July 28-Joseph Dorflinger and friend, Harbert Hill, of Summerhill, DEATH DEALING MACHINE SEIZED BY GOVERNMENT

Remarkable Invention of a Blackmailer Also Useful In Saving Lives.

In the presence of electrical experts, federal officers and detectives in Salt Lake City has just been demonstrated what is said to be perhaps the most remarkable death dealing machine invented in recent years, .

The invention is the work of W. L. Cummings, twenty-three years old, who confessed to federal and municipal officers when he was arrested that he had threatened to use it to destroy Miss Dorothy Bamberger, a wealthy society girl of Salt Lake City, unless she gave him $1,000,000. After the demonstration government officials took possession of the invention.

What is held to be of more importance, the device, it is said, can be turned to the saving of life by preventing train or ship collisions.

Electricians took the machine into a steel and concrete vault in an office building. Another part of the contrivance, on which were mounted a bell and an incandescent globe, was placed in a closed room across a hall. Then the electric current of the machine was turned on. On the unattached box in the other room the bell rang and the lamp glowed brightly.

In his acknowledged letter to Miss Bamberger Cummings sent a diagram of his invention, saying he would place a suit case of nitroglycerin in her room and explode it from a distance. The demonstration, say the electrical experts, proves that he could have done

In speaking of his invention as he sat in his cell Cummings said the attachment could be installed in locomotive cabs, where it would give a positive signal if a train ran past a closed block signal. In war, he said, mines could be exploded without wire attachment.

The prisoner told the police he had been induced to try to blackmail Miss Bamberger by two other men, who, he believed, were members of a New York gang of blackmailers.

Scranton, Pa July 26, 1913. Sporting Editor, "The Citizen,"

Honesdale, Pa. Dear Sir:

Is there a fast first or second class in Honesdale, or its vicinity, deirous of entertaining a base ball club comprised of the cream of the Scranton City League, on Saturday, August 9? I am manager of the Providence team, of that league, and that date being an open one, would like to secure an out-of-town gagement on that day. The Providence club is the only nine that has defeated Embury, champions, this season, turning the trick twice. It is completely re-organized and their last game was a 4 to 0 victory over Elm Park, who lost out to Hawley on Memorial Day in a twelve-inning contest. Chambers, our pitcher, let Elm Park down Chambers, without a hit. We will play for expenses and supper. Trusting that you can put me in communication with a club eager to play us, I am.

With sincere thanks, E. G. POWELL.
