L

A Memorial to the Brave Men Who Met There in Mortal Combat.

At Gettysburg, Pa., under a clouidless sky and in the presence of thousands of spectators, the "high water-mark" tab et at the "conse of trees" was dedicated on Thurs-The exercises were in keeping with day. the character of the memorial whose consecration services they were.

Col. J. B. Batchelder, government histor-ian of the field and the originator of the present occasion, then briefly pictured the result of the first and second day fight, and in describing the battle of the third day told about the " 'Copse of Trees'-why called the 'High-water Mark.' Mr. Swope of Gettys-burg presented the tablet to the Battlefield Memorial association. At the close a gun boomed, a bugle sounded and the flag fell from the tablet. The crowd cheered and then John M. Vanderslice, on behalf of the Memorial association, accepted the monument. Ex-Governor Beaver delivered the oration, and James Jeffrey Roche of Boston read the poem. Short addresses were also made by Generals Schotleld, Slocum, Webb and Veasy. The Marine band played the "Star Spangled Banner," and the Rev. R. W. McKnight, D. D., pronounced the benediction.

diction. The monument stands about midway of the federal lines on July 3, 1805—that is midway between Round Top and Cemetery Heights and is just in the rear of the "clump of trees" which were pointed out by Gener-al Lee to General Pickett as the objective point of the federal line, which it was hoped the fower of the Virginia infantry would break through, while Stewart's rebel cavalry attacked the same point from the rear.

The left page bears a legend describing the assault and that on the Tight tells of the re-pulse. The whole rests on a highly polished plinth and base of Maine and Massachusetts granite with a massive water table of Gettys-burg granite. A wall of granolithic cement, enclosed by dressed granite curbing and ap-proached by hammered granite steps, sur-rounds the monument. In the center of each space on the side stands a 12-poinder Napoleon gun, with pyramids of cannon halls. Three bronze tablets on the plinth of the monument tell an interesting story. On the south side are the names of all the regi-ments that marched in the charging column. the south side are the names of all the regi-ments that marched in the charging column, while on the north side are the names of the regiments and batteries which met or medisted to repulse the assault. BLAINE QUITS THE CABINET. Eis Resignation Tendered and Accepted No Reasons Given.

WASHINGTON, June 6 .- Secretary of State James G. Blaine severed his connection with the Administration Saturday by resigning from the Cabinet. His resignation was ac cented at once by President Harrison. The correspondence was as follows:

JAMES G. BLAINE.

EXECUTIVE MANSION WASHINGTON, JUNE 4, 1892. TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE:

Your letter of this date, tendering your resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States, has been received. The terms in which you state your desires are such as to leave me no choice but to accede to your wishes at once. Your resignation is therefore accepted.

Very respectfully, yours, BENJ, HARRISON,

DEPARTMENT OF STATE. WASHINGTON, JUNE 4, 1802, 12:45 F.M.

TO THE PRESIDENT. I respectfully beg leave to submit my resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States, to which I was appointed by you on the 5th of March.

The condition of public business in the Department of State justifies me in requesting that my resignation may be accepted immediately

I have the honor to be, very respectfully. your obcalent servant,

JAMES G. BLAINE.

WASHINGTON June 6 .- Mr. Blaine spent Sunday quietly at home, except that toward evening he took a drive into the country with Mrs. Blaine. He received a few calls from personal friends, but admittance was refused to all other persons. All efforts to interview him were equally unsuccessful, the ex-Secretary of State adhering to the determination which he announced immediately after his resignation, that he would let the published correspondence speak for itself without a word of explanation from him

Mr. Blaine has, however, sent to the Associated Press this evening for publication the following autographic communication:

The following autographic communication: A CAPD, 17 MADISON PLACE, WASHINGTON, June 5, 1892, 1 The United Press vesterday sent out an nlieged interview with me, and also with Mrs. Blaine, for which, there was not the slightest foundation for truth. It was a forgery from the first word to the last. I warn my friends that similar falsehoods may be expected.

FRIGHTFUL MINE DISASTER. Two Hundred Man Believed to Be Dead-

Passour, June 2 .- The timbers used in supporting the roof of the famous Birkenberg silver mine in Bohemia caught fire yesterday and the flames spread to the whole interior, where 500 men were working. Ali but 40 of these escaped, the latter being suffocated. Fourteen bodies have been re covered.

Reports th's evening show that the mine disaster is far worse than was supposed. It was believed that only 40 men were missing, but inquiry revealed the facthat nearly 200 miners were left in the pit. A second rescue party went down and returned with 11 more dead bodies. They said that they could hear shouts and groans far off in the mine. A foreman and seven men who tried to make their way in the direction where the shouts and groans had been heard, were enveloped in a guif of fire and smoke. Four men fell unconscious. Their four companions tried to drag them away, but were compelled to run for their lives and leave the men to die. Thousand of men, women and children are in the fields around the pit.

AIDS TO AGRICULTURE.

Features of a Bill Reported to the House.

WANDINGTON, D. C., June 4 .- A feature of the bill making appropriations for the support of the agricultural report for the fiscal year 1893 reported by Chairman Hatch to the House, is that section providing that the monthly crop report issued on the 10th of such month shall be confined strictly to a statement of the percentage totals, without comment or argument, and that it shall be submitted to the secretary of agriculture, who shall officially approve the report before it is issued or published. Another feature transfers from the secretary of the treasury to the secretary of agriculture the supervision of the admission of animals for breeding purposes; such animals as the secretary of agriculture deems worthy of introduction into the United States for breedng purposes shall be admitted free of duty.

Serious Railroad Wreck.

PITTSBURG, PA., June 4 .- The Titusville express on the Allegheny Valley railroad, which left here at 1:30 p. m. Friday, ran into a bad washout near Foster station, nine miles below Franklin. The engine and two baggage cars went down and Engineer A.F. Reed and Fireman Harry Shearer, both of Oakmont, were fatally injured. Reed has since died. The storm that caused the accident is reported as one of the most severe for years. Only one passenger was hurt, and he not seriously. This is the first acoident on the Allegheny Valley road for many years.

Wrecked by a Cow and Cafi. CHICAGO, JUDE 1.—An express train on the Santa Fe road was wrecked last night at Lemont, resulting in the death of Engineer W. H. Isabelle and the injury of 11 passengers, none of whom were fatally hurt. The accident was caused by a cow and calf obstructing the track.

MARSEILLES, June 1 .- The mails which nave just arrived from Mauritius confirm the statement that 1,200 persons were killed and 4,000 injured in the recent hurricane. The hurricane was preceded by a violent magnetic disturbance. The sea rose nine feet, the highest level since the cyclone of 1818. Scarcely a house in the colony escaped damage. Many churches and public buildings were destroyed. The fine Church of the Immaculate Conception is in ruins. The Cathedral, however, by a strange chance escaped. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 4 .-- The Missouri river is still slowly raising at this place, and the indications point to a repetition of the great flood of 1844. Reports from all points up the river as far as South Dakota say that the rise is coming and this is taken as evidence that it is snow water which is on its way down.

If this is the case then there will be the higgest flood that has been seen on the lower rivers in almost half a century.
