Too Many Books.

A remarkably clever woman, the wife of a German writer, was constantly urged by her friends and admirers to write, but a smile was her usual reply. She thoroughly appreciated her husband's genius and success, but one day, when asked why she "wasted" so much time knitting, instead of finding some occupation more suited for her brilliant talent, she replied placidly: "I have never heard that there are too many stockings in the world, but I have often heard it said that there are too many books. So it seems to me it is more praiseworthy for me to knit a stocking than to write a book!" That her decision was a wise one facts seem to prove; even eminent authors cannot always dispose of their work. Thoreau was once able to boast that he had on his shelves a library of several hundred volumes, the greater part of which he had written himself. His publishers could not dispose of the first edition of his first book, and thinking it useless to keep the volumes longer, had them sent to their author. James Russell Lowell was rather more fortunate. He brought out his first volumes of poems at his own risk—a modest edition of 500 copies. Small as the edition was, however, it was not small enough, and the young poet was in danger of heavy loss; but fate was kinder than the so-called "reading public." His publisher's warehouse took fire, the books were burned, and they were fully insured! Not only had the poet lost nothing, but he could boast with truth that the first edition of his book was exhausted. He had sold it to the insurance company.

As a dollar were the scrofula sores on my poor little boy, sickening and disgusting. They were especially severe on his legs, back of his ears and on his head. I gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two weeks the sores commenced to heal up; the scales came off and all over his body new and healthy flesh and skin formed. When he had taken 2 bottles of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, he was free from sores." HARRY K. RUBY, Box 350, Columbia, Penn.

All but 20 of the 670 members of the British House of Commons are now elected. They are divided thus: Liberals, 293; Nationalists, 85; Parnellites, 9; Conservatives, 266; Liberal-Unionists, 44. This gives Gladstone a gain of 80 seats in Great Britain. The Conservatives gained 19 and the Unionists 6, leaving a net Liberal gain of 55. Of the remaining 20 seats Gladstone will probably get two, giving him a majority of 45, which he says is sufficient. The Conservative majority when Parliament was dissolved was 68.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

MONDAY.—The Senate had a field day of oratory to-day—a two hours and a half speech by Mr. Washburne on the Anti-Option bill and three hours of the liveliest kind of discussion on the Sunday closing proviso of the World's Fair appropriation in the Sunday Civil bill. The general trend of the debate indicated a present intention of the World's Fair managers to open the art galleries and the grounds on Sunday but to stop the running of machinery. Also to provide a pavillion for religious services and to give sacred concerts. Without reaching a vote on the question or doing more that to elicit a strongly marked diversity of views the Senate adjourned.

The House to day appropriated $250,000 for printing the reports of the eleventh census. Bills were passed to construct a bridge across the Missouri river at Omaha, and to pay the First Methodist Church of Jackson, Tennessee, $4,059 for its use as a hospital during the war. Nothing else of importance was accomplished.

TUESDAY.—The Senate considered the anti-option bill and the silver bill, but no decisive action was taken on either.

Mr. Voorhees introduced a labor arbitration resolution indirectly referring to the Homestead troubles, which under objection was laid over until to-morrow. No conclusion was reached as to the Sunday closing of the World's Fair, but it was agreed to take a vote to-morrow and to limit debate to the five-minute rule. Adjourned.

The subject under discussion in the House was a constitutional amendment to elect Senators by a direct vote of the people. Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, made an earnest speech in support of the measure. No vote was reached, and the House adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.—The Senate to-day finally disposed of the Chicago Exposition provisions of the Sundry Civil bill. Mr. Quay's amendments to close the Exposition on the first day of the week commonly called Sunday," was adopted without a division after a motion to table it had been defeated by a vote of 4 to 1. A further amendment by Mr. Pfeffer to prohibit the sale of all intoxicants in the Exposition grounds except for "medicinal, mechanical or scientific purposes" was adopted by a narrow majority of two. With these conditions attached the Senate voted to issue to the World's Fair managers 10,000,000 souvenir silver half dollars. Discussion was still in progress upon other items in this important Sundry Civil Appropriation bill when the Senate adjourned. The Senators voting against the Sunday closing amendment were: Messrs. Blodgett, Carlisle, Daniel, Gibson, of Maryland, Honton, Palmer, Pfeffer, Sanders, Sawyer, Vest and Vilas.

In the House the silver bill was defeated by a vote of 151 to 136. This kills the bill for this session. The House then passed 60 pension bills and adjourned until to-morrow.

THURSDAY.—The Senate devoted most of to-day's session to the Sundry civil appropriation bill, and passed it before adjournment. The vote of Wednesday in committee of the whole on Mr. Pfeffer's amendment to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors within the grounds of the Columbian Exposition at Chicago was reversed, the vote upon its adoption being yeas 21, nays 29. Mr. Vest's substitute for Mr. Quay's Sunday closing amendment was laid on the table 34 to 17.

Mr. Jones, of Nevada, from the Committee on Contingent Expenses, reported a resolution for the appointment of a select committee of seven Senators whose duty it shall be to investigate and report the facts in relation to the employment of armed men known as Pinkerton men or Pinkerton detectives in connection with the present differences between workingmen and employers, involving bloodshed and loss of life at Homestead, Pa. The investigation is to include the facts in relation to the existence and employment generally of so-called Pinkerton men in the United States. It is to extend to and embrace the reasons for the creation of the Pinkerton organization, its character and use; also, as to where, how and by whom its men are employed and paid for any services rendered; under what authority of law (if any) they have been so employed and paid. The committee is also to inquire into the merits of the original controversy concerning wages and the terms of the contract between employers and employed out of which the armed conflict arose which resulted in bloodshed, and to what extent that conflict was participated in by persons not native nor naturalized citizens of the United States. Also, whether any private corporation, company or organization, in the State of Pennsylvania or other States, has employed an armed force against any of the people of such State or of the United States in violation of the Constitution of the United States; and if so, whether or not armed bodies of men from other States were for that purpose taken into such State without the consent of the constituted authorities thereof. The committee is to consider and report, by bill or otherwise, what legislation, if any, is necessary to prevent the further illegal use or employment of such Pinkerton men or other similar bodies of armed men for private purposes. Laid aside till to-morrow. Adjourned.

In the House the legislative report was agreed to without much opposition, as was also the conference report on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, and the conference report on the naval appropriation bill. The House then adjourned.

FRIDAY.—The Senate to-day adopted final conference reports on the Army, Navy and Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation bills, and assented to a House resolution extending existing appropriations for objects not yet acted upon until July 30. It also passed the Fortifications bill, with amendments. Adjourned.

The consideration of the Sundry Civil bill occupied the attention of the House, the World's Fair appropriation of $5,000,000 being the item under discussion. Mr. Dunburrow, Mr. Pendleton and Mr. A. Taylor made brief speeches in support of the proposition. Mr. McCreary, Mr. Little and Mr. Wheeler opposed it. It was agreed that a vote should be taken on the bill at 12 o'clock Tuesday next. Adjourned.

SATURDAY.—In the Senate Mr. Jones, of Nevada, from the Committee on Contingent Expenses, reported back a resolution, which was agreed to instructing the Committee on Immigration to inquire into the working of the laws on the subject of immigration from foreign countries, the importation of contract labor, and the laws and prevailing methods of naturalization since the year 1890. After routine business the House adjourned.

The $5,000,000 loan to the World's Fair management was discussed in the House of Representatives, but no action taken. Representative A. C. Hopkins to-day introduced a resolution in the House asking the Attorney General what steps, if any, have been taken to indict and punish the members of the American Sugar Refiners' Company, or sugar trust, and the Wholesale Grocers' Association of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, recently organized as an adjunct of the trust, "and thereby," says the resolution, "forming an illegal combination to raise, control and arbitrarily regulate the price of an article of food." Adjourned.

The children were born at the home of a friend on Vine street, where Mrs. Harkins was visiting. Mother and children were reported doing well.

AN ISLAND SWEPT BY FIRE.

12,000 LIVES BELIEVED TO BE LOST.

The Entire Population of Sangier of the Philippine Group Reported Exterminated by a Volcanic Eruption.

SYDNEY, July 18.—Rumors have reached here from Timer that there has been a volcanic eruption on the Island of Sangier, one of the Phillippine group, and that most of the inhabitants have been killed. A native from the Tatantz Islands, who landed at Sarangen four weeks ago, brought a remarkable story to the effect that several other natives had just returned from a voyage near Sangier. They had intended to land on the island, but were prevented by the sight of mountains belching fort smoke and fire.

The natives reported that the "whole island was on fire." The water along the coast was full, they said, of half burned wreckage, pieces of houses and charred bodies. The whole population, estimated at 1,200, seemed to have been swept in the sea or burned, as not a living soul was to be seen. Streams of lava were still flowing toward the shore, showing that the activity of the volcano had not abated.

These reports are partially credited here although they are believed to have been exaggerated. The formation of Sangier is volcanic and several small craters near the center of the Island are known to have threatened activity during the last 10 months.

The Ant as an Egg-Layer.

Some silkworms lay from 1,000 to 2,000 eggs, the wasp 3,000, the ant from 3,000 to 5,000. The number of eggs laid by the queen bee has long been in dispute. Burmeister says from 5,000 to 6,000, but Spence and Kirby both go him several better, each declaring that the queen of average fertility will lay not less than 40,000 and probably as high as 50,000 in one season. The white ant is possessed of the most extraordinary egg-laying propensities of any known creature; she often produces 86,400 eggs in a single day. From the time when the white ant begins to lay until the egg-laying season is over—usually reckoned by entomologists as an exact lunar month—she produces 2,500,000 eggs. In point of fecundity the white ant exceeds all other creatures.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury,

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.
