Honesdale and Greater Honesdale

Monday next will be Labor

A marriage license has been issued to Joseph Schele, of Hawley, and Miss Marie Lovelace, also of Hawley, on Friday.

The Honesdale public library was closed on Tuesday, August 19, that every one will have a chance to hear Judge Lindsey talk at Honesdale.

One of Honesdale's young ladies while soliciting tickets for the aqua, encountered an unusual experience, when in a certain terraced place she explained the Chautauqua to the prospective ticket purchaser. She replied the woman, "when I go to buy a ticket to Chicago I go to the railroad station."

Among those from away who attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Griffin on Tuesday morning were the following: Mrs. M. A. Kellogg; Miss Annie Griffin, Honesdale; Mrs. P. J. Messett and Frances, of Scranton; Misses Eve and Helen Burke, of Honesdale; Miss E. Gilmartin, of Honesdale; Miss Morris, of Mount Pleasant, N. Y.; James Baird of Port Jervis, N. Y.; Mrs. Anna Bishop, of Scranton; Mrs. T. Reim, of Scranton.

A marriage license has been issued to Floyd Dayton, of Milanville, and Miss Dorothy Schmetz, of New York.

The Factoryville News, a weekly newspaper, has gone out of business. The merchants would not advertise, and therefore the paper stopped publication.

Edward P. Varcoe received a painful injury to a finger of his hand on Thursday while inflating a bicycle tire. The finger caught in the spokes of the wheel, tearing off the nail. Dr. McConville treated the injured digit.

An inter-county conference of the Prohibitions of Monroe, Luzerne, Wyoming, Wayne, Susquehanna and Lackawanna counties will be held in Scranton on Labor Day. The Hon. Virgil G. Hinshaw, national chairman of the Prohibition party, will be present and in the afternoon will speak at Nay Aug park.

Tuesday, August 26, is the last day for filing petitions for nominations at the coming primaries. Up to today over one hundred and fifty petitions have been filed with the county commissioners. The office has been flooded with petitions for the past week putting on a great deal of extra work for the clerks of the office.

Judge Searle on Wednesday of last week made an order fixing the time for holding court during September. The first court will be held on Saturday morning, September 6, at 10 o'clock and any matters which cannot be disposed of at that time, which were fixed for argument or hearing for the second Monday in September, will be continued until the third Monday at 2 o'clock when court will be held.

Resolutions urging the county commissioners of Carbon and Schuylkill counties, to comply with the requirements of the recently enacted mothers' pension law were adopted last week at Wilkes-Barre by the delegates to the Miners' convention. They also decided to make a thorough investigation of the charge that many explosions in gaseous mines have been due to sparks from electrical machinery.

The state headquarters of the Pennsylvania Sportsmen's association have been established in Scranton. They are located in the office of David Prichard, at 34 Lackawanna avenue. Mr. Prichard is president of the state association. It was thought that the removal of the state headquarters from Harrisburg to Scranton, the home of the president, would facilitate the business of the association, and so it was done.

Julius Kallage, a resident of North Main street, Taylor, was seriously burned Thursday morning at the Archibald mine, where he is employed as a miner. He was preparing powder for a blast, when in some manner it became ignited, and set fire to his clothing, which was completely burned from his body. The injured man was conveyed to the Moses Taylor hospital where little hopes are entertained for his recovery.

A comedy of the first order given by capable company will introduce Charley Grapevine's funny play, "Sweethearts and Wives" to local theatregoers. "Sweethearts and Wives" is simply a riot of natural fun, a complication of homely and mirth provoking incidents which make their laughing impression upon everybody, male and female, because the same things are so familiar to us in our home and domestic life. A carload of special scenery is carried.

On Thursday evening, Aug. 21, the Father Whitty Society, of Scranton, celebrated its Twenty-Seventh Anniversary. The committee in charge left nothing undone to make this the greatest social event in the history of the society. Among the speakers were: Rev. Dr. J. V. Moylan, of Nanticoke, our old Spiritual Director, also Rev. J. J. O'Toole of Honesdale, and Prof. M. J. Costello, of the Scranton Technical High school. Together with this there was a musical and literary entertainment of unusual merit. Also ice cream, cake and cigars.

Plans have been completed for the unveiling of the monument to the memory of Lieutenant William F. McAndrew, of Carbondale, on Labor Day, September 1. The memorial committee has announced the program of exercises which will commence at 10 o'clock and which will include an address by Hon. T. V. Powderly, of Washington, D. C., and Mayor James B. Murrin. The monument will be placed on Sixth avenue side of the city hall plaza. The monument and bronze tablet was secured at the monumental works of Martin Caulfield of Honesdale.

When you look toward the south in the early evening now you see one star shining forth with surpassing splendor. This is the planet Jupiter. The word "planet" means "wanderer"; the ancients gave the name to those stars that they saw moving around the heavens among the fixed stars. Jupiter, being a planet, does not always stay where it now is; it takes it about twelve of our years, however, to make the circuit of the heavens. It is the brightest star in the sky, except that at certain periods Venus outshines it. It is the giant planet of our solar system, being about 1,300 times as big as our globe. If you have a powerful pair of opera glasses or a small telescope you can make out some of the moons of Jupiter. Eight such moons have been discovered, the last four having only been identified in the last few years. The innermost of these satellites rushes round Jupiter at the terrific rate of one revolution in only forty-two hours, and is rather hard to catch except with a powerful telescope. The third moon is the largest and easiest to see, its period of revolution being about seven days. The fourth moon is also quite easily found with a good glass, but all the others are extremely faint. Through a big telescope you can watch the moons as they cross in front of the planet. You don't see the moons themselves; but you can see the little dot of a shadow that they cast on the planet's surface.

A marriage license has been issued to Francis J. Rickard, Clemons, and Miss Hilda B. Nolan, of Cherry Ridge.

To-night (Monday) at the Lyric the American Play Company presents the world wide sensation, "Within the Law," by Bayard Veiller, the play that started something. It has played for two years in New York.

While trying to change spark plugs in an automobile while the engine was running, Martin Endenson, of Wilkes-Barre, twenty-one years old, was cut over the left eye and rendered unconscious for two hours. The piston ring flew out and hit him and three stitches were required to close the gap in his forehead.

A jolly party is spending a couple of weeks at "Kro-nest," the pleasant cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Swingle on the south shore of Lake Ariel. Those in the party are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Knapp, Port Jervis; Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Edwards and daughter, Scranton; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Edwards and son Arden, and daughter, Beulah, of South Canaan.

The Methodist society of Lake Como will hold a picnic in Underwood's grove August 28th. The day's program will include music, addresses, sports, ball games, etc., and an excellent chicken dinner at 12 m. At 8 p. m. the Rev. H. J. Rines of Binghamton, will give an illustrated lecture in the church adjoining the grove. His subject will be "In His Steps."

Honesdale friends were pleased to learn of the marriage last week of Edward Schuerholz, a former Honesdale boy and brother of Frank W. Schuerholz, the cigar man, to Miss Sophia Julia Zippel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Zippel, of Englewood, N. J. The marriage took place at Englewood, N. J. Edward Schuerholz is an electrician in Englewood, where they will make their future home.

The double header which was won by Honesdale Saturday afternoon from Forest City, successfully demonstrated the fact that the "jinx" has left, and we hope has left for good. The playing of the local boys was first class and they showed to a degree that old form. If they play as well next Saturday there will be no question of the outcome of the final game of the series between Hawley and Honesdale.

The management of "Within the Law" are receiving a number of letters protesting against the use of the "Maxim Silencer" as it opens up a new method of deadly work for crooks. The Police Department has been asked to have the guns registered and the managers bonded to insure the public safety. The managers wish to announce that the "Silencers" used in the production of "Within the Law" were made especially for the production and are not manufactured for sale.

State Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow has appointed John T. Gephart, lately in charge of State road work in Clearfield, Center, Indiana and nearby counties, to be assistant engineer of maintenance of state highways. George H. Biles, of Philadelphia, is the chief of maintenance and in charge of 8,000 miles of highway. Wayne D. Myers, of Bellefonte, in charge of Center county state roads, has been advanced to engineer, and George Bennett, Bellefonte, appointed to take charge of Center roads.

The headquarters of the Scranton delegation who will attend the convention of the Spanish American War Veterans at Buffalo, N. Y., next month will be at the King Edward hotel. Some of the delegates will leave for Buffalo Saturday, August 30; the remainder on the Tuesday following. The Scranton delegation are confident of having Scranton named for the 1914 convention. They have the promise of assistance from several southern New York delegations, besides all the camps in Pennsylvania.

Joseph Roszkovskic, aged twenty-four years, of Carbondale, who made his home with his brother on Jefferson street, Simpson, was instantly killed in the Northwest mine Wednesday afternoon by a fall of roof coal. He was a laborer, and the day was to have been his last in the mines, as he planned being among his friends to bid them farewell as he was going to return to Austria-Hungary to be a comfort to his aged parents the remainder of their lives. He was a popular young man among his countrymen at Simpson, and his death just as he was about to quit the mines for good was a shock to them.

George Curtiss, an employe of the Keystone National Powder company, and living on the place across the creek from Emporium known as the Bingham farm, committed suicide Sunday morning, Aug. 17. Curtiss with his wife and other members of his household were in Emporium in the evening and had, it is said, been drinking. They had trouble while in town and were ordered to go home. They did so and Curtiss having had a previous dispute with his wife made an effort to reconcile her and failing to do so threatened to take his life. About one o'clock his body was found, it is reported, near the pump which is just outside of the kitchen door.

The "Gabby Nook Girls," of Lake Winola, entertained at a corn and marshmallow roast last Saturday evening. The following people were present: Ruth Conrad, Molly Gould, Rosa Boland, Kathleen Boland, Blanche Davis, Betty Davis, Gretchen Williams, Ruth Baker, Gladys Jones, Helen Ackerman, Anna Buckley, Bernadette Rock, of Scranton; Dorothy Deln, of Honesdale, and Blodwin Edwards, of Wilkes-Barre; and Chris Boland, "Bob" Dolphin, Harry James, Clinton Leroy, Harold Adams, Richard Parker, Charles Engel, John Coslett, Fred Hopewell, of Scranton; Fred Rozelle, of Dalton; "Bob" Shifer, "Pep" Hartman, of Pittston, Maurice John, William Morton, of Avoca; Leo McHugh, of Uniontown. The party was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Conrad of Scranton.

Six skulls and skeletons were unearthed Saturday in Olyphant by workmen in the employ of Contractor Woelkers of Scranton, who has the job of excavating for the new school. When the first one was discovered the wielder of the pick and shovel cried out in fright and took to his heels. The foreman followed, but only to order the fellow back on the job. The other five skeletons were unearthed as the work progressed. A small boy passing that way was startled and soon had informed the neighborhood of what was happening. A large crowd gathered at the school site to watch the men digging up bones of people who lived in a former age.

Mrs. M. J. Mitchell, of Dunmore, died at her home at Hollisterville, Thursday morning. Deceased had been ailing for a long time and continued to grow weaker until death claimed her. She was one of the most popular and highly respected women in that place and in Dunmore, where she resided in the winter. The funeral was held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock from her home in Hollisterville. She is survived by her husband and one son and one daughter: Constable Ira Mitchell, of Alderman Moir's office, and Mrs. A. W. Long, of Jefferson avenue, Scranton. The following sister and brothers also survive: Mrs. W. A. Beemer, D. W. Hornbaker and F. J. Hornbaker, all of Madison avenue, Scranton; Peter Hornbaker, of Scranton; J. M. Hornbaker of Scranton, and J. W. Hornbaker, of Madisonville.

Manager Spencer made a "Chautauqua" between the games and announced that we would have the strong Crescents here for two games on Labor Day. Each team has placed $50 and if either team wins both games they take the cash.

We are all going to Hawley next Saturday to capture that deciding game.

CRICKETS IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

A New Jersey correspondent has written to State Zoologist H. A. Surface as follows:

"I have a residence at Ocean City, N. J., located on the banks of a bayou, running in from Great Egg Harbor Bay, and during the past few weeks, we have been overrun by crickets, which get into the house by some unknown crevice and do quite a good deal of damage in the way of eating holes in clothing, etc. They have utterly destroyed two suits of clothing of mine and several garments belonging to my wife. 'I spoke of the matter to a friend, who advised me to write to you. He stated that you would know of some means of exterminating this pest, at least around the premises. Can you help me out?'"

"Replying to your letter about the unusual infestation of crickets from which you have suffered, I can say that you will have no trouble in exterminating these pests if you will sprinkle sweetened water over wisps or bunches of clover, and dust this very lightly with a little arsenate of lead or Paris green, and put it in the house where they can get it, and also around the house where they are liable to get it. They would prefer the clover or poisoned grass to clothing, and will be killed without any damage to the inmates of the

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

Champions of equal suffrage in Pennsylvania will find it easy to "show their colors" in the future. The Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage Association has laid in a supply of lapel badges of the familiar seven-eighths inch button type and will sell them broadcast from its headquarters in the Arcade building at Harrisburg. The buttons are of two types, both bearing the same design. One type is a blue design on a white background, the other is a white design on a blue background. Blue was chosen because it is the State color. The design is a Keystone, inscribed with "Penna.—1915," with the keystone bisected laterally with an arc on which is printed "Votes for Women." The badge advertises not merely the campaign to have the next legislature adopt a duplicate of the Rockwell resolution to amend the constitution which was passed by the recent legislature, but also advertises the campaign which will be waged for popular adoption of the amendment to the constitution after the legislature of 1915 has voted in favor of this referendum.
