourn his departure, and his memory will ever be fresh in our hearts. Therefore be it

Resolved, that it is with sorrow we thus part with our Commander, but bow in humble submission to the "Grand Commander," who "doeth all things well."

Resolved, That the sympathy of this Post be extended to the sorrowing relatives, and in token of our sincere friendship for one who was one of Nature's noblemen. "His life was gentle, and the elements so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world—this was a man." Furthermore

Resolved, That these resolutions be placed upon the minutes, and the colors be draped for thirty days.

Captain James Ham Post, G. A. R.

Pell, the Druggist, Sells Quality Easter Goods.

Every article in the Quality Store bears the high mark of quality. Since being in business the proprietor has endeavored to impress upon the public the absolute necessity and value of purchasing quality goods. As a consequence the patrons of the Quality Store have been educated to this fact and now when Quality Store is mentioned the name of its progressive and enterprising proprietor, Pell, the druggist, is linked with it.

The Quality Store has a fine and varied line of appropriate Easter packages. Some are in the form of Foss' delicious quality chocolates, in different size boxes, and by the way are especially attractive just now.

An appropriate Easter gift would be a bottle of perfume. The Quality Store has a fine line of delicate odors, all pleasing to the olfactory nerves, and also to the pocketbook. They consist of the best on the market.

After trying to enjoy life for years with a no good stomach he gets wise. "I was bothered for years with stomach trouble and gastritis. Food laid like lead in my stomach and fermented, forming gas. This caused a pressure on my heart, so that I choked and gasped for breath. I thought my time had come. MI-ONA cured me after I had doctored without success."—Wm. V. Mathews, Bloomington, Ind.
