

Down Hawley Way

Some Things That Took Place When Ernest Ryan Had Served His Time—Something More About That Turtle Sign—The Eddy is a Healthful Place to Live In—Personals, and Other Stuff of More or Less Importance.

They sat around the banquet board And ate good things aplenty; They smiled as Fales and Rodman talked.

The lad with the bag of cash.

NINE hundred dollars back pay! That sounds mighty fine to us! How does it sound to you, boys? Well, if you would have some experience along that line, just make an application to the G. B. A., better known as the Glass Bottle Blowers' Association, for a position as apprentice in one of the glass factories of the land.

Most naturally, after a five years' apprenticeship, there is joy in the heart of the one who has served within two years of as long as Jacob, the patriarch, served for his wife, and then had one "put over" on him by getting the wrong girl.

It is customary when an apprentice has finished his time for him to give a banquet to the members of the branch to which he becomes a member.

Miss Helen Baschon had charge of the dining room during the banquet, which was a four-course affair, and was most thoroughly enjoyed by the guests that sat down at the "festive board."

After full justice had been done the menu, Dr. Geo. T. Rodman made an address to the boys which was listened to with much pleasure.

All who were at the "blow-out" were unanimous in declaring that the affair was one of the most enjoyable events of the kind that they ever attended, or that was ever held in Hawley.

The Eddy is a Healthy Locality, if You Please.

Now, how is this? Elevated lands and locations are supposed to be more healthful than flat and low places. But, like all such suppositions and so-called rules there are notable exceptions, and there is one right here in Hawley.

At the Eddy resided, up to the death of the late Joseph Soliday, four people, all clear and away beyond the allotted time of man—seventy years—namely: Frederick Meisinger, the youngest of the quartette, who is in his 87th year; Jos. Soliday, who was buried on Tuesday, who was in his 89th year; Mrs. T. V. Taft is in her 89th year, and Mrs. Joseph Soliday is in her 92nd year.

Don't Forget That Tuesday Is Our Day in Hawley.

Tuesday of each week is the day when the writer of this department visits Hawley in quest of matters pertaining to the town and its suburbs. It will be well to make a note of this fact, and as he is making his rounds do not hesitate to stop him and give him your news items and other matters of a business or news character.

That Turtle Sign Was a Failure.

Say! The "dear reader" has one over on us, all right! The writer hereof has generally regarded weather prophecies and season prognostications as belonging to that class that is denominated as "old wives' fables," or "old women's whims"; but he sometimes "falls" to those very things, in fact becomes an easy mark. He looked upon all such things as "signs" and "moon" planting lore as the veriest nonsense, and generally laughs when he sees the new moon over his left shoulder, regardless of the ill luck that such a view is supposed to bring.

Well, a week or two ago, on a delightfully warm Spring morning while on his way from Hoadleys to Hawley he saw several turtles sunning themselves on logs, evidently not caring whether school kept or not, and, never having seen turtles out so early in the season, he concluded that their appearance must mean that there would be no more ice, and that it was time to plant the potatoes and begin shivering over the forthcoming ice bill.

Frederick Meisinger is Sick at His Eddy Home. Frederick Meisinger, one of the oldest residents of Hawley, is seriously ill at his home at the Eddy. Mr. Meisinger has been a very active man all the years of his life. The writer has known him since 1874, and he was an old resident of Hawley at that time.

Business is Brisk at The Brilliant Shop.

C. C. Lozier has opened his cutting shop and it has already become quite a busy place. Seven young men, all of them from Aldenville, are at work, and they are such a good-natured bunch of fellows that when the time comes for them to remove to the new shop at Prompton the people of Hawley will sadly miss their smiling faces.

Work to Commence on The New County Bridge.

A consignment of iron has arrived for the new County bridge that is to take the place of the iron structure that now has become inadequate for the demands made upon it. The new bridge will be a cement affair, and will be a credit to the town. On the sides of the driveway will be broad walks for pedestrians.

Morris Miller spent Sunday with his parents and sister here. He returned to Hawley on Monday. Mrs. A. Goble, who has been indisposed, is convalescing.

course with the exception of a very short time when the bridge will necessarily be closed. The contract for the construction of the bridge is in the hands of Elmer Chapman, of Lake Ariel, who has an extensive cement plant at the Gravel Branch, between Ariel and Maplewood.

Hawley Silk Mills Feel Effect of Paterson Strike.

Considerable complaint is heard regarding the local condition of the silk industry in Hawley that is directly affected by the unfortunate strike now in progress in the city of Paterson, N. J.

The materials that are used in the Hawley mill come from Paterson, where certain preliminary work is done. The strike shuts off the source of supply of the Hawley mills, and thus is seen how a strike in a city one hundred and fifty miles away can seriously affect the interests of the people right here in "dear Old Wayne."

These Men Are All Waiting For Next Tuesday.

Have you noticed it? We mean that far-a-way, dreamy look that may be seen in the eyes of so many of the residents of Hawley? If you haven't, why just watch out for it. It means that April 15th will be around next Tuesday, and that means that a whole lot of Hawley men, like William Schardt, William Watts, Peter Unger, Charles Rose, James D. Ames, Wm. V. Hull, Thos. F. Mangan, George Teeter, Charles Schardt, William Nell and Peter Nell are overhauling their stock of fishing tackle and fishing yarns.

SENTENCE SINCLAIR

Would Be "Kidnaper" Gets Six Months In Jail.

HIS COMPANION FINED $25.

After Sinclair Pleaded Guilty to Assault He Was Taken to Prison—Father of Girl Thinks He Was Let Off Easy—Also Fined $300.

Allentown, Pa., April 10.—Samuel Sinclair was sentenced to six months in the county prison and fined $300 and costs here for his part in the attempted "kidnaping" of Miss Anne E. Steckel on Jan. 11. R. Walter Starr, Jr., his companion, was fined $25 and costs.

Sinclair pleaded guilty to aggravated assault and battery. He was taken to prison at once to begin his sentence. Starr pleaded to assault and battery. He paid his fine and returned to his home in Philadelphia shortly after. Sinclair received his sentence without exhibiting any emotion and surrendered himself to the court officers without a tremor.

Reuben P. Steckel, the father of the girl, whose fortune is estimated at nearly $1,000,000, said after the sentence that he thought the young men had been let off easy, but that he was satisfied with the penalty pronounced by the court.

"I thought Sinclair should have had a longer term," said Mr. Steckel, "but I must be satisfied with the court's ruling. Starr was with him and to a certain extent also responsible."

Miss Steckel was here, but refused to be seen. Mr. Steckel said she was out when the announcement of the sentence was brought to him.

Sinclair and Starr arrived here and went immediately to the court, where Judge Heydt of Carbon county sat to hear their pleas. Judge Trexler, who usually presides, did not wish to hear the proceedings, as he is a near neighbor and friend of the Steckels and as such felt that he had too special an interest in the case. It is said that Miss Steckel on several occasions went to the Trexler home to escape the attentions of Sinclair.

Sinclair and Starr, who immediately after the "kidnaping" had waived a hearing and furnished $3,000 bail each for appearance at court, were escorted into the courtroom by their attorney, former District Attorney Fred B. Gerner. They were accompanied by their fathers, Samuel Sinclair and Dr. Walter Starr, Sr., a professor in the department of chemistry at the Medical-Chirurgical college, Philadelphia, where young Starr is a senior.

On behalf of Sinclair, Mr. Gerner assured the court that the reason of Sinclair's actions was purely and simply affection for the young woman.

This affection, he declared, was of the most honorable character. That a mistake had been made he admitted, and for Sinclair he entered a plea of aggravated assault and battery and for Starr of simple assault and battery.

Mr. Gerner said that the young lady was entirely innocent in the affair. He confessed for Sinclair that Miss Steckel was not in league with the attempted "kidnaping," nor could Sinclair claim that she had in any way encouraged his attentions or led him to believe that she cared for him.

Speaking for Sinclair, Mr. Gerner added that Miss Steckel was wholly and entirely innocent.

SILK MILL OWNERS SEE TENER

Have Conference on Labor Bills Before the Legislature.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 10.—Declaring that further restrictions will be disastrous to the silk industry of northeastern Pennsylvania in view of what they term tariff tinkering by the Democratic congress in Washington, three silk manufacturers of Scranton, C. S. Seaman, Valentine Bliss and H. C. Bailey, came to Harrisburg and had a conference with Governor Tener relative to the child labor bill, the proposed law regulating working hours for women and the minimum wage measure, all of which are pending in the house.

The manufacturers laid their side of the case before the executive, with a request that the interests of the silk industry in the northeastern section be safeguarded. They also conferred with representatives in the house from that section of the state. They declared the tariff bill presented in congress Monday would make the regulation of hours doubly hard on silk producers.

DIES IN STATE CAPITOL.

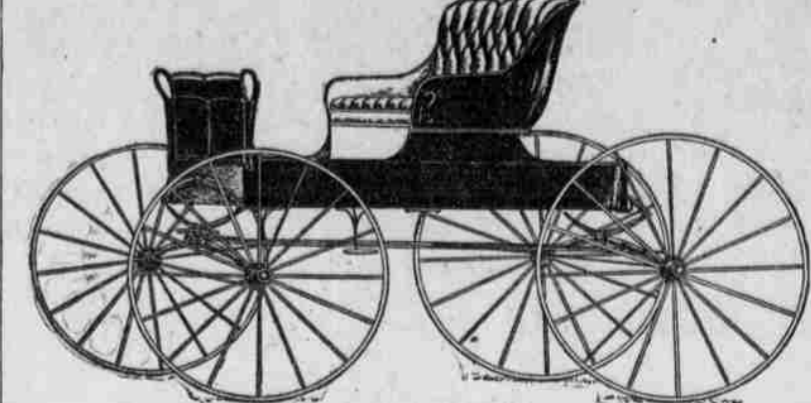

Died in the Auditor General's Office Suddenly Stricken.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 10.—Death, which has carried off a Philadelphia member of the house and one of the senators during this session, stole into Auditor General Sisson's office at the capitol, laying low Jacob A. Creps, who was apparently in health. Creps, about fifty-five years old, a friend of Congressman Lang, for five years was a clerk in the auditor general's department.

Coroner Eckinger said heart disease was the cause. Creps had no work to do at the office, but visited the department for a chat.

STEENE.

Steeene, April 10.

Mrs. Oscar Clarke and son William returned to their home at Deposit, N. Y., Saturday, after visiting a week with her parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chapman, of Wilkes-Barre, spent Sunday with the latter's parents here.

Merchant Snediker and wife spent Sunday with the former's brother in Clinton township.

Miss Edith Hubbard has accepted a position at the knitting mill in Waymart.

The Bobolink and mate spent Saturday with friends at Honesdale.

Six years ago the first of this month the Bobolink and mate moved from Carbondale to this place. During that time there has passed away nineteen of the old residents of Steene and Keene to the Great Beyond. If the same number goes in the next six years there will be few left to mourn the loss of former years.

The Bobolink sold a four weeks' old veal calf last week that tipped the scales at 156 pounds at eight cents per pound live weight.

Wednesday, April 9th the schools at Prompton and Steene closed for this season.

Lesley Mill received his lately purchased motorcycle from a firm at Carbondale Saturday. It is a beauty.

Four weeks' old pigs are selling at eight dollars per pair in this section.

IF YOU HAVE ANY SKIN TROUBLE, READ THESE STATEMENTS

"I suffered from Erysipelas for thirty years and could obtain only temporary relief, although I tried various remedies and treated with the best doctors. My face was a dreadful sight and was so swollen at times that I could not see. I heard of Hokara and purchased a jar. It gave immediate relief and in a short time entirely cured me. I have not been troubled with Erysipelas since. F. P. Holt, 1011 Rock St., Little Rock, Ark.

"Until about two years ago I suffered with Eczema since a small child. It was all over my body, even in my hair and on the bottom of my feet. I bought about one dozen jars of Hokara from my druggist and it cured me. I am now entirely well and have been well for over two years. Mrs. J. T. Fleming, 1102 West First St., Joplin, Mo.

"I suffered with Eczema for over twenty years. The affected parts were so sore and tender that I was obliged to have cushions put in bed to keep the bedclothes from touching me. For a long time I suffered so that I could not sleep until from utter exhaustion. Hokara gave me instant relief, and in a short time entirely cured me. Hokara is a wonderful remedy. Mrs. Mary A. Gray, Box 52, Andover, Ohio.

We are local agents for Hokara and recommend it highly for all skin troubles and as a massage cream. If it fails to benefit we will refund your money.

THE PEIL, DRUGGIST.

SAIER OUT OF FIRST GAME.

Archer Will "Sub" For First Baseman Till Sprained Ankle Mends.

Chicago, April 10.—Reports indicate that Victor Saiers' ankle, which was injured in practice, will keep him out of the Chicago Nationals' opening game here and perhaps for several days will force him to stay on the invalid list. Archer probably will under study Saiers at first base, leaving the bulk of the catching to Bresnahan for the first few days. It is Manager Evers' intention to accustom Archer to first base anyway, so he can be used against left handed pitchers, Saiers being somewhat weak when facing them.

Little Rock, Ark., April 10.—The plant of the Rose City Cotton Oil company, two and a half miles east of Argentina, across the river from Little Rock, was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $200,000. The origin of the fire has not been determined.
