

GOULDSBORO.

Gooldsboro, June 4.—Mrs. J. Surplus has returned from New York where she spent a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Elmer Johnson. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson last week.

Thomas Bartleson was one of the old veterans that was missed on Memorial Day. He was suffering with lumbago, and also had hurt his foot by dropping a piece of board on it so that he was unable to walk.

Charles Moninger was out from Scranton to spend Memorial Day with his wife and daughter, Mary, who are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Catterson. Mrs. Catterson, who has been sick for some time, was out for the first time on Friday and spent the day with Mrs. S. A. Adams at Hillcrest.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Major, Miss Marcie Major, Mr. and Mrs. Birtley, and Miss Birtley, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Kiper and son motored out from Scranton on Friday and called on Gooldsboro friends and spent the afternoon fishing at Newfoundland.

Rev. C. A. Brandt, of Wilkes-Barre, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was a Gooldsboro visitor last week.

Miss Marcia Major, of Scranton, spent Saturday with her cousins, "Squire and Mrs. M. E. Smith."

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Surplus are entertaining Mrs. Surplus' cousin, Miss Johnson, of Pittston.

Mr. and Mrs. Leech and son, of Scranton, spent Memorial Day with Mr. and Mrs. William Surplus.

Miss Lillian Hawke went to the Water Gap on Friday, where she will spend some time.

Gooldsboro played the Stroudsburg team at Gooldsboro Athletic park on Friday afternoon; score 12 to 4 in favor of Gooldsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Van Buskirk and Miss Sadie Van Buskirk motored out from Clarks Summit and spent Memorial Day with their mother, Mrs. Etna Staples.

The many friends of Augustus Schinnerling, of Thornhurst, will be very glad to learn that he rallied in good shape from the critical operation he underwent at the Coppinger sanitarium, Scranton, on Friday morning. The operation was performed by Dr. G. A. Kerling, assisted by Dr. Smith. His daughter, Mrs. A. Swartz, of New York, is with him at the sanitarium. His son, E. C. Schinnerling was down on Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. W. N. Latham, of Binghamton, N. Y., and children, Helen, Kennedy and William, spent Memorial day with her father, S. H. Rhodes and daughter, Mrs. David Ellenberger.

One who was missed at the Memorial services this year, who had been with us the last few years on that occasion, was Captain Patrick DeLacy, of Scranton, who has been very sick for many weeks, but who is now rapidly regaining his health. Captain William Geary was also prevented by sickness from attending the services.

ARLINGTON.

Our pastor, Rev. S. Treat, preached a very interesting Memorial sermon to a large congregation Sunday.

Miss Cora Bidwell is attending school at Ariel.

Miss Grace E. Bidwell is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bidwell.

We are very glad that Mrs. J. L. Noble is able to be around again.

Miss Lula Bidwell is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Noble.

Mrs. Dora Simons spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. J. S. Noble.

Floyd Noble and Wm. Ellwanger went to Nobletown Memorial day on their new bicycles.

Lester M. Carlton attended the parade at Hawley Memorial day.

Fred McKelney, of Buffalo, is spending his vacation here with relatives.

W. T. Reinfort is digging a new cellar where he expects to move his house.

There will be no preaching in our church June 15th on account of Children's Day.

TRADES WIFE FOR HOG.

Justice Refuses to Punish Man Who Elope With Trader's Wife.

On Monday night last, Officer Wheeler went to Downsville and arrested Mrs. William Hulse and Leslie Mericle, the erring couple that eloped from Fishes' Eddy a week ago.

Mr. Hulse had preferred charges against Mericle for alienating the affections of his amiable spouse and luring her away from her husband and children. Mrs. Hulse was arrested with Mericle as an accessory to the crime. The couple were taken to Hancock Monday afternoon and trial was held Tuesday behind closed doors. It probably would have gone hard with Mericle had he not thought of an agreement entered into between him and Mr. Hulse, said agreement being as follows: i. e. Mr. Mericle having a nice fat hog last fall and having no use for it, asked Mr. Hulse what he would give him for it and Hulse said he would give him his "old woman" for the hog.

Mericle contends that the deal was made and that Hulse killed the hog and his family ate it last winter and claims the "old woman" as his share in the deal. Upon hearing this Mr. Mericle's counsel asked for a non suit which was granted and the couple were released from custody and went on their way rejoicing.—Review.

30,000 IMMIGRANTS THIS WEEK.

Fleet of Thirty Liners Bringing Thousands of Aliens.

More than 30,000 immigrants are expected at Ellis Island this week in a fleet of thirty liners.

The larger part of the home fortune seekers are Italians, but there are an unusual number of Britons and Dutch. Many of the latter arrived Monday.

The record month in immigration was May, 1907, when 147,000 aliens entered at New York. It is likely that 100,000 will land this month.

KENYON TALKS OF 'SOCIAL LOBBYING'

Bears Out Wilson Charges, Senator Declares.

EXTINCT, SAYS PENROSE.

Pennsylvania Senator Volunteers That 175 Persons Called on Him and None is Lobbyist in General Meaning of Term.

Washington, June 4.—In his sixteen years experience in Washington he never had known of any attempts to improperly influence members of congress, Senator Penrose told the special senate committee hunting for the tariff "lobby." He had the names of 175 persons who had called on him since Jan. 1 on the tariff, but declared that none were "lobbyists" in the general acceptance of the term.

"It is well known that certain interests have agents," said the senator, "and I suppose they are paid salaries. They evidently got information for their organizations. Their work is perfectly legitimate. I have seen Mr. Burgess for the pottery interests here for years and Mr. Brown for the cotton people. Their work is perfectly legitimate as far as I know. My own opinion is that the lobbyist is principally a thing of the past. Congressional committees pay little attention to them now."

Senator Penrose thought that probably Winthrop L. Marvin of Boston represented the "wool people" in Washington, and Senator Reed was insistent to learn if Marvin ever had anything to do with fixing tariff on wool or Brown with the cotton tariff. Senator Penrose insisted the men did nothing more than present arguments to senators and representatives and that neither had anything to do with making the rates of the Payne law.

Penrose Lively Witness. Senator Reed did develop on cross examination, however, that Mr. Marvin in one time was secretary of a joint congressional committee to investigate the merchant marine.

Senator Penrose was the liveliest witness of the day. Other senators testified they knew of no undue influences and told of their personal interests. The list of 175 names which Mr. Penrose gave the committee was made up of manufacturers, labor leaders, attorneys, importers and others who feared they would be affected by tariff changes.

The steel industry and coal interests of Pennsylvania have had no permanent representatives in Washington for many years, Senator Penrose said. Their custom of keeping representatives in Washington had "died out ten or twelve years ago." He estimated that not more than 40 per cent as many persons had come to Washington on tariff business this year as compared with four years ago, but reiterated that the persons here now were here at previous tariff revisions.

He testified he had no interest in anything affected by the tariff except as a stockholder in the United States Sugar and Land company, at Garden City, Kan.

"This company has never been a success," he said, "even under a protective tariff, and either is or soon will be in the hands of a receiver."

Tells of "Social Lobbying." "Social lobbying" in Washington justified every word that President Wilson uttered in regard to the presence of an "insidious" lobby at the capital, Senator Kenyon of Iowa declared. It was the first unequivocal statement in support of the president's attitude since the inquiry began.

The Iowa senator explained that he believed the most "insidious" and powerful lobbying possible was the practice of flattering senators by having them out to dinners, to theaters and on automobile rides, ingratiating the host with the distinguished guests. Pointing to the sworn testimony of Edward Hines, "a lumber king," at the Lorimer election investigation, that he entertained senators at a local hotel at dinners at a time when the lumber schedule in the Payne-Aldrich bill was before the senate, Senator Kenyon declared that it was his belief that senators were being entertained in this "insidious" way at present.

He also denounced ex-senators for capitalizing their privilege of the floor by using it to lobby. Referring to one ex-senator representing many railroads in Washington and often seen on the floor of the senate, he advocated the enactment of legislation to prohibit an ex-senator from being a lobbyist.

MURDERS SECOND WIFE.

Frenchman Thought First Spouse Was One of Titanic Victims.

Paris, June 4.—Among the passengers on the Titanic was a Belgian woman, Mme. Georges Breny, whose husband lived at Bethuen, in the north of France. The husband, it is said, was told that his wife had been drowned. Some time afterward he fell in love with Mile. Angolina Boesquet and settled down with her in a small town.

Breny learned lately that his wife had not perished and was trying to find him. In a fit of despair he shot the young woman dead and then shot himself, but not fatally. Next he tried to hang himself, but was found and taken to a hospital before he could carry out his purpose.

HYDROPHOBIA SEIZES GIRL WHILE ON TRAIN

Passengers in Panic as She Becomes Violent.

New York, June 4.—Passengers in a Pullman car on the Long Island railroad were thrown into a panic as the train pulled into Patchogue and an attractive, well dressed young woman began frothing at the mouth and barking like a dog. It took the strength of four men to control her.

At the end of an hour the young woman calmed sufficiently to say she was Miss Nellie Murray and that she had come to New York with a party of women who had ridden on horseback from Missouri.

Dr. A. H. Perry, who was summoned to the office of Thomas P. Brennan, the station master, to which she was removed, diagnosed the case as hydrophobia. Miss Murray stated that she had been bitten by a dog six weeks ago and that she had had an attack of hydrophobia. She believed she had fully recovered, but recognized the returning symptoms shortly before the train reached Patchogue and handed her purse, she said, containing a small sum, to a man sitting beside her. The man disappeared.

Before the young woman could tell more than that her friends were stopping some place in Thirty-fourth street another convulsion began. Treatment was administered, and she was taken to the home of Valentine Kiell, a Long Island railroad official, in Patchogue.

From her remarks before she again became irrational it was understood she had taken the ride to Patchogue to survey the country and decide whether she and her friends should take a ride on the island. It is believed the friends knew her destination, and they are expected to take charge of her.

BISHOP AIDS INJURED BOY.

Carries Indoors Child Struck by Miss Kneeland's Auto.

Lenox, Mass., June 4.—An automobile owned by Miss Adele Kneeland of New York, in which she was riding with Bishop Thomas F. Davies of the Episcopal diocese of western Massachusetts, her guest, ran over Roland Dupont, six years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dupont, in Lee. The boy's left leg was broken above the knee.

Bishop Davies carried the boy into the house of Mrs. Thomas Duffy, the child's grandmother, and there Miss Kneeland assisted in comforting the child until a surgeon arrived.

The boy was playing beside the road and at the approach of the automobile tried to cross the highway in front of the car. Miss Kneeland had nurses sent to care for him and promised every other aid to his recovery.

NO CASES FOR COURT SESSION

Neither is There an Indictment in Yates County.

Penn Yan, N. Y., June 4.—At a term of the Yates county court, scheduled to begin on June 9, there is not a case to be tried, either civil or criminal, and there is not an indictment in the hands of the district attorney.

Court will be opened and closed formally after the thirty-six trial jurors have drawn their pay vouchers. Terms of court are held in Yates county only twice a year. Some attorneys here say the condition makes a record in New York state.

A Few Honest Pointers in Regard to Paint.

When you go into a store and ask for paint don't be misled if the proprietor or the clerk begins to sell you paint by weight. Don't be fooled because the greatest weight does not always mean the greatest value, for instance, green and dark colored paint do not carry as much white lead, as white and light colored paints, therefore, if your dealer weighs up a gallon of his competitor's paint, say green or some dark colored paint, surely it will not weigh as much as a gallon of his white paint. Then again there is a way of making a gallon of paint weigh heavy without much cost, but we hope no dealer in Honesdale sells this kind; a paint that is adulterated with Barytes, which costs about $20 per ton while pure white lead is worth about $160 per ton, but the Barytes has very little if any covering capacity, although it is heavy and very white. These are only a few facts that everybody should know. If you want an absolutely guaranteed paint—a paint that one gallon will cover 300 square feet, two coats—and a paint that will be cheap in the long run, you will surely make no mistake if you buy DEVOE.
