"One of the Finest" played to a full house last evening.

A number of Reynoldsville people went to DuBois on Columbus Day.

Henry Roden has sold his interest in the livery business at Punxsutawney.

The new Presbyterian church at Sugar Hill will be dedicated in the near future.

Mrs. S. T. Daugherty gave a tea party to her numerous friends last Thursday evening.

An infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boody died yesterday afternoon. Will be buried to-morrow.

Quite a number of country people attended the sale of Whittaker & Beck's livery stock Saturday.

The DuBois Local News will hereafter be published on Friday instead of Saturday, as heretofore.

The Catholic church at Adrian will be dedicated next Sunday. A special train will be run from here.

The semi-annual Conference, Clarion District, of the M. E. church, is now in session at New Bethlehem, Pa.

There will be a wedding in town this evening at six o'clock. Rev. H. G. Furbay will be the officiating clergyman.

Nearly fifteen hundred baskets of grapes were received by our merchants within two or three days during the past week.

Joseph Shaffer, the expressman, has been sorely afflicted during the past week with a large boil in close proximity to his right eye.

The Republican marching club of this place will go to Punxsutawney to-morrow evening to attend the Republican rally at that place.

The chicken and waffle supper given in the G. A. R. hall Saturday evening by the Daughters of Liberty increased their exchequer somewhat.

A gentleman from the Capitol of the United States addressed about one hundred and fifty people in Centennial hall one evening last week in the interest of the Peoples party.

On Tuesday, Nov 1st, 1892, Louis Hetrick, of Washington township, will sell, at his farm, live stock, hay, grain, one hack, one wagon, &c., at public sale. Sale to commence at 10.00 A. M.

A number of ladies of the elite society of Brookville were allured to Reynoldsville last Thursday by an invitation to participate in the enjoyments of a tea party given by Mrs. S. T. Daugherty.

The remains of A. W. Lewis, a cigar-maker, who was killed Sunday by falling off a railroad train near Pittsburgh, were taken through here on the 1.00 P. M. train yesterday for burial at DuBois.

Some base prevaricator started the report Saturday evening that Ed. McKee, constable of Winslow township, had met a horrible death by having his head cut off at Sykesville on the B., R. & P. R'y that evening. The father of the lie is unknown.

Now that the long evenings are coming and we will have to get a supply of reading matter to pass away the time, and the next question is, can we read after night? If not, go to C. F. Hoffman, the optician, and have your eyes fitted with a pair of his popular priced glasses and you can read with comfort.

Charley Cochran, formerly of Reynoldsville, now an employee of the P. & E. R. R., is an inmate of the Woodside hospital at Kane, Pa. Charley was caught between the bumpers of a train that was about to leave the Kane yard on Monday of last week and had his right hand smashed and shoulder broken.

We received copies of the Rocky Mountain News, The Sun and The Evening Post, all live political papers of Denver, Col., last week from Harry J. Carlin, formerly of this place, now of Denver.

A Presbyterian congregation in Pittsburg, looking for a pastor, has its gospel-eye turned towards Brookville where Dr. Conway resides. Whether the doctor will get a call and accept is one of the uncertainties.

A statement was made in THE STAR several weeks ago that the output of coal at the Sprague mine had been increased three or four tons since Richard Taaf was put in as mine boss. The increase has been three or four hundred, not that many tons.

Rev. N. W. Stephens, of DuBois, the new rector for the Episcopal congregation at this place and DuBois, filled the pulpit at Reynoldsville for the first time last Sunday. His people here are favorably impressed with him and think they will like him.

Ed. C. Lewis of this place is a great hunter. He devotes considerable time in trapping for bear in the vicinity of Benozette where he generally sets seven bear traps and about fifty or sixty traps for small game. Mr. Lewis has caught as high as eleven bears in one year. He left here yesterday morning for his usual hunting grounds.

Saturday night Michael Devine, an employe at the Berwind-White shaft at DuBois, met sudden death by falling from the top of the shaft to the bottom. He had just been drawn out of the pit and was dizzy and fell out of the bucket with above results. He had been an employe at Homestead, but on account of the labor troubles there went to DuBois about the middle of August. He was a young man.

A few of our citizens looked through bits of smoked glass last Thursday at the shadow on the sun. At one o'clock a considerable portion of the great illuminator of day was eclipsed but shortly after that hour clouds partially obscured the sight. They were not dense enough, however, to totally hide the sun and through the "rifts in the clouds" occasional glimpses of the phenomena could be seen.

Prof. Harry Pattison, formerly principal of the Reynoldsville schools, is the Democratic nominee for county superintendent of schools of Whatecom county, Washington state. The professor has the required ability as an educator and has had considerable experience, he also has good executive power. There is no doubt if he is elected but what he will fill the position creditably and do excellent work for the people of that county. The Independent of New Whitcom speaks in the most complimentary terms of the ex-Reynoldsville principal.

It was rumored that the 7.10 A. M. train northward bound on the B., R. & P. R'y was to be taken off. The report was a false one and the train will be kept on. The superfluous train agents, however, have been discontinued, which, by the way, will not inconvenience the travelling public in the least. A man who has served his time as a brakeman and freight train conductor is deserving of all the honor and remuneration connected with the position of a passenger train conductor. Therefore, we are glad to see the B., R. & P. R'y men get their just dues.

The semi-annual session of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association, which was held at Brockwayville last week, had the largest attendance of delegates of any previous session. The conventions are usually attended by ladies. The meetings will become more interesting if the people who are put on the program do not allow little excuses to keep them away and thus disappoint those who do attend. Persons who promise to take part in the exercises and allow their names to be put on the program should not remain at home and send in some trivial excuse.

Manager Reynolds has contracted with Col. Theodore Hoppenheimer to produce his comedy that has made all London scream with delight for 396 performances. Most of the London company will be in the cast, especially London's favorite prima donna, Miss Lillie La Rose. The name of this comedy is "Widow Murphy's Goat." It is said to be a genuine cure for the blues. There is a laugh in every situation. Mr. Alfred Koley the young and talented comedian, has been especially engaged to play the star role (which, of course, is a comedy role,) in this country. Will be here Nov. 17th.

Joseph McKernan, baggage master at the A. V. R'y station, says the Lord sent him a pheasant last Thursday evening. Mr. McKernan was handling some goods at the station when he heard a noise above him and a large pheasant fell at his feet on the platform. The "Saragato bouncer" pounced upon the innocent bird, firked out his knife and made his prey minus its head in a jiffy. Several boys were out on the hill above the station hunting and frightened the pheasant and in its swift flight it struck one of the wires near the station, and that is why, Mr. McKernan ate pheasant for dinner on Columbus Day.

Who Were They?

According to a half column article in the Falls Creek Herald last Saturday, two young fellows from this place rode into that town on Mustang ponies on Tuesday of last week and their behavior was anything but gentlemanly, it was demoralizing. The article would almost make innocent people blush to read it. Who are the young men who would thus bring disgrace upon our fair town?

Jewish Rite.

A young son was born to Isaac Fisher who was eight days old last Thursday. Rev. Kimisky, a Jewish butcher, of Punxsutawney, who fills the office of a rabbi, came to Reynoldsville on the day above mentioned and performed a Jewish rite of Abraham's time. He also killed several chickens for some of the Jewish families of this place who will not eat meat unless it is killed by their butcher.

Do You Believe It?

On Columbus Day money did not jingle in the Seeley, Alexander & Co. bank, as it was a legal holiday. The interior of the bank was renovated by a generous application of soap, water and muscle. The cashier, Dr. W. B. Alexander, who is noted for veracity, says this is the first time the room has been cleaned since Columbus discovered America, and that he and Aaron Rodgers cleaned the room at that time.

Death of A. M. Elder.

At eight o'clock Tuesday morning, October 25th, the spirit of A. M. Elder took its flight into the great beyond. "Yank," as he was familiarly known, was a carpenter and has been in Reynoldsville eighteen years. He has had poor health for about five years and had been an intense sufferer for months. The 11th of next month he would have been sixty-five years old. The funeral services will be held at his late residence at 1.00 P. M. Thursday. Rev. Derr, the Baptist minister, will conduct the services.

League Convention.

The Epworth League of the Clarion District will hold a convention in the M. E. church at this place on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 2nd and 3rd. The first session opens at 2.00 P. M. with devotional service conducted by the District President, Rev. J. C. Gillette, followed by an address of welcome by Miss Verna E. Bing. Second session 7.30 P. M. Lecture, followed by social. Third session 8.00 A. M. Thursday, and fourth session at 2.00 P. M. About twenty Chapters will be represented and the program indicates that the convention will be an interesting one.

Married at Brookville.

Hood Knox, who has been working for Deible Bros. for a number of years, and Miss Annie E. Morrison, only daughter of Joseph Morrison, of Grant street, left Reynoldsville last Wednesday morning for Brookville where they were granted license and the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Blaisdell, pastor of the M. E. church at the county seat. They have since been enjoying a wedding tour. Mr. Knox is a sober and industrious man and his bride is a quiet, unassuming lady, both highly respected by all their acquaintances. There was not much ado about the wedding. The twain quietly hid themselves away without making known their intention to many people. We extend congratulations and hope that as they sail life's troubled sea that contentment may abide with them ever.

Three Ribs Broken.

Joseph Schreckengost, who lives near Grove Summit, held a note against George Preston, of Rockdale Mills, and as the note was past due, the holder of the note thereof went to Rockdale Saturday forenoon to see about getting his money. He found Preston in the barnyard and stated his business. Words between them were not of a love-making kind and the first thing Mr. Schreckengost knew he was stretched out on mother earth receiving a generous application of hard kicks. Preston hit his man a tremendous blow on the left side of his head and fell him to the ground knocking him insensible and was playing mule when his victim recovered from the blow. Schreckengost's condition was such that Dr. Cooley, of Beechtree, was called and found his patient with three broken ribs and otherwise badly used up.

Both Formerly of this Place.

Mrs. L. W. Showers, wife of Rev. Showers, of Sherrett, Armstrong county, died at her home Tuesday evening of last week of heart failure. Rev. Showers with his three children and the remains of his wife, came to Reynoldsville Thursday evening, stayed over night with friends and resumed their journey to Gratztown, Dauphin county, Pa., Friday morning where the deceased's parents live and where her remains will be interred. The bereft and the deceased both lived in Reynoldsville in former years. Rev. L. W. Showers, who was at one time a school teacher in this place, is now a Methodist Episcopal minister stationed at Sherrett. Mrs. Showers, whose maiden name was Clara Laudenslager, lived with her parents in the building that was known as the Gillespie house on the present site of the Rose House.

Our Schools Celebrated.

While there was no public demonstration here on Columbus Day, yet the patriotic teachers of the borough schools, and no less patriotic pupils thereof, did not let the day pass into the annals of time unnoticed. The rooms of the school building were nicely decorated and a careful and appropriate program was arranged and all the participants were in good spirits and did their best to make the exercises on the day that marked the four hundredth anniversary of the great event in American history, prove to be a success, and their efforts were not in vain. While the interior of the temple of learning was decorated with stars and stripes and beautiful pictures and the grand old flag fluttered in the breeze from the dome, the jubilant scholars made the halls ring with music and eloquence as they sang their thrilling songs and recited their selection for the special occasion. It was patent that day that there is talent, if it does not remain dormant, in our public schools to send out into the world silvery-tongued orators and eloquentists of repute, of which Reynoldsville might claim and be proud of them. We are unable to give the names of all who took part in the exercises in the various rooms, yet we have been informed that all, from the oldest to the youngest, did exceedingly well, and that all are deserving of credit. The program was so arranged that the exercises in all the rooms were finished at the same time and the school dismissed together.

Decayed Bone Removed.

William Nugent, son of Michael Nugent of this place, returned home a few days ago from New York where he had been to undergo an operation to save his right arm. Mr. Nugent had his arm injured when a mere lad with his arm has been troubled more or less with it for ten years. Last fall he went to the West Penn hospital at Pittsburgh for treatment. A portion of the bone between the elbow and shoulder was found to be decayed. After three operations he was informed at the West Penn that amputation of the arm was the only remedy, which he would not submit to. He came home and the latter part of June went to the Bellevue hospital at New York. An operation was there performed which will doubtless prove a success. The elbow joint and four inches of bone above it were taken out. Mr. Nugent has a good grip in the right hand and can stoop down and lift one hundred and fifty pounds. He cannot raise his hand much higher than his hip without getting his arm in a swinging motion and then he can raise it to his face and has control of it after getting it up. The arm is worth more to him than a dozen wooden arms. The doctor tells him his arm will get stronger after being used for awhile. Mr. Nugent says he has heard many people complain about the treatment received at hospitals. He has only kind words to say for such places.

Death of Two Infants.

Ruth, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Cochran, took sick Friday morning of last week and died at 11.40 P. M. Saturday, Oct. 22, 1892. The silken thread of life was broken after an earthly existence of three months and three days. Rev. E. T. Derr conducted the funeral services at the home of the bereaved parents Monday afternoon and the little remains were buried in the new cemetery. The following lines were handed us from the mother with a request that they be added to this notice:

Our sweet flower has drooped and faded,
Our sweet infant's voice has fled,
Our fair brow the grave has shadowed,
Our dear little loved one is dead.

Yet we feel no thought of sadness
For our darling is safe above,
Singing with the glorious angels
In that happy land of love.

Adeline, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Chambers, aged eight months and nineteen days, died of cholera infantum at 1.00 A. M. Thursday, Oct. 20th, and was buried in the Syphrit cemetery Friday forenoon. Rev. P. J. Slattery conducted the funeral services.

You Can't Afford It.

The Express, a bright, newsy evening paper of Lock Haven, truthfully says: "You can't afford to go away from home to buy when your wants can be supplied as cheaply and well by your neighbors and friends. If you need a little favor you can't afford to go away from home, and can't expect some one you simply know to gratify your desire. In case you engage in an enterprise you can't afford to go out of town to have it sustained. Get what you can encourage to the extent of your ability, and do all in your power for home enterprise, development and comfort, and enjoy profitable and gratifying results."

Railway Notice.

The stockholders of the Reynoldsville & Rathmel Electric Railway company will please pay in ten per cent of their stock subscribed to E. Neff, treasurer, and thus comply with the act of assembly. By order of the Directors.
F. K. ARNOLD, Pres.

FOR RENT—Two store rooms 20x20 feet opposite Hotel Belnap. Enquire of J. H. Corbett.

RATHMEL'S GALA DAY.

Flag Raising, Patriotic Speaking, National Songs, &c., &c.

The four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America was celebrated by the patriotic citizens of Rathmel in a befitting manner. Nature approved of the celebration by giving one of her beautiful autumnal days. A stiff breeze blew which made the stars and stripes that were unfurled show off in all their splendor. The Patriotic Order Sons of America, No. 602, of Rathmel, did honor to itself by being the instigator of the grand demonstration and presenting the Dean and Rathmel schools each with a beautiful flag. The Camp had prepared for the day's exercises an excellent program which was enjoyed by a large crowd of people. Three lodges of Reynoldsville swelled the ranks. The Se. O. U. A. M., Jr. O. U. A. M. and G. A. R. Post formed in line here and marched to Sarah's crossing, at the suburbs of Rathmel, and was there met by the Rathmel Camp and school children and all marched to the Dean school house where the days doing's commenced. Following is a program of the exercises of the forenoon: Singing, "Red, White and Blue;" reading the President's message; raising flag; three cheers; firing salute by G. A. R.; saluting flag by the school and singing "America;" prayer by Rev. G. D. Statler; song by choir, "Four Hundred Years Ago;" patriotic address by W. W. Ames, Esq., of Brookville; response by Prof. A. T. Smitten. The line was again formed and marched to the Rathmel school house where an excellent dinner had been provided sufficient to appease the appetites of almost seven hundred hungry men, women and children.

The afternoon exercises at Rathmel opened with a song by the school, "Red, White and Blue," then a beautiful flag was raised over the school house and fluttered in the stiff breeze while a large crowd gazed upon it with admiration. The G. A. R. men fired a salute and the throng joined in singing "Sweet Land of Liberty;" prayer was offered by Rev. Dean; the choir sang "Columbia, Our Columbia," and Rev. J. J. Kerr, of Brookville, delivered an eloquent and appropriate address. John W. Phillippi, Democratic candidate for Assembly, in behalf of the school directors of Winslow township, thanked the Camp for the flag and the people for their manifestations of enthusiasm. The choir sang a closing piece and the people turned their faces homeward weary after the day's pleasure, yet rejoicing because they live in the "Land of the Free." The Rathmel Cornet band furnished music for the occasion.

Birthday Surprise.

Mrs. D. M. Dunsmore, who is an active member in three lodges of Reynoldsville, the Guiding Star, W.R.C. and Daughters of Liberty, and has numerous friends outside of these lodges, was honored with a birthday surprise party Monday evening. She was duped into spending the afternoon and taking supper with Mrs. John Trudgen. Mr. Trudgen wanted to see Mr. Dunsmore about some music matters that evening and proposed to his wife that she go along and they would accompany Mrs. Dunsmore home. Mrs. Trudgen played her part well, but was finally persuaded to go. Mrs. Dunsmore was so deceived that her house was crowded with friends before she could comprehend the situation. The ladies carried baskets with them, and cake, coffee, fruit, &c., were served before the party disbanded. A birthday party implies tokens of friendship and this one was no exception to the rule, for Mrs. Dunsmore is now the happy possessor of a beautiful silver tea set, silver butter dish, silk umbrella, linen table cloth and a linen dolly. The number present were eighty-one. A representative of THE STAR called at an early hour the morning after the party and found Mrs. Dunsmore greatly elated over the surprise and presents from her host of friends.

An Old Patriarch Gone.

Sharp McCreight, who was born in Armstrong county, Pa., and at about the age of thirty-two came to Jefferson county and for sixty years has been a farmer of Wigslow township, died at Marien, Indiana county, Pa., Saturday morning, Oct. 22nd, at the advanced age of seventy-eight years. The deceased became a resident of Paradise Settlement in 1832 where he resided until last fall when he moved to Marien. Mr. McCreight was one of a family of seven boys and six girls. Two brothers, Thomas and John McCreight, are now highly respected farmers of Paradise Settlement. Four brothers, four sisters, four sons, two daughters, and his widow survive him. Mr. McCreight was an honest, upright gentleman and had many friends in this vicinity where he spent so many years. James A. and William McCreight and Mrs. Geo. Warnick, of this place, are his children. The deceased was a member of the United Presbyterian church. The remains of the old patriarch were laid beneath the sod at Elderton, Pa., yesterday to await the resurrection morn.

We will sell lime by the load at 10 cents a bushel. J. C. King & Co.
