YOUR HAIR MAY BE YOUR FORTUNE

Beautiful hair has made the fortune of many a woman, by adding charm and loveliness to an otherwise plain face. Nothing means more to good looks than beautiful hair. It adds to the attractiveness of every feature. Without it you can't be beautiful; with it you will be at least pretty.

To have beautiful hair, use Harmony Hair Beautifier. It will improve the beauty of your hair, taking away the dull harshness and stringiness, softening and polishing every hair in your head and making it soft, silky, glossy, easier to put up and keep in place, and at the same time giving it a rich and lasting rose fragrance that will delight both you and those around you.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50¢. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.—A. M. Leine, Honesdale.

Wilson Confident That Huerta Will Yield.

ASQUITH SPLASH FRIENDLY.

He Does Not, However, Give Any Definite Pledge of Support—Officials Think That European Powers Will Support the United States.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The Mexican situation is again at a stage where this government is waiting upon developments from the outside. Before considering actual intervention by United States troops or the lifting of the embargo on arms and ammunition along the Mexican border the administration is now determined to wait upon a disclosure of the attitude of the European powers toward the policy of the United States.

In other words, the president and his advisers are hopeful that Huerta may be "starved" financially into yielding to the state department's demands for his elimination.

Administration officials are confident that if the powers will declare themselves as publicly supporting the stand of the United States toward Huerta it will be only a question of a short time before he will be obliged to step out.

Some encouragement for this policy is found in Premier Asquith's speech in London. The belief is that it will go far toward disillusioning Huerta of his confidence that the European powers will stand by him.

Asquith's Speech Indefinite.

When analyzed, however, it is acknowledged here that Asquith's speech contains no definite pledges as regards the details of Great Britain's policy toward Mexico. There is no statement that the British government will publicly endorse the stand taken by the United States in insisting that Huerta must go and in refusing to recognize his acts or the acts of the congress about to convene.

On the other hand, the Asquith speech contains a distinct reminder that the British government will expect the United States to protect British life and property in Mexico or Great Britain will be obliged to do so itself.

As a matter of fact the Asquith speech, as interpreted here, is significant merely as indicating the spirit of the British foreign office toward the United States in the present situation, and not as committing Great Britain to any definite program. The premier seemed purposely to avoid any such commitment.

While Premier Asquith denies that Great Britain has done anything to hamper the United States, the belief still persists in official quarters here that Huerta has been obtaining financial aid recently from British interests which have large concessions in Mexico.

The administration is waiting for more definite expressions from the foreign powers in regard to this government's policy toward Huerta, and if they are favorable the president's plans for the future may be materially altered.

MISS WILSON'S PENDANT.

Congressman Mann Describes Wedding Gift of House.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Here is Representative Mann's description of the wedding gift he purchased on behalf of the house of representatives for Miss Jessie Wilson:

"It is a pendant, pearl shaped in outline and containing eighty-five small diamonds and one large canary diamond in the center. The large stone weighs six and one-quarter carats. The smaller diamonds are placed around the larger stone in concentric rings which are built up of delicate lace-work and mounted in platinum. The contrasting colors of the blue white in the small diamonds and the brilliant yellow in the canary diamond give it distinction and beauty."

PEANUT TRUST IS CHARGED.

Carolinians Say Prices Paid For Goobers Were Forced Down.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Prominent North and South Carolinians notified the department of justice that a trust exists among the peanut buyers of Smithfield and Norfolk, Va., and charged that these men have forced the purchasing price of goobers bought of farmers down from $1.65 to $1.15 a bushel and that they made 20 per cent profit last year.

The department will investigate.

DIVIDED ON CURRENCY PLAN.

Washington.—An open break between the president and senators who are opposing his currency plan was regarded as almost certain Saturday.

Following conferences between certain senators who have had the confidence of the administration it was stated the president has refused to approve the radical changes made in the proposed law by the combination of Republicans and Democrats now in control of the senate banking committee. If necessary the last weapon available—a party caucus—will be resorted to by the president.

Senator Simmons, who lead the fight for the tariff bill in the upper house, conferred with the president. After leaving the president he said:

"Democrats can not be expected to accept and support a currency plan which is reported out of committee through a combination which gives the Republicans the majority. And any bill opposed by a majority of the Democrats on the committee can not be assured clear sailing in the Senate."

The president is reported to be considerably troubled over the apparent open opposition of certain of the Democratic senators to his plan.
