FRIDAY, MAY 9, 1913.

THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Do not think of your own faults; still less of others. In every person that comes near you, look for what is good and beautiful, honor it, rejoice in it, and, as you can, try to imitate it. Your faults will drop off like dead leaves when their time comes.—Ruskin.

If a man's soul does not enthuse and inspire with the unfolding of Nature at this time of the year, then there's certainly something the matter with him physiologically.

The name of A. Mitchell Palmer, of Monroe county, has been announced as a candidate for Democratic governor of Pennsylvania. Palmer would not make so bad a chief executive after all if it were possible for him to get the votes.

With Powell becoming auditor general, to say nothing of R. K. Young, of Tioga, as state treasurer, it was not to be expected that the Flinn people would press strongly for changing the condition of some employes filling other jobs ex officio—and they didn't. Result: Powell will get $8,000 per year as auditor general; military board commissioner, $600; revenue commissioner, $300; sinking fund commissioner, $300. This is in addition to the $1,500 which he receives for his services as senator for the session, although unofficial announcement was made that he wouldn't take the last senatorial payment of $300 because it was not paid at the time he resigned.

By the generous downpour of rain that marked Tuesday afternoon, nature has given Honesdale a splendid start in her "clean-up" week. Even the very air, which had grown dry and sultry during the torrid weather of the last week or two, was washed clear and bright and fresh, and a vast amount of dirt was removed from the walks and swept into the sewers. It is in the hidden places, however, that the most vigorous cleansing must be done if the best results are to be achieved. Cellars must be cleared of all ashes and rubbish; back yards must be tidied up, and everything done to remove the sources of disease and contagion. With such an excellent start there should be much done before the week is over.

Time is not lost by Governor John K. Tener in disposing of legislation sent to him and he has approved the Sheatz mothers' pension act and the Showalter act providing for vocational training in the public schools. These bills are distinctly Republican Organization measures, so far as sponsorship and passage go. It is doubtful if the most poorly-balanced "progressive" follower of Flinn could devise two bills of more direct importance to society. The one provides a means for taking care of families which lose the husband and father; the other provides practical training of commercial and economic value for school children. While the Flinnites have been vociferously demanding that the Legislature swing round to their way of thinking and have been concentrating their energies on such spectacular legislation as election acts, labor bills, constitutional revision, etc., the Republican Organization has been holding off the agitators with one hand and with the other has been accomplishing such good things for the state at large as the Sheatz and Showalter bills.

AN EFFICIENT PUBLIC SERVANT.

Auditor General Sisson retired on Monday from an office which he has filled with rare ability and fidelity, to resume practice of law in Erie. Mr. Sisson has been a most painstaking and successful Auditor General and the Republican party will ever have occasion to be proud of his record.

Throughout his term, Mr. Sisson has been almost constantly "on the job." Often he would not leave Harrisburg for weeks at a time, and then only for a week-end. He spent long hours in his office and he spared no effort to bring his department to the highest point of efficiency.

Its reorganization by and for his successor, Senator A. W. Powell, of Glassport, is no reflection upon Mr. Sisson's methods.

The Senate gave Mr. Powell a handsome send-off in recognition of the prominent part he has taken in its affairs. Although enumerated with the Progressives of late, Mr. Powell was elected on the regular Republican ticket last year, as was State Treasurer Young.

Not only is the new Auditor General skilled in the game of politics, forceful in debate and adroit in the handling of men, but he has had an interesting army career and did good work for the War Department in the Philippines.

Mr. Sisson's administration has been of a nature to put Mr. Powell on his metal and we may expect him to get out of the reorganization the best there is in it.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

AN APPRECIATIVE "CITIZEN" READER.

A member of the editorial staff of The Citizen has a lady friend, formerly of Wayne county, but now living in Ohio, and he knew she and her husband would like to read a Wayne county newspaper, and sent "The Citizen" to their address, explaining in a letter, that it would be mailed to them for one year gratis. After the paper had been sent six weeks, the following letter was unexpectedly received at this office:

Cambridge, Ohio, May 3, 1913.
"The Citizen,"
Honesdale, Pa.

Dear Sirs:
Enclosed please find check for $1.50 for year's subscription to "Citizen." We like the paper fine, and do not wish it sent "gratis," for how is the newspaper man going to live if we are all dead-heads?
Very truly yours,

Sure enough! We were amazed to receive such a letter, for in this age when people are looking for something for nothing on every hand, it surely is refreshing to find an occasional exception who believes that the truth has not entirely evaporated from the good old saying that "the laborer is worthy of his hire."

We publish this letter as an inspiration to another class of newspaper readers who act aggrieved when a bill for subscription is presented to them, and we trust that its publication will set them to thinking along right lines.

TO INCREASE CHURCH ATTENDANCE BY ADVERTISING.

Advertising church going in the same manner as people are urged in advertisements to buy this and that article of food, dress or other convenience of necessity, is new and some of the methods adopted have been rather surprising. New York laymen conducted a campaign with flaring lights on its Great White Way. Philadelphia used the newspapers in an effort to get men to go to church. Just as the big sign flashed along Broadway, so big scare head lines flashed in Philadelphia newspapers. "Why not go to church?" This was followed by such as: "Thoughtful persons stand for the church, because the church stands for the best things" and "Every non-attendant upon religious services virtually votes for the elimination of the institution from society."

There may be those who object to treating church-going from the advertising stand-point and of conducting a spiritual business in a way that material and worldly businesses are conducted, but advertising does not buy people to come to church. It simply starts them thinking and anything that starts people to thinking along the right lines is to be encouraged and promoted.—Allentown Morning Call.

JAP SITUATION TOUCHES SOUTH

People Sympathize With California In Her Trouble.

REASON FOR APPREHENSION

Men From Mikado's Empire Now Possess 41,000 of the 1,000,000 Farms In Great Coast State—"It's a Race Problem," Says House Leader Underwood, "And There Can Be but One Result."

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 6.—[Special.]—With 41,000 farms out of a 1,000,000 in California in possession of the Japanese there is possible reason for apprehension on the part of the people of the Pacific coast as to what may happen if there is not a check upon the acquisition of real estate by the Japs.

It is evident that, while the administration is doing everything possible to prevent adverse legislation by California, the Californians have the sympathy of the southern people.

"It is a race question," said Leader Underwood of the house. "We of the south have a race question ourselves and know that when racial differences exist that there can be only one result—one race will dominate, and in this country it will be the white race." That is a fair sample of the way southern people look upon the question which is causing so much concern at the present time.

Will Name Committees.

While the senate is devoting time to the tariff, for a few weeks at least the house ways and means committee will get up a list of committees. The Democratic caucus has simplified the matter to a great extent by decreeing that committee chairmen shall not have places on a dozen leading committees and there shall be no doubling up of such committees. When the committees are named it is expected that they will take up some of the important bills which have been introduced.

Postage Changes.

It is quite possible that there will be a change in postal rates, even under the Democratic administration. Congress may be asked to establish a one cent rate, which will mean an increase of the second class rate on newspapers and periodicals. I heard a member of the postoffice committee saying recently that there "ought to be an increase because the papers have become so sensational, so unreliable and many times so untruthful." There are other statesmen who say the rate on periodicals ought to be increased because there has been so much muckraking. If that view prevails to any great extent the increase is coming.

Adjectives and Adverbs.

Senator Myers of Montana took occasion to deny a newspaper statement on the floor of the senate and never before has the senate heard so many adjectives and adverbs in such a short speech. Myers strung them along one after another until it seemed as if he had absorbed a large number simply for the occasion. That newspaper story was most thoroughly denied and repudiated by the time he concluded.

Cary For Reform.

Congressman Cary has started right out on a career of reform and has introduced a string of bills to correct many evils, most of them in the District of Columbia. Cary would make a lot of people sit up and take notice in this capital, particularly the public service corporations and those who run automobiles.

A Singular Conference.

Those who recall the early relations between Senators Gallinger and Chandler when the latter was a member of the senate thought that the close conference between them that took place some time ago was very singular. There was a time when they were decidedly antagonistic. Then senatorial friends patched up a truce, which seems to have held so far as personal relations were concerned, but no one ever expected them to confer together. Those who know are assured that it was not in the interest of Chandler's candidate for the presidency, Senator La Follette, that the conference took place.

Advice to New Members.

Phil Campbell of Kansas, who has become one of the Republican leaders, was giving advice to the new Democratic members, incidentally chiding them. He said they had not been appointed on committees because they were expected to vote "right" on the tariff bill.

"One or two men have been telling you what to do and how to do it. If you are wise you will do just as you are told. How can you expect to get committee assignments or name the postmasters in your districts if you fail to deliver the goods, to vote as you are told to vote?"

"Moving Slowly."

Senator Johnston of Alabama was complaining about the number of Republicans in office.

"But will that not be remedied by the senator's president?" asked Senator Gallinger.

"I hope it will be remedied," replied the Alabama senator, adding almost plaintively, "But it seems to be going along very slowly."

And the laughter was enough even to be noted in the senate proceedings.

PROPOSED TARIFF CHANGES.

New Bill as Presented to Congress Makes Sweeping Reductions on Necessities.

The Democratic tariff bill has been completed and is ready for the action of the Congress. There are some features upon which the party in power is by no means unanimous, but the rates determined upon for agricultural products in general and for other items in which our readers will be especially interested, are not likely to figure prominently in any controversy that may arise. We give below the changes proposed in respect to a few articles of especial interest to our readers:

Butter and butter substitutes 3 cents per pound (present duty 6c. per lb.)

Cheese and substitutes therefore, 20 per centum ad valorem (present duty 6c. per pound).

(present, 15c. per lb.) Egg yolks, 10 per centum ad valorem. Egg albumin, 3c. per lb.

Poultry, live, 1c. per lb. (present 3c. per lb.) dead, 2c. per lb. (present, 5c. per lb.)

Milk and Cream, including milk or cream preserved or condensed, or sterilized by heating or other processes, all free. (The present duty on cream is 5c. per gallon; on milk, 2c. per gallon, and on condensed milk, 5c. per lb.)

Milk Sugar, free (present duty 5c. per lb.)

Lactic Acid, 1 1/2c. per lb. (present duty, 3c. per lb.)

Straw, 50c. per ton (present duty, $1.50).

Cattle, 10 per cent. ad valorem (present duty, 20 per cent.)

Agricultural Implements, free.

Cream Separators, 25 per centum ad valorem (present duty 45 per cent.)

Liberal reductions are also proposed in other dairy utensils and apparatus, as well as wooden boxes and containers.

ROBERT K. YOUNG NOW STATE TREASURER.

Harrisburg.—Robert K. Young, Wellsboro, former auditor general, became state treasurer of Pennsylvania on Monday without formally although scores of people filled his office to offer congratulations and sent floral tributes. The treasurer received to C. F. Wright of Susquehanna, retiring treasurer for $3,144,734.73 in the general fund and $785,699.72 in the sinking fund and for the bonds held by the state. He gave a $500,000 bond to the state.

Senator A. W. Powell, Allegheny, entered office as auditor general on Tuesday at noon. He stated that he would not make any appointments for some time as the act for the reorganization of his office will not become effective until June 1.

KEEPING THE DEVIL AWAY.

Queer Relics of English Parson's Superstitious Zeal.

Some of the more out of the way parts of Cornwall, England, can offer many singular sights to the visitor. None of these is more curious, however, than that which is to be seen in the small village of Veyran, in the southern part of the county, says the Wide World Magazine.

On each side of the main roads which lead to the group of cottages clustered round the church there are to be seen certain queer looking round houses, each surmounted by a cross. These cottages were built with the object of keeping the devil out of the village! More than 100 years ago the vicar of the parish was a certain Mr. Jeremiah Trist, a parson who seems to have been a most worthy man, though curiously superstitious. In spite of all his endeavors to make his parishioners good, it seems that the village folk did not improve very rapidly, and he decided that something must be done to right matters. Accordingly, after much cogitation, the famous round houses were built.

With these in position, protected by their crosses, it was urged that the evil one would not dare to enter the village, and therefore all would be well in Veyran. Whether the good man's hopes were realized, it is, unfortunately, impossible to say, but the houses stand today as a singular instance of an attempt to baffle the powers of darkness.

NAVY SEEKS "OLD SALTS."

Must Have Veterans of Sail Days to Rig the Niagara.

Search recently was begun by the secretary of the navy for veteran "salts" whose service dates back to the days when sails were the principal means of propulsion and who are familiar with the old time methods of rigging sailing vessels. The veterans are wanted by those in charge of the Perry celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the battle of Lake Erie to rig the old brig Niagara, which was recently raised from the bottom of Lake Erie.

Under the supervision of W. C. Morrison the Niagara is being put in repair for the celebration, the plan being to restore as far as possible her original appearance. She was used by Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry as his flagship after the Lawrence had been rendered useless in the famous battle. She was allowed to wear out in the service instead of being preserved for future generations and was finally condemned by a board of survey in 1825 and soon afterward sank in Misery bay.

BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Did You Eat Too Much, Drink Too Much, Smoke Too Much?

It takes a mighty good stomach to feel ready for breakfast the morning after the banquet or social session. "What do you want for breakfast?" inquired Brown's good wife. "Just a pleasant smile and a breath of fresh air," answered Brown the morning after an important meeting.

If you eat, smoke or drink too much, remember that two little MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets taken just before you go to bed will stop fermentation and leave you with a sweet, clean stomach and clear head in the morning.

For indigestion and all stomach distress MI-O-NA is the best prescription in the world. Large box 50 cents. Peil, the druggist, guarantees it. For trial treatment, write Booth's MI-O-NA Buffalo, N. Y.
