TUESDAY, JULY 8, 1913.

THE CITIZEN IS A GENUINE PROGRESSIVE NEWSPAPER
The Citizen believes in and advocates paved streets in Honesdale. That is progress.

Pennsylvania, and June 14 of each year will be known as "Daisy Day."
So the Legislature has decreed after a battle of the flowers lasting for several months.

It is interesting to note how rapidly fads of this kind grow. There is scarcely a State in the Union now that has not designated its favorite flower either by act of the Legislature or by the vote of the school children.

In England the primrose is worn on the birthday of Lord Beaconsfield. In certain parts of Ireland the followers of Parnell wear a sprig of ivy on the anniversary of his death.

WHY? BECAUSE!

Honesdale people should all vote for paved streets

BECAUSE Honesdale is the county seat of the most beautiful and most desirable county in Northeastern Pennsylvania and cannot afford to long remain unpaved.

BECAUSE It will increase the value of real estate.

BECAUSE The amount of the proposed bonded indebtedness is so insignificant and is proportionately scattered among 800 taxpayers.

BECAUSE It will increase the value of real estate.

BECAUSE The amount of the proposed bonded indebtedness is so insignificant and is proportionately scattered among 800 taxpayers.

BECAUSE The taxes will not be increased.

BECAUSE The Wayne County Street Railway company will pay its share and thus make the burden lighter.

BECAUSE It would not be fair to the trolley company.

BECAUSE It has been demonstrated that it is almost impossible to maintain street car tracks in the center of a much traveled street in such a condition that they will not be the direct cause of broken wheels and other damage and loss to vehicles.

BECAUSE Honesdale has been paved "with good intentions" long enough.

BECAUSE It is cheaper to pave with brick than it is to haul broken stone on the streets and haul it all off again in the form of MUD.

BECAUSE It is more sanitary, healthful and economical.

You find The Citizen interesting? Well, you will find that it will grow better and better.

THE DAISY FOR PENNSYLVANIA. Unless Governor Tener should interpose an objection, and it hardly seems likely, the humble little field daisy will be the official flower of

TRIES TO KILL BABE

Father Then Blows Out His Brains.

GRIEVED OVER DEATH OF WIFE

Ties Handkerchief About Infant's Neck In Effort to Strangle It—Cries of Child in Bushes Lead to Discovery of Ghastly Crime.

New York, July 7.—Mrs. Mary Watson, twenty-two years old, died at the Seaview hotel at Rockaway Beach of aseptic poisoning, and after her death her husband, Thomas, took their little baby, tried to strangle it with a handkerchief and blew out his own brains with a revolver in a clump of laurels in the tract of land in Neponset which is to be the city beach park.

Watson's body was found by two brothers—Albert Brooks of Plainfield, N. J., and John Brooks of Yonkers—who were walking on the beach about three blocks from the end of the Ocean Electric Railway company in Neponset when they heard the half strangled cries of a baby from a clump of laurel.

One of the brothers ran to the offices of the Neponset Realty company and called the Rockaway hospital while the other loosened the handkerchief around the baby's neck and did what he could to restore it. When Dr. Abrams arrived in an ambulance he found that the father was dead, but the baby wasn't much the worse for strangulation and was taken to the hospital. It will probably live.

Married Only a Year.

Watson was twenty-four years old and was foreman of a construction gang for the Ritter, Hyphon & Connolly Construction company of Pittsburgh, who have just completed a large gas tank at Rockaway Beach for the Queens Gas and Electric Lighting company. He and his wife were English and had been in this country nine months. They were married about a year ago.

Last January they came to Rockaway Beach and went to live at the Ocean View hotel on the Boulevard. Two weeks ago Mrs. Watson bore a baby girl, and after her confinement aseptic poisoning set in. She got worse, and yesterday morning her physician, Dr. Frank P. Hatfield, called to see her at 8:30 o'clock and told the husband that she couldn't possibly live.

At 10 o'clock Dr. Hatfield met Watson on the Boulevard, and the latter said that his wife had died. Watson then went to the house of Mrs. S. Ellsworth of Wainwright, where the Watson baby was taken on Saturday night, got the little girl and asked Mrs. Ellsworth to fix up a bottle of milk for it. He said nothing of his wife's death, but left and boarded an Ocean Railway company's car, where he rode to the end of the line in Neponset. That was the last seen of him alive.

The bottle of milk was found in one of his coat pockets.

CIRCLE SWING COLLAPSES.

Five Hurt In Amusement Accident at Midland Beach.

New York, July 7.—A circle swing which whirls people about in small boats at Midland Beach collapsed and fell to the ground, frightening the occupants of the swing and inflicting some minor injuries.

Mrs. Paul Ridder of 16 Johnson avenue, Cranford, N. J., sustained a contusion of the right ankle. Mrs. Edward Collins, Mrs. Ridder's next door neighbor and an occupant of the same boat, escaped injury.

Charles Sceta, twenty-nine years old, a barber, of 328 East Fourteenth street, sprained the muscles of his back, and Mamie Sceta of the same address sustained some slight bruises.

Tony Geade, six years old, and Rosie Geade, twenty-one, both of 50 Carmine street, Manhattan, escaped with a few slight scratches.

The injured, after receiving medical attendance, returned home.

LAKE BOATS IN GALE MISSING.

Thirty Persons In Eleven Craft Caught Off Cleveland.

Cleveland, July 7.—Scores of boats, fishing dories and pleasure craft were caught in a fifty mile an hour gale on Lake Erie, and at least eleven are not accounted for yet.

Three men, two women and a girl were capsized in a twenty-five foot launch off Rock river. The men clung to the women and the overturned boat until all were rescued.

The life saving crew was called out to hunt for a launch which was reported sunk about two miles west of Rocky river. They could find no trace of her.

19 Pound Baby; Parents Weigh 500. South Ozone Park, N. Y., July 7.—A boy weighing nineteen pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stolsch, whose aggregate weight is 500 pounds.

Foster's Weather Bulletin
Copyrighted 1913 By W. T. FOSTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent July 9 to 14, warm wave 8 to 13. Cool wave 12 to 16. This will bring the hottest weather of July.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about July 14, cross Pacific slope by close of 15th, great central valleys 16 to 18, eastern sections 20. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about July 14, great central valleys 16, eastern sections 18.

This will be a moderate disturbance after it passes east of meridian 90 but west of that line its force is so uncertain that it should be watched. Off our northwestern coast that storm will be of greater than usual force and our storm signals will hang out for all along the Alaskan and Columbian coasts.

About July 8 to 11 it will be just as safe on land as to be on the steamship route from New York to Liverpool. You will enjoy the trip fully as much if you start a little later and the steamship companies will have better reputations as means for pleasure trips.

Our early advice to producers of, and dealers in, grain and cotton has been of immense value. Those who adopted that advice as their guide are immensely well pleased. In the south they have held from 100 to 1200 bales of cotton since it was selling a little above 8 cents and their profits are now about $20 a bale. Others have held their oats since the price was 32 cents or have profited 10 cents a bushel or $100 on each 1000 bushels.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about July 18, cross Pacific slope by close of 19th, great central valleys 20 to 22, eastern sections 23. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about July 18, great central valleys 20, eastern sections 22. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about July 21, great central valleys 23, eastern sections 25.

Temperatures of this disturbance will average about normal but will go up to high and down to low degrees, very warm as the disturbance comes in and very cool after it has passed. A very great fall in temperatures from near July 12 to near July 23.

Great extremes of rainfall are expected for July, particularly in the great central valleys; severe drouths in some places and too much rain in others.

HOPPERS EAT UP CROPS.

Grain and Clover Vanish in One Part of Lehigh County.

Allentown, June 28.—Ten thousand dollars is declared to be a low estimate of the damage inflicted on growing crops by the pest of grasshoppers which prevails in the vicinity of Schwenksville, Lehigh county.

One of their first acts of destruction was the eating up of the hay crop on the farm of former Recorder of Deeds George F. Knerr. Today samples of rye and wheat heads were brought to this city that had been denuded of grain by the grasshoppers. It is declared that the insects have eaten practically all the grain on the farms of Henry Semmel, Jas. Bechman, Joel Hunsicker and John Bear, near Schwenksville. Besides this, the grasshoppers have eaten all the clover on a number of farms.

KNOT IS TIED AT "I DO."

Court Settles Time in Ceremony When Couples Are Married.

Columbus, O.—The question of at what point in a marriage ceremony the parties become man and wife was passed upon by Justice E. B. Dillon last week in the case of Julia E. Roberts vs. the Estate of Albert Roberts. While she was being married to Roberts in 1904 he fell dead. Her claim to his estate as his widow was resisted by other heirs on the ground that only at the conclusion of the ceremony could she have been his wife.

Her attorney proved that the ceremony had passed the point at which each party said, "I do," in response to the minister's question, and held that completed the contract. Judge Dillon decided that she was Roberts' widow but sustained a motion for a rehearing in the case.

NO MORE DIP MILK.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Health of Middletown, on Tuesday evening, a resolution was adopted forbidding the selling of dipped milk in that city after January 1, 1914. A similar resolution has been passed in Port Jervis to take effect on November 1.

At the last meeting, the license of one dealer was revoked for selling dipped milk, but this action was rescinded at the meeting Tuesday evening, and all dealers will be allowed to sell until January 1 next.

The milk inspection committee reported that they have visited twenty dairies since the last report, nineteen of which are in better condition than last year, and but one dairy has retrograded.

The special election on Friday is restricted to only Honesdale voters. The consensus of opinion is for pave. The increased indebtedness for the town will be only $14,000. Will Honesdale ever pave any cheaper? Do your duty at the polls on Friday.

Before you start on your vacation see that you are supplied with some Neura Powders for Headache. 10 and 25 cents. Sold everywhere.
