Among the number to receive the ordinance of baptism was Mrs. Laura Moules, of Myers Hill, who is a convert of the daily Sunday evangelistic meetings at Wilkes-Barre.

—The people of Honesdale may well feel proud of the work the public schools of Honesdale are doing in music. Once each year they give a concert and operetta. The one for 1913 will be given next Friday evening. If you have heard them sing you will wish to hear them again and you have not heard them you will have a better opportunity.

—Work is practically finished at the new Gurney Electric Elevator works, south Main street. Havens Co., contractors and builders, are putting the finishing touches upon the fine machine shop and according to Andrew Nattress, engineer for Zimmermann, architects, Philadelphia, the building will be completed in about two weeks. Samuel Morrison, who contracted for the plumbing and heating of this large plant, completed his job on Saturday, giving entire satisfaction to the parties interested. The job was a big undertaking for a local concern, but being too large for Sam to handle.

—The directors of the Wayne County Savings Bank at their regular meeting held Monday morning, passed resolutions upon the late J. Pierpont Morgan.

—Mr. E. C. Sheeley of Port Jervis, who spent a few days with relatives in Hawley, Pa., last week, returned home Monday. Mr. Sheeley was called to Hawley on account of the critical illness of his brother, John Sheeley.

—Distracted by the fear that he would never regain his health, John J. Bradley, aged 35 years, a victim of the "white plague," committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a revolver at about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at his home in Newburgh. The bullet entered his right temple and pierced his brain. He died within ten minutes after he fired the shot which ended his life. He committed the act while he was alone in his room.

—One of the worst mud slides which has been known in years occurred on the Ontario and Western track at what is known as Early's Mountain about two miles south of Fish's Eddy, the south bound track being practically covered with mud, rocks and trees for a distance of half a mile. Trains were handled on single track orders, the north bound track being under the supervision of a train crew acting as pilot over the single track section.

—The Bryant building located upon Main street and lately occupied by Miss Kate McKenna as a millinery store and tenement house is being torn down. The rear portion, a story high, is the only part that is being razed. The new proprietor is undecided at present just what he will do, but it is expected that the main building in front will be moved to the rear and a new structure will be erected upon its site. This is one of Honesdale's oldest buildings. It was built by John H. and Richard H. Dunning in 1835.

—The D. & H. have decided to build a new station at Olyphant, and the people of that town are rejoicing for a new and up-to-date station has long been needed. —Mrs. Salo Friedewald delightfully entertained a large number of ladies in the High school auditorium Saturday afternoon by the reading of "The Singing Man," and other poems of Josephine Preston Peabody. The Singing Man is a poem depicting the conditions of labor. It is a very fine example of the poetic treatment of a theme that is attracting world-wide interest at the present time. Mrs. Friedewald's delightful interpretation of many smaller poems by the same author were very pleasantly received by those present. The next reading will take place next Saturday afternoon according to the regular program and will be an interpretation of "The House of Usna," which was written by Fiona MacLeod, the personality assumed by Mr. William Sharp.

—Sheriff Reynolds and C. M. Buckingham, of Uniondale, were in Philadelphia Monday and transferred James Gallagher from the Eastern penitentiary to the asylum at Danville. Gallagher had been in the hospital for some months, and while violent at times, had greatly improved, but appeared melancholy. Some time ago he developed a penchant for eating lead pencils, and physicians and attendants were kept busy keeping him from this form of diet. Sheriff Reynolds says there are 1,450 prisoners in the penitentiary at present, 31 of whom are serving life sentences. Thirty women prisoners are incarcerated there. They visited "Sim" Burch formerly of Kingsley, who serving a sentence. He is doing well on prison fare and weighs about 200 pounds.

—The frequent assertions of members of the House of Representatives, especially the followers of William Flinn, that the Senate has been holding up House bills, is refuted by figures made public recently. These figures show that the Senate has returned to the House for the signature of the Speaker eighteen per cent. of the House bills received by it while the House has only returned eleven per cent. of bills received from the Senate. The total number of original bills introduced in the House is 1,735 while the Senate has thus far received a total of 588 original bills. The House has passed and sent to the Senate 204 bills while the Senate has passed and sent to the House 129 bills. Thirteen Senate bills have been passed by the House and returned to the Senate while the Senate has passed 87 House bills and returned them to the House.

Mrs. Lord was sentenced on January 24, 1911, to serve from three to ten years in the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia. She has served two years and three months of her sentence.

—At a meeting of the Lackawaxen and Hawley Telephone company held in the Brundage hotel, Rowlands, Saturday afternoon, the following officers and directors were elected: President, A. L. Bishop, Hawley; vice-president, J. F. Myers, Lackawaxen; secretary and treasurer, M. H. Lassley, of Bohemia; other directors, C. R. Rosencrans, Greely; J. D. Weston, Honesdale; Jos. Chamberlain, Lackawaxen; A. G. Rowland, Rowlands. The company enjoyed a successful year, which just closed.

—The public has to be educated. That of course includes you and me. We are, therefore, trying to educate the readers of The Citizen to look not only upon the outside pages for live news matter, but upon every page, which includes pages 2, 3, 6 and 7. To-day's Citizen is especially interesting. On the second page is an article from the pen of A. M. Stevens upon "Wayne County Beats the West." Then page 3 tells of the organization of an United Spanish War Veteran camp in Honesdale; also an article concerning former Honesdale people where the mother of a little boy tried to get her son away from custodians. On page 7 is printed the statement of the Honesdale borough accounts, besides considerable other valuable reading.

—For Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings with a matinee on Saturday afternoon, Jos. Eckl's will present at the Lyric, five big all new vaudeville acts. Mr. Eckl's offering of vaudeville at the Lyric a few weeks ago was certainly first class in every respect, and this gentleman declares that upon his coming engagement here, he will introduce a bill of acts that will excel, on a whole, his former show here. Wilson and Rich, black face comedians, who are favorites in their line of work here, having played an engagement with the Amity Minstrels a few years ago, will introduce a new and original act consisting of singing and dancing with plenty of comedy. This team is very well known and liked here, which fact will no doubt have a tendency to crowd the Lyric to its doors at every performance.

The Great Romaine, the world's master musician, will entertain. It is said that this man can almost make a violin talk. A refined Irish comedy sketch act will be presented by Kelly & Adams. An especially fine comedy act is that of "Saulpaugh," America's greatest comedy clown acrobat. This act is one big laugh. Watch the tables. The added feature will be Andy Amann and Frances Hartley in their screaming comedy sketch, "The German Professor." Miss Hartley is considered by many to be the most beautiful woman on the stage. She is certainly some prima donna. Two performances will be given on Saturday evening, the first one starting at 6:30, the second at about 8:30. This arrangement was made on account of disappointment to many people on the Saturday night of the last Eckl's vaudeville performance here, many people on that occasion were unable to obtain admittance to the theatre.

ANNUAL ELECTION OF WHATSOEVER CIRCLE.

Held Friday Afternoon in Methodist Church—Fine Supper Served and Excellent Program Given.

The annual election of officers, supper and program of the Whatsoever Circle of the Methodist church occurred Friday afternoon and evening in the parlors of the church. A most enjoyable time was had, there being about 125 members, their husbands and families present.

The election occurred at 4 o'clock and resulted as follows: President, Miss Irene Long; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Ida Pethick; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. E. E. Williams; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. M. E. Bolkom; secretary, Mrs. F. J. Varcoe; treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Simons.

The latter made a very encouraging financial report. During the year just closed $1,119 were spent for improvements upon the church property. For decorating the interior of the church, $810 was paid by the Whatsoever Circle. A substantial payment has also been made on the new Brussels carpet in the church auditorium. The report showed that $753 had been earned by the circle during the past year, which is very gratifying to the members and their co-workers.

Following supper an excellent musical and literary program was rendered. It was under the supervision of Mrs. Charles F. Bullock. The program: Baritone solo, "I'm a Pilgrim," Sidney Cooper. Readings, W. B. Leshar. Selection, "I've Nothing Else to Do," Central Glee Club. Contralto solo, "Like Unto a Flower," Miss Charlotte Bullock. Reading, W. B. Leshar. Glee Club, "While I Have You." The different numbers of the program were enthusiastically applauded and were highly appreciated. The Glee club was composed of Sidney Cooper, Sumner Crossley, C. J. Dibble, Elwin Butler, Carl Bullock, Walter Robinson, George Hayward.

At the close of the program Rev. Will H. Hiller, representing the male portion of the gathering, made a motion tendering a vote of thanks to the ladies for the hospitality shown them. The motion was unanimously carried and an expression was made by a rising vote. N. J. Spencer acted as chairman and announced the different numbers on the program.

You don't mind it so much if some youngster does put it over you on April Fool's day--anyone can laugh at a good joke. But you would have a different story if some one sold you a part cotton suit for all wool. There isn't any fooling about that.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes are absolutely all wool or all wool and silk.

There isn't any April 1st business about that. And the best of all they don't cost any more than the ordinary clothes.

Ask to see our line of $18, $20 and $25 Suits for Men and Young Men.

They will surely please you.
