AMERICANS TO BE LIKE THE INDIANS

Facial Features of the Race Changing.

EXPERTS DESCRIBE TREND.

English Physiognomists Tell How High Cheek Bones, Coarse Black Hair, Immobility and Other Aboriginal Characteristics Are Coming In. Other Races Affected.

English physiognomists assert that Americans as a nation are going back to first principles in the matter of Stahl, Mrs. Louisa facial appearances. In other words, instead of progressing in the line of Anglo-Saxon beauty they are gradually but surely beginning to look like Indians.

Not only are they becoming to look like Indians as a race, but the residents of each section of the country are taking on the facial traits of the particular tribes that originally roamed over the territory in which they were born.

The physiognomists in question in commenting upon these changes say in substance that the American face is steadily changing; that it is a curious fact that the typical American face is becoming to resemble more and more closely that of the original resident of the same land. The Indian's high and prominent cheek bones, lank hair, thin lips and impressive expression are some of the noticeable changes that are being brought about.

They assert that the American blond is now passing into history and that in a few years the wire haired, beardless individual will take up the center of the stage as the distinctive American type.

Other Nations Changing.

The future cartoon of your Uncle Samuel, according to their figuring, instead of being the fine old gentleman with the slippery elm cud hidden away in his cheek, the long hirsute draperies on his chin and the rosy face that reflects all there is in good nature and Yankee humor, will be replaced by a solemn individual of copper hue, with as much expression in his face as a pan of milk and with hair that suggests barbed wire. Why all this change they know not. Suffice it to say that such is the decree.

Not only are Americans changing in type, but so also are the Japanese. the New Zenlanders, the French, the Italians and even our British cousins themselves.

The chauge in the Japanese is due so they say, to the change of diet. Where formerly every visit to the table was met with a bowl of rice, now pork chops, butcher's tenderloins and veal cutlets breaded greet them.

After several years of experimenting Japan decided to put meat on the daily dlet of her navy, with the result that where the experiment was made the lucky ones who were chosen for the test began to sprout in two directions, up and across. It was noticed that the men of the ships where beef was served grew about three-quarters of an inch on the average. Throughout the island empire entrees and roasts have been taken up, with the result that the Jap generally is growing to be a taller individual.

United States consuls report that local tailors complain that since the introduction of meat there has been a general demand for more cloth in making clothes. Another noticeable change that has been brought about is the condition of their hair. Heretofore their hair has been as upright and as bristly as a galliwog's, but now it is becoming as smooth and lank as the average American's. Hair oil and hair brushes, as a result, have become standard articles of sale through the country where only a few years ago the former was generally thought to be something to drink and the latter was mistaken for a petrified animal of porcupine order.

"Bottle" Nose Coming.

New Zealanders are taking on the "bottle" nose, not as a fashion, but because changes are also coming about down there. The "bottle" nose is the style of nose that spreads across the face rather than stands out from it. sometimes referred to by physiognomists as the "squat aquiline." This nose is typical of the New Zealand aborigine, the Maori.

The dapper little Frenchman heretofore known for his raven hair and mustaches and imperial of the same hue will in the future break out as fair, as large and as husky as the Oles. the Yons and the Svens of the north. No longer, of course, according to the physiognomists, will be be seen draped in his balloony panties on the field of honor seeking "revanche" in the jeu d'epee, jumping about like the little wooden object that as children we used to push up and down a stick. Instead he will come lumbering on to he selected place a mass of muscles, with tawny hair, ready to do battle in support of his good name with a club or some other such weapon.

The Cavalieris of Italy will no longer be the same dark objects that they are today, but instead will play a close second in the matter of physical makeup to their French cousins across the That is, they, too, will be husky blonds with pale blue wall paper

GET THESE Money-making Secrets Farm Journal

PARM JOURNAL ("cream, not skim milk") is the great little paper published for 36 years in Philadelphia by Wilmer Atkinson. It is taken and read by more families than any other farm paper in the WORLD. Its four million readers (known as "Our Folks") are the most intelligent and prosperous country people that grow, and they always say the Farm Journal helped to make them so. Their potatoes are larger, their milk tests higher, their hogs weigh more, their fruit brings higher prices, because they read the Farm Journal.

Do you know Peter Tumbledown, the old fellow who won't take the Farm Journal? By showing how NOT to run a farm, Peter makes many prosperous. Nobody can go on reading the Farm Journal and being a Tumbledown too. Many have tried, but all have to quit one or the other.

The Farm Journal is bright, brief, "boiled down," practical, full of gumption, cheer and sunshine. It is strong on housekeeping and home-making, a favorite with busy women, full of life and fun for boys and girls. It sparkles with wit, and a happy, sunny spirit. Practical as a plow, readable as a novel. Clean and pure, not a line of fraudulent or nasty advertising. All its advertisers are guaranteed trustworthy.

The Farm Journal gives more for the money and puts it in fewer words than any other farm paper. 32 to 80 pages monthly, illustrated. FIVE years (60 issues) for $1.00 only. Less than 2 cents a month. No one-year, two-year or three-year subscriptions taken at any price.

have sold by hundreds of thousands, and have made a sensation by revealing the SECRETS OF MONEY-MAKING in home industry. People all over the country are making money by their methods.

POULTRY SECRETS is a collection of discoveries and methods of successful poultrymen. It gives Felch's famous mating chart, the Curtiss method of getting one-half more pullets than cockerels, Boyer's method of insuring fertility, and priceless secrets of breeding, feeding, how to produce winter eggs, etc. HORSE SECRETS exposes all the methods of "bishoring," "plugging," cocaine and gasoline doping, and other tricks of "gyps" and swindlers, and enables any one to tell an unsound horse. Gives many valuable training secrets. CORN SECRETS, the great NEW hand-book of Prof. Holden, the "Corn King," shows how to get ten to twenty bushels more per acre of corn, rich in protein and the best stock-feeding elements. Pictures make every process plain.

EGG SECRETS tells how a family of six can make hens turn its table scraps into a daily supply of fresh eggs. If you have a back-vard, get this booklet, learn how to use up every scrap of the kitchen waste, and live better at less cost.

THE "BUTTER BOOK" tells how seven cows were made to produce half a ton of butter each yer year. (140 pounds is the average). An eye-opener. Get it, weed out your poor cows, and turn the good ones into record-breakers. STRAWBERRY SECRETS is a revelation of the discoveries and methods of L. J. Farmer, the famous expert, in growing inscious fall strawberries almost until snow files. How and when to plant, how to icritilise, how to remove the blossoms, how to get three crops in two years, etc. GARDEN GOLD shows how to make your backyard samply fresh vegetables and fruit, how to cut down your grocery bills, keep a better table, and get cash for your surplus. How to plant, cultivate, harvest and market. DUCK DOLLARS tells how the great Weber duckfarm near Roston makes every year 50 cents each on 40,000 duck-lings. Tells why ducks pay them better than chickens, and just HOW they do everything.

TURKEY SECRETS discloses fully the methods of Horace Vose, the famous Rhode Island "turkey-man," who supplies the White House Thanksgiving turkeys. It tells how to mate, to set eggs, to hatch, to feel and care for the young, to prevent sickness, to fatten, and how to make a turkey-ranch PAY.

The MILLION EGG-FARM gives the methods by which J. M. Poster made over $18,000 a year, mainly from eggs. All chicken-raisers should learn about the "Rancocas Unit," and how Foster FEEDS hens to produce such quantities of eggs, especially in winter.

DRESSMAKING SELF-TAUGHT shows how any Intelligent woman can design and make her own clothes, in the height of fashion. The author has done it since she was a girl. She now has a successful dressmaking establishment and a school of dressmaking. Illustrated with diagrams.

The Farm Journal Booklets | What Our Folks Say About F. J.

"I have had more help, encouragement and enjoy-ment out of it in one year than I did out of my other papers in ten years," says C. M. Persons. "It is a queer little paper. I have sometimes read it through and thought I was done with it, then pick it up again and find something new to interest me," says Alfred Krogh.

"Farm Journal is like a bit of sunshine in our home. It is making a better class of people out of farmers. It was first sent me as a Christmas present, and I think it the choicest present I ever received, "says F. R. LoValley.

"We have read your dear little paper for nearly 40 ars. Now we don't live on the farm any more, yet I still have a inkering for the old paper. I feel that I belong to the family, and ery page is as dear and familiar as the faces of old friends," says "I fear I neglect my business to read it. I wish it could be in the hands of every farmer in Virginia," says W. S. Cline.

"I live in a town where the yard is only 15 x 18 feet, but I could not do without the Farm Journal," says Miss S "I get lots of books and papers, and put them aside for future reading. The only paper I seem to have in my hands all the time is Farm Journal. I can't finish reading it. Can't you make it less interesting, so I can have a chance at my other papers?" writes John Swall.

"If I am lonesome, down-hearted, or tired, I go to Farm Journal for comfort, next to the Rible," says Mabel Dewitt "Farm Journal has a cheerful vein running through it that makes it a splendld cure for the "blues." When home tired in mind and body, I sit down and read it, as. I to give me new inspiration for life," writes G. E. Halderns

"We have a brother-in-law who loves a joke. We live in Greater New York, and consider ourselves quite citified, so when he sent us the Farm Journal as a New Year's gill we nearly died laughing. 'How to raise hore'—we who only use bacon in glass jarn! 'How to keep ows clam'—when we use condensed milk even for rice pudding! 'How to plant onlons'—when we never plant anything more fragrant than lilles of the valler. I accepted the gill with thanks, for we are too well-bred to look a gift horse in the mouth. Soon my eye was caught by a beauting poem. I began to read it, then when I wanted the Farm Journal I found my husband deeply interested in an article. Then my oldest son began to ask, 'Has the Farm Journal come yet?' He is a jeweler, and hasn't much time for literature; but we find so much interest and uplift in this fine paper that we appreciate our New Year's gilt more and more," writes Ella B. Burkman. "We have a brother-in-law who loves a joke. We

"I received 'Corn Secrets' and 'Poultry Secrets,' ad consider them worth their weight in gold," says W. G. Newall. "What your Egg Book tells would take a beginner says Roy Chaney "Duck Dollars is the best book I ever had on duckraising," says F. M. Warnock,

"If your other booklets contain as much valuable information as the Egg-Book, I would consider them cheap at double the price," says F. W. Mansfield. "I think your Egg-Book is a wonder," says

"The Farm Journal beats them all. Every issue has minders and ideas worth a year's subscription," writes

"One year ago I took another agricultural paper, and it took a whole column to tell what Farm Journal tells in one paragraph," says N. M. Gladwin.
