—A man who gave his name as Smith, and who said he was from Carbondale, was found partly frozen in a barn near the Elevator works about four o'clock Friday morning by Officer Canivan and taken to the lockup. Smith seems to have embroiled too freely and probably wandered out of his way and dropped down in the barn where he went to sleep. About four o'clock the residents in that vicinity were awakened by a loud scream and one of them called Officer Canivan who found Smith in a bad condition from sleeping in such an exposed place. He was released Saturday morning.

—The page of religious advertising now printed on Saturday, each week, in the Philadelphia North American is finding great favor among the clergy and people of that city. The upper part of the page contains a display advertisement, printed in large type, urging men and women to attend divine services on Sunday, or making an undenominational religious appeal of some sort. Below is given a list of the churches, their location and pastors. These advertisements are eagerly read and are doing a lot of good. The clergymen are much pleased with the results already obtained.

It is a pleasure to greet our townsman, John E. Richmond, on Honesdale streets once more. Mr. Richmond was more seriously injured when he fell on the steps of that Scranton hospital last winter than the public has generally understood, and, although well along on the road to recovery, it will be months yet before he will be able to use his left wrist and hand with any considerable degree of freedom. However, when it is considered that had Mr. Richmond's fall not been broken by his arm, which fortunately was not at his side in a recumbent position, his head would have struck the stone steps, resulting undoubtedly in his instant death. One week later a resident of Scranton fell on the same steps, almost in the identical spot, and was killed. Mr. Richmond is very thankful that he escaped with a broken wrist and broken and dislocated fingers.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Hannah Palmer. Mrs. Hannah Palmer died at her late home on Park street at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Death was due to meningitis and she had been ill about a week. Deceased was born in West Damascus, Feb. 8, 1862. She is survived by two sons, William and Leo of Honesdale. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at half-past two o'clock from the house, Rev. A. L. Whitaker officiating. Interment was made in Glen Dyberry cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. WM. D. CURTIS.

Well Known Woman of Pink Dies After an Illness of Five Years. After an illness that had extended over the past five years, Laura Kimble, wife of Wm. D. Curtis, of Pink, died last Friday morning. The funeral was held at the house on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, interment being made in the cemetery at Hamlin. Mrs. Curtis had been a member of the M. E. church for 25 years, and the funeral services were conducted by the minister of that denomination on that charge.

The survivors of Mrs. Curtis' immediate family are her husband, Wm. D. Curtis, to whom she was married in 1882, and two children, Mrs. Floyd Enslin, of Gravity, and Florence, aged seven years, at home.

Mrs. Curtis was born in Cherry Ridge township, at Hoadleys, on November 29, 1864. She lived at home until 1882, the time of her marriage. Her father was Stephen G. Kimble, who was born on July 6, 1822, and who died at the Curtis home on January 23, 1912. Her mother, Rebecca Osborne, was born in 1839, and died at Hoadleys April 5, 1906. Mrs. Curtis' illness dates from about the time of her mother's death.

It will be noted that her father was 90 years old at the time of his death. Her grandfather, James Kimble, lived in Paupack township and was 107 years of age at the time of his death.

Mrs. Curtis was the fifth in a family of nine children, as follows: Edward Kimble, resides at Ariel; Peter, died in infancy as the result of an accident whereby a log rolled over him; James Kimble was killed by the gravity cars at Hoadleys on the day he was 21 years old; Miles H. Kimble, resides at Hoadleys on the John R. Hoadley farm; Laura Kimble, the subject of this sketch, Alfred Kimble, lives in Scranton; Willis Kimble, was last heard from in Idaho; Lura Kimble, wife of Simon Spangenberg, lives in Honesdale, and Royal Kimble, who lives in South Canaan.

Comparative Digestibility of Food. Made with different Baking Powders. From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests: An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time. The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows: Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder: 100 Per Cent. Digested. Bread made with phosphate powder: 68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested. Bread made with alum powder: 67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested. These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them. Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

DORAN—FULLER. The marriage of Miss Ruth, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Henry Fuller, of Wilkes-Barre, to John H. Doran of Philadelphia, took place Wednesday, March 26th, at St. Stephen's church, that city, at high noon. An informal reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents on South River street. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of satin brocade that had been her mother's wedding gown. It was trimmed with seed pearls and with train. Her veil was of point lace surmounted with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids. The bridesmaid, a younger sister of the bride, Miss Emily Fuller, wore a gown of white mousseline de soie, trimmed with Irish lace, a picture hat with red roses, and carried a high, huge cluster of roses of rich crimson. The best man was Warren Doran of Philadelphia, a brother of the groom. The couple will make their home in Canada where Mr. Doran is engaged as mining engineer in the mines at Copper Cliff. The bride is well known at Honesdale, having frequently visited at the home of Andrew Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. John D. Fuller and Andrew Fuller of this place were among those present at the wedding. —Reno, to-night.
