MONSTER REPTILE SEEN IN TYLER HILL WOODS

BOA CONstrictor Twenty Feet in Length Seen by Fred Greeley.

Other Stories Have Circulated Neighborhood in Past Years Concerning Existence of Monster Supposed to Have Escaped from a Circus.

Probably one of the greatest sensations that has visited Damascus in many a day was launched one day two weeks ago when Fred Greeley, a reliable and truthful man who lives between Tyler Hill and Galilee, went to Tyler Hill and told he had seen a snake that was between twenty and thirty feet long and was as big around as an ordinary stove-pipe.

Mr. Greeley said that he was out picking blackberries on his farm, which is known as the old Greeley place and is situated somewhat southwest of the main line between Tyler Hill and Galilee, and while walking around among the bushes he started to part two bushes to go through them and in doing so he saw a log lying on the ground and was just in the act of stepping on it when the apparent log commenced to move. He ran back a ways and then saw that it was a monster snake, or Boa Constrictor, and that it moved along lazily with no attempt to harm him nor to run away. It gradually made its way into the thick undergrowth and disappeared, and the trail it left was just the same as though a large log had been dragged along the ground.

Mr. Greeley's story was called a joke by everyone who heard it except some of the old timers around Tyler Hill, who have heard of this monster before and took considerable stock in the story. Several years ago Sidney Brush and his sister were coming from Milaville along the Frosty Hollow road and they told at that time of seeing an extremely large snake along the road, but from that time to this it has never been seen, or at least it has never been reported. Possibly it has been seen but no one had the nerve to say they had seen it for fear that they would be ridiculed.

It seems a pretty big story to swallow but facts seem to bear out Mr. Greeley that such a snake exists in the wilds of northern Wayne. About fifteen years ago a small circus that was traveling over the Erie had a small wreck between Coeckertown and Narrowsburg and the car that contained the snakes was partly smashed up and a number of the snakes escaped, among them three large ones known as Boa Constrictors. They went into the woods and for days efforts were made by the circus people to find the snakes but there were only a few of the smaller ones caught and the big ones remained in the woods. The probability is that one of these monsters is the one that has been seen in Damascus a number of times.

SOME FISHING (?) TRIP.

C. M. Harris, proprietor of the Globe store; Marks Bregstein, of the clothing firm of Bregstein Brothers; Robert O'Connell and Dr. W. T. McVinnil arose from their downy beds at 4 a.m. Tuesday morning and journeyed to Duck Harbor with the expressed purpose of spending the day at the sport of fishing.

That the four are enthusiastic fishermen will be seen from the fact that they forgot to take any bait along. They had it ready but it was left behind in the excitement of departure in the misty hours of the morning.

They arrived at Duck Harbor about five o'clock these fishermen our, and being indisposed to fish probably on account of the fact that their thoughts continually reverted to the downy beds, they stretched themselves out full length on the grass beside the water and went to sleep.

It was noon when the four fishermen awoke and their appetites were keen. Fish no longer interested them when they noticed in the barnard of a neighboring farm-house, among fine specimens of the hen family. The farmer was willing and the quartette soon sat down to a chicken dinner that rivaled anything that had before tickled their palates.

Just where the fishing part of the trip came in will probably always remain a mystery except for the stories of the catch as told by some members of the party.

"Oh, sure," said one, "we had fish for breakfast, fish for dinner and still have some left." But we doubt

Evening D. & H. Train Held Up About An Hour—Passengers From 4:30 Train Transferred to Carbondale Train.

The yard engine of the Delaware & Hudson company running light with several empty cars jumped the track near Prompton about four o'clock Wednesday evening. About all the damage done was marking a strip of ties. An engine from Lake Lodore came down and pulled the yard engine on the track. Traffic was tied up about an hour and a half.

The passenger train leaving Honesdale at 4:30 in the afternoon was obliged to transfer its passengers to a train which had been called from Carbondale. The evening train due here at 7:30 was delayed about an hour.

For the dollar and twenty cents, Parker has Officer Canivan to thank for the latter disposed of two of the cleaners for him. Parker did not know for a time whether he would have to stay some time in the jail or not. He sent in the order for 18 cleaners which were shipped C. O. D. Parker was in jail and had no money to get the cleaners so that he could get money. The situation was complex but Officer Canivan came to the rescue and went around with Parker to the places where orders had been secured and collected enough money to pay all debts.

How to Build Up or Tear Down This Community

By J. O. LEWIS

The Home Merchant Has Earned Support.

WHY are communities, towns and cities? Have you ever asked yourself this question? Did you think they just happened, or had you ever thought that there was a special need for them? In the beginning of time—as far back as history takes us—we find that MEN HAVE BANDED THEMSELVES TOGETHER FOR MANY AND OBVIOUS REASONS, chief among which are the benefits to be gained from organized society as a social, intellectual, spiritual and commercial center.

Collectively we are strong, forceful and aggressive and possess power and means to attain growth which will give to us and our progeny opportunities for better living—to develop our moral, spiritual and intellectual life, the things for which we were created.

THEREFORE THE SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS OF EVERY CITIZEN OF ANY COMMUNITY LIES IN THE INTEREST HE TAKES IN THAT COMMUNITY AND THE GOOD WORK HE CAN DO TO ASSIST IN ITS UPBUILDING.

Now, then, if we are to succeed as individuals and as a community we must not only strive for our own personal success and welfare, BUT MUST GIVE OF OUR WORK AND SUBSTANCE UNSELFISHLY TO HELP THE OTHERS.

Everything we do to help in the upbuilding and advancement of our city we do just that much toward our own personal success. No man can live and prosper unto himself alone, FOR WE ARE INTERDEPENDENT, and, realizing this, if we as citizens will all unite and pull together for the common good we will prosper as a city and consequently as individuals.

Well paved streets and sidewalks, good sewerage system, thoroughly enforced sanitary laws, well regulated and energetic police force, competent fire fighting equipment and rigid building regulations are economic necessities and therefore they more largely affect us as a community than as individuals. But beyond this and underlying it all and upon which rests the foundation of the whole is THE SUCCESS OF THE BUSINESS MAN. This man makes an investment, goes into some kind of business—to manufacture or sell goods—puts his money at stake, employs labor and begins his work to build better. THIS MAN IS THE CORNERSTONE OF THE COMMUNITY—the man you should rally around and support.

THE SUCCESS OF A TOWN DEPENDS ON THE SUCCESS OF ITS BUSINESS MEN, WHILE THE SUCCESS OF THE BUSINESS MEN DEPENDS ON SUPPORT THEY RECEIVE FROM THE PEOPLE AT LARGE, EACH BEING, HOWEVER, DEPENDENT ONE ON THE OTHER.

No merchant can succeed without the patronage of the public. He is absolutely and entirely dependent on the custom of each and every individual who has a penny to spend, the little mite of each, taken in the aggregate, making the volume on which he runs his business. The merchant, having plenty of competition, must, in order to get the people's patronage, figure his prices close and offer to them the very best inducements possible.

The merchant pays large rentals, taxes, privilege licenses, insurance, besides employing many clerks and assistants in order to maintain and conduct his business in such a manner as to meet your approval, and to succeed let me emphasize it again—HE MUST HAVE YOUR PATRONAGE TO MAKE HIS BUSINESS PAY.

This community has some as fine stores—every kind—and conducted by as fine a set of men as you will find anywhere on the face of the globe—liberal, big hearted, progressive men. No better retail stores, no better wholesale or jobbing houses, no better banks, no better mills, no better schools, no better churches, no better municipal or public utilities, can be found anywhere than right here in your home town, all—absolutely all—made possible only by and through the co-operation and generous giving of the business men.

But, my good friends, with all of these extraordinary accomplishments, there are some things being done today which are STUMBLING BLOCKS IN THE PATH OF OUR GREATER GROWTH and further development—differences, if you please, which we must reconcile and overcome if we are to continue to grow and prosper.

To be continued under the title, "HELP YOURSELF BY HELPING YOUR TOWN."

DOG DAYS ARE NOW HERE.

The dog day season is here and the dog star will reign until August 26. It is during this period that dogs are supposed to become mad quicker than at any other time of the year. On the farm, pests and destructive insects are more numerous than at any other time of the summer, it is said. There has long been a superstition that the water in creeks and rivers is tainted and poisonous to the human body during the period known as dog days, but the average boy is willing and ready to take great chances these sultry days, as attested by the scores who may be seen daily enjoying swim in the Lackawaxen and Dyberry rivers.

DISPATCHES LARGE BLACK SNAKE.

Mrs. Mary A. Schmitt of Swamp Brook Killed Snake in Field.

Our Swamp Brook correspondent sent The Citizen a story in which Mrs. Mary A. Schmitt of that place is the champion snake killer of the season.

The correspondent says that snakes are very numerous in this section. Three large rattlesnakes were killed near the Moser property on Sunday. On Tuesday as Mrs. Mary A. Schmitt, aged 70 years, was carrying a drink to her son, who was working in the field, she saw a large blacksnake in the path. Not being timid she immediately killed it. The snake lacked a few inches of measuring six feet.

DON'T DELAY IN BUYING CHAUTAUQUA TICKETS.

Honesdale has been districted and solicitors appointed to sell tickets for the Chautauqua. From all reports the sale is very encouraging, but some of the solicitors state that some people prefer to wait until next week. The tickets won't be any cheaper by waiting—$2 is the possible lowest price for a season ticket—and when it is considered that this averages only 13 cents for each entertainment against 35 and 50 cents for single admission tickets, it is absurd to expect to get them any cheaper. Buy your tickets now.
