Militant Who Grabbed King's Derby Horse Succumbs.

OFTEN GLASHED WITH POLICE

Suffragette's Act Witnessed by King George and Queen Mary Through Their Glasses—Sentenced Eight Times For Participating in Outrages.

Epsom, England, June 9.—Miss Emily Wilding Davison, the militant suffragette who threw King George's horse Anmer in the Derby on Wednesday last, succumbed to the injuries she received when trampled on by the horse.

The day after the affair the physicians at the hospital where Miss Davison was taken thought there was a chance of her recovery, as she regained consciousness for awhile, but she did not rally, as had been expected. On Friday last an operation was resorted to, but without avail.

While the Derby was being run Miss Davison suddenly jumped out from a crowd of spectators that had been watching the race at Tattenham corner, one of the critical turns in the course, and made a dash at the bride of Anmer, which was running in a bunch with other horses. It is still a matter of speculation as to whether Miss Davison knew Anmer was the king's horse and was able to time her sensational dash to catch him at the right moment.

Hit by Horse's Hoofs. Anmer stumbled and fell, severely injuring his jockey, Jones. At the same time the hoofs of the horse struck Miss Davison, who had fallen, on the head. After uttering one piercing scream she became insensible. In its struggles to rise the horse kicked her again and again, and when spectators dashed to her side she was almost unrecognizable.

The mad act of Miss Davison was witnessed by King George and Queen Mary and their suit through glasses, and the royal party was greatly shocked. When it was realized what had happened the crowds cried, "Lynch the wild woman!" For a time it was reported that she was dead, and word to that effect was flashed abroad by cable.

Miss Davison was one of the most active militants in the United Kingdom and had clashed with the police time and time again. Since 1909 she had been sentenced eight different times for participation in suffragette outrages.

ATTACKS MOTHERS' PENSIONS.

E. T. Devine Says Principle is Injurious to Family.

Chicago, June 9.—A sharp attack on the principle of mothers' pensions was made by Edward T. Devine, secretary of the Charity Organization society of New York, at the American conference on social insurance at the Hotel LaSalle.

"An insidious attack on the family, inimical to the welfare of children and injurious to the children and to the parents," was the way he characterized mothers' pensions.

"We think society as a whole, working through the state, should assume the responsibility for the distribution of certain financial burdens which have been falling with crushing weight on individuals and individual families," he said. "Deaths, industrial accidents, sickness, involuntary unemployment, unprovided old age are the principal risks of this kind."

BANDIT SHOTS AT TWELVE.

Flees to Woods After Firing Bullets by Wholesale.

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 9.—An armed man, unidentified, after holding up several persons near the streets and attacked twelve residents of Kalamazoo and Richmond, a nearby village. Police, sheriff's posse and about 400 armed farmers are searching in the woods for him. It is feared that lives will be lost in the man hunt.

Cyrus Lavey of Richmond, who was shot after he had given the stranger $35, is not expected to live. The others who were shot at escaped uninjured, although stray bullets killed a cow and one house was damaged.

I didn't find it so easy, after all, to pick up my usual quantity of Iowa Horses on this trip, and I was gone longer than I expected; but it has paid you to wait, for the entire lot are as fine horses as you ever saw, and you will say so, too, when you see them.

CROPS THREATENED

Growing Grain and Fruit Ruined by Drought.

DAMAGE MAY REACH MILLIONS.

Ten States in South and Middle West Worst Sufferers—Illinois Corn Struggling—Oklahoma, Arkansas and Parts of Missouri in Fair Shape.

St. Louis, June 9.—Crop reports from ten central states show a general need of rain. Several points threaten great loss unless moisture quickly appears. Millions in damage is being done to growing grain and fruits by the drought which has spread over ten states in the south and middle west.

Missouri crops are badly in need of rain with the exception of a few sections. The northwestern part of the state is suffering less than any other because of heavy rain in May. The wheat there will be ready for harvest soon.

Kansas reports a drop of 4,000,000 bushels in estimates of the wheat crop, which a few weeks ago promised to be the largest in the history of the state.

Illinois corn is suffering for moisture and the stand in many sections is poor. Indiana grain suffered from the floods and the crops of oats is virtually a failure. Wheat is dried up and the yield will be small.

The wheat harvest in Oklahoma has begun and heavy rains have relieved conditions. Kentucky and Tennessee report excellent conditions and large crops of cotton, corn and tobacco are expected. Drought and chinch bugs are damaging the wheat and oats in northern and western counties, but the losses there are more than made up elsewhere.

All Right in Arkansas.

Conditions are good in Arkansas and farmers are predicting big crops of corn and cotton. The cotton acreage is larger than last year and the boll weevil has done little damage.

Wheat and oat harvests are in full swing in Texas, where cotton is in good condition. The quality of oats is better than for several years.

The eastern part of Nebraska reports flourishing crops, while the western part is badly in need of rain. Southern Iowa crops are promising.

Missouri crop conditions are somewhat less favorable than a month ago, when they were unusually good. The average temperature for the month was 68; rain fell 1.43 inches as compared with 3.25 inches for May, 1912, and 3.45 below normal.

The drought, which is general over Illinois, is certain to damage the corn crop unless relief comes at once. While the situation is bad it is not beyond remedy, provided rains come at once and are heavy enough.

"Unless we get good rains within a few days the corn crop will be greatly damaged by the drought," said Professor J. G. Mosler of the department of soil physics, University of Illinois. "Oats, timothy and young clover have already been damaged by the dry spell."

ALL VOLCANOES IN ERUPTION.

Alaskan Mounts Emitting Great Volumes of Smoke and Flame.

Seward, Alaska, June 9.—All the volcanoes along the Alaska peninsula and adjacent islands as far to the westward as Unimak pass are in eruption, emitting flames and dense volumes of smoke. News of their activity was brought by the mail steamship Dora, which arrived here from her monthly voyage to Dutch harbor.

Mount Shishaldin, on Unimak island, was shooting flames high into the air, and Mounts Pavlov and McCushion were smoking when the vessel passed them. Mount Katmai, which was in violent eruption just a year ago and covered fertile Kodiak island with a thick layer of ashes is sending up a great volume of smoke, filling the heavens with a haze discernible at Seward. Volcanoes on the west side of Cook inlet are showing unusual signs of activity, smoke in great volume pouring out of their craters.

HAWAIIANS PETITION WILSON

To Ask Him to Abolish Racial Discrimination in Naturalization.

Honolulu, June 9.—The missionaries and church leaders are circulating a petition among American residents of the island which urges President Wilson to advocate the abolition of all racial discrimination in dealing with naturalization. More stringent qualifications, it is urged, should be made to keep out undesirable aliens.

The petition declares that such a course would help to solve the Japanese problem raised by objectionable features of the California alien labor law.

GERMAN STEAMSHIP ASHORE.

The Maid Fast Off Seal Island on Nova Scotia Coast.

Halifax, N. S., June 9.—The Maid, a German steamship of 2,100 tons, went aground on Seal Island, Yarmouth. She was bound from Grindstone island for the west coast of England with lumber.

Help was sent from Yarmouth and she was beached at the east side of the island, from which it is thought she can be pulled off.

PICK NEW AMERICAN POLO TEAM

"Big Four," Victors of Two Years Ago, to Defend Trophy.

New York, June 9.—The international polo trophy will be defended by the same four that so victoriously defended it against the Hurlingham four two years ago—Mr. Henry Payne Whitney, captain, No. 3; Mr. Lawrence Waterbury, No. 1; Mr. Monte Waterbury, No. 2 and Mr. Devereaux Milburn, back, No. 4. With the exception of Mr. Milburn this is an entirely new team than the one selected a week ago by the National Polo association, the decision to have the same quartet of mallet wielders being arrived at as the result of Mr. Foxhall Keene being injured and unable to take part in the games, which commence tomorrow afternoon at Meadowbrook.

The National Polo association also selected Mr. M. Stevenson, Mr. L. E. Stoddard, Mr. R. L. Agassiz and Mr. H. S. Phillips as substitutes. Messrs. Stevenson and Stoddard had been given regular positions on the Keene team.

The defenders will play in the same positions that they did two years ago. This means that Mr. Milburn's practice of late as No. 2 will go for naught and today he will have to practice in what to him just now is a new position.

The selection of a new team on the eve of the beginning of the series for the cup renders it imperative for a hard practice, and although some view it with apprehension, considering the series of misfortunes that have attended the practice games of the American players, a game of three periods will be played today.

The new team was selected at a largely attended conference held at the Cedarhurst home of Mr. H. L. Herbert, secretary of the association, yesterday. Among those in attendance were Mr. August Belmont, Mr. Whitney, Mr. E. D. Morgan and Mr. Agassiz. After canvassing the material at hand the committee decided that the best interests of the game would be served by calling upon the "Big Four" of two years ago to play again.

FIND FATHER SUICIDE.

Daughters Discover Body of Alexander Templeton, Despondent Because Idle.

New York, June 9.—Despondent because he could not get work, Alexander Templeton, an ironworker, committed suicide by hanging himself to the transom of his bedroom door at 316 Ninth avenue, where he lives with his two daughters, Ida and Irene. Templeton remained in his room longer than usual, and when Irene went to awaken him she found the door was locked. She called to her sister, and the two succeeded in opening the door, which had been weighted with a heavy piece of iron. The two daughters discovered the body of their father hanging by a rope from the top of the door.

JAMES WILSON OFF TO EUROPE.

Retired Cabinet Officer Goes to Study Tenant Farmers Abroad.

New York, June 9.—Among the passengers who left here on board the California of the Anchor line was James Wilson, formerly secretary of agriculture, who is going to England, Ireland and Scotland for the summer to study the work of the tenant farmers in those countries. He was accompanied by Henry Wallace of Iowa, a relative, who is an authority on agriculture.

Stays will be made at the Wilson ancestral home in Scotland and the Wallace home in Ireland. In London they will be the guests of Ambassador Page.

INDIAN ORCHARD.

Indian Orchard, June 9.—Having paid his way through college by teaching and acting as agent for the American Book Concern, J. Irvin Henshaw will graduate from Lafayette College as valedictorian of his class. He has proved himself capable of meeting and overcoming the difficulties of acquiring means to pay the expenses necessary for a college education. His parents, A. M. Henshaw and wife, will attend the commencement exercises.

Friday, June 6th, proved a beautiful day for "Children's Day" when fifty or more guests, parents and children gathered under the apple trees at the hospitable home of Mrs. R. Lettich and son, Harry. All did justice to the delicious refreshments served by the ladies. This being Harry's birthday, his friends presented him with a handsome axminster rug. In the evening he was given another surprise when a number of his young friends gave him a surprise party. His mother being apprised of this, was well prepared with dainty refreshments. Games proved the attraction of the evening. In the afternoon games, songs, recitations and dialogues were participated in.

The president of the Aid, Mrs. H. H. Crosby, called a meeting of the society. The minutes of the previous meeting at Mrs. S. K. Dills were read by the secretary, Mrs. A. M. Henshaw, and approved. One new member was added. The aid presented the hostess with a handsome sofa pillow.

Inspector Oliver, of East Honesdale and Dr. C. D. Pearce, of Binghamton, were here in the interest of the Bordens last week. This company does better by the dairymen than they agree to. Only last week we received a check for 7 cents per cow, more than contract price. This tip was a surprise to all.

W. H. Marshall and family spent Sunday with C. A. Brooks and family in Honesdale.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. W. E. Avery and son, Ray, are getting better rapidly.

Indian Orchard Grange has outgrown its present quarters and as soon to enlarge their hall by adding a kitchen and dining room. Every farmer should belong to a farmer organization in order to get away from the farm now and then and have a good social time with the neighbors and friends.

Frances Frey of Troop's Corner spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Treverton.

Len Cole of Binghamton, N. Y. but formerly of Montrose, Pa., was recent business caller at this place. A severe electrical storm visited this place on Saturday last accompanied with heavy downfall of rain. A great many telephones were put out of commission.

Mr. Saunders, who went to Reading in the interest of the Sunday school of Christ church, also visited Gettysburg and on his return was able to give us a better description of the great battlefield than we have ever gotten from any other source.

Mabel Gray of Honesdale was pleasant caller on friends here recently.

Alitta Marshall attended the T. L. convention and spent the weekend with her cousins, Cora, Emma and Florence Wood of Troop's Corner.

CENTERVILLE.

Centerville, June 7.—Elizabeth Garrity returned to Scranton last Monday morning after spending Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Garrity.

Mrs. John Loby and brother, Joe Kimble, of Scranton, spent Saturday and Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kimble.

Ella Patterson and Irene Surpliss were recent callers on friends at this place.

Mrs. R. Marshall is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Collins of Scranton.

C. J. Marshall has returned from Oneonta, N. Y.

SIKO. Siko, June 9.—Edna Ridd has been indisposed at her home here and not able to attend school since Monday last.

Those from this place who attended the L. T. L. convention at Beachlake on June 4, report favorably of the work being done by the body of temperance workers.

The flower mission meeting of Pleasant Valley W. C. T. U. was held at Mrs. Carrie Robinson's on Thursday afternoon and was enjoyed by present. Few of us realize the pleasure and comfort the gift of few flowers may bring to shut-in and invalids.

GRAVITY. The temperance rally which was necessarily postponed from May 7 will be held in the Free Methodist church at Simon on June 13. Good speakers will be present. A large attendance is expected and arrangements have been made whereby a day may be spent with pleasure and profit. Don't forget the date—June 13th.
