

TAR PAPER TO PROTECT TREES

A correspondent from Venango County wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, Pa., and asked "if tar paper would be all right to put around young trees to protect them from the rabbits which are very bad this year."

"It will be all right to put tarred paper around young trees to protect them from rabbits and mice. I can say that this can be done all right if the papers are removed in the spring, but if they are left around the trees during the summer they protect the woolly aphid, which is liable to become a serious pest, and also certain insects that may injure the trees, and also that make the bark tender, and liable to injury from various causes."

"Take a piece of paper of such size that it will make a collar, and lap over when bent around the tree. Tie it in place by the use of several strings. See to it that there is no rubbish in the way of leaves, weeds or grass standing under it. In other words, push it down into the loose earth and mound other earth around it an inch or two. Remove them in the spring time."

TOURISTS HAVE ADVENTURE

They Meet Lion and Panther in Fontainebleau Forest.

Who says that adventure is dead? Only the other day a motorist and his wife were taking a turn through the forest of Fontainebleau when they got a "turn" of the sort they hardly bargained for.

They found themselves being ambushed by a lion, and we know on Shakespearean authority how impressive the fair sex is at the approach of that kind of "wild fowl." The woman promptly fainted, and monsieur shut on the clutch at grande vitesse.

No sooner had madame revived than they encountered a panther.

This was too much of a good thing. Monsieur was about to say so with all his Gaelic eloquence when the explanation turned up.

A troupe of pseudo Arabs with bournous and spear came up to explain that they were working off a film for a cinema firm, and the beasts were drugged.

It was a sorry climax, but it all came "into the picture" and especially the changing emotions on the motorists' faces from alarm to action and from indignation to relief.—New York Sun.

MEMORY PLAYED STRANGE TRICKS.

In later life Emerson's memory played him some strange tricks. Jas. Cabot, his biographer, says that he met him one day in the streets of Boston, apparently at loss for something, and asked him where he was going. "To dine," said Emerson, "with an old and very dear friend. I know where she lives, but I hope you won't ask me her name." Then he went on to describe her as "the mother of the wife of the young man—the tall man—who speaks so well," and so on, until Cabot guessed to whom he was referring. Emerson was often at a loss for the names of common objects. Once, when he wanted an umbrella, he said, "I can't tell its name, but I can tell its history. Strangers take it away." This falling led to a pathetic scene at Longfellow's funeral. After gazing long at the face of his lifelong friend, as he lay in his coffin, Emerson said to a bystander, "That gentleman was a sweet, beautiful soul; but I have entirely forgotten his name."—London Chronicle.

THE MOST NEEDED INVENTIONS

A communication sent to the Scientific American by P. E. Edelman, Minneapolis, Minn., will undoubtedly interest a number of our readers. His list comprises the following most needed inventions:

- 1. An electric light as efficient as the motor.
2. A storage battery as cheap as dry cells, light, efficient, and fool-proof.
3. A new product which will utilize or require the use of vast quantities of chlorine to advantage.
4. A wireless telephone which will cost no more and use no more power than the simple sets now used on short inter-communicating lines.
5. A glass or substitute thereof which will withstand strains without breaking, without losing the usual transparency.
6. An economical crude oil engine light enough and adapted for automobiles and similar service.
7. Cheap substitutes for leather and rubber which have the properties of the natural material and which can be made on a large scale at low cost.
8. A lifeboat which will not sink or capsize and which can be launched safely in a heavy sea.
9. Means to prevent railroad wrecks which will, within human error, prevent such wrecks entirely.
10. Real cures for consumption and cancer.
11. A detector for radio communication which without sacrificing the sensitiveness, rigidity, and practicality of present long distance types, will still be of itself, or in conjunction with...

RESULTS TELL

There Can be No Doubt About the Results in Honesdale.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Honesdale citizen.

Can be easily investigated. What better proof can be had? Miss B. Tolan, 1426 Spring street, Honesdale, Pa., says: "Several months ago when suffering from pains in the small of my back and other symptoms of kidney trouble, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at A. M. Lein's drug store. They removed the pain in my back and restored my strength and energy. I am now enjoying good health."

Later Testimony. When Miss Tolan was interviewed at a later date, she said: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills highly and I hope that my statement will prove of benefit to other kidney sufferers. I know of other cases besides my own where this remedy has been used with success." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Tolan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SCRANTON BANK TELLER ATTRIBUTES BLOOD POISONING TO HANDLING MONEY

Eugene Tropp, teller of the Dime Bank, Scranton, is back on duty after ten days' illness with blood poisoning, which he ascribes to money he was called upon to handle during the pursuit of his daily avocation in the bank. His neck and the upper part of his chest were affected and he suffered considerable pain before the trouble was finally eradicated.

According to Mr. Tropp an ingrown hair on his neck became festering and he scratched it after handling a quantity of bills received in the cage during the course of the day's business. A day or two later his neck became sore and commenced to swell up and he was compelled to retire from work temporarily and send for a physician. Dr. Falkowsky who attended him found that the patient was suffering from a well developed case of blood poisoning and after rigorous treatment managed to stop the spread of the infection and finally effect a cure.

STOP CATARRH!

Unless Properly Treated With Hyomei This Disease May Become Serious.

If you have catarrh, indicated by sniffing, stopped up head, droppings in the throat and morning choking, there is an irritated state of the mucous membrane which affords an ideal condition for the growth of disease germs.

Do not allow these dangerous germs to begin the destruction of your health.

The easiest, simplest, quickest, surest and cheapest way to check catarrh is by breathing Hyomei. This wonderful medicated air treatment does not upset the stomach, but is breathed in through the Hyomei inhaler, directly following and surely destroying all disease germs that may have been inhaled—the tissues of the throat, nose and lungs are quickly healed and vitalized.

Money refunded by Pell, the druggist, to anyone whom Hyomei fails to benefit. A complete outfit costs but $1.00. Dec. 2&9

EXCAVATIONS AS A CAUSE OF EARTHQUAKES.

We note that in a contemporary journal a correspondent has made the suggestion as to the cause of the recent earthquake shocks in Panama, which is more ingenious than it is convincing. He draws attention to the fact that over 200,000,000 cubic yards of material has been removed from the Culebra cut and deposited elsewhere. This, he argues, involved a readjustment of weights on the surface which, taken in connection with such heavy blasts as that of forty tons of dynamite, which was used to destroy the Gamboa dike, may have had some predisposing effect on the recent earthquake shocks.

BEWARE OF HOBBLE SKIRTS!

Pennsylvania Railroad Points to 138 Accidents in Three Months.

Hobble skirts and high heels continue to be responsible for an increasingly large number of injuries sustained by women while getting on and off trains and mounting and descending stairways in stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

A careful record kept for three months ended October 14 of all injuries sustained by women due to slipping, stumbling or falling while on the railroad property indicates that these accidents are becoming more frequent.

Between July 14 and August 14 forty-four such accidents occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The records show forty-two in the next month and fifty-two during the month ended October 14.
