A circular has been issued to commissioners of the various counties of the state by Secretary of the Commonwealth Robert McAfee calling attention to the fact that under the primary and non-partisan nomination acts voters can vote for but one candidate for Superior court both at the primary and the general election.

The fun in Charley Grapewin's "Sweethearts and Wives" which will be one of the early attractions at the Lyric, is created by an almost endless series of misunderstandings. A commercial traveller arrives home during house-cleaning time and is met by his wife whose jealousy has been aroused by gossiping neighbors. To make matters worse, he brings home a suit case belonging to another traveller with the same initials, in which his wife finds a woman's apparel. It is here the fun starts and continues until the final curtain.

One of the finest trophies of the big Michigan woods—the head of a genuine bull moose—was received by Benjamin Loris one day last week and is now on display in his place of business on South Main street. This giant relative of the deer family was shot by Joseph Kramer, a former Wayne county boy, last winter near Duluth, Michigan. The animal weighed 1600 pounds and it measured fully five feet from the tip of one antler to the other. Joe Kramer having purchased the Kramer homestead near Bethany expects to return to Wayne county in the near future.

The people of North Scranton may well congratulate themselves upon the great success of their Old Home Week celebration held last week. From the very start of the preparations of the affair it has been managed without a hitch of any consequence. From the initial meeting there has been intense interest combined with harmony. Great good judgment was shown in the selection of managers and officers. There may have been some heart burnings, but in such cases it is impossible to please everybody. The decorations and the hearty response of the people to every demand of them must have been very pleasing to all the officers from President Fox down and the reunion of the old Radorvillians were occasions of many an interesting story of the old days.

Many inquiries relative to the various features of the act relating to the election of supervisors at the fall election have been received from all parts of the county that The Citizen thinks it wise to explain the situation. Two supervisors will be chosen for each township this fall. The officers who were elected in 1909 to 1910 will go out of office in 1913, according to the act, and these are the vacancies that must be filled. The two supervisors chosen this fall will take office in January, 1914, and will serve until 1918 and 1920. The supervisors who were elected in 1911 will hold over until 1915 and when elected in the fall of that year they will take office in 1916. Every two years thereafter a supervisor will be elected to serve for two years. This fall one supervisor will be elected for 4 years and one for 6 years. The petitions of supervisors for nomination should indicate whether the candidate wants the four or six year term.

Mr. Frank P. Woodward came into The Times office yesterday like a fresh breeze from the hills and left upon my desk the last number of the Wayne Countian, containing his swan song. Mr. Woodward is one of the patriarchs of the journalistic tribes in these parts. He was on the Scranton Sunday Free Press when I first met him so many years ago that I hate to number them and he was no spring chicken in the profession at that time. He started the Wayne Countian about a year ago. It did not have so warm a greeting as he expected and so he has concluded to stop it. He does not seem to be the least bit discouraged. In fact Mr. Woodward is possessed of a sunny temperament, his kindly face is always beaming and he refuses to be cast down under any circumstances. I hope to see him comfortably placed again before many days. * * * That reminds me that the newspaper mortality rate has been extremely high in Northeastern Pennsylvania recently. The Wayne County Herald, after eighty years of more or less active existence, gave up the ghost only a few weeks ago and there is no longer a Democratic paper in Wayne county. Last week the editor of the Local News at Factoryville made his final bow and retired from the stage. The paper would have died but for the public spirit of Mr. V. W. R. Hedgepeth, a patriotic Factoryvillian who, resolving that Factoryville should not lose the prestige of having a newspaper all its own, took over the plant and will continue the paper. Mr. Hedgepeth has plenty of ginger in his makeup and I predict that he will give the people of the beautiful and enterprising Wyoming county town the best paper that has ever been published within its confines.—Scranton Times.

Judging by the action of Canadian women in the Sherbrooke court room last week who cheered Harry Thaw, they are not unlike some American women, who appear to admire a man all the more if he is a rouse, a high liver, a scoundrel and murderer. If it was a question of Thaw not getting justice or he was persecuted, the hysteria would be less questionable, but where an unscrupulous felon can use his fortune to defeat justice it places such demonstrators as those of last week in about as low a scale as Thaw himself.

HOW EDITORS GET RICH. (From the Lawrence (Kan.) World) Herb Caveness, of the Chanute Tribune, says that a great many persons have wondered how editors all get rich so quickly and with such small effort. One of them who has grown rich has at last told the secret of it. He outlines it as follows: "A nursery firm will send us a 25-cent rosebush for only $50 worth of advertising. "For running a six-inch advertisement for one year, we can get a gross of pills. "About one dozen firms are wanting to give us shares in gold mines for advertising. "For $40 worth of advertising and $25 cash we can own a bicycle. The wheel sells for just $12. "A fellow out West wants us to run a lot of advertising for him for nothing, and if it brings results he may become a customer. "For running $12 worth of locals we can get two tickets admitting us to a circus in a city and pay our own fare on the railroad. "A gun firm wants us to run $19 worth of advertising and then send $10 in exchange for a shotgun. Such a gun would retail at about $6. "By running $50 worth of advertising and sending $25 to an Atlantic City firm, we will be given a deed to a lot. When the tide is in, the lot stands six feet under water. "When a man dies, the undertaker gets from $75 to $150 to bury him and the editor gets nothing for publishing the obituary notice."

CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS WILL OBSERVE TUBERCULOSIS DAY. Churches, schools, labor unions, fraternal orders and other organizations to the number of 200,000 at least will be asked to join the anti-tuberculosis workers of the country in the observance of the Fourth National Tuberculosis Day, which has been designated for December 7, according to an announcement issued to-day by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The movement will be furthered throughout the country by more than 1,000 anti-tuberculosis societies working through various state organizations and The National Association. Personal appeals will be made to clergymen, school principals and leaders of various organizations urging them to set aside a definite time during the week preceding or the week following December 7th, for a lecture on tuberculosis.

Last year over 60,000 churches gave attention to this subject on Tuberculosis Day. It is hopeful this year to swell the number of churches to 100,000 and to urge similar action besides in a large number of the schools and other societies. The Tuberculosis Day Campaign will come this year during the Red Cross Christmas Seal sale. It is planned to urge the churches of the country to take a definite part in this movement.

The observance of Tuberculosis Day was endorsed last year by President Taft, Cardinal Farley, Col. Roosevelt and many other prominent churchmen and public officials. Proclamations calling upon the people to observe this day were issued by governors of more than a dozen states and by the mayors of a considerable number of cities.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Catherine and Rodes Braman. She was born near Cooperstown, N. Y., nearly 84 years ago. When at the age of 20 years she accompanied her parents to Pennsylvania and the family settled at Indian Orchard at what is now known as Braman Hill. She married John S.
