You picture to yourself the beauty of bravery and steadfastness. You let your imagination wander in delight over the memory of martyrs who have died for truth. And then some little wretched, disagreeable duty comes, which is your martyrdom—the lamp for your oil—and if you will not do it, how your oil is split! How flat and thin and unilluminated your sentiment about the martyrs runs over your self-indulgent life.

If your cellar is damp, drain it. And after having had your cellar tightly closed during the winter months with decayed apples, potatoes, cabbage, &c., if you have not already done so, open the door and windows and get all the fresh air and sunlight you can into it. People attribute many deaths to Providence, when in reality a damp cellar through bad drainage is the cause. Always let the standing water in pipes run off before you drink.

Oliver Perry, the train robber who shot and seriously wounded Express Messenger McInerney on the Central Hudson R.R. last February plead guilty to five indictments and received the modest sentence of forty-nine years in the Auburn prison on the 9th inst. He is now 26 years of age and if he receives the full commutation for good behavior in prison he will serve 29 years, 4 months and 23 days, and will then be over 55 years of age, and will, doubtless have lost his desire for "holding up" express trains.

A hasty word which might have been withheld, a spiteful innuendo which ought to have been stifled, a cruel shadow which ought never to have been cast on a sensitive spirit—these things and many like them are due oftentimes to a lack of self-control rather than to a malicious temper, and satirical people should cultivate a large share of this spirit, and then they would often hold back the quick repartee, the personal allusion, and the ill-natured sarcasm which have such power to wound. Yes, politeness and self-control are pleasant fruits, and every home and every heart would be the better for their possession.

An oversight in proof reading last week caused what was referred to as "a polite and able speech" to appear "a polite and able speech." This is not so bad after all. To be polite one must be polite and to be polite is to be a politician in a social and business way as well as in politics. A little girl and her brother were entertaining a very homely lady. She asked the little girl, "Do you not think I am beautiful?" The child answered, "Yes, very beautiful." When the visitor was gone, the boy said to his sister, "Mary, you lied to that lady." "It don't make any difference," said the promising child, "I was a little lady." When the boy grew to years and went into politics he profited by the lesson in politeness, his sister taught him and was able to make politic speeches and pursue a polite course of conduct. It don't make any difference about the morals of the matter, "he gets there just the same."

Brookville.

Judge Harry White, of Indiana, was in our town the forepart of the week.

Our water company is having a large steel tank constructed to take the place of a plank one that has served its day of usefulness.

The front of the Brookville National bank building is completed, and is attractive because of its massive appearance and unique design.

For one week the time of our court was taken up in the trial of the case of the Clarion Bridge company against Clarion county. The case came over from Clarion county.

But little interest is being taken in politics at the county seat. Like other sections of the county our people do not become interested until the primary election is near at hand.

The sample election held under the new election law by the Pittsburgh Times, in the Treasurer's office on Friday attracted much attention. All are impressed with the importance of instructions being given in every district in the county. Unless this is done the probabilities are that many voters will be disfranchised at the general election this fall in the more populous districts. When once understood the methods of voting are very simple, but great care must be exercised on the part of the voter in preparing his ticket or the same will not be counted by the election board.

Our public school baccalaureate sermon was preached in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening by Rev. Kerr, of the Lutheran church. No service was held in any of the other churches and a large portion of our church going people were not able to gain admittance. This is a prominence never before accorded to a graduating class and gives evidence that our public schools are growing in favor and every available means is being employed to encourage more efficient work on the part of teachers and pupils. On Friday, designated as "book reception day," our people found their way to the school building in large numbers. Over three hundred books were contributed, which form the nucleus of what is designed to be made a library of great value and importance. On Thursday the commencement exercises will be held in the opera house. A class of six will receive diplomas.

Program for Memorial Day.

Parade will form on west Main street at 9.15 A. M. Head of column Presbyterian Sunday school, opposite Presbyterian church; next, Baptist Sunday school; next the M. E. Sunday school, followed by any other Sunday school that may wish to join in the parade. Then will follow the bands and different societies that will turn out with us followed by the S. of V's with the G. A. R. in the rear. Column will proceed to Beulah cemetery at the gate of which the column will halt and open ranks while the G. A. R. and S. of V. lodges march through and receive the flowers as they march through. The different orders will follow around the circle to the "unknown mound," where a hollow square will be formed with the G. A. R. Music and speakers inside after the G. A. R. services an address will be delivered by Rev. Noble, of Punxsutawney, at the close of which the post and camp will decorate the graves of our comrades in Beulah and Baptist cemeteries. In the afternoon a detail will go to Prospect cemetery to decorate the graves there. Column will move promptly at 9.30 P. M.

Does the Shoe Fit You?

[Ridway Advocate.]
To always remain poor you should begin when quite young. Think there is no use of racking your brain in pursuit of knowledge, and work just enough to get a few clothes and a little spending money and have a good time. If you lack change just borrow from one of the boys and then forget it. Marry quite young; your wife must play and sing just lovingly and make splendid angel cake, no matter if she can't cook a good meal of victuals or bake a loaf of bread. Then begin housekeeping and look around for a job. If you get a little money just treat the boys; it makes no difference what your family needs. Follow these rules and you will always remain poor.

A Boy's Leg Badly Crushed.

[Punxsutawney Spirit.]
Edward, a son of George Filer, of Anita, who works in the mines at that place had one of his legs badly crushed on Thursday afternoon. He was on his way out of the mines and was perched on the front end of a loaded train of mine cars when he slipped off, falling under them. A number of men who witnessed the mishap went to his rescue. He was conveyed to his home where his injury was dressed by Dr. Williams, of Adrian.

Memorial Day.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF PENNSYLVANIA, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4th, 1892.

I. Once more the returning spring with its opening flowers resurrects the memory of our fallen comrades and reminds us of the approach of the sacred "Memorial Day." We see them as they fell when more than a century ago the flood-tide of death swept them from our side; we see them scattered along our march of the passing years, some with the dew of death not yet wiped away and the flowers still fresh sprinkled with the tears of loved ones. Those of us that remain are but few in comparison with those who sleep beneath the ground that shall echo with our solemn tread. Soon we must commit this sacred duty to other hands; let us do it faithfully while we can. It is timely and profitable we should once again repair to the graves of our fallen comrades, and let the memory of their heroic deeds baptize us afresh with loyalty to their heroism and devotion to their country.

Need I urge upon you that each step and action on that day be so fraught with regard for the occasion and reverence for the departed comrades, that we shall command the respect and commendation of every citizen throughout the Nation.

Let us reverently and tenderly guard with Nature's purest gift and most fragrant gift each mound where sleeps our comrade, and affectionately think of the unknown and unmarked graves of our patriot brothers, remembering that in this solemn mission we have the sympathy and prayers of the widow and orphan, and the blessing of a grateful Republic.

II. Arrangements will be made by the Posts in this Department for the observance of Memorial Day, Monday 30th, 1892. Comrades are enjoined to see that this sacred duty is performed in a solemn and reverent manner.

III. In localities where there are more than one Post co-operation in the ceremonies should be observed.

IV. Forms for Memorial Day Services can be had upon application to these headquarters.

By command of
DEPT. COM. JOHN P. TAYLOR,
SAMUEL P. TOWN,
Asst. Adj. General.

STATE SENATORIAL QUESTION.

What the Indiana Papers Say of Capt. James G. Mitchell.

A welcome visitor to our town last week was Capt. James G. Mitchell, of Perryville, Jefferson county. He is an extremely companionable gentleman and a thorough business man. Although he was not here "fence building" yet it is known that the Captain is a candidate for State Senate in this district. He is competent for the honorable position—and without disparagement to the aspirations of candidates presented for the place by Indiana county—we may freely say that if Mr. Mitchell secures the nomination, this county will give him an old fashioned popular majority. He has kept himself from the contentions that have invoked a degree of hostility between the working forces in the several counties of the district.—Indiana Progress, March 16, '92.

Captain J.G. Mitchell, of Perryville, Jefferson county, while returning from a business trip to the east, stopped off here a day or two. The Captain is a candidate for Senator in Jefferson county. Indiana county will urge the selection of the candidate who secures the nomination in this county on the 9th of April; but should Captain Mitchell secure the endorsement of his own county and the district nomination, he will doubtless get the solid Republican vote of this county. He has been fortunate in keeping out of the Senatorial complications and would not be handicapped, besides he is a clever fellow and would make an efficient Senator.—Indiana Messenger, March 16, '92.

"Jim" Mitchell, of Perryville, a prominent merchant and a candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator in Jefferson county, and a whole-souled, genial gentleman besides, was here on Saturday and remained over Sunday. If we must have a Republican Senator give us Mitchell, and plenty of him too.—Indiana Democrat, March 9, 1892.

The Convention of the miners' and farmers' organizations which was held in Reynoldsville on the 4th of March, 1892, unanimously endorsed Mr. Mitchell.

Mrs. A. E. Hetherington, the new millinery, carries a first-class line of goods. Everything of the latest styles. She handles fancy goods, gloves, corsets, &c. Located in the Broadhead building, Main street.—f.

"Washburns Best," is the name of the best flour on the market. Try a sack of it and be convinced.—McKee & Warnick, The Grocers, Cor. 5th and Main Street.

FOUND—An umbrella near company store. Owner can receive same by calling on Ed. Gooder, jeweler.
