Honesdale and Greater Honesdale

—Miss Maggie Weaver is the proud possessor of a new Reo automobile, purchased of E. W. Gammell. In time Miss Weaver will become an expert driver. —Hawley is going to try it once more on Saturday, and we certainly admire their spirit of "never give up." This will be a good game and lovers of base ball should turn out in large numbers. —The large barn and wagon house of George W. T. Myers, of Highland lake, was struck by lightning at 2:30 Monday and burned to the ground and 20 tons of hay, one load partly unloaded was burned. Several wagons and other implements and four horses were gotten out. A borer in the barn at the time was unnned and unconscious for a me.

—H. S. Salmon is having a garage erected at his home on North Main street.

—Born, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. George Mang, of Cherry Ridge, on Wednesday.

—Fifteen years ago Wednesday Admiral Dewey and General Merritt demanded the surrender of Manila.

—A party consisting of six cars motored from Ariel to Honesdale on Tuesday and shopped among the stores.

—State Commissioner of Health Dixon is out with a warning not to hurry and not to worry in hot weather and to be careful about chilling the stomach.

—The base ball team of Honesdale went to Milford this (Thursday) to play the team of that place. They were taken there in several autos. Those who went from here are W. B. Leshler, J. W. Sandercock, L. S. Partridge, T. Y. Boyd and others.

—The Honesdale base ball team, with a few exceptions, are journeying to Milford to-day (Thursday) to try conclusions with the strong team of that place. If they continue to play the way they have been for the past month we predict defeat for the Pike county seaters.

—A deed made out in 1881 by John S. Osgood et ux., of Sterling, to J. Mortimer McLain also of Sterling, was recorded in the office of Register and Recorder W. B. Leshler on Tuesday. It conveyed a piece of land in Sterling township to Mr. McLain for the consideration of $52.50.

—W. T. Blackburn, coroner of Blair county, conducted an inquest to make a lawful record as to the death of Engineer George K. Funk, of Harrisburg, who was killed last Wednesday when his first-class passenger train ran into another passenger train at Tyrone station, many passengers receiving minor injuries. The verdict was that the dead engineer had disregarded signals and was responsible for the accident.

—Robert Tryon Menner, a Honesdale man, has passed the test given by the Naval Examining Board at Washington, and is now a lieutenant commander of the United States navy. Lieutenant Menner was born in Honesdale in 1877, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Menner. He was graduated from the Honesdale High school in 1893, later attended State College and Lafayette, and was appointed to Annapolis in 1896. He has served on a number of ships and at various foreign stations.—Philadelphia Record.

—Sunday night two autos at Lake Huntington had a collision just above William Bennedum's place. One of the cars belonged to a New York party and stood in the middle of the road, while the party was making repairs. The other auto, driven by Clarence Cook, came over the hill and before it could stop, hit the other auto, damaging both considerably. Although it has been reported that one of the girls with the New York party was so badly injured that she was not expected to live, we understand that they were only slightly bruised up.

—The following from out of town attended the funeral of James Sterling, of Brownstown, held Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hannon, of Corning, N. Y.; Mary and Celia Hannon, of Oneonta, N. Y.; Mrs. George Kane and daughter, Mary, Mrs. Mary Driscoll and Agnes Malloy, of Susquehanna. Mary McLaughlin, of Washington, D. C.; James Sterling, Jr., of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. M. A. Ward and Elizabeth Rudy, of Miners Mills; Mrs. M. F. Carey, of Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. C. Boyle, and Mary McKean of Wilkes-Barre.

—Charles O. Peters, of Boston, who claims to have rescued "Little Tom," the mascot cat of the battleship Maine at the time of the vessel's destruction, was a business caller and pleasure seeker in Honesdale this week. Mr. Peters told a Citizen representative that in all his travels over the world he failed to find a place like Honesdale for beauty and the hospitality of its people. Mr. Peters is anxious to interest Honesdale in a cotton mill that manufactures shoe laces, insulation for wire, and other articles of a similar nature. All Mr. Peters asks is $60,000 for the business. Next town.

—Conflicting stories are being told about the arrest of Carl Gatzell, of No. 5, Carbondale township, a deputy game warden, on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, who is said to have been found by the roadside near his home Monday morning, quite badly injured. His arrest the night before was caused by persons who had been arrested by the game warden for illegal fishing. He was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert Walker and held in bail for court. In default of the bail, he was committed. Justice Walker claims that Gatzell was injured by jumping from a street car in escaping from Constable Mulligan who was taking him to the county jail. It is said that Gatzell was given a previous hearing before an alderman and released on the same charge. It was reported from other sources that the deputy had been waylaid and beaten.

—Two o'clock Sunday morning fire broke out on the roof of the Park Hotel at Fremont Center and before anything could be done to save it the building was completely destroyed, including everything in it except some clothing. The building, and also the farm which goes with it is the property of Phillip Orth, of Callicoon. Mr. Knell rented the property and has run the hotel for a number of years and it bore the reputation of serving the best meals of any hotel in Western Sullivan, a reputation which was justly earned. For the past three years had luck has persistently followed Mr. and Mrs. Knell. Three years ago a son and daughter died from pneumonia. Last year their son, Clarence, was seriously ill, and now the hotel burns down. It is not known what started the fire, as it was on the roof and also on a part of the house that they did not use very much, being over four bedrooms which were over the kitchen.

—In a recent storm which passed over Wayne county, a barn belonging to F. L. Dexter and a house owned by H. R. Comfort were struck and slightly damaged by lightning.

—Ed. B. Conley will head the Scranton delegation to the Buffalo encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans, and he is laying his plans to make a runaway race to secure the 1914 convention for Scranton. He says that he expects that the Scranton delegates to Buffalo will include about thirty Spanish war veterans and a number of prominent citizens who will go along as boomers. He will be assisted in his fight on the floor of the convention by Col. David J. Davis, city solicitor, who is a member of the Scranton camp.

Chairman W. B. Leshler, of the automobile committee of the Honesdale Chautauqua, arranged to take Miss Laura Fuller, who is connected with the Chautauqua Association, to White Mills and Hawley on Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of advertising the coming event in those two towns. The five car loads which went down were taken by L. S. Partridge, W. B. Leshler, A. W. Abrams, B. F. Haines and A. M. Leine. The two towns were thoroughly billed and posted for the coming Chautauqua and Miss Fuller co-operated with the local committee in stirring up the Chautauqua spirit. The advertising car No. 2 of the Chautauqua Association will arrive here on Monday next and will be in charge of Gibson Bradford. Programs, leaflets and banners will then be distributed.

Having on hand a small line of Silk Shirt Waists, Menger & Co. will offer them at attractive prices to close out. 584t

MILLIONAIRE TO BECOME FARMER

To Enroll as Agricultural Student in the Fall.

HIS FARM A SHOW PLACE.

Arc Lights Burning All Night illumine the Many Tiled and Graveled Roads of Four Hundred Acre Tract—Girard S. Parsons, the Owner, Will Raise Fancy Live Stock.

Although he was brought up in the lead mining business and was assistant manager of one of the largest lead companies of the United States at a salary approximating that of a cabinet minister, with a $14,000 house rent free. Girard S. Parsons has resigned his official duties with the St. Joseph (Mo.) Lead company, a $30,000,000 corporation, and will turn farmer.

When Parsons' official connection with the lead company ceases he will go to his farm at Riverside, Mo., with his wife, who was Miss Flora Bowman, daughter of Dr. G. A. Bowman of 3605 Delmar boulevard, St. Louis.

Parsons is one of the five heirs to the estate of C. B. Parsons, who first developed the lead belt of St. Francois county, Mo., and left a fortune estimated at between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000. The greater part of this estate is held in trust by the widow and will be distributed to the heirs at her death.

The farm to which Parsons will remove, while it has no more than 400 acres, probably is the best developed in southern Missouri. Virtually the entire farm is lighted with large electric arc lights, the power being brought from Herculaneum, a few miles south and the site of the St. Jo company's smelting plant.

Roads Lighted All Night.

Tiled and gravelled roads, built by the late millionaire miner, gridiron the estate, and along all these roads are electric lights which burn the night through. Along the Iron Mountain railway tracks, which bound the estate on the west, is a ten foot wall of solid masonry one-half mile long. The fields of the estate are in an intensive state of cultivation, and there are large orchards of the best grafted fruits.

Not having had much experience in agriculture, young Parsons will add to his meager knowledge by taking the winter course at Missouri State university—that known as the "shorthorn course."

Parsons was one of the officials of the St. Joseph Lead company, who were criticised for extravagances by Robert Holmes of St. Louis in his suit to have a receiver appointed for the Doe Run Lead company, a $10,000,000 mining concern affiliated with the St. Jo company.

It was when Parsons' salary as assistant general manager was cut that he tendered his resignation and turned to boocle pursuit. He will continue to do much motoring, but has disposed of his racing car, in which he was accustomed to make hair raising records on the chart covered roadways of St. Francois county.

Will Raise Fancy Live Stock.

Parsons will retain his position with the Mississippi River and Bonne Terre Railway company, of which he has been treasurer for several years. He also will retain his stock in both the St. Joseph and Doe Run Lead companies, each of which for years has paid a regular 6 per cent annual dividend, aside from large surpluses, out of which stock dividends are declared from time to time.

In his new pursuit Parsons will devote his attention particularly to the growing of fancy live stock, and in this will become a competitor of young Martin L. Clardy, Jr., son of the general solicitor of the Missouri Pacific railway, who maintains an extensive live stock and horse breeding establishment on the outskirts of Farmington, the county seat of St. Francois county.

TURTLE BACK AFTER 46 YEARS

Found With Edward Keeney's Initial and Old Date on Shell.

Forty-six years ago Edward Keeney, caretaker of Fairview cemetery, near West Hartford, Conn., found a turtle and marked on its shell "E. K., 1867." Keeney did not see the turtle again until a short time ago, when Job Gibson found it 500 feet from the spot where Keeney had freed it nearly half a century ago.

Keeney put the turtle on exhibition in a store window, together with a copy of a local paper of 1867 telling of his marking it, which he has preserved all these years to prove that he is not a nature faker. He never had lost confidence that the turtle would reappear.

Wear Watch on Instep.

The latest way of wearing a watch is on the instep. A fashionable jeweler of London lately advertised the new mode, with an illustration showing how the watch is fastened like a rosette to the shoe. He did not tell how to consult the watch. The picture showed the 12 o'clock mark toward the side of the foot, so presumably you have to lift your foot up with your hands or sit down cross legged when you want to know the time.

SOMETHING WORTH KNOWING.

An act signed by the governor, May 23, 1907, to prevent and punish the desecration of the flag of the United States, and of this state.

Section 1—Be it ordained by the senate and house of representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in general assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same; That any person who in any manner, for exhibition or display, shall place or cause to be placed any word, figure, mark or picture, design, drawing or any advertisement, of any nature, upon any flag, standard, color or ensign of the United States, or of this state, or shall expose or cause to be exposed to public view any such flag, standard, color or ensign upon which shall be printed, painted or otherwise placed, or to which shall be attached, appended, affixed or annexed, any word, figure, mark, picture, design or drawing, or any advertisement, of any nature; or who shall expose to public view, manufacture, sell, expose for sale, give away, or have in possession for sale or to give away for use, for any purpose, any article or substance, being an article of merchandise or a receptacle of merchandise, upon which shall have been printed, painted, attached, or otherwise placed a representation of any such flag, standard, color or ensign, to advertise, call attention to, decorate, mark or distinguish, for the purpose of sale, barter or trade, the article or substance on which so placed; or who shall publicly or privately mutilate, deface, defile or defy, trample upon, or cast contempt either by words or act upon, any such flag, standard, color or ensign, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or both, in the discretion of the court.

Section 2—The words flag, standard, color or ensign, as used in this act, shall include any flag, standard, color, ensign, or any picture or representation of either thereof, make of any substance, or represented on any substance of any kind evidently purporting to be either of said flag, standard, color, or ensign of the United States of America or of this state, or a picture or a representation of either thereof, upon which shall be shown the colors, or any color, or any combination of colors, or either the stars or the stripes, or the stars and the stripes, in any number of either thereof, or anything which the person seeing the same, without deliberation, may believe the same to represent the flag, colors, standard, or ensign of the United States, or of this state.

Section 3—This act shall not apply to any act permitted by the statute of the United States of America, or by the United States army and navy regulations; nor in case where the government of the United States has granted the use of such flag, standard, color, or ensign as a trade mark; nor shall it be construed to apply to a newspaper, periodical, book, pamphlet, circular, certificate, diploma, warrant, or commission of appointment to office, ornamental picture, or badges, or stationery for use in correspondence, on any of which shall be printed, or placed, or represented thereon, any advertisement for any purpose of sale, barter, or trade; nor shall it apply to any patriotic or political demonstration or decorations.

THE BIGGEST NEWSPAPER VALUES.

Daily "Record" and "Sunday Record" Indispensable to a Broad Outlook.

You read this newspaper to keep in intimate touch with the home news. The big city daily supplements our work by giving you a broader outlook.

"The Philadelphia Record" covers every day in the week a field entirely distinct from that in which we serve you. Its thousands of correspondents gather and sift the world's news and make it into a condensed history of civilization day by day. You need that history in serial form to keep well-posted.

"The Record's" market reports are the standard of buying and selling in all its territory. Its cartoonist is deservedly famous. Its Washington news comes from the inside. Its women's, household and fashion departments are authoritative. Its editorials are sincere and informative. It comes pretty close to being our ideal of what a city daily ought to be.

"The Record," one cent, and "The Sunday Record," three cents (including a big magazine section and a special section for boys and girls), are the biggest values we know of in the city newspaper field. 1t

DO IT WITH ALL THY MIGHT.

"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."—Ecclesiastes ix., 10.

The above verse contains the secret of success.

A volume might be written about how to succeed in accomplishing results in any field of man's activity, and the directions therein given could be boiled down to the eleven words of the text for this little talk.

In religion, in business and professional life, in society, in public affairs, in politics, success is achieved by doing whatsoever is undertaken with all the might one possesses.

Half-heartedness never turned a soul from error's way. Half-heartedness never gained the laurel wreath of success in any calling. The man or woman who desires to live a life worth living, must not only find something to do, but most also determine to do it with all his or her might.

The word "findeth" implies looking for or seeking. And the word "seeking" implies deliberation.

There are some things—a good many—that are not worth doing at all; that had a good deal better be left undone. But, as the old adage puts it, "Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well."

If we do a little well on one day, new avenues for doing with our might will open for us as the days go by.

In the lexicon of doing with our might, there is no such word as fail. There is plenty that needs to be done with might.

"Each in his day; Each in his way; Plenty for all to do."

Several thousand years have passed since Solomon "the wisest man" wrote the words we have chosen to head this talk. They are no less true now than then. "The eternal years of God" belong to Truth. The words are a command and an exhortation, not a mere declaration. They impose an obligation on the hand as well as on the heart. They enjoin work, not merely belief, and not work tomorrow or next week, but for to-day; and tomorrow and next week they will be just as binding as they are now.

If we obey the command, if we heed the exhortation, if we courageously meet the obligations imposed upon us, the world will be better for our having lived. Let us therefore seek, find and do with all our might. —East Stroudsburg Press and Jeffersonian.
