Can You Answer the Conundrum?—Opening of Hawley's New Drug Store—Prof. Blakeslee Gives Good Advice—Sewing Circle of Hilltop Was a Popular Production—More About White Pine Park—A Grist of Personal and Other Matters of Interest.

"In a garden was laid
A most beautiful maid,
As fair and as bright as the morn;
The first hour of her life
She became a lov'd wife,
And she died before she was born."
(Answer to above next week.)

No! no! I didn't write the above. T. F. Mangan handed it over, along with a little bundle of Hawley stories and reminiscence. The above was given to him by an old Irish schoolmaster and profound scholar by the name of Thos. Burke, who at one time lived in Hawley. It is a conundrum and sounds weird enough; but it has an answer, and is all right. Think it over, and see if your answer agrees with the answer as you will find it in this department next week.

The Opening of Hawley's New Drug Store.
James McGinty, (no relative we are reliably informed of an individual by that name who some twenty-five years ago went down "to the bottom of the sea," and who we are also reliably informed "must be very wet, for they haven't found him yet"), opened his new drug store on Keystone street on Saturday night last, and the opening was declared to be very successful. Mr. McGinty has had several years' experience in the pharmaceutical line in Philadelphia, and his many Hawley friends are sanguine over his venture here in his native town. It required five clerks to wait on the customers.

Mr. Roberts is Not Improving Satisfactorily.
A man by the name of Roberts was injured about three weeks ago while at work at the No. 14 coal washery. His home is on Marble Hill, in West Hawley, where he resides with his wife, having no children. He was injured by being struck on the head by a flying nut or bolt of iron. About a week ago he was taken to Scranton for treatment. On Monday of this week he returned to Hawley, and, to the disappointment of his family and friends, his condition cannot be said to be on the line of improvement.

Wild Strawberry Blossoms in the Month of April.
On the morning of Tuesday, April 29, the writer observed wild strawberries in blossom near his home at Hoadleys. This is unusually early; and, if frosts do not prevent, there should be an early and large yield this season. The old couplet used to run like this:
"March winds and April showers
Bring May flowers."

There was no hint in that jingle of strawberry blossoms in May. However, if we can experience a good yield of that luscious berry we won't bother very much about the poetical side of the subject.

One of the Sights Along the Honesdale Branch.
An unusual sight along the Honesdale branch of the Erie is the almost daily appearance of two fine deer. They are invariably at the same place and can be seen from the car windows at a point known as Baoba, between Glen Eyre and Kimbles. The deer are not frightened at the approach of the train.

Prof. Blakeslee's Very Sensible Advice.
Prof. Blakeslee gave the members of the graduating class some most excellent advice recently. Knowing the tendency on the part of some people who are thoughtless along the line of dress, to make too great display, thus bringing to notice too marked a contrast between them and those who are unable to purchase costly garments, he cautioned them to dress with simplicity, emphasizing the fact that it is unfair to make lavish display to the injury of those less fortunately circumstanced. This advice was to both young men as well as young women. His advice was well received and will undoubtedly be acted on by every member of the class. In this connection why not quote from Lady W. M. Montague—just two lines:
"Be plain in dress, and sober in your diet;
In short, my deary, kiss me! and be quiet."

Mrs. W. C. Knapp Arranges a Very Unique Entertainment.
Mrs. W. C. Knapp, one of the prominent workers of the Baptist people, prepared an entertainment which was given in the church Wednesday night. It was "The Sewing Circle of Hilltop." The parts were sustained by Mrs. Knapp, Miss Tillie Tutill, Mrs. Keyes, Miss Edwards, Mrs. Brining, Mrs. Ludwig, Mrs. Beardslee, and several others who comprised the Sewing Circle, and their delineations of characters and idiosyncrasies of the average group of "ladies' aiders" were laughable indeed. Their closing act was the practicing of their Ladies' Orchestra. They performed on all kinds of kitchen utensils, while a hidden orchestra added realism to their strenuous efforts.
A short vocal and instrumental program followed, after which Mrs. Helen M. Cooke's Camp Fire Girls took part. Instead of having the tableaux announced, Mrs. Cooke had programs printed, and each picture was numbered. No. 1 read,
"I repeat them as I heard them
From the lips of Nawadaha
The musician the sweet singer."

This shows one of her prettiest girls posed as Nawadaha. In all they had 18 of these pictures. The 18th was
"Thus it was that Hiawatha
Brought the moonlight, starlight,
firelight,
Brought the sunshine of his people,
Minnehaha, Laughing Water."

Home from New York On Quest for Health.
Curtis Wilds, the Erie yard locomotive engineer, accompanied by his wife, went to New York city on Sunday last, to be gone for one week. Mr. Wilds is somewhat out of health, and he went to the metropolis to get the benefit of the knowledge and experience of medical specialists. His many friends hope that his quest after health may be decidedly successful.

Serious Accident on an E. & W. V. Coal Train.
Quite a serious accident occurred on the Wyoming division of the Erie railroad last Saturday night that might have resulted in the death of Dennis Keleher, who was riding on a coal train that was eastward bound from Scranton. As the train was approaching the trestle at East Lake Junction a brakeman approached the car on which Keleher was riding, and Dennis, supposing it was an officer, sprang from the car to make his getaway. Unfortunately his clothing caught on the car journal and he was dragged for some distance, but ere he was drawn beneath the cars the cloth gave way and he lay helpless by the side of the track. As the caboose was passing the injured man he yelled at the conductor who, realizing that something was wrong, turned the angle-cock and brought the train to a standstill. Keleher was picked up, the supposition being that one of his legs had been run over by the wheels. He was taken to Hawley where it was found that his leg was not crushed, but that he was badly bruised. The doctor who was called in placed fifteen stitches in the wounds of one of the unfortunate man's legs. On Sunday morning Keleher was removed to a Scranton hospital.

Will There be a Strike of the Erie Telegraphers?
A strike ballot is being taken by the Order of Railway Telegraphers of the entire Erie system. The operators are asking for a general raise in wages of 12 per cent, and better all around conditions. The operators claim that they have not had a raise in wages in over two years, and that the increased cost of living makes a raise absolutely necessary.

The Erie company complains of recent losses by the floods along their lines, and say they cannot afford to pay the increased demand. The result of the ballot will be announced about May 10th. It is reported that a probable result will be an 85% vote in favor of strike and a possible 90%. The men are sanguine of success, as a vote so nearly unanimous cannot be disregarded by the Erie company.

Mr. and Mrs. McNamara Home from Scranton.
Eugene McNamara and wife returned to Hawley after a fortnight's absence. Mr. McNamara is on the sick list, and their Scranton visit was for his benefit, as he was under the care of a Scranton physician. He returned improved in health and very much encouraged over the prospects of a speedy recovery.

Hawley Doesn't Suffer for Want of Amusement.
Hawley is well provided with places of public amusement, and if you are on pleasure bent you needn't get even a little bit lonesome. On Monday night the Teeter Brothers, managers of Dreamland, reopened that place after it had undergone quite extensive repairs. The performance was of the vaudeville character. There were people on the sidewalk until after 9 o'clock, unable to get in, and even after that hour when they did pass the charming portals they had to stand up, as all seats were filled.

Hawley Folks Agitated Over Its Pine Clad Hill.
The Hawley people are beginning to sit up and take notice of the fact that it is possible to lose their forest of pine trees. You will find it hard to find those who are not in favor of taking immediate steps to secure the pine park as a permanent possession of the borough.

In this connection it is well to hark back to Monday evening, April 3, 1911, when the Hawley Council held an important meeting. At that meeting a communication from Harry J. Atkinson was read in which he conditionally presented to the borough a plot of land between Belmonte avenue and Atkinson street, a tract nearly as large as the Pine Park, and with only a street or avenue separating them. The land donated by Mr. Atkinson is an oak and chestnut grove. The condition on which Mr. Atkinson gave the land was that the borough clear it of trash, etc., and keep it in order, and after three years he would make the borough a deed, with the understanding that a hose house was to be built on it for the protection from fire of that part of Hawley, which includes the High School building. The Council accepted the gift, agreed to the terms, and thanked Mr. Atkinson with a suitable resolution which was made a matter of town record.

Now, when the borough pays for the pine trees and gets a deed from Messrs. Welsh and Schlagers for the real estate of White Pine Park, Hawley will be more amply and wonderfully provided for future park privileges than any city or town in this part of the Keystone State. Let there be no hitches or delays in the matter.

The Penn Cut Glass Co. Elects Officers.
The Penn Cut Glass Company, successor to the Brilliant Cut Glass company, which is now operating in this borough with a force of eight workmen, but which will soon remove to Prompton, held a meeting at that town on Wednesday, April 23, and chose the following board of directors: E. Richardson, of Prompton, J. C. Perry, of Moosic, John Case, Leon Bodie and C. C. Lozier, of Hawley. The following officers were chosen: C. C. Lozier, President and Treasurer, John Case, Vice-President, and Leon Bodie, Secretary.

Pleasant Personals About Hawley People.
Charley O'Toole, of Pittston, was a Hawley caller on Sunday.
Kittie Johnson and Nellie Murphy, of Dunmore, visited Anna Norton, of Wangum avenue, on Sunday last.

Among the out-of-town Hawley callers on Sunday last was Will Melloy, of Hoadleys.
Mrs. P. P. Woodward, of Hoadleys, went to Dunmore on Sunday last, and for three days was calling on Dunmore and Scranton old-time acquaintances.
William Rose, of the Eddy, who has been dangerously ill with typhoid-pneumonia, is somewhat improved.

Charles Shields, of the firm of Knapp & Shields, glass cutters, is on a business trip to New York city.
On Monday Senator Rowland, of Kimbles, was in Hawley on business connected with the Hawley Bank of which he is an officer and director.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Haefelne spent Saturday night and Sunday last with Honesdale friends.
From East Cherry Ridge on Sunday last came Gus Hardier to call on his Hawley acquaintances.

Local base ball enthusiasts will read with interest the fact that at a game played last Saturday between the rival teams of Wood's and Bower's Knitting factories the Bower's players won out, the score standing at the close of the game 8 to 14.

The concrete foundation for ex-Sheriff Murphy's new residence on River street is about completed, and Mord Simons is filing his saws and sharpening his chisels.
"Snufftown" is the name of a suburb of Greater Hawley. The name has a Southern sound.
