A bill has been introduced in the Missouri legislature providing for executions by electricity. Another bill has been intro-duced which, if it becomes a law, will strike a heavy blow at the railroads of the State. It is interded to prevent railroad companies from owning stock in companies engaged in dealing in lumber, grain, merchandise, coal, gas or other minerals. It also prohibits any manager, director and agent of companies engaged in business of the character specifled from serving as director, trustee or representative of any railroad.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Never Before Was the Distribution of Products so Large.

R. G. Dan & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Actual business is surprisingly large for the season and yet fears about the future are also large. Congressional uncertainties cause the fears, but the presperity and the needs of the people make business what it is and never before has the distribution of products to consumers been larger than it has been thus far this year. Yet it is probably safe to say that rarely, if ever, except in a time of panic has business been more cautiously and conser atively regulated Monetary uncertanties are excused by the continued outgo of gold. But the passage of the anti-option bill by the senate has had trade in iron and its products is weak. Risiness at Cleveland is fairly good and at Clincinnati the dezzand for lumber exceeds the supply and prespects are bright for trade in woolens. General trade is improving at Indianapolis and at Detroit exceeds that of last year. At Chicago receipts of cared meats and wheat are more than three times those of last year and considerable increase is seen in corn, cheese, oats and rye, while in hogs, lard and dressed beef the decrease is large. Trade at Milwankee is increasing, though collections are retarded.

While there is much cutting of rates by the railroads, and the movement has been greatly interrupted in the West by severe storms. The volume of traffic astonishes managers. The movement of cotton is not large, but the great accumulation of stocks is felt in a decline of $ cent with sales of 1,000,000 bales. The wonderfu demand for textile fabrics is unabated. For bown and bleached cotton the market is said to be the best for twenty years and some makes of sheeting have advanced. The trade is low and medium grade of men's woolens is about closing at the time it is usually opening and the market for fine go ds is less strong, possibly because of anticipation of tariff changes. The general tendency is clearly toward greater economies in manufacture. Trade in boots and shoes is very active. Prices for manufactured products of iron and steel are depressed beyond all precedent and nevertheless the sales continue remarkatly large and the volume of business greater than in any previous year. The stagnation in steel rails has been brokep by the p'acing of orders for 60,000 tons by the Pennsylvania railroad, and in plates orders for 10 000 tons have been placed for the Cramps at the Pittsburg mills, though at very low prices. Large structural contracts have also been placed for buildings in New York.

have also been placed for buildings in New York.

While $2,500,000 gold has been ordered for shipment to day, and the amount may be larger, receipts from the interior are so heavy that money markets are not disturbed. Produce exports are $10,000,000 less than last year since January 1, and there is also a decrease at cotton ports in spite of the advance in prices. The uncertainty about the monetary future retards business energe ments, but in other respects trade is most satisfactory and perhaps all the more safe and healthy for the feeling of caution that prevails.

It will be a surprise to many to learn that, after all, the most im-portant function of the bee's sting is not stinging. I have long been con-vinced that the bees put the finish-ing touches on their artistic cell work by the dexterous use of their stings, and during this final stage of the process of honeymaking the bees inject a minute portion of formic acid into the honey. This is really the poison of their sting. The formic acid gives to honey its peculiar flavor and also imparts to it its keeping qualities. 'The sting is really an exquisitely contrived little trowel, with which the bee finishes off and cans the cells when they are filled brimful with honey. While doing this the formic acid passes from the poison bag, exudes, drop by drop, from the point of the sting, and the beautiful work is finished. -Horticultural Times
