Dr. Harry Lane, the New Senator From Oregon.

When the United States senate convenes after March 4 many familiar faces will be missed, and seats long filled by well known statesmen will be occupied by men newly invested with the toga. Among the absentees will be Jonathan Bourne of Oregon, president of the National Progressive Republican league and sometimes referred to as the "original Roosevelt

Senator Bourne's successor in the upper house of congress is Dr. Harry Lane of Portland, Ore. He is a Democrat and will share the honors of the medical profession with Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire. For years Dr. Gallinger has been the only physician with a seat in the upper house of congress. The new senator is a grandson of General Joseph Lane, who ran on the presidential ticket with J. C. Breckinridge of Kentucky in the memorable campaign of 1860 and who also served Oregon in the United States senate. He was elected on the state's admission into the Union in

Senator Harry Lane is without experience as a national legislator. He has served as superintendent of the Oregon State Insane asylum and also as mayor of Portland. Last November he won the preferential primary sen atorial election and, although a Democrat, was elected by the Republican legislature. All the legislators were pledged to vote for the senatorial candidate who received the highest popu-

Secretary to the President, Joseph Patrick Tumulty, who is to be secretary to President Wilson, was the first member of the president's official family to be named. Mr. Tumulty has been secretary to Governor Wilson sluce he took office. Mr. Tumulty is also clerk of the supreme court, but when he assumed the duties of the latter place last November he ceased drawing pay from the state as secretary, although continuing to discharge the duties of that office.

Though only thirty-four years of age, Mr. Tumulty has had much experience in politics. He is a native of Jersey City, and his father was formerly a member of the state legislature. He attended St. Bridget's parochial school there and later entered St. Peter's college, where he received the degree of bachelor of arta. He was admitted to the bar in November, 1902, and is connected with many political and social organizations, chief among them the Knights of Columbus and St. Peter's Alumni association. Mr. Tumulty was elected to the legislature in 1907 and served four terms. His record as a legislator, orator and debater won him distinction. He is married and has six

YOSEMITE OPEN TO AUTOS.

Secretary Lane Resoinds Order Which Barred Motorcars,

Secretary Lane of the department of the interior has rescinded an order barring automobiles from the Yosemite National park.

"This form of transportation has come to stay," said the secretary in a statement explaining his action, "and to close the park against automobiles would be as absurd as the fight for many years made by old naval men against the adoption of steam in the navy. Before we know it they will be dropping into the Yosemite by airship. "I want to make our parks as accessible as possible to the great mass of the people."

About the House.

Pork and Apples.-It is generally conceded that apples are an ideal accompaniment to roast pork. Instead of serving apple sauce or apple jelly with it try roasting some apples in the pan with the meat.

A Novel Scrubbing Brush for Woodwork.—A small whisk is found at times to be a help in the washing of wood work. It will reach into crevices and corners better than scrubbing brushes of the usual shape.

A Good Use For Asbestos.—A good sized piece of asbestos placed on the ironing board under the layer of paper used for testing irons will prevent many a mishap. There will not be the slightest danger of the iron burning through to the sheeting beneath.

When Washing Glass Tumblers. Glass tumblers will not be so likely to break if they are slipped into the hot dishwater sideways so that it comes into contact with both the inner and outer surface of the glass at the same time. They will not then crack from unequal expansion.

Chinese Water Pans.

Every one knows that oil heaters should have a pan of water placed on top to supply necessary moisture to the atmosphere. In Chinese shops very pretty brass pans may be found that are exactly suited to this purpose. They are flat bottomed, have straight sides and are without protruding handies, so that they are not easily tipped over. Most pans used for this purpose are inartistic, but these oriental ones are an ornament. They come in various sizes. Those of a suitable size for a radiator or small heating stove sell for about 40 cents. They are decorated with the imperial dragon about whose grotesque claws are intertwined the Chinese characters which represent the words "long life" and "happiness." Now that the dragon has been shorn of his imperial dignity and will probably disappear as a decoration sooner or later, admirers of oriental art are clinging to treasures engraved with his portrait because he represents a period.

The glory of the pompadour slipper lies in the elaboration of its buckle. Shoes are sold without any decoration at all, the intention being to regard the buckle as a personal ornament belonging to the jewel box and changeable from one pair of shoes to another. Of a less costly description there are lovely buckles of colored marquisate, the designs taking the form of Louis XV bows in mock diamonds or paste, bordered with tiny mock sapphires and rubies and centered with a large blister pearl. Buckles of paste are threaded on rosettes of chiffon, and elaborate Keeping Apples In Winter.

To keep apples through the winter in a barrel bore holes in the bottom and sides of the barrel and store on a dry platform a foot or more high. Where only a few apples are available for storage a good plan is carefully to wrap them singly in paper. This will effectually protect them against any drying influence of the atmosphere. They may then be packed in layers, three or four deep, in shallow boxes or hampers and placed in the coolest available position in the house or outbuilding.
