A LITTLE "EXPERIENCE" MEETING. In these days of dynamite, anarchy and tariff tinkering the cast of countenance of the average citizen you meet is cut on the bias—a sort of half incredulous, half suspicious bias, as it were.

Therefor, when the writer saw Brock Leshar, the genial Register and Recorder, approaching him with a "Bill Nye" smile, the kind that Bret Harte declared was "child-like and bland," and in his outstretched hand an oblong package wrapped in paper and securely fastened with twine, wasn't the combination along the suspicious line?

And wouldn't you have received that package a little gingerly? Most certainly. Good things are always received with suspicion, and even religion and brook trout are not to be excepted. Note how we spell that last word. We don't mean "accepted" with the word "not" preceding it, of course.

Well, that suspicious package was a box of splendid trout, fresh from the waters of Newfoundland, caught by "Brock" himself, and they tasted just like old times. Then the Register and Recorder told of his various catches of the "speckled beauties" while down at his former home, and it was quite a trout experience meeting, for he had landed a lot of the gamey little fish and enjoyed telling of his experience and sensations as much as the writer enjoyed listening to the thrilling recital.

COLWELL—VARCOE NUPTIAL. A pretty spring wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Colwell, Torrey, on Wednesday, when their daughter, Florence, and Nelson Varcoe, of Atco, were married by Rev. J. H. Boyce, of Carley Brook. The couple were attended by Miss Edna Colwell and Joseph Gavitte. The bride was gowned in blue silk, while the maid of honor wore a dress of white embroidered material. The wedding march was played by Mrs. John Bunting, of Torrey. The bride and bridegroom left on the 2:53 Erie train for Middletown, N. Y., where they will remain a few days before going to Connecticut. Mrs. Varcoe is one of Wayne county's estimable young women, having taught school at Torrey for the past three years.

WHITE MILLS. White Mills, May 15. Quite an exciting runaway occurred on Main street Sunday morning.

While Frank Mang, a milkman of Cherry Ridge, was delivering milk to a customer, one of his horses became frightened and both ran away.

In front of Harry DeReamer's confectionery store they ran abreast a telephone pole, smashing the whiffletree and wagon, upsetting milk cans in all directions, and freeing both horses.

One ran up Main street and was caught in front of August Smith's, the other running down Main street, was caught by Mr. Mang.

The wagon was completely demolished, but the horses were not even scratched. Mr. Mang borrowed a wagon from Liverny Wegge and drove his team home.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meezler on Sunday morning, a girl, Mrs. Howell and children of Waymart, spent the latter part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Ozro Down.

Miss Lizzie Haggerty spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother. Joe Fish, of Honesdale, was the guest of his aunt, Miss Amanda Daniels, Sunday.

John Tuman has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y., to join the Brooklyn base ball team of the U. S. league. The teachers of the White Mills school, accompanied by Miss Eva Silsby and Miss Fannie Johnson, attended Teachers' association in Pleasant Mount on Friday and Saturday.

Miss Jennie Rug and friend of Honesdale, spent Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Charles Wegge.
