Her Patriotism

By ELIZABETH WEED

Louise Archer was a very high strung girl. Excitement was to her a necessity, and often she mistook her excitable nature for noble impulses. When the Spanish-American war broke out she was nineteen years old and had been every day reading of the tyranny of General Weyler and the sufferings of the Cubans.

Louise had a lover, Gus Saunders, a plodding, methodical chap, entirely different from her. Since she could not go and fight the dons herself she determined that Saunders should go. Impelled by the rattling of drums and the "gathering of the clans," she went over to where he was sawing wood and said to him:

'Why, Gus, I'm surprised at you! Everybody but you is rallying round the fing, while you are stooping over a log with a bucksaw. Aren't you going to enlist?"

"Enlist? What for?"

"Why, to right the Cubans' wrongs." "I don't see why I should right their wrongs."

"Haven't you any patriotism?" "I don't see any occasion for patriot-

"I do. Our young men are flocking to the standard by thousands, while you are content to bend your back sawing wood. Oh, that I should have accepted a"-

The young man was deeply in love The expression on his face changed to one of such pain that Louise was deterred from speaking the word that was on her tongue. Throwing down his saw, he said: "Louise, I love you so well that I will try my best to live up to your standard. After all, it is no more the duty of others than mine to respond to the call for volunteers. I shall enlist at once."

"Spoken like a man!" was the enthusiastic response, and she impulsively threw her arms about his neck. am sure you will return a hero."

"A what?" asked Gus. "A hero. Some of Napoleon's marshals rose from the ranks, and maybe you will."

"Just so-that is, if I have time." "Time? What do you mean by that?" "Why, how long do you think it would take a big cat to kill a very little mouse?"

"Oh, you're always looking on the wrong side of things. It's going to be a great war. Goodby. When you return with a general's shoulder straps just think how proud I'll be of you." "You'll be true to me?"

"True to my soldier lover! Why.

A velley of kisses and he was gone. A few months later a troopship unloaded a cargo of skin and bone on Montauk Point. Most of them were transferred to hospitals, the balance put in camps. One who had suffered from every disease known in Cuba was retained in hospital as long as there was a hospital at the point, then transferred to a more permanent home for the sick. He lingered between life and death till spring, when his doctors concluded that he would have a better chance for recovery if he could get a change. He was eager to go, assuring them that a sweetheart was waiting for him and his separation from her was keeping him back. Being discharged, he sought the location of his enlistment and, tottering along the road, met one who had known him as a hearty man, but who failed to recognize him.

"Is Louise Archer alive and well?" asked the ex-soldier.

"Oh, yes, she's alive and well, only her name isn't Archer any more; it's Gugliamento."

"Wh-a-a-t?" faltered the stranger aghast.

"Gugliamento, a dago fruit man, came along here just after you fellers went away selling California grapes for Malagas and such like. He had big black eyes and long black mustache and curly hair. He sold Louise some fruit and got to talking with her. He told her that the Cubans were all niggers, while the Spaniards were brave men who had owned the island ever since Columbus discovered it 400 years ago. She asked him to come in and tell her about it.

"Well, the feller twisted her right around. She had been one of the most patriotic girls of these parts; sent a lover down to fight these same dagosmore fool he. And after the fruit man went away she began to howl about the iniquity of the Spanish war. The feller kept comin' round every few weeks, and about a month ago she walked off with him."

The stranger stood looking at his informant out of his hollow eyes with pain and horror.

"Louise married a Spaniard!" he gasped. "Why, she"-

"Oh, yes, she was full of fight on the other side when the thing commenced. But, stranger, you seem awfully taken back at hearing about her. If you have any interest in her you needn't worry about the Spaniard. She came back a week ago without him. They say he dug out and left her to shift for

The veteran turned and staggered away in the direction from whence he

But this is not all of the story. A day came when Signora Gugliamento secured a divorce from the fruit seller and, repentant, married the man she had sent to the war. If she was fickle, she paid for her fault by a lifetime of devotion to her soldier husband.

GET THESE Money-making Secrets Farm Journal

PARM JOURNAL ("cream, not skim milk") is the great little paper published for 36 years in Philadelphia by Wilmer Atkinson. It is taken and read by more families than any other farm paper in the WORLD. Its four million readers (known as "Our Folks") are the most intelligent and prosperous country people that grow, and they always say the Farm Journal helped to make them so. Their potatoes are larger, their milk tests higher, their hogs weigh more, their fruit brings higher prices, because they read the Farm Journal.

Do you know Peter Tumbledown, the old fellow who won't take the Farm Journal? By showing how NOT to run a farm, Peter makes many prosperous. Nobody can go on reading the Farm Journal and being a Tumbledown too. Many have tried, but all have to quit one or the other.

The Farm Journal is bright, brief, "boiled down," practical, full of gumption, cheer and sunshine. It is strong on housekeeping and home-making, a favorite with busy women, full of life and fun for boys and girls. It sparkles with wit, and a happy, sunny spirit. Practical as a plow, readable as a novel. Clean and pure, not a line of fraudulent or nasty advertising. All its advertisers are guaranteed trustworthy.

The Farm Journal gives more for the money and puts it in fewer words than any other farm paper. 32 to 80 pages monthly, illustrated. FIVE years (60 issues) for $1.00 only. Less than 2 cents a month. No one-year, two-year or three-year subscriptions taken at any price.

The Farm Journal Booklets

have sold by hundreds of thousands, and have made a sensation by revealing the SECRETS OF MONEY-MAKING in home industry. People all over the country are making money by their methods.

POULTRY SECRETS is a collection of discoveries and methods of successful poultrymen. It gives Felch's famous mating chart, the Curtiss method of getting one half more pullets than cockerels, Boyer's method of insuring fertility, and priceless secrets of breeding, feeding, how to produce winter eggs, etc. HORSE SECRETS exposes all the methods of "bish-oping," "plugging," cocaine and gasoline doping, and other tricks of "gyps" and swintlers, and enables any one to tell an unsound horse. Gives many valuable training secrets, CORN SECRETS, the great NEW hand-book of Prof. Holden, the "Corn King," shows how to get ten to twenty bushels more per scre of corn, rich in protein and the best stock-teeding elements. Pictures make every process plain.

EGG SECRETS tells how a family of six can make hens turn its table scraps into a daily supply of fresh eggs. have a back-yard, get this booklet, learn how to use up scrap of the kitchen waste, and live better at less cost.

THE "BUTTER BOOK" tells how seven cows were made to produce half a ton of butter each yer year. (140 pounds is the average). An eye-opener. Get it, weed out your poor cows, and turn the good ones into record-breakers.

STRAWBERRY SECRETS is a revelation of the discoveries and methods of L. J. Fariner, the famous expert, in growing luscious fall strawbernes almost until snow flies. How and when to plant, how to lertilize, how to remove the blossoms, how to get three crops in two years, etc.

GARDEN GOLD shows how to make your backyard supply fresh vegetables and fruit, how to cut down your grocery hills, keep a better table, and get cash for your surplus. How to plant, cultivate, harvest and market.

DUCK DOLLARS tells how the great Weber duckfarm near Boston makes every year 50 cents each on 40,000 duck-lings. Tells why ducks pay them better than chickens, and just HOW they do everything. TURKEY SECRETS discloses fully the methods of Horace Vose, the famous Rhode Island "turkey-man," who sup-plies the White House Thanksgiving turkeys. It tells how to mate, to set eggs, to hatch, to feed and care for the young, to pro-went sickness, to fatten, and how to make a turkey-ranch PAY. The MILLION EGG-FARM gives the methods by which J. M. Foster made over $18,000 s year, mainly from eggs. All chicken-raisers should learn about the "Rancocas Unit," and how Foster FEEDS hens to produce such quantities of eggs, especially in winter.

DRESSMAKING SELF-TAUGHT shows how any intelligent woman can design and make her own clothes, in the height of fashion. The author has done it since she was a girl. She now has a successful dressmaking establishment and a school of dressmaking. Illustrated with diagrams.

SHALL I FARM? is a clear, impartial statement of both advantages and drawbacks of farming, to belp those who have to decide this important question. It warms you of dangers, swindles, and mistakes, tells how to start, equipment needed, its cost, chances of success, how to get government aid, etc.

These booklets are 6 x 9 inches, and profusely illustrated. Farm Journal FOUR full years, both for $1.00 The Booklets are NOT sold separately—only with Farm Journal.

What Our Folks Say About F. J.

"It is a queer little paper. I have sometimes read it through and thought I was done with it, then pick it up again and find something new to interest me," says Alfred Krogh.

"Farm Journal is like a bit of sunshine in our home. It is making a better class of people out of farmers. It was first sent me as a Christmas present, and I think it the choicest present lever received," says F. R. LeValley.

"We have read your dear little paper for nearly 40 years. Now we don't live on the farm any more, yet I still have a hankering for the old paper. I feel that I belong to the family, and every page is as dear and familiar as the faces of old friends," 25ys Mrs. R. W. Edwards.

"I fear I neglect my business to read it. I wish it could be in the hands of every farmer in Virginia, "says W. S. Cline, "I live in a town where the yard is only 15 x 18 feet, at I could not do without the Faim Journal," says Miss Sera

"I get lots of books and papers, and put them aside for future reading. The only paper I seem to have in my hands all the time is Farm Journal. I can't finish reading it. Can't you make it less interesting, so I can have a chance at my other papers?" writes John Swail.

"If I am lonesome, down-hearted, or tired, I go to Farm Journal for comfort, next to the Bible," says Mabel Dewitt "Farm Journal has a cheerful vein running through It that makes it a splendid cure for the "blues." When coming home tired in mind and body, I sit down and read it, and it seems to give me new inspiration for life," writes G. E. Halderman.

"We have a brother-in-law who loves a joke. "We have a brother-in-law who loves a joke. We live in Greater New York, and consider ourselves guite childed, so when he sent us the Farm Journal as a New Year's gift we nearly died laughting. 'How to raise boos'—we who only use bacon in glass jars! 'How to keep cows chan,—when we use condensed milk even for tice pudding! 'How to plant entions'—when we never plant anything more fragment than likes of the valley. I accepted the gift with thanks, for we are too well-bred to look a gift horse in the mouth. Seen my see was emist by a beauting poem. I begun to read it, then when I wanted the Farm Journal I found my busband deeply interested in an arricle. Then my oldest son began to ask, 'Has the Farm Journal come yet?' He is a jeweler, and hasn't much time for literature; but we find so much interest and uplift in this fine paper that we appreciate our New Year's gift more and more,' writes Ella B. Burkman.

"It received (Corn Secrets' and 'Poultry Secrets.'

"I received 'Corn Secrets' and 'Poultry Secrets,' and consider them worth their weight in gold, "saya W. G. Newall. "What your Egg Book tells would take a beginner years to learn," says Roy Chaney.

"Duck Dollars is the best book I ever had on duckg," says F. M. Warnock,

"If your other booklets contain as much valuable formation as the Egg-Book, I would consider them cheap suble the price, 'says P. W. Mansfield. "I think your Egg-Book is a wonder," says

"The Farm Journal beats them all. Every issue has minders and ideas worth a year's subscription," writes

"One year ago I took another agricultural paper, and it took a whole column to tell what Farm Journal tells in one paragraph," says N. M. Gladwin.

"It ought to be in every home where there is a chick, a child, a cow, a cherry, or a cucumber," says I. D. Bordus.
