THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

A happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five pound note.
He or she is a radiating focus of good will, and their entrance into a room is as though another candle had been lighted.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

PARCEL POST A MONEY SAVER.

Maybe the parcel post isn't a good thing for the government as well as for the individual citizen who makes a careful study as to how he can save money by patronizing this new postoffice service. From an editorial article in Farm and Fireside we glean the interesting fact that on a single transaction the State of Ohio saved the tidy sum of $13,600 by making use of the parcel post to forward its automobile tags for the present year. Last year the tags went out by express, at an average of 12½ cents each. This year the tags were distributed by parcel post, and the average cost was eight cents. As people come to study the parcel post system and understand its benefits as applied to their particular transportation needs, it is coming more and more into use, at great saving to them.

GET TO WORK NEXT WEEK.

Honesdale's clean-up week is near at hand. Present indications are that it will be a pronounced success.
The people seem to be intensely interested. All of which is exceedingly gratifying.

The city authorities have for years been giving the annual advice and warning to place premises in a sanitary condition. But they failed to stir up the right kind of enthusiasm. Now we have the promise of better results. The Honesdale Improvement Association has interested councils, the Board of Trade and other organizations, and the combined influence has generated universal interest. There will be more people at work cleaning up their premises than ever before. The negligent neighbor of a tenant who gets down to business will be shamed into doing the same thing. So the spirit of enthusiasm will spread and by the end of the week the city will doubtless be spick and span and clean. The warm weather will come upon us with fewer disease-breeding accumulations of filth. That will mean better health.

Be prepared to get out the rake and whitewash pail and join in one of the greatest movements private enterprise has ever inaugurated in this community.

SANITATION OF SUMMER RE- SORTS.

The approach of the vacation season makes it desirable to note again the necessity for paying attention to sanitary conditions in camps or resorts. Not all resorts where one may spend a vacation are health resorts.
Indeed, many of them are just the opposite, and some are centres from which ill health originates. Typhoid is the index of the sanitary status of rural health resorts. While investigation is difficult on account of the lack of adequate supervision of so-called health resorts by public authorities, yet it behooves the seeker after health or recreation to pay some attention to this matter.

Many health resorts include in their literature statements as to sanitary conditions which afford at least one means of forming an opinion as to the desirability of patronizing such resorts. The health departments of some states provide for the systematic inspection of summer resorts with regard to sanitation. New York for the past six years has systematically inspected the summer resorts of that state, of which there are many, and these reports should prove valuable to persons contemplating going to such places in that state.

Michigan is another state containing a large number of resorts, which likewise looks after these places carefully. Campers, also, should exercise great care to select places with unquestionable water supply, and to adopt proper camp arrangements as to the disposal of waste, prevention of breeding of flies, proper protection from mosquitoes, etc. Typhoid, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association, is really a rural disease with its greatest incidence shortly following the height of the vacation season, and much of it may be traced to bad sanitation at the vacation resorts.

The report for 1912 of the New York State Board of Health shows that in that state the occurrence of typhoid in country and city was in the proportion of 12.8 in the former to 14.5 in the latter per hundred thousand of population; deducting the number of cases which investigation would clearly determine had originated at rural summer resorts, the figures would undoubtedly be in favor of a lesser origin in the city.
Taking this disease as the index, the necessity for care in selecting a place to spend the summer vacation is apparent.

MORE ON THE NEW TARIFF.

Congressman Aaron Kreider's maiden speech, before congress on the tariff issue now pending, expresses most admirably the stand a majority of Pennsylvanians take with reference to the cut and slash policy of the Democrats now in control of the machinery of the national government. At the outset Mr. Kreider calls attention to the fact that while the Democrats are acting in a manner, they themselves a few years ago, would have denounced as the acme of bossism and gag rule, they do not actually represent a majority of the people of the country.
As Mr. Kreider says, the Democrats do not care to have their bill discussed at length.

"The legislation, and especially when it is of such a sweeping character as that proposed by House bill 3321, should be carefully considered, and ample time should be allowed for a free and open discussion before the entire House. This bill has been prepared by our Democratic friends in secret caucus and is now presented in its completed form with the distinct understanding and determination of our friends on the other side of the House that it shall pass in its present form."

He dwells upon the shoe industry at some length, because he is more familiar with that line of business than any other. He calls attention to the fact that in America it is a bigger industry than either wool or sugar but, notwithstanding, the Democrats have given it absolutely no consideration. This is what he says in regard to its effect on the shoe industry:

"Here is a great and most important industry pleading for a duty that will protect the cost of labor, and labor only. The competition has been fierce, free and open; it has caused the greatest possible economy to be practiced in the minutest detail of manufacture. The competition has forced the reduction of profits to the point where only the fittest have been able to survive, and now with unfair, unequal competition of foreign-made goods, with a labor cost that is only a fraction of the American cost, it remains for the American manufacturer to either turn over the business to his foreign competitor, reduce the wages so that he may be in a position to compete and retain his market, or remove his factory to a foreign land, which no doubt many will do.

"The purpose and object of the distinguished gentlemen who wrote this bill was no doubt to legislate in favor of the consuming public, but who is it that will really benefit if this bill is passed?"

"The farmers and stock raisers cannot, because their products are on the free list, or nearly so.

"The manufacturers cannot, because their products are on the free list, or protected by an insufficient duty.

"The millions upon millions of wage-earners cannot because their products must be sold in the open market, with foreign competition.

"The class that will benefit are the indolent and idle rich; their business will not be affected. 'They toil not, neither do they spin,' so they have nothing at stake."

A little later on EVERYBODY will be interested in "The Root of Evil." There is a little something about it on 8th page to-day.

the 5th.

Foster's Weather Bulletin

Copyrighted 1913 By W. T. FOSTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1.— Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent May 3 to 7, warm wave 2 to 6, cool wave 5 to 9. This will cause unusually high temperatures and dry weather but some rains will occur irregularly in various places as the cool wave comes in. Our danger signals will hang out for the great steamship route to Europe from May 8 to 14, beginning near the grand banks, in the vicinity of Newfoundland, not far from May 8.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about May 8, cross Pacific slope by close of 9, great central valleys 10 to 12, eastern section 13th. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about May 8, great central valleys 10, eastern sections 12.
Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about May 11, great central valleys 12, eastern sections 14th.

This will be a fierce storm from the Pacific to the Atlantic as the storm crosses the continent from about 8 to 13. There are indications that it will be at its time, or a little before, it reaches meridian 73, a line running north near Pittsburg, Pa. While this storm is not expected to be so dangerous as some of the recent storms, all should be on the lookout. There may be no tornadoes but it is best to be on the safe side. Much greater storms are expected last part of May.

NOTE—Foster's Weather Bulletin is a new copyrighted feature that The Citizen is going to try out.
We are going to watch the predictions and forecasts, and urge our readers to do the same. We want to satisfy ourselves whether there is enough in long-range weather prognostications to warrant their publication and observance.

By the way, the warm wave mentioned above as being due from the 2nd to the 6th of May seems to be panning out all right at this writing. Let's observe all the rest of it.
—Weather Editor of The Citizen.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure.

The Day On Which Katz Bros. Inc. "Sells For Less"

"What the eye doesn't see the heart doesn't grieve for," a hoary old saying, trite and true. There were no Monday bargain sales when the old bit of philosophy was new, yet it fits as well as if it was coined for the occasion. Thoughtlessness is the parent of careless shopping; you don't know what you miss; you don't care, because you don't see the bargains that are going here on Monday. If you are among the careless few who don't stop here on Monday, reform, turn over a new leaf, try it once.
