Miss Lizzie Burris, Miss Britta Butler and Miss Mamie Aimen, school marms of this place, are numbered among the legions of school teachers who are being voted for on the Pittsburg Times' World Fair offer. There is no reason why some Reynoldsville teacher should not be one of the favored ones.

We get many compliments for the STAR which are gratefully received and highly appreciated, but money, ah, that is what talks! therefore if you are in arrears remember the STAR is one dollar and fifty cents a year in advance. If you are not a subscriber, try the paper for a year, and if you want any job work done give this office a trial before sending to some other town.

Two gentlemen from Minneapolis were in Reynoldsville several days last week trying to establish another Building and Loan in this place, but as we already have four here they found nowhere to get a footbold and consequently left town without gaining the object of their visit. The home Building and Loan is the place for Reynolds ville people to plant their money.

J. S. Hawley, excursion agent for the B., R. & P. R'y, whom many Reynoldsville people become acquainted with by his frequent visits to this town when a cheap excursion was to be run to Kinzua, Ontario Beach or Niagara Falls, died at his home at Rock Glen, N. Y., almost two weeks ago. We had business with the old gentleman on several occasion and he was a pleasant and agreeable man to do business with.

Esq. Neff and wife drove to Brookville one day last week in a sleigh. When leaving Brookville several other sleighs left at the same time and the jingle of sleigh bells made music for them until they reached the top of the hill on this side of Brookville where the road branched off several ways and the other sleighs took the Ridgway road and then the bells ceased to jingle and Mr. Neff discovered that he was sleigh riding without bells, the hostler at Brookville having forgotten to put them on. The bells were shipped by express.

A very large and appreciative audience greeted Mr. Ora J. Gould in the Y. M. C. He talked about what made him smile until he made the audience smile at every turn.-Burdette's By the Way.-At Centennial Hall Jan. 26th. It is remarkable how stories get circulated and vary about things that occur, and more especially things that have never occurred. Miss Vannetta Patterson's death was one case that had misstatements attached to it. It was told on our streets that the young lady taught school until noon on Friday and got to Mr. Fye's door-stead and could not get into the house without assistance, and that her people were not aware of her sickness or death until taken home in a coffin Sunday afternoon. According to the DuBois Courier's version she died in a sled on her

Building and Loan

The regular monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association was held Monday evening and $5,400 were sold: Twenty shares at a premium of 30 cents and seven shares at 31 cents. The following nominations were made which are to be voted on Feb. 20th: For directors, four to be elected, J. M. Hays, Chas. Herpel, W. F. Marshall, E. J. Lofts, M. S. Sterley, James Moore, F. M. Brown. For auditor, one to be elected, M. C. Coleman, L. J. McEntire.

Death of Mrs. Wayland. Mrs. Sarah Ann Wayland, wife of James Wayland, who lives about three miles out from Reynoldsville, died Tuesday evening, Jan. 17th, 1893, at the age of sixty-six years. Her funeral services were held at her late home, conducted by Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart, Thursday afternoon and her remains were buried beneath the sod of Beulah ceme The deceased was a sister of Peter Baum and was married to James Wayland on July 4th, 1850. A husband, five sons and three daughters are left to mourn for her.

New Depot at Falls Creek.

The new A. V. R'y depot at Falls Creek has been finished and was moved into on Sunday. The building is 100 feet long and 25 feet wide, contains two waiting rooms with ticket office between them, a baggage room, telegraph office and a restaurant. It is a good frame building, and no doubt compares favorably with the railroad company's impression of the town, yet the roads centering there could well afford to have built a large brick union station. It is a vast improvement over the 10x12 "coop" that has been used heretofore by the three roads as a passenger station.

Turn off the Water.

There are so many people in Reynoldsville who use the reservoir water that allow the water to run all night to keep their pipes from freezing up, that it has been difficult, in fact impossible, to keep the reservoir sufficiently full of water to be of any service in case a fire would break out about the third watch of the night. It is inconvenient to "monkey" with frozen pipes, but people should not waste the water that way. The water company has made a special request that it be stopped, but of course most all the people deny being guilty of such a trick and consequently the company cannot find out by whom it is done, yet the water disappears in the night time.

A New Coal Field.

[Punxsutawney News.] A new coal company has its eyes on a large tract of land lying in Bell township, this county, and a test of the coalproducing qualities of the land has already begun and before the work of testing ends the earth within the territory named will be punctured with a good many holes. The operators are from Philadelphia and Philipsburg, with Mr. W. H. Wigton, of Philadelphia, a well known coal operator at the head. The land begins at the mouth of Canoe in Bell township, and runs east parallel with the Pennsylvania and Northwestern railroad and takes a portion of Gaskill township. There is no doubt that this territory contains one of the richest beds of bituminous coal in this section of the country and is only a question of

ime when it will be operated

A man who lives eight or ten miles out from Reynoldsville drove through town about dusk Saturday evening with a "turnout" that elicited some joking remarks and considerable curiosity from a few boys who chanced to be on the street. A large grey horse and a small bull were hitched together to a sled, which was loaded with grain, and a small porker tied on and standing up in the front part of the sled. The bull was harnessed the same as the horse with the bridle on and a bit in his mouth. One boy said "that fellow must be short a horse," and another boy promptly responded that he thought 'he must be short a bull." The man, who is an eccentric fellow, started on his journey at an ox-gait amid the cheers of the boys who happened to be attracted by the oddity of the combination.

Burned Her Hair Off.

Miss Roberta Ayers is not now troubled in putting up her hair, but she may be thankful she was not disfigured for life. She had a nice head of hair but now she is a "short-haired" young lady. Last Thursday she washed her hair and was standing near a fire drying it and got too close to the "gas-demon" which drew her hair in and set it on fire. In place of running, as is generally the way in moments of danger. Roberta stood still and threw her left arm over her head and staved the fire when the hair was burned off half her head. The loss of her hair and a little burn on one hand was the only damage done. The only alternative for Miss Ayers was to go to a barber shop and have the balance of her hair cut ofi. The young lady detests short hair, but the only thing for her to do is to wait until it grows long again. She would if she could, but if she couldn't how could she be long-haired?

Compelled to Go

Sometimes the law seems extremely severe and unmerciful. In August of 1892 Anthony Prynn moved his family to Reynoldsville from Rimersburg and they were only here a few months until, on account of Mr. Prynn's poor health, the gaunt wolf want visited their home and the family was badly in need of help before their circumstances were known. The Epworth League of the M. E. church supplied the family with the necessaries of life which lasted for a time, but when that was exhausted the family was put on the borough. The family circle was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Prynn, two children and her mother. The latter part of December the oldest child, a boy four years old, died. The poor overseers of this borough investigated the case and found that the family belonged at Scranton. Mr. Prynn did not want to go to Scranton because he would be put in the poor house, but the law is explicit in such cases and it was the poor overseers' duty to take him whether he wanted to go or not, even if he would refuse to take assistance from the borough. His goods were packed and shipped on Monday and Overseer C. J. Kerr left here vesterday with the family for Scranton. Mr. Prynn has a brother there who will take them in and they will not be compelled to go to the poor house.

A New Plan.

Beginning February 1st the Oil City Fuel Supply Company will inaugurate a system that will be of great convenience to its customers and will certainly be appreciated by them. Under the present system the consumer calls at the office of the gas company and asks for his bill. In every case this causes delay, while the bill is selected from several hundred similar ones. In many instances, particularly between the 8th and 10th of each month, the delay is much longer on account of the crowd. On February 1st the Oil City Fuel Supply Company will mail to each of its patrons a postal eard notifying them of the amount of gas consumed by them during the previous month. With this card at hand the customer can make his own change and present it with the postal card to the window man and receive his receipt. The business man under the new system can send his card and check for the amount by mail or messenger boy and to the housewife the system will be of especial benefit, as the correct amount of her gas bill together with the eard, may be sent by one of the children.

Real Estate Transfers.

Following are the deeds filed for record in the Recorder's office from Jan. 9th to Jan. 16th, 1893, for Reynoldsville borough and Winslow township:

David Reynolds to William and Henry Priester, for lot in Winslow township. $550; May 9, 1892.

The Bell, Lewis & Yates Coal Mining Co. to William Gerheim, for lot in Winslow township. $50; Nov. 19, 1892. Margaret B. Philippi to Paradise Grange No. 854, lease for one-fourth acre of land in Winslow township. $10;

Nov. 4, 1890. Sarah M. Broadhead to John Smith for land in Winslow township. $450; September 1, 1889.

John Smith to George Peterson, for land in Winslow township. $524; January 9, 1863.

The New Sites.

The school directors have decided on the locations for the new school buildings to be built here this summer. As previously stated the one in the East End will be built on the vacant lots on Main street east of Tom Reynolds' barn. The one for the West End will be built on the corner of Fourth and Grant streets, just opposite Deible Bros. wagon shop. P. F. Flynn lives in and owns the dwelling house now standing on that site which will be torn down. The school board are aware of the fact that they are not pleasing everybody, but they have taken all things into careful consideraton and have selected sites which they think are for the best interest of Reynoldsville at present and in after years.

Shoe Talk.

You are always buying shoes. Shoe buying is a disagreeable business. It is expensive business as well. But what are you to do? You must have shoes. Now if all shoes were alike, it wouldn't matter where you bought your shoes. But they are not all alike, so you must put yourself in the hands of the dealer as to quality and value. Size, price and looks you can tell, that is all you can tell; time must tell the rest. So your confidence is not in the shoe, but in the dealer. We want your confidence. It will not be betrayed.

REED'S SHOE STORE.

Memorial Home. [Brookville Democrat.] The annual meeting of the incorpora tors of the Pennsylvania Memorial Home, located at Brookville, was held at Harrisburg on Monday of last week There are in this home a few old soldiers and wives, and about sixty children, whose fathers were soldiers. In addition to the assistance afforded this home by the State, about $30,000 has been raised for its establishment and support through the Woman's Relief Corps of the State.

An Untimely Death.

Miss Vannetta Patterson, one of the finest young ladies in the neighborhood of Sandy Valley, who had a host of friends, died at eleven o'clock last Sunday morning, Jan. 22, after a short illness. She was teaching the Steele school and boarding at Samuel Fye's. The Sunday evening before she died she was taken from the home of her widowed mother, near Sandy Valley. to Mr. Fye's and caught a severe cold but was able to teach her school until Wednesday noon. Her case was not considered anything more than a bad cold. On Sunday she took seriously ill and a doctor was sent for and her sister. Mrs. Caldwell, went to her bedside and was the only member of the family present when she died. The mother was unable to go to see her daughter on account of being ill herself. The remains of the young lady were taken to the home of the almost heart-broken mother Sunday afternoon, where the funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon, by Rev. Geo. Hill, pastor of the Beechwoods Presbyterian church, of which she was a member. Miss Patterson was a whole-souled girl and won friends readily. She almost twenty-one years old. Congestion of the lungs was the cause of her sudden demise. It is a severe blow to the widow who had buried her husband and a son not long since.

Sunday School Convention.

The sixth semi-annual meeting of the Washington Township Sunday School Association will be held at Sandy Valey Saturday, Jan. 28th. The program is as follows:

Question Box and Resolutions. Time limit for addresses, 20 minutes; or opening discussions, 10 minutes; volunteer discusions, 5 minutes.

Think on These.

Why do the teachers in the public schools take one and one-half hour for dinner? That to patronize the home Building and Loan is safer and more business like than to be taken in by every new one that comes along all on paper with high salaried officers and two big, fat, well dressed men to tell you how big your profits will be. Don't! is the watch word. But stay by your home one, conducted by men you know and if they don't suit, you have a say so in changing them.

The time is here to choose borough officers. See to it that fit men are chosen regardless of party. Everybody should desire to see the town prosper.

You wish an electric railway. Talk wont build it! Come down with your cash and push this through that will double the value of your property and bring people to town when they see you are alive to your best interests. Be prompt, time is passing and we must get material on the ground if we wish to begin in the early spring.

Why should everybody be temperate, and help those who are weak and can't withstand this evil, and those that will not compel them to by the strong arm of the law? Because it is right.

Gas Notice.

Hereafter on the first of each month the Oil City Fuel Suppy Company will mail to each of its patrons a postal card notifying them of the amount of gas consumed by them during the previous month. By bringing these cards to the office for receipt, the transaction of the business will be greatly expedited, as it will be unnecessary to wait for duplicate bills to be made out.

The church was organized in 1840, and is one of the oldest Presbyterian organizations in Clarion county.
