

TO DYNAMITE MILL

L. W. W. Member Nabbed by Paterson Police.

STRIKERS REFUSE TO RETURN

Clergymen Attend Great Mass Meeting of Citizens, Who Deplore Violent Methods, While Industrial Workers Assemble on Outskirts of the City.

Paterson, N. J., May 26.—After he was relieved of a loaded revolver, a long club, which he had carried hidden in his sleeve, and a loaded shotgun shell Joseph Arelo, a member of the Industrial Workers of the World, was arraigned before Recorder Carroll in Paterson, N. J., and held for court without bail on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The police of Paterson declare that when arrested, Arelo asserted that "he intended to blow up the Weidmann dye shop and kill all the strike breakers sleeping there." If that was his intention he had nothing in his possession with which to blow the mill up, but the police were sufficiently impressed by his statements to make a search for any hidden explosive in the vicinity.

Arelo was loitering in the vicinity of the Weidmann dye shop when arrested. It is reported that several hundred men are working in the Weidmann mill. Policeman Thomas Fitzsimmons placed him under arrest, and when he was taken before Sergeant Perry at the police station the police say they found a loaded revolver and a shotgun shell in his pockets and a long club tucked in one of the sleeves of his coat. He carried a membership card of the Industrial Workers.

While the Industrial Workers held their regular meeting in Haledon yesterday afternoon with 10,000 persons present there was a huge mass meeting of law abiding persons in the Fifth regiment armory to show the strength of the religious sentiment in Paterson opposed to the lawlessness displayed in the strike. W. D. Haywood, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, Carlo Tresca and Patrick Quinlan addressed the meeting of the Industrial Workers.

Great Citizens' Meeting. The armory in which the mass meeting of citizens was held holds 18,000 persons, and there was a great gathering there. The Rev. David Stuart Hamilton of Mayor McBride's peace conference presided, and the speakers included the Rev. Winfield C. Snodgrass of the Market Street Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. B. Canfield, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian; the Rev. Father A. H. Stein of the Catholic church of Our Lady of Lourdes and the Rev. Clarence E. McCartney of the First Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Father Dean McNulty, the oldest Catholic priest in the Paterson district, who wields a great influence, was also present and spoke briefly. The speakers protested against the outbreaks and rioting which have taken place in Paterson throughout the strike and endeavored to show that the great mass of the Christian community is for law and order.

Hopes that the end of the strike was in sight, which were entertained by the business men of Paterson, have been shattered by the announcement of the shop committee, representing 2,000 silk workers in half a dozen mills, that these workers do not intend to return to work as had been reported.

Far From Settlement. Coupled with the solid vote to remain on strike until their demands were granted, taken by 600 dyers at a meeting in Fern hall, the news of the uncompromising stand assumed by the silk workers, independent of the dyers, was received by the manufacturers with no little uneasiness. The situation as it now stands seems to be absolutely devoid of hope of early settlement of the strike, and the deadlock apparently is as firm as it ever was in the last three months.

The mill owners announced that they would treat for peace with their own employees, but they would not recede from their original stand, which was that they would refuse to consider the strikers as members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The strikers are reluctant to accept this ultimatum.

CARDINAL FARLEY ILL.

So Exhausted in Dedication Parade is Supported by Suit.

Kingston, N. Y., May 26.—Fatigued by the many ceremonies at which he has officiated in the last week, Cardinal Farley was taken ill at the dedication of St. Joseph's parochial school and left the church in the middle of the service. In the parade which preceded the dedication he had to be supported on both sides by members of his suit.

New York, May 26.—At the residence of Cardinal Farley it was said that he had returned in normal health and had not required the services of a physician. It was said a night's rest was all he would need.

Robinson Sent to Prison Today. New York, May 26.—Thomas F. Robinson, ex-policeman, who was sentenced to three years in Sing Sing for extorting money from a Harlem restaurant keeper, was taken to prison by Sheriff Harburger today.

SENATOR RANSDALL

Louisiana Member is Fighting Free Wool and Sugar.

TARIFF HEARINGS NEAR CLOSE

Democrats Have Sent Out Questions. To Amend Bill in Senate.

Washington, May 26.—Although the oral hearings on the tariff bill before the senate finance committee will close tomorrow, the Democrats have sent out a list of questions to be answered by manufacturers and others as to the anticipated effect on them of the Underwood bill.

If replies made under oath are received to these questions before the bill is reported to the senate they will be printed, but neither a report nor final action will be delayed awaiting them.

That the senate will make a number of changes in the bill is now apparent. In the main these will not be material or be at variance with the general purposes of the bill.

Whether free wool and free sugar at the end of three years can be held in the senate is still a matter of conjecture. Neither Senator Newlands of Nevada nor Senator Walsh of Montana nor any of the other advocates of wool and sugar duties except the Louisiana senators will definitely announce that they will stay out of the Democratic caucus.

In opposing the free entry of pig iron Thomas O. Marvin, secretary of the Home Market club of Boston, in a brief filed with the finance committee said free entry would result in throwing wide our doors to the product of cheap oriental labor while denying entry into this country of the labor itself.

PIER DEATHS MAY REACH 40.

Hundred in Hospitals—Councilman Says City is Guilty of Murder.

Long Beach, Cal., May 26.—"In my judgment the death of the thirty-three persons in the pier disaster was wholesale murder. The pier was rotten. There was no arrangement for the handling of the enormous crowd. The people were allowed to group themselves into such a solid compact mass that the crash was inevitable. The city is guilty of murder."

In this fashion John Topham, a councilman of Los Angeles, who narrowly escaped death in the collapse of the municipal pier at the British Empire day celebration, places what he considers the responsibility for the terrible loss of life when hundreds of persons crashed through two floorings of the pier to the sand below.

It is impossible to give a definite number of the persons injured, but they amount to more than a hundred. Many are in the hospitals in a condition that makes recovery impossible. It is feared that the death list will grow to at least forty within the next twenty-four hours.

WOMEN WILL RUN TRAINS.

Head of Women's Auxiliary of Brotherhood Predicts It.

San Francisco, May 26.—Mrs. Clara Bradley, grand president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, says transportation companies soon may employ women as engineers, conductors and even as firemen.

"A woman has sufficient strength to operate the levers of all burning engines, which are coming into general use," said Mrs. Bradley. "It is not at all improbable that railroading will come to be a field of industry for our sex."

Sessions of the convention of the auxiliary and the trainmen were held. Discussion of the question of a workmen's compensation act was resumed at the men's meeting.

FOUR OF A PARTY DROWN.

Attempt of Father to Save Daughter Causes Deaths.

Russellville, Ark., May 26.—Four persons were drowned in the Illinois river seven miles north of Russellville. The dead are:

Professor W. A. Crawford, superintendent of the public schools at Russellville; Miss Frances Crawford, aged nineteen, his daughter; Miss Ruth Van Landingham, a public schoolteacher of Russellville, and Miss Vera Meade, principal of the high school of Ola.

PARCEL POST TO CAUSE CHANGES

More Employees and Better Facilities Needed.

ADJUSTMENTS NECESSARY.

Dead Letter Office May Be Eliminated or Reorganized Since Parcels Go Astray to a Greater Extent Than Letters and Cost of Transporting Them Very Far is Greater.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 26.—[Special.]—Before the parcel post system is in complete and satisfactory operation quite a number of changes in the postal service will be necessary. It has already been demonstrated that more cars, more wagons, more employees and better terminal facilities will be necessary to make it a success. And then there will be other adjustments.

It is possible that the parcel post will eliminate or at least cause a reorganization of that famous bureau of history and fiction, the dead letter office. As parcels go astray to a greater extent than letters and the cost of transporting them long distances to Washington is considerable, it is probable that half a dozen or more dead letter offices will be established, so that parcels may be sent to the nearest places without coming all the way to Washington. The old dead letter office may be absorbed in the general parcel post scheme.

Congressional Sacrifices.

These are days when congressmen are making sacrifices. At least those who had two good committee places or one good place and a chairmanship are sacrificing. The "new fellows" took care of that and put through the caucus a resolution limiting the activities of members on the first dozen good committees to just one place each.

Among those who have had to surrender either a good chairmanship or a committee assignment are: Adair, Indiana; Bathrick, Ohio; Beall, Texas; Bell, Georgia; Booher, Missouri; Broussard, Louisiana; Candler, Mississippi; Carlin, Virginia; Carter, Oklahoma; Cline, Indiana; Dent, Alabama; Finley, South Carolina; Glass, Virginia; Goldfogle, New York; Graham, Illinois; Hamill, Missouri; Hefflin, Alabama; Hensley, Missouri; Hobson, Alabama; Houston, Tennessee; Humphreys, Mississippi; Jacobson, Arkansas; Korbly, Indiana; Lee, Pennsylvania; Lloyd, Missouri; Moos, Indiana; Oldfield, Arkansas; Richardson, Alabama; Rucker, Missouri; Rouse, Kentucky; Slayden, Texas; Smith, Texas; Talbott, Maryland, and Watkins, Louisiana.

Will Bryan Be a Candidate?

Very frequently the question is asked, is Bryan a candidate for the 1916 nomination? The probabilities are that the question should be answered in the affirmative. Bryan wrote the one term plank into the Baltimore platform, and he no doubt expects that President Wilson will not seek another term. Bryan will have the backing of the peace organizations and should have the anti-liquor support, as he has made his greatest efforts for peace and for temperance since he became secretary of state, even at the risk of criticism.

They Call on Bryan.

It is surprising how many callers Mr. Bryan has day after day. Men looking for appointments seek his influence, and many others who are not expecting anything go to see him when in Washington. One of his friends, seeing how much time the secretary was giving to callers, protested against his use of time in that manner.

"In the various campaigns I have made," replied Bryan, "and in the lectures I have delivered I have visited nearly every spot in the United States. Nearly everybody has seen me, and some have become acquainted with me during these years. Now, when I have come into a position of prominence, the least I can do is to see these people and shake hands with them." And he sees everybody who calls.

Time to Make Up Their Minds.

Those senators who may be in doubt about what they will do when the final vote is taken on the tariff bill will have time to make up their minds. Senator Penrose remarked the other day that "we would be debating this bill for the next three months." And there seems to be a disposition on the Republican side to follow his lead.

Loud Voice an Asset.

A loud voice is a good asset anywhere or any time. Ollie James not only made good in the house, but also in national conventions, where his voice could always be heard. His first speech in the senate showed that a good speaking voice gets attention there as well as elsewhere.

Back Home Information.

The members of the house are back home getting information as to what is the feeling about the work of congress so far. Already reports have been received to the effect that the people generally are not disturbed over the tariff bill.

Several Republican members have been much surprised to find that their own people do not seem to appreciate the situation in the same light as did these members when they were talking so earnestly about the ruin the bill would cause. Perhaps the people are too busy to become excited.

GIBSON CONFIDENT

Lawyer Tells Wife He'll Be Acquitted.

STATE TO CALL NEW WITNESS.

Minturn Declares He Saw Gibson Place Left Arm Over Mrs. Szabo's Shoulder and With Right Make Movement Toward Her Throat.

Newburg, N. Y., May 26.—Declaring that the state's case was no stronger, from what evidence had been adduced, than at the first trial, which resulted in a disagreement of the jury, Burton W. Gibson, on trial here charged with the murder of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, is feeling more hopeful of acquittal than ever, according to his wife, who spent several hours with her husband in the prison. The trial was resumed this morning at 9 o'clock.

"My husband will prove he is innocent, I feel sure," said Mrs. Gibson when she came out of the prison. She refused to discuss the order of Judge Tompkins, who changed the position of Mrs. Gibson in court during the hearing when it is said that the woman had sent signals to her husband. Mrs. Gibson will now occupy a seat several feet directly back of the accused man.

She and her husband seemed to be near a state of collapse when half a dozen witnesses told of supposedly suspicious circumstances surrounding the New York lawyer's actions with Mrs. Szabo last summer. Mrs. Gibson was visibly affected when William C. De Graw, deputy sheriff, testified that Gibson, the day after the supposed drowning, told him he was infatuated with the dead woman and might have married her. De Graw said the defendant told him the boat had turned over while an exchange of seats was being attempted.

Saw Gibson Grasp Woman.

The witness said that the prisoner declared he and Mrs. Szabo came to the surface of the water, that she grasped him and they went to the bottom, where her hold relaxed suddenly and he came to the surface exhausted.

John Minturn, the state's principal witness, said he saw Gibson and Mrs. Szabo about three-eighths of a mile from shore in a rowboat. They were in a stooping position, he said, as though they were trying to change seats. Suddenly Gibson placed his left arm over the woman's shoulders and with his right made a movement toward her throat. Her body cut off his view, he said, and he could not tell whether Gibson actually strangled her.

It was said that two local physicians will be called by the prosecution to confirm Dr. Scull's findings.

A new witness who it is said, saw a part of the tragedy, will be put on the stand. Jonathan Wilson, Jr., district attorney, refused to say just what this witness saw.

THREE HURT IN AUTO CRASH.

Owner of One Motor Dying and Woman Injured Severely.

Tarrytown, N. Y., May 26.—Three persons were injured, one of them mortally, when two autos collided while going twenty-five miles an hour on the state road in East View. The injured were Frederick Hunt of Port Chester, who suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries; Mrs. Hunt, who was cut about the face and head, and Mrs. George Smith of Pleasantville, who suffered severe bruises and possible internal injuries. At the hospital attached to the county house, into which the injured were carried, it was said that there was little chance of Mr. Hunt's recovery. Mrs. Smith was taken to her home in Pleasantville in another auto.

SEEK COLOR LINE IN MAIL CARS

Eight Thousand White Clerks Want Burleson to Segregate Negro Clerks.

Washington, May 26.—Robert A. Praher of Little Rock, Ark., presented to Postmaster General Burleson a petition signed by more than 8,000 white railway mail clerks asking an order segregating white and negro clerks in the railway mail service.

The petition says that from fifteen to twenty clerks work in the same car; that the white clerks are often outnumbered by negroes, sometimes subject to their authority and on long runs have to share sleeping quarters with them. The postmaster general said he would take the petition under consideration.

DANIELS WON'T YIELD.

Plea For Restoration of Port and Starboard of No Effect.

OFF AGAIN

Ho! For Iowa! For the past two weeks Braman buyer has been purchasing horse out on the prairie farms of Iowa, and Braman is now on his way to look over the bunch, investigate the merits of each horse, pay over the money, load the horses on the cars and send them rolling on their way East for Wayne county.

Wait! Wait! Wait! For BRAMAN! It makes no difference how badly you may want a horse, it will be dollars in your pocket to wait until Braman's new lot of Iowa Horses have kicked up the Wayne county dust on his return. You won't have to wait very long, and you can make money any faster than by patiently "holding your horses" until that new stock arrives.

Can't Stop 'Em There never was so many horses sold in Wayne county in so short a time as Braman has been selling this spring. Wayne county people buy of Braman because they have confidence in him. They know that the can depend on what he says about horse every time. You couldn't get 'em from going to the Allen House stables after horses because they have confidence that in quality, animal, price and everything else they are going to get a square deal.

Iowa Horses Cost More than ordinary horses because they are WORTH MORE. When you buy an Iowa horse you get the best there is.

BRAMAN Must Hurry! Braman knows he must make quick trip, because there are customers waiting for him and he MUST come back SOON! Have you considered Braman's fine stock of Harness? You will find it right in the Allen House stables. Why not look it over and pick out what you want while waiting for the new stock of Iowa Horses to arrive? That would be a dandy scheme, now wouldn't it? BRAMAN'S ALLEN HOUSE STABLES
