The People's Confidence

Has been won by
HOOD'S
Sarsaparilla

In a Manner Never Equalled.

I am, on general principles, averse to expressing my views, pro or con, in respect to any proprietary article, but in the light of Hood's Sarsaparilla being the product of a brother apothecary, will say, Hood's Sarsaparilla has secured a place in the public confidence never attained by any proprietary medicine that I have handled during an experience of more than twenty years in the drug trade. It is a remedial agent to retain its increasing popularity as a household remedy. The sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla exceeds that of all similar preparations combined, of which I keep in stock some fifteen or twenty.

Praises are Proclaimed
Daily at my counter by those who have been benefited by it, many of whom are personal acquaintances. CLARENCE O. BIGELOW, Apothecary.

Hood's Pills cure Liver, Bile, Constipation, Biliousness, Jaundice, sick headache.

ORIGINATED IN 1810.

THINK OF IT! ALMOST A CENTURY!
Every traveler, every family should keep it at hand, for the common ills of life liable to occur to any one. It is soothing, healing and penetrating. Cures all kinds of rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, earache, headache, etc. Sold everywhere. Price 50c. 50c. Particulars write, L. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

The old saying that "consumption can be cured if taken in time" was poor comfort. It seemed to invite a trial, but to anticipate failure. The other one, not so old, "consumption can be cured," is considered by many false.

Both are true and not true; the first is prudent—one cannot begin too early.

The means is careful living. Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is sometimes an important part of that.

RUIN WROUGHT BY FLOODS.

Thousands of Acres of Wheat Destroyed, Factories and Villages Submerged. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 9.—The heavy rains which have been pouring down for the last few days are having their effect on the Missouri river, and to-night that stream is rising very rapidly and is within two feet of the danger line and rising at the rate of an inch an hour. The conditions are similar to those of 1881, when a most disastrous flood did so much damage in this part of the country. The wet weather so long continued has caused the wheat to rot in the ground, and it is reported by the farmers that the crop will be almost totally ruined.

GUTHRIE, O. T., May 9.—The heaviest rain-fall for years has fallen steadily for 24 hours. East of Okmado there was a cloud burst, causing streams to rise six feet in a few minutes and drowning many cattle. At Oklahoma City the lower part of the city is flooded and much damage has been done. There are several bad washouts on the railroads, and in the country so many bridges are washed away that mail routes have been abandoned. Near Stillwater three houses and many barns were destroyed by wind.

PEORIA, Ill., May 9.—The river rose to 21 feet last evening, the highest point reached in nearly half a century. The great marsh dyke, 15 miles long and protecting a strip of bottom land two miles wide, gave way to the bursting of a dam. A rescuing party was kept busy all night and by daylight had accounted for all the 30 families living in the district, with the exception of George Nichols and his family.

There are over 500 people homeless between here and Pekin. Nearly all houses in the inundated region are liable to a complete destruction. Small houses along the river bank in this city have been carried away.

The river flood around Alexandria, Mo., and at other places has submerged thousands of acres of wheat land. Factories in Ottawa are hopelessly inundated. As the river has fallen but 12 inches in 60 hours, the prospects of starting is discouraging.

Two Murderers Hanged.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 7.—L. D. Slaughter and Thomas Bailey were hanged at noon yesterday. Both executions took place at the same time and on the same gallows. The men were negroes. Slaughter murdered his mistress in a fit of jealous rage in June, 1891. Bailey shot and killed a peddler from Jacksonville, Ill., afterwards robbing the body.

Steam vs. Water Power.

An unfortunate feature in water power is that it is usually difficult to see proportion or build the machinery that the failure of any one part shall not affect the rest. With steam plants is ordinarily constructed the break down of one boiler or engine does not necessarily disable the others, and even the failure of the steam pipes can be guarded against at moderate cost by duplicate systems, while, as a rule, the cost of double dams, raceways, or flumes, and gates would be prohibitive.

Again, water power being so to speak, a question of luck, either to be had by good fortune or not to be obtained at all, the question as to what it would cost to put in and operate under competition never demanded investigation. As regards steam, things are on a very different footing. There is no luck about it, everyone and anyone can have it, and consequently there can be no concealment of profit or loss in its use. The experience of years have been gathered and placed in tabular form, so that we can tell just what it will cost for each item in ordinary work, and for each kind of engine and boiler. I do not mean this cost estimated by the particular manufacturers, or as developed by fancy tests made twenty-four or forty-eight hours with one man to shovel coal and one to open and close the doors and dampers; with all openings "blanked" off except the ones used in test, and with every nerve strained to the point of snapping, but as developed by the experience of years and of hundreds of different observers. In this way when a new type of engine or boiler is produced we can at once say—it has cost so much to produce power, of which so much was for coal, so much for taxes, so much for labor etc. Now in which item do you save, and how? Moreover, we can fairly well determine if this saving does not spend one hundred and one cent to save one hundred; that is, whether the new device does not introduce new features which in themselves cost more than the old—"Electricity," New York.

A Positive Injury.

Old Tramp (affectionately)—"How much did you get, Willie?"
New Tramp—"Nary a red."
O. T.—"Nothin'! What did you strike 'im fer?"
New Tramp—"Half a dollar."
O. T. (disgusted)—"Bah, you amateurs is ruinin' the business."—Detroit Free Press.

Questions Often Asked.

Q. What is Alabastine?
A. Alabastine is a DURABLE coating for walls and ceilings.
Q. Is it the same as kalsomine?
A. It is entirely different from all other preparations on the market.
Q. Wherein does it differ from these kalsomines on the market?
A. It is made from a cement that goes through a process of setting on the wall, and grows harder with age.
Q. What are kalsomines made from?
A. From whiting, chalks, clays or other inert powders for a base, and are entirely dependent upon glue to hold them on the wall.
Q. Why do kalsomines rub an l scale?
A. Because the glue, being animal matter, decays in a short time by exposure to air and moisture, and the binding qualities of the material are then gone.
Q. Does the Alabastine contain any injurious substance?
A. Alabastine has been most carefully tested, and is recommended by leading sanitarians throughout the country, on account of its sanitary nature.
Q. What has the same investigation shown regarding wall paper?
A. Sanitarians condemn, in strong terms, the use of wall paper for walls of living rooms, on account of the poison used in its manufacture.
Q. Can anything but plain work be done with Alabastine?
A. Any kind of work, from plain tinting to the most elaborate decorating can be done.
Q. How can I learn to do this work and decorate my house?
A. By writing the Alabastine Company, Grand Rapids, Mich., for book of instructions and suggestions, and illustration of stencils; also showing six sets of tinted wall designs, sent free.

The best thing to do is this: when you're suffering from Sick or Bilious Headaches, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, or any derangement of the Liver, Stomach, or Bowels, get something that relieves promptly and cures permanently. Don't shock the system with the ordinary pills—get Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

They're the smallest, for one thing (but that's a great thing), and the easiest to take.

They're the best, for they work in Nature's own way—mildly and gently, but thoroughly and effectively.

They're the cheapest, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

What more can you ask? But don't get something that the dealer says is "just as good." It may be better for him, but it's pretty certain to be worse for you.

Pleasures of Memory.

What a blessed thing is memory! How it brings up the pleasures of the past and hides its unpleasantness! You recall your childhood days, do you not, and wish they would return? You remember the pleasant associations, while the unpleasant ones are forgotten. Perhaps to your mind comes the face of some friend. It was once a pale, sad face. It showed marks of pain, lines of care. It seemed to be looking into the recesses of the unknown future. And then you recall how it brightened, how it recovered its rosy hue, how it became a picture of happiness and joy. Do you remember these things? Many people do, and gladly tell how the health returned, how happiness came back, how the world seemed bright. They tell how they were once weak, nervous, perhaps in pain, certainly unhappy. They tell of sleepless nights, restless days, untouched food, unstrung nerves. And then they tell how they became happy, healthy and strong once more. You have heard it often in the past have you not? You have heard people describe how they were cured and kept in health? You certainly can remember what it is that has helped people in America. If not, listen to what Mrs. Annie Simmons Miller, who is known universally as the great dress reformer, says: "Six years ago, when suffering from mental care and overwork, I received the most pronounced benefit from the use of that great medicine, Warner's Safe Cure." Ah, now you remember. Now you recall how many people you have heard say this same thing. Now you recollect how much you have heard of this great Cure. Now you are ready to admit that memory is usually pleasing, that the highest pleasure comes from perfect health, and that this great remedy has done more to produce and prolong health than any other discovery ever known in the entire history of the whole world.

Like an Old Roman.

The ideal type of senatorial dignity and calm, so long imputed to the old senators of Rome, is thoroughly embodied in Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia. He never lounges about the Senate with his hands plunged deep into trousers pockets, as if ignorant or unappreciative of the dignity of his surroundings, but preserves an exceedingly impressive gravity of demeanor. He never rises to his feet as if violently propelled by a hidden spring, but does so easily and with perfect tranquillity. His voice is distinct and never used as a means of hurrying abuse at the head of a fellow senator. Every movement is accomplished with majestic grace, and never are his arms set going in the heat of debate or controversy like the fans of a windmill, as sometimes occurs with more excitable people. His features are purely classical, and even the fashion of his hair is strictly in accord with the Roman type.—Kate Field's Washington.
