THE CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Its Making and Decoration an Important Task.

The Christmas cake is generally a fruit cake. Most people prefer it to any other kind. This has advantages for the housewife, for it can be made weeks before Christmas and so save the trouble of preparing it in her busy hours when the Christmas feast must be thought of.

The fruit cake most generally served is a dark one, but the Boston Cooking School Magazine suggests a very nice white fruit cake made as follows: Take six ounces (three-fourths of a cupful) of butter, eight ounces (one cupful) of sugar, eight ounces (two cupfuls) of flour, one slightly rounded teaspoonful of baking powder, six whites of eggs, one pound of blanched almonds sliced thin, half a pound of light colored sultana raisins, half a pound of crystallized pineapple cut in bits, half a pound of citron sliced thin and half a cupful of grated coconut. Mix in the order given. Bake in a loaf about an hour and a quarter or in two brick loaf bread pans about forty-five minutes. Cover with almond paste mixed with egg yolks and powdered sugar and, when ready to use, with confectioner's or boiled frosting. From four to six ounces of paste, two to three yolks of eggs and confectioner's sugar to knead the two into a pliable paste that may be smoothed out with a rolling pin are required for the first covering.

The cake may be served with a handsome fitted lace cover like the one shown in the picture.

SEASONABLE SALADS.

These Will Give Relish to the Christmas Feast.

Salads are an attractive addition to any meal, and for the Christmas dinner it is worth while making a special effort to provide a nice one. 'Hothouse vegetables are generally available at this season and give a special relish to the Christmas fare.

Fruit salads are equally desirable, but are not so generally popular as the vegetable combinations.

Two nice salads are suggested by the Boston Cooking School Magazine. One of these is an egg salad made thus: For one large or two small portions there are needed two half inch thick slices of a good sized tomato, one tender hard cooked egg, four lettuce leaves and two tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing. Set the tomato over a little of the dressing on the lettuce. Cut the eggs in quarters, remove the yolk to a sieve, cut the pieces of white in halves crosswise and dispose on the tomato, the pointed ends to the center. Dispose the rest of the mayonnaise at the points where the pieces of white meet. Sift the yolks over the dressing. Serve at once.

A cranberry and celery salad is thus prepared: Select choice cranberries of good size and cut each in about four slices at right angles to the stem. Chop inner blanched stalks of crisp celery into slices a quarter of an inch thick. There may be equal measures of cranberry and celery, but there should not be more of the prepared celery than of the cranberries. Season separately or together. For a pint of material mix a scant half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of paprika, four tablespoonfuls of olive oil and one or two tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Mix all together thoroughly, pour over the celery and cranberry, mix and turn upon a bed of carefully washed and dried leaves of lettuce. Serve with roasts of poultry or veal.
