Travelers' Guide. Passenger trains arrive at the Reynoldsville station as follows: Eastward. Westward. Train 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Fine shoes at Reed's shoe store. A minstrel and circus in town yesterday. Have you cleaned up the filth around your premises? Buy your school shoes at Robinson's and get a tablet. Rev. P. P. Womer will fill the M. E. pulpit next Sunday. Acme shoe dressing 5 cents a bottle at Reed's shoe store. A boy wanted at this office to learn the printing trade. The Brookville fair is the attraction at the county seat this week. Our $2.50 ladies shoe has no equal for the money—Reed's shoe store. Chestnuts are rapidly getting into their bright brown colored hulls. The chilly mornings are whispering "where is your last year's overcoat?" William Traverser moved from Indiana county to Reynoldsville last Saturday. Will. H. Bell has moved into the second story of the Arnold brick block. A. D. David, the Prohibitionist, lectured to the people of Rathmel Saturday evening. The Ridway Democrat figures thusly: "Four men to every six use tobacco, and eleven girls in every twelve chew gum." The regular monthly meeting of the Building and Loan Association was held Monday evening and $4,400 was sold. The Tuttle family gave a performance under canvas on the vacant lot near the A. V. R'y station last Wednesday evening. Two hand organs with Italians attached to them, came to Reynoldsville on the Pittsburg accommodation Friday morning. Miss Mary J. Trudgen entertained a number of her little friends on Tuesday, Sept. 20th, on the occasion of her ninth birthday. Ed. Fuller, the man who threw stones at conductor Faust got a sentence of one years imprisonment in the penitentiary for the act. If you want wedding invitations, menu cards, programs, etc., call at this office and we will show you something very pretty in that line. Samuel Tilton Reynolds has bought Victor Westenburg's property on Grant street. Mr. Westenburg expects to move to McKean county. John F. Stowe's Colossal Railroad Shows, exhibited in West Reynoldsville yesterday. Those who attended say it was an excellent show for twenty-five cents. The semi-annual meeting of the Clarion Presbytery convened in the Presbyterian church at Big Run last evening. Rev. H. G. Furbay, of this place, is in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dunhiser celebrated their wooden wedding last evening. A number of friends were present and numerous wooden articles were added to their stock. The A. V. R'y run a train from New Bethlehem to the Brookville fair to-day and to-morrow. The train gets to Brookville at 8:30 A. M. and returning, leaves there at 5:45 P. M. Rev. P. J. Slattery, the new M. E. preacher, filled his appointment at Reynoldsville Sunday. There is no doubt but that he will do good work for the Methodist people here. The Big Run Echo has changed from a four column four paged to a three column eight paged paper, and uses better paper than heretofore. The Echo is a neat, newsy weekly visitor. Burglars attempted to gain entrance into Joseph Pentz's house early last Sunday morning. Mr. Pentz heard the scamps and shot at them but they escaped. There were three of them. Four night schools, free to all under twenty-one years of age, began Monday evening. From 7.00 to 9.00 P. M. will be the hours. This will give all boys a chance during the day an opportunity several hours schooling each evening.

The Junior Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church held a social at the parsonage of the above named church last evening. There is a certain house on Main Street where trouble will occur some of these nights unless the female portion change their mode of living. J. H. Barret has succeeded Geo. W. Bartlett as general superintendent of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg R'y. Mr. Bartlett resigned on the 15th inst. Rev. W. P. Murray performed a ceremony last evening at the residence of W. W. Ford, on Grant street, that united J. E. Sample and Miss Clara A. Ford in matrimonial bonds. The Prescottville Cornet band is at Brookville this week furnishing music for Josh Emery's fine show at his new amphitheatre. One sure thing, Emery has engaged a good band to play for his show. "Bleak House" at the Reynolds opera house Saturday evening, was greeted with a good audience. Miss Jane Coombs, the "star," in the character of Lady Dallock and Hortense, was well received. The Christian Endeavor society of the Baptist church held a "hoquet social" at the residence of Dr. J. C. King last Thursday evening. Ice cream and cake were served. About forty-five young people attended and had a jolly time. No person should travel without a box of Ayer's Pills. As a safe and speedy remedy for constipation and all irregularities of the stomach and bowels, they have no equal, and, being skillfully sugar-coated, are pleasant to take, and long retain their virtues. Lulu, six-year-old daughter of Thad. Curry, of near Camp Run, met with an accident Saturday in which her left hand was badly crushed, and she may yet lose the end of one of her fingers. A car, on a tram railway, loaded with lumber ran over the little one's hand. Charles Kah, the young man who has been clerking for Priester Bros. for over five years, resigned his position with them and went to Pittsburg Saturday morning to accept a situation as travelling agent for a large undertaking establishment of the "Smoky City." Mrs. A. E. Hetherington, the milliner, has moved her store into the room formerly occupied by Williams' photograph gallery on the corner of Main and Fourth streets, where she will keep a fine line of the latest styles of millinery goods and notions. Call and see her stock. Emerson's minstrels gave a first-class entertainment in the opera house last evening. The company is a good one, the performers understand their profession and the music is excellent. The red light used during the evening parade was a good "drawing" scheme. They play at Brookville to-night and to-morrow night. Harvest Thanksgiving service will be held in German and English language next Sunday morning at 10:45 in the Lutheran church. Preaching in the evening at 7:30 in English. These services will be conducted by Rev. J. H. Ritter, of Shannondale, Clarion county, Pa. Immediately after morning service the quarterly congregational meeting will take place. J. W. Coleman, a young man well known in Reynoldsville, left here yesterday for Philadelphia to attend, for the third time, the Jefferson Medical College of the Quaker City. He expects to return to Reynoldsville "when the robins nests again," and will write his name thusly, "Dr. J. W. Coleman." There is not the least doubt but that he will make a skilled practitioner. The Punxsutawney Agricultural and Driving Park Association will hold their fair on the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of this month. Reynoldsville people can leave here on the 6:52 A. M. train and get to Punxsutawney at 9:30 A. M. and leave there about 6:00 P. M. and get back home at 9:08, giving them a full day at the fair. The Punxsutawney fair this year promises to excel any former one at that place. In conversation with Clinton S. Hartman on Saturday he spoke in praising words of the helpful hand extended to his wife by her numerous friends during the many years of confinement to the house, and also of the kindness of the people to himself and children after death had robbed their home of wife and mother. Mr. Hartman fully appreciates the kind words said and labor done, and hopes that those who so faithfully administered to his wife, whose remains now rest in Beulah, will find loving hands to administer to their wants when affliction enters their homes. Two fellows having the reputation of being "dead beats," who struck the town sometime ago, boarded at one of the hotels until their credit was "n. g." and by request moved to a new boarding place. They were "star boarders" for about a month at the last place and Tuesday morning left the hotel and their board bill. Chas. Burns took the noon train yesterday to look for the fellows and to give them a prodding invitation to liquidate an account the has against them. A liveryman here has a buggy they smashed for him, and he to, is on the trail.

Local Board of Health. The town council held a special meeting last evening and organized a local board of health. The following gentlemen were appointed on the board: Dr. J. B. Neale, Dr. J. C. King, M. C. Coleman, S. T. Dougherty and M. J. Farrell. Now for results. Electric Railway. The electric railway for Reynoldsville is being agitated again and an effort will be made this week to get subscriptions for the new road. It is to be hoped that men who have the money will take hold of the matter in earnest. The interests of the town demand just such a manifestation of enterprise for its future prosperity. A Sure Sign. E. T. McGaw thinks he has a sure sign of Cleveland's election this fall. Eight years ago, just before Grover was elected, a little boy came to make his home with Mr. McGaw, and on Monday of this week another little "snooter," weighing eleven pounds, arrived in town and he insists on calling Mr. McGaw papa, and that is the reason he thinks Grover will be elected. Another Brick Building. Samuel Tilton Reynolds, the ex-hardware merchant, has commenced to excavate the cellar for his new brick building on the corner of Main street and Willow alley. The new building is to be ninety-three feet deep and forty-eight feet wide and two stories high. The first floor will be made into two elegant store rooms. Let the good work go on. Such buildings are just what we need to become a substantial town. Of Interest to Sunday School Workers. The sixth semi-annual convention of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 18th and 19th, in the Methodist Episcopal church at Brookwayville. The executive committee, J. C. Kelso, S. Shaffer and A. Blakeslee, earnestly request all Sunday schools of every denomination to be represented by two delegates. This promises to be an interesting convention. Entertainment and lodging will be furnished free to all who attend. All Should Advertise. [Dayton News.] A gentleman came into our office the other day and asked for a Brookville paper. We gave him the Jeffersonian Democrat and the Republican and he scanned them both closely trying to find a card of a certain lawyer, but in vain. If the lawyer had had his card in the paper he might have profited by it. But some people can't see the benefit of advertising. A newspaper is a directory and every business man in the town should have an advertisement in his local paper, even if it only contains his name, address and his business. It will more than pay you some time. Were All Delighted. It was advertised that A. D. David, of Lackawanna county, would lecture in Centennial hall last Friday evening, and that Jas. G. Dailley, the excellent singer of Brookwayville, would be present and favor the audience with singing. The program was carried out in the most pleasant manner. Dailley captivated the people with his songs and David gave them some plain, stubborn facts in an eloquent style. His arguments were to the point and were food for a thoughtful man to digest. The speaker and singer were greeted by a large crowd who were delighted with the evening's entertainment. The above named gentlemen came here through the solicitation of the Prohibitionists of Reynoldsville. Won the Prize. Rev. P. P. Womer, the young man who has been pastor of an M. E. church at Carrington, North Dakota, during the past year, is visiting his parents at this place. The Yale College offered a prize of a scholarship to the young man who could present the best recommendation and pass the best examination, and Parley won the prize. He will leave here next week for Yale, where he will remain three years at the expense of the college, save the books he will need for his studies. Rev. Womer is digging for the nuggets of gold in the mine of learning and he is becoming rich in that line. It was by his own muscle he earned money to pay his way through the University at Delaware, Ohio. Success to you. Murdered a Black Snake. Miss Annie Strouse, daughter of Jacob Strouse, living near Reynoldsville, was the heroine in a snake episode recently. Mrs. Strouse found a venomous creature coiled up near their barn and Miss Annie was to watch it until brave Curtis was called to slay his snakeship. While the mother was looking for the assassin the fair maiden, perhaps in meditating upon the fact that the crawling thing before her was a descendant of the race that tempted the female of the Garden of Eden to sin, her ire was aroused and she waited not for assistance but maliciously murdered the reptile, and when Curtis arrived on the scene a black snake six feet seven inches long lay at Annie's feet as a trophy of her bravery.

A Divine's Opinion. Rev. Harvey Grems Furbay in a sermon recently in which he was speaking of some of the practical things of life, said: "Behold gaunt death standing at the portals of the country waiting for entrance. The scourge of Asia is within our borders. These words are not spoken to excite undue apprehension about cholera, but we have before us the lesson and warning of Hamburg and other places. We have the possibility of the diseases in this country. We know that it thrives in filth and its palace is a sewer. Pass along the Main street of our own town and see the filth before business houses. See the pools of stagnant water, and filth wherever you go in the town—breeding places for all kinds of diseases. How can it be otherwise when all slops are discharged into the alleys to find way into uncovered gutters of Main street? This is such a place in which cholera would thrive well. If we are never afflicted by this scourge of Asia it is only a question of time until we pay the penalty to some other disease. Reason warns us of our danger. It may be the cholera, it may be typhoid fever or diptheria. But with the filth we have some epidemic is inevitable sooner or later. Will you, to save a few dollars, jeopardize the interests of the town, the happiness of the citizens and the health of your family? Let us clean the the streets." Local Thieves at it Again. Last Wednesday morning when Mr. and Mrs. Sam'l E. Wisor, of Jackson street, got out of bed they discovered that robbers had visited them while they slept and carried away Samuel's watch and about four dollars out of little Johnny's saving bank. Mr. Wisor had left his watch lying on a chair at the head of his bed and a bright light burned in the room all night. The robbers ransacked the entire house and had knocked twenty dollars off the bureau, with some other things, in the room where the family slept, but failed to see the twenty. Whoever the parties are that are following their profession will be caught some of these nights with a dose of cold lead. Everything they touched at Wisor's had finger marks upon it, which indicates that the thieves blacken their hands and faces to disguise themselves. Married at Buffalo. Two lads and two lassies of Allen's Mills', this county, after a season of love-making, concluded to have a double wedding, and in consequence thereof on Tuesday morning of last week they hid away to Buffalo, N. Y., and on Wednesday, Sept. 14th, Rev. Bell, a Methodist Episcopal minister, said the words that changed the ladies' names. Before the ceremony their names were Miss Laura B. Moore and Miss May Burtop; after the nuptial knot it was Mrs. Laura B. Burtop and Mrs. May Moore. John H. Burtop and Frank Moore, two promising young men of Allen's Mills, were the groomsmen. The wedding party visited Niagara Falls Wednesday and came to Reynoldsville Thursday, stopped over night at Hotel McConnell and went to their homes Friday forenoon. Will Enforce the Law. Complaints have been made to me about various places of business in Reynoldsville being kept open on Sunday to sell goods, and I have decided to enforce the law regulating Sunday observance; and hereby give warning to those who disregard the Sabbath laws. I desire, and therefore, request all people who respect the Lord's Day to vie with me in this matter, and ask that they make information against all parties who are guilty of keeping their places of business open on Sunday for the sale of goods. This is the only notice I will issue and those who disobey it can abide the consequence. JOHN M. HAYS, Burgess. Reynoldsville, Sept. 20, 1892. Sight Seeing. R. D. Beer is among the visitors to Washington, D. C., this week. W. H. and Lillian McCreight went to Washington D. C., Saturday morning. B. F. Robb, John Huffman and Miss Anna Cochran left here Friday morning for a trip to Baltimore and the capital of the United States. C. G. Matson, proprietor of the Commercial House, left Reynoldsville Monday morning for Washington, D. C., to attend the G. A. R. "blow out." Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Kline, Benj. Haugh, Mrs. J. S. McCreight and Mrs. Anna S. Gibson left Reynoldsville Saturday afternoon for Washington, D. C. Capt. T. C. Reynolds and wife, L. W. Scott and wife, Rufus Kirk, Albert Wading, Dr. J. W. Foust, J. H. Corbett, Pat. Donahue, and Thomas Clawbaugh, went to Washington, D. C., on the special train of Pullman cars which left DuBois on Monday evening. Wanted. Everybody to buy $10.00 worth of goods and get the Good Farm Magazine for a year free as it is full of useful reading matter on many subjects of interest to the old and young. Call and see a copy. J. C. KING & Co. Go to Reed's for fine shoes.

THE SCYTHE OF TIME. Crape on the Doors, Sad Hearts and Empty Chairs. MRS. MARY L. HARTMAN. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Mary L. Hartman, who has been an invalid for ten years, confined to her bed nearly all that time, succumbed to the Death Messenger. She was the daughter of W. K. Marshall, was born in Bechwoods on the 24th of February, 1862, was married to Clinton S. Hartman on the 26th of Dec., 1882, died Sept. 14th, 1892, at the age of 30 years, 6 months and 18 days. Although unable to be of service in the home circle, yet she will be sadly missed by one of the kindest of husbands and three pretty little children. Mr. Hartman only had the privilege of being on the street twice with his wife after they were married. Medical skill at home and abroad was called upon but apparently of no avail. She was taken to Philadelphia and Pittsburg for treatment; returning each time to take her place in bed as before. During the long year's of suffering she complained not, but bore patiently her afflictions. She was blessed with a loving companion who tenderly cared for her. Although many times Mr. Hartman's hired help would leave and he would have to give up his work to care for his wife and children, yet he did it uncomplainingly. "Loving," as she was called, was most affectionately supplied with all that her husband could get for her. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and did not dread to pass over the River of Death, but told her mother several times before she died that the way was as bright as if she could see the Savior standing at her bed-room door. By faith she looked into the Beulah land of eternal joy. Her funeral services were held in the M. E. church Friday afternoon conducted by Rev. Cearing Peters, of DuBois, assisted by Revs. E. T. Derr and W. P. Murray. Rev. Peters selected for his text Rev. xiv-13: "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, write blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth; yea, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labor; and their works do follow them." The Reverend preached in his usual forcible manner, touching the hearts of all his hearers. The church was filled with people. The K. of P. attended in a body. A large concourse of relatives and friends followed Mrs. Hartman's remains to Beulah cemetery. The following lines were written by Prof. W. J. Weaver especially for this obituary notice: A precious one from us has gone, The voice we loved is still'd, A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled, For God, in wisdom has recalled The boon His love had given, And though the body slumbers here The spirit's safe in heaven. 'Tis hard to break the tender cord When love has bound the heart; 'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words: We must forever part. Dear loved one we have laid thee down In thy peaceful grave's embrace, But thy memory will be cherished Till we see thy heavenly face. MRS. ELIZABETH SHANER. At 11:00 P. M. on Saturday, September 17th, Mrs. Elizabeth Shaner, relict of Levi Shaner, passed into that land "from whence no traveller er returns." Mrs. Shaner had suffered intensely for eight months, during which time hopes of her recovery had been frequently despaired of. She had almost reached the two score and ten line in life's journey. She was the mother of eight children, three of whom preceded her into the vast beyond, five yet living to mourn the loss of their best earthly friend—mother. Mrs. Shaner was a consistent member of the M. E. church. Funeral services were held at her late home in West Reynoldsville at 10:00 A. M. yesterday, conducted by Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart, and her remains were buried beside her husband in Beulah cemetery. The Guiding Star lodge, of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body. ROBERT O'HARRAH. The subject of this brief notice, Robt. O'Harrah, died at the home of his son, Wesley, at Camp Run, at high noon on Wednesday, September 14th, 1892. His remains were laid away in the Sybrist cemetery Friday forenoon; Rev. H. G. Furbay conducted the funeral services. Mr. O'Harrah had passed the allotted time of man, three score years and ten. He was one of the veterans who promptly responded to his country's call for loyal men in the time of her last great need. Notice. There will be a district meeting of all the lodges of the A. P. L. A. of this district on Thursday, September 30th, at Rathmel and on September 30th at Reynoldsville. Grand Master Daniel W. Reese will be present. Meetings will commence at 7 o'clock P. M. sharp. All sisters are earnestly requested to be present. BY ORDER OF THE D.D.G.M. Notice. We don't give tablets away, but we do sell good footwear. We think it better to give the best shoes and no tablets. Reed's Shoe Store. Wanted—Counters and shelving for a store room. J. C. King & Co. Are you needing shoes? Go to Reed's shoe store.
