Honesdale and Greater Honesdale

Governor Sulzer has vetoed the Evans bridge bill. This affects all the toll bridges between New York and Pennsylvania. The bill carried an appropriation of $175,000 to buy Delaware river bridges.

The property of the Gould Lumber Company of Manchester township was sold the fore part of the week for $2,309. The First National Bank of Hancock, N. Y., held a judgment against the property for $3,000 and it was to be sold by the sheriff in Honesdale on Friday afternoon.

Prof. H. A. Oday was in Scranton on Saturday to attend the committee meeting of the Teachers' Examining Board of the 21st district. The examinations will be held in Scranton on July 31st and August 1st. This district comprises Lackawanna, Pike, Susquehanna and Wayne counties.

Letters patent declaring the merger of the Wallen-paupack Power company with the Paupack Power company were filed with Register and Recorder Leshner here this week. The name of the new company which is constructing a big dam at Wiltonville will be the Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey Power company.

A destructive fire of unknown origin wiped out three large buildings on Arco avenue, Carbondale, at 1 o'clock Thursday, entailing a loss of approximately $15,000. Incidentally several of the people living in the building where the fire started had to make hurried flights from the house in order to escape the flames. The buildings destroyed were a double and single dwelling and a confectionery store. They were owned by Joseph and Dominic Germain. It was at Joseph's house the fire originated. Their losses are partially covered by insurance.

Born, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Faatz, of Bethany, on June 4th.

The ladies of the aid society of the Methodist church held their strawberry supper in the church rooms Thursday evening and about $100 was cleared from the sales of suppers.

Last week an error was made in The Citizen when it was stated that Kimble & Mumford of Honesdale had filed suit in court against Mr. Bortree for G. W. Swartz, of Ariel. Mr. Mumford wishes to have it understood that he has nothing whatever to do with the case against Mr. Bortree. The Honesdale firm that Mr. Swartz retained was Kimble & Hanlan. R. H. Holgate, of Scranton, has also been retained by Mr. Swartz.

Registration of automobiles in Pennsylvania is almost 5000 above the record figure of 59,354 made in 1912, although only five months of the present year have elapsed. The demand for licenses for motor vehicles has gone beyond all expectations at the State Highway Department's automobile division, and it is believed that by the end of the year it will run close to 70,000. Under the act recently approved the revenue from licenses is to be devoted to road improvement after payment of the expenses of the division, and will enable work to be pushed on repairs on main highways during the summer.

A new branch of agricultural education was formally launched at the department of agriculture the fore part of this week. It was the "rural organization service," designed to aid farmers along economic buying and selling lines. It is particularly designed to educate the farmer in better marketing his products. Heretofore the department has devoted its energies toward educating the farmer in production of better crops. Dr. Thos. N. Carver, formerly of Harvard University, will be in charge of the new bureau, which is expected to save thousands for the farmers of the United States.

A number of friends of Miss Clara Kuhn gathered at her home Thursday evening to give her a pleasant surprise, it being her sixteenth birthday. Games of different kinds and music was enjoyed during the evening, after which dainty refreshments were served to the young people. Those present were Misses Monica Bracey, Bertha Weniger, Antoinette Ricker, Teresa Barberi, Florence Lesch, Mary Weniger, Mildred Murray, Elizabeth Bracey, Frances McKenna, Marguerite Bayly, Matilda Nonnemacher, and Clara Kuhn, Robert Dorin, William Keiz, William Gager, Raymond Murtha, Charles Krieter, Edmund Stegner, Raymond Bried, Paul O'Neill, Charles Mangun, Dan Dudley, Carl Wagner and John Kuhn.

Last Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Hornbeck, daughter Juanita and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Leuter had especial cause to be thankful to their Creator for continued life and health. They were returning from Equinunk about 6 o'clock in Mr. Hornbeck's White Steamer. While coasting down the first hill after leaving that village, (on the Pennsylvania side) Mr. H. turned the steering gear to get the wheels out of a rut, when suddenly the car shot across the road to the edge of the embankment, carrying the road fender with it. Fortunately a tree barred further progress, otherwise the car and occupants would have landed in the Delaware river, one hundred feet below. It gives one a "creepy" feeling to contemplate what the result would have been had not the auto hit the tree. Aside from the scare the occupants escaped injury.—Hancock Herald.

Miss Leda Stenzhorn and Frederick Pilger, Jr., both of Throop, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Stenzhorn Thursday at high noon by the Rev. A. O. Gallenkamp, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Evangelical church of Scranton. Following the ceremony a reception was held which was attended by the immediate friends of the couple. Mrs. Pilger is one of Throop's most accomplished and popular young women and has hosts of friends. Mr. Pilger is one of the borough's youngest and most successful business men and is at present borough auditor. Following a wedding tour which will embrace Washington, Old Point Comfort and other points of interest in the Southland they will be at home after July 18th in their residence on George street, Throop. The bride is well known in Honesdale and vicinity, having formerly lived here. Her Honesdale friends wish them much happiness.

Mrs. John Mathers, of 1327 West side, is entertaining her grandson, Joseph M. Kavanaugh and his bride, who arrived Sunday evening to spend the first week or ten days of their month's wedding tour here. Miss Anna L. Connery, the daughter of a former mayor of Lynn, Mass., and Mr. Kavanaugh of New Bedford were married at St. Mary's church, Lynn, last Wednesday by Mgr. Teeley who was assisted in the celebration of the high nuptial mass by several priests. An elaborate musical program was rendered by a large choir assisted by the soloist, Thomas Hayes. Guests were present at the wedding from Chicago, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Scranton, Syracuse, New Bedford, Cambridge and Lynn, and the reception following was one of the most prominent events of the season in the social world of the big shoe city. Mrs. Kavanaugh is a graduate of Notre Dame Academy, of Boston, and the Salem Normal school where she was president of the Senior Class in 1912. The past year she taught in one of the grammar schools of Lynn. Mr. Kavanaugh, son of Mr. Martin Kavanaugh, who lived at White Mills for several years, being in the employ of the Dorflingers, is president and general manager of the News Publishing Co. of New Bedford, Mass., where he is a member of the Plymouth Club and of the McMahon Council, Knights of Columbus. On their arrival Sunday evening Mr. Robert Dorin entertained them delightfully with the aid of his splendid Boys' orchestra.

The Honesdale Dime Bank has installed an electric spelling sign on their banking institution, Main street. It was ordered through the Consolidated, Light, Heat and Power company.

The members and guests of the Five Hundred club of Honesdale enjoyed a dance at the Lyric Thursday night and a good time was had by all present. The music was furnished by Bodie and Freeman.

Governor Tener has signed the Senate bill repealing the section of the act of May 1, 1909, providing for the catching of fish in fish baskets and issuance of licenses. Under the act the use of fish baskets was permitted if licenses were granted by the county treasurer of the county. The repealing of the act makes it illegal to use fish baskets to catch eels, suckers or any kind of fish.

River street is a very pleasant place on which to live. Located on the side hill are some of the most picturesque spots in Greater Honesdale. Among these homes is that of Mrs. John Hawker and M. Brandamore. Foliage is tastily planted in the yard and large shade trees prevent the hot rays of the afternoon sun from shining upon the comfortable front porches. It is truly a pleasant place.

The funeral of Allan Barton, who died in Baltimore early in the week, was held in Carbondale on Thursday afternoon from the home of his father-in-law, Charles Hoyle. The services were conducted by Rev. William Beiter, of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Barton was well known in Honesdale, having formerly lived here. He has relatives in Seelyville and Honesdale. The pallbearers were: Hugh Atkinson, Harry Masters, William Masters, Fred Masters, Fred J. Leibrun, and Harry J. Hall. Interment was made in the Brookside cemetery.

Miss Sophie Levine and Miss Marian Rosenfeld, of Pittsburg, prominent in the Young Relief society, visited Governor Tener Monday to inquire about the manner in which the mothers' pension law will be operated. They also visited the Dauphin county commissioners. The Governor informed his visitors and stated publicly that there would be no appointments of trustees unless county commissioners formally accept provisions of the law. There have been numerous applications for appointment to boards. But as yet no county has given notice of acceptance of the law.

The War Department has prepared for the information of automobilists a map of the big camp of 40,000 veterans at the Gettysburg Semi-Centennial July 1 to 4 inclusive. The map shows every street in the camp and the adjacent roads, and gives detailed information as to which streets are to be open for wheeled vehicles and all regulations for the same. This map will be of great value to automobilists who attend the celebration. It will be mailed free of charge to all who write for it to Colonel Lewis E. Beiter, Secretary, Gettysburg Semi-Centennial Commission, State Capitol, Harrisburg, Pa.

When Miss Rosa B. Smolik wanted to drum up a little business for her "gymnastic device" she put an advertisement in the Washington city directory, along with her latest photograph. The ink blurred, and she sued the publishers for $50,000. Miss Smolik alleges that the picture is so dark that it is impossible to determine what race she belongs. The petition was filed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court by Miss Smolik personally. Her first suit, the plaintiff's petition says, was abandoned without her consent and instead of $35,000 which she previously asked she now believes her damages amount to $50,000.

Mrs. Anna Burns, mother of Undertaker E. J. Burns, of Scranton, died at her home in Clinton, Wayne county, Thursday morning at 3 o'clock. She had been in failing health for the past few years. Mrs. Burns was well known throughout Wayne county, where she resided the past forty years. She was also well known in Scranton, having been born there seventy-eight years ago, and residing there until grown into womanhood. There survive three daughters, Mrs. James Moran, of Scranton; Mrs. Thomas Moran and Mrs. John Scott, of Carbondale; three sons, John, of Thompson; Jos. of Scranton and E. J. Burns, of Scranton, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Patrick Hoban, of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Michael McDonald, Miss Sarah Doyle, John Doyle, of Carbondale, and Edward Doyle, of Waymart.

The County Loyal Temperance Legion held its annual business session at the Beachlake Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday evening. The grand gold medal contest was conducted, there being six contestants: Carroll Vail, first prize, Honesdale; Esther Stephens, second prize, Honesdale; John Hartman, Laurella; Lottie Hartman, Laurella; Arthur Oliver, Laurella; Lewis Brill, Torrey. Two outside speakers of note were present, Mrs. Addie Bilean, of Philadelphia; state vice-president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and Mrs. Annabel, of Brooklyn, N. Y., state superintendent of Rescue Work for Girls. Both addressed the meeting. Officers were elected as follows: President, Freeman Egan, of Dyberry; vice-president, Esther Stephens, of Honesdale; recording secretary, Dorothy Riefler, of Honesdale; corresponding secretary, Elsie Atkins, of Rileyville; treasurer, Lewis Brill, of Torrey; superintendent of foreign missions, Bessie Decker, of Beachlake; press superintendent, John Lazo, of Beachlake; Sabbath observance, Silas and William Hicks, of Laurella; literary superintendent, Alma C. Peet, of Hamlin; anti-narcotics, Grace Wall, of Calkins.
