An old veteran from the southern part of the county visited The Citizen office a few days ago to subscribe for The Citizen, saying that last fall he was an ardent advocate and supporter of the Washington party. The results of the election, however, had demonstrated the fact that he had "jumped from the frying pan into the fire" and that he was partly responsible for the present Democratic administration, that he had now come back to the Republican party to stay, and he knew of a number of others who were of the same turn of mind.

C. E. Baker, of the Champion Ladies' Base Ball Club of the World, is in town making arrangements for the first appearance of the Western Bloomer Girls in Honesdale which will be on Saturday, June 28. General Agent Baker states that in introducing this club of high-class lady players to the public in general he wishes it to be understood that they do not travel with the intention of drawing crowds just through the novelty of ladies playing ball, but really draw the people through their ability to play a wonderfully interesting, exciting and scientific game of ball, and when taken in consideration that the Bloomer Girls are composed of young ladies, the games they play are all the more remarkable. Kate Becker is the star lady pitcher of the world, and is supported by a team composed of the very best players that money can hire, who in themselves are each a star player, making the strongest organization of its kind ever organized. There has been other lady base ball clubs, but they have come and they have gone. Their life upon the green diamond was one of short duration. They came and tried to out- rival all other competitors, but like the present slang phrase, they had to "go away back and sit down," leaving the original Bloomer Girls to stand in all their greatness in the very front rank, where they will stand season after season as the only real champion ladies' base ball club of the world. This wonderful club of lady base ball players are enroute on their regular annual tour.

TWO HOMES DESTROYED.

Fire Consumes Properties of Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Bush—Women Have Narrow Escape.

The homes of Mrs. Cornelia Bush and Mrs. Grace Spencer, on the Bethany road, near Pleasant Mount, were destroyed by a fire that started shortly after 7 o'clock last Thursday morning in the Bush house. Mrs. Bush, who is eighty years old, and one of Wayne county's oldest residents, had a narrow escape from cremation, escaping in her night clothes after she had received several slight burns on her head and hands. All the contents of the Bush house were destroyed, hundreds of dollars worth of furniture and many family heirlooms being lost. Neighbors summoned by telephone from all over the countryside saved all the contents of the Spencer house, but could not stay the progress of the flames that burned the building to its foundation walls.

The fire had its origin in an overheated oil stove. Mrs. Bush, who lives alone, had arisen early in the morning, lighted the oil stove to warm up the house and then gone back to bed. At 7 o'clock she was awakened by the smell of smoke and the crackling of flames that already made big headway on the lower floor of the house. The aged woman ran through the flames to the roadway, her hair was singed and she received several burns, but escaped without serious injury.

Two men on their way to work saw the fire and called all the nearby houses on the telephone. Scores of men ran to the building houses and formed a line to save the contents of the Spencer home, which by that time had started to burn. Mrs. Spencer and her sister, Mrs. Emily Mumford, who resided with her had plenty of time to get out of the burning building.

Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Mumford have moved into the Osman Wright homestead in Pleasant Mount, and Mrs. Bush is at the home of Frank Spencer across the road from the burned building. Mrs. Spencer's son, a Carbondale dentist, and Mrs. Lake, of Binghamton, a niece of Mrs. Bush, are there seeing that the aged women are well taken care of.
