

Bell Service Spans the Distance

Miles may separate your home from the stores and time-consuming trains or trolleys make the "going" hard.

But the Bell Telephone knows neither time nor distance and YOU may be "next door" to the shops and stores if you Use the Bell.

In these days of fall preparations, a Bell Telephone would be a mighty help. Call the Business Office to-day.

NO WHITE HOUSE LEVEE ON JAN. 1

President Wilson Cuts Out the New Year's Reception.

STRAIN ON PREDECESSORS

Many Had to Have Arms Bandaged After Handshaking Ordeal—Only Twice in a Century Has This Annual Event Been Omitted.

President Wilson has shattered another precedent, one of more than a hundred years' standing. He has announced that there will be no public reception at the White House on New Year's day.

For many years it has been customary for the president to stand in the blue room from two to five hours and shake hands with all who came along. The president will go away from Washington for a brief holiday vacation and will not be in the White House on New Year's day.

Only twice in the hundred years of White House history has this annual custom been abandoned in time of peace. The last time was during the administration of President McKinley, when, owing to the death of his mother December, there was no reception.

TRENGTH FOR OLD PEOPLE

Old people, to overcome the weakening, debilitating efforts of increasing old age, often make a very sad mistake in using so-called "remedies" that contain alcohol and dangerous or habit-forming drugs. Often this stuff, because it livenes and brightens them up a little just after taking a dose, leads them to imagine that it is doing them good, when it isn't. Remedies that rely on their sale on such deceit, do harm, because the false excitement of the nerves and heart leaves them worse than they were before.

Resall Olive Oil Emulsion is a real medicine—a splendid body and strength-builder, especially good for old people, because it furnishes the system ingredients necessary to rebuild wasted tissues, strengthens the nerves, gives new energy and a younger and livelier feeling to the body. It doesn't contain a drop of alcohol nor any dangerous drug. It may not make you feel better after the first dose, nor perhaps for several days. But if you don't feel much better and stronger before you have taken a quarter as much as you have of other medicines that didn't help you, we will gladly give you back your money. That's certainly a square deal.

The four Hypophosphites it contains are used by leading physicians everywhere in debility, weakness and inability to disease, to tone and strengthen the nerves. Purest Olive Oil, one of the most nutritious, most easily-digested foods known, being taken with the hypophosphites, gives rich tissue nourishment to the entire system.

You who are weak and rundown, and you who are apparently well now, but are liable to suffer from various weather ailments use Resall Olive Oil Emulsion to get and keep well and strong. For the tired-out, run-down, nervous, emaciated or debilitated—the convalescing—growing children—aged people—it is a sensible pleasant tasting aid to renewed strength, better spirits, glowing health. If it does not help you, your money will be given back to you without argument. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of more than 7,000 leading drug stores in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.—A. M. Leine, Honesdale, Pa.

KILLED IN STRIKE RIOT.

Police Fire Into Crowd in Indianapolis Teamsters' Strike.

Indianapolis, Dec. 3.—Claude Lewis, a negro, aged nineteen, was killed and four men were wounded, one probably fatally, in a strike riot when six special police officers, riding on an ice wagon, shot into a crowd which tried to stop the wagon in Indiana avenue.

The special officers were taken to the police station, but it was said they would be released as soon as they made a statement.

The four injured are J. H. Mason, negro barber, shot in abdomen, probably fatal; John Ashley, forty-eight, shot in left foot; Archie Smith, negro porter, shot in left shoulder; Alexander Sedan, shot in neck, not serious.

The wagon had stopped to unload ice at a saloon. A large crowd gathered and began hooting the six men on the wagon, who had been given police powers in order to protect the ice company's property during the teamsters' strike.

After the ice had been unloaded the crowd tried to prevent the wagon moving down the avenue. Then the special officers opened fire, and at the first volley Lewis, Mason, Smith and Sedan, who were in the front ranks of the crowd, fell. Ashley was almost half a block away when he was hit by a stray bullet.

Mayor Wallace ordered the police to disperse a parade which was proposed by the teamsters and chauffeurs. The police kept the crowd about labor headquarters moving and did not give the men a chance to start a demonstration.

As an additional help to the police in preventing the parade one of the fire department's large automobiles was loaded with policemen armed with riot guns. The machine was run through the downtown streets, scattering the pedestrians.

More wagons were in operation to-day, it was reported. The wholesalers who refused to risk their wagons on the streets yesterday sent out a number of loads of goods to freight depots and outlying stores. The department stores, however, still decline to make deliveries.

ASKS MILLION OF GRAND TRUNK

Westinghouse Concern Alleges Breach of Contract on Terminal.

Boston, Dec. 3.—Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co. of New York filed in the United States district court a suit for $1,000,000 against the Grand Trunk railroad, alleging breach of contract in the construction of a terminal station and equipment at Toronto.

The Westinghouse firm alleges that under the contract made in 1906 they were to receive cost plus 15 per cent for construction of the station and cost plus 15 per cent profit on equipment and that the defendant company did not live up to the contract. The entire construction cost was $9,000,000. Suit was filed in this district because Grand Trunk officers are here.

CAPTAIN OF MARINES IN JAIL.

Charged With Murderous Assault on His Mother-in-law.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 3.—Because she refused him permission to see his son, for whom he has instituted habeas corpus proceedings, Captain Ernest E. West of the marine corps, stationed at San Francisco, but now home on a visit, is alleged to have made an attack on Mrs. John H. Jones, his mother-in-law, and to have injured her.

He is under arrest charged with assault with intent to murder and with drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Yegge Find Safe Empty.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Following what seemed to be a monthly custom, yeggs again cracked the postoffice safe at Liverpool, across the lake from Syracuse, but this time were fooled for their pains. The safe had not been repaired since the last robbery a few weeks ago and the postmaster had Uncle Sam's valuables in the hip pocket of his trousers.

Do not suffer another day—get a box of Mi-o-na Tablets from Peil, the druggist. Take them as directed and see how quickly you get relief. Dec. 5 & 12.

BIGELOW CASE IS TO BE PRECEDENT.

A test case that will establish a precedent for the whole State is to be made of the indictment of Highway Commissioner E. M. Bigelow and other Highway Department officials at Sunbury. If the Northumberland county court refuses to quash the indictment the case will be appealed.

Argument was heard Friday at Sunbury on the motion of H. S. Knight, of Sunbury, local counsel for the State, to quash the indictment found against the commissioner and other officials for failing to maintain a road between Shamokin and Mount Carmel. The argument was made by Attorney General John C. Bell and Deputy William M. Hargest and the brief for the State raises several questions of far-reaching consequence. They include these points:

The Highway Commissioner is the agent of the State, which is sovereign.

The commissioner is not like supervisors, who have power to levy taxes for improvements and maintenance, and who can be indicted; the commissioner can only spend what is voted to him by the Legislature and is subject to a criminal prosecution if he does not draw it the way the law provides or overdraws.

The commissioner is given discretionary powers.

Mr. Bell also showed the state of the finances of the Highway Department and that the money was not available for all demands. He further stated that Mr. Bigelow was unwell and that if the Northumberland indictment stood he could be indicted in sixty-seven other counties and do nothing except appear in court to answer suits caused by his inability to do things for which he did not have the money.

W. H. Oram, who is prosecuting the case, said very kindly that if Mr. Bigelow was sick he should resign and demanded that the Northumberland road be fixed up.

LOOKOUT.

Lookout, Dec. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hill and sons and Mrs. Schultz recently spent the day at Arthur Parson's at Pine Mill.

Mrs. George Kellam and Mrs. Charles Clauson and daughter, Lena, spent a few days last week at Walter Anderson's at Pine Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Teeple and daughter, Mildred, of Pond Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clauson of Honesdale, Fred Knapp and friend of Norwich, N. Y., were Thanksgiving guests at E. Teeple's.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS AT A GLANCE.

Steel mills continue to curtail operations by reducing working days, hours and the number of workers. Half schedules by Christmas are predicted for the trade as a whole. Rail mills are especially in need of specifications. Greater competition among the wire drawers resulted in a drop of $1 per ton in all sections last week, and $2 per ton in the south end of the Ohio valley. Nails are now selling at $1.50 to $1.55, and plain wire at $1.30 to $1.35 for immediate specifications, yet the largest interests are accumulating stocks before mill operations are cut down to the minimum. Tin plate mills also are accumulating stock, although fair orders are coming from can manufacturers and meat and salmon packers. Steel building work throughout the country continues light.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY DEC. 7.

Tuberculosis day is to be observed again this year, Dec. 7, and a general notice of it is asked. While the work is being done to stamp out this needless disease, its ravages do not attract the attention they should, because they occur separately and individually. A Titanic disaster gets the big headlines, while the efforts to stop an infinitely more destructive disease attract comparatively little notice. When will some people learn the menace to health caused by the habit of spitting on sidewalks and other public places? Ten years ago it is recalled that in one of the most intelligent cities of the country, an anti-spitting ordinance was hooted out of the city council, as an infringement on every day privileges. There has been a gain since then, but the habit continues. A man may have no communicable disease himself, but every time he expectorates on the walk, he encourages some victim of tuberculosis to do his deadly work. It is in this way that the majority of cases are distributed.—Pittston Gazette.

GROWTH OF CEMENT.

No less than 83,351,191 barrels of Portland natural and other cements were produced in the United States in 1912, according to an advance statement by Ernest F. Burchard, of the United States geological survey. This great quantity represented a value of $67,461,513, an increase of 3,803,233 barrels, valued at $756,377, over the preceding year.

Of this cement, 82,438,096 barrels, valued at $67,016,928, were Portland cement, and 821,231 barrels, valued at $367,222, of natural cement.

During the year the shipments of Portland cement amounted to 85,012,556 barrels, valued at $69,109,800, as compared with 75,547,829 barrels, valued at $63,762,638, in 1911. The average price per barrel by these figures was 81.3 cents in 1912, as against 84.4 cents in 1911. This represents the value of the cement in bulk in the mills, including labor and cost of packing, but not the value of sacks and barrels.

The average price per barrel through the country was 13.9 cents higher than it was in the Lehigh district, where it was sold at the cheapest rate, and was near the average price received in the Iowa-Missouri district, but was 54.5 cents lower than the price brought along the Pacific coast where it was the highest.
