How Hawley People Regard the Coming Trolley Road-The Pine Woods to be Surveyed-Something About the New County Bridge-Hawley Folks Go to Carbondale to be Married-Is There to be a Local Base Ball League? Etc.

"Fare, please!" soon will be the train-man's merry call,
And from our poekers wide and deep gray nickels we will haul,
And
We'll gladly hand them over,
We'll hum like bees in clover,
Then praise the builders of the road in language strong and tall.

new trolley sensation, and to rest assured of one thing for a certainty, and that is this: Before election day rolls around the road will be built and Honesdale ladies can have every opportunity of visiting Hawley and incidentally of doing a little shopping with Hawley merchants, stop-ping at the White Mills stores on their way home to complete their purchases, and then get a car for home in time to get supper ready for "the old man" of the house.

There are as many opinions of the new trolley enterprise as Valone, of Pittston, has children, and then some more. Who is Valone, of Pitts-ton? Sure, I don't know! All I can tell you about it is that I cut the following from the New York Sun the other day, signed at the bottom with the name of "Don Marquis":

Nathan Valone, of Pittston, Pa., has just become the father of his twenty-sixth child-a fact which incites us to plunge into the depths of parody.

Did ye hear of old Daddy Valone, Ohone?
See how his family has grown, Ohone!
Oh, he's broke all the hearts Of the storks of them parts— He hated to live all alone, Ohone!
He hated to live all alone!

Of children he had a full score—
A corps!
But says he, "I want twenty-four,
Or more!"
When he got twenty-five
He was proud—man alive!
"But I want twenty-six!" says Valone, Ohone!"
"Twenty-six for old Dardy Valone!"

Now, by the time the new road gets in operation, say in November next at the very latest, what a jolly excursion trip it would make for Mr. and Mrs. Valone with all the little Valones to take the Laurel Line to No. 6, in Dunmore, then the E. & W. V. to Hawley, then the new trolley from Hawley, via Whits. trolley from Hawley, via White Mills, to Honesdale, then to Scranton over the D. & H., via Prompton, Waymart, Lodore, Farview, Carbondale and the upper Valley towns. thence home in any of the many ways open to them for transporta-tion. What a jolly excursion that Valone party would have, and how they would all enjoy it.

But, we forgot ourselves! Par-don us! Those opinions regarding the new road were what I started out to write about, and there are so many other things ahead to be considered in this department that they really will have to be considered later on. So we shall all of us have something coming to look forward to, like the promised "licking" of our boyhood days.

The Piney Woods South Hill To be Surveyed.

The plot of land on the south hill-side of Hawley is to be surveyed soon in order to determine where the lines lie, what are the legal boundaries and how many acres it contains. When that very necessary work is completed there will be a move made towards acquiring the land for borough possession and pine lived in Scranton. He is now, and lived in Scranton.

Work on the County Bridge Is Progressing Rapidly.

Workmen on the enlarged county bridge are making satisfactory progress. Unfortunately, the County Commissioners did not move the old bridge to some point where it could were too rocky to receive much conbe utilized and give the public a bran new one in its place. As it is, when the bridge is completed the main driveway will be divided in the centre, and that is certainly an undesirable feature. A bridge com-posed of a wide driveway flanked on either side by walks for pedestrians would have given better and more is many a slip 'twixt the cup and lasting satisfaction, and the old the lip," even so it is with railroads oridge might have been moved to and special trains. There was no some other point where it would have "just fitted in."

Wayne County Folks Go To Carbondale to Wed.

Henry Hartman, formerly of Honesdale, and Miss Eunice Rowe, formerly of Cherry Ridge, both of whom now live in Hawley and work in the Bellmonte silk mill, surprised their many friends last week by quietly slipping out of town and on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock were united in marriage at the Meth-odist parsonage on Terrace street, Carbondale. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. F. D. Hartsock, Ph. D. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hartman will take up their residence in this town. this town.

Said Charley Wiley.
When Charles Wiley alighted from the morning E. & W. He was on his way to Port Jervis in the matter hill-side of Hawley is to be surveyed of a real estate deal, having sold a move made towards acquiring the lived in Scranton. Catholic Cemetery Enlargement Comes From Atkinson Tract,

The writer is reliably informed that it has been decided to enlarge the Catholic cemetery by the pur-chase of five acres from the Atkinson estate. This makes the enlarge-ment on the north-west side of the present city of the dead. Wangum avenue furnishes a good road al-most to the plot, and without much labor or expense the avenue can be extended until it reaches the ground. This addition does not embrace any of the pine lot that we have recently been talking about in this de-partment. Two other plots of land were considered, but both of them sideration.

Hawley Knights of Columbus Went to Port Memorial Day.

On Memorial day It was expected that a special train would be run on the E. & W. V. to accommodate the K. of C. from Scranton, but as "there special train with banners flying and big drums a-booming. But certain of our Hawley boys belong to that order of mankind which halts not at delays or changes of plan, but they get there. Peter and Daniel Cor-coran, Patrick Monahan, Michael Zenzen, Charles McHale and Frank Curran, all of them braye Knights, went right along to Port Jervis, ac-companied by Patrick Leonard and Harmann Everdean, who, by the way, have not yet earned their golden spurs.

The Hawley boys were met at the station by Grand Knight Moran. The 3rd degree was conferred on a class of 75 candidates in a manner most impressive. After this the Daughters of Isabel served a fine supper in the basement of St. Mary's R. C. church which was followed. R. C. church, which was followed by a ball in Mulrain's hall. The Boys' Band Has Been Training for July Fourth.

Last Sunday the Boys' band, un-der the direction of band leader Meyers, began doing a little practice work. After doing a little preliminary parading about town they hiked away towards the "sunny south," taking the Wilsonville road around by P. J. Keary's farm. It was a real marching drill, in preparation for July 4th. Of course the boys had their instruments with them.

Before returning to Hawley the boys engaged in a very enjoyable affair at Fred Schalm's bungalow, where a farewell reception was given to Mr. and Mrs. Beppler on the occasion of his resuming his position on the Erie railroad, with headquarters at Dunmore. About 75 persons were present, and as a souvenir of the event he was presented with a travelling grip, a comb and a brush. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Schalm. To the astonish-ment of those in attendance the boys' band played several pieces in a most creditable manner. Refresh-ments were served, and the table—a large one-had to be set four times ere the last hungry guest was satis-
