HOMESTEAD REPORT

VIEWS OF SENATE COMMITTEE.

The Rights of Employer and Employed Clearly Defined. A Strong Patriotic Plea For Arbitration.

Mr. Gallinger, from the select committee appointed by the National Senate to investigate the facts in relation to the employment, for private purposes of armed bodies of men or detectives, in case of differences between workmen and employers submitted a report to Congress on Saturday.

The committee found that even the proprietors of detective agencies admitted that the presence of the so-called Pinkertons served to unduly inflame the passions of the strikers, and the employment of detectives in the guise of mechanics impressed the committee with the belief that it is an utterly vicious system, responsible for much of the ill-feeling and bad blood displayed by the working classes.

The committee expresses the opinion that if firms who discontinue the employment of armed men on occasions of strike, their interests would be better subserved. The right seems to be to reserve for the use of a private armed guard at Homestead was unnecessary. There was no evidence, they say, to show that the slightest damage was done or attempted to be done property on the part of the strikers.

First—Rights of employers and workmen are equal.

Second—Employers have undoubted rights, provided they fulfill their agreements, to employ and dismiss men at pleasure.

Third—Workmen can legally organize for mutual protection and improvement.

Fourth—When dissatisfied with wages or hours they should attempt to arbitrate.

Fifth—Falling in this they have a right to discontinue work either singly or in a body.

Sixth—Having discontinued they have no right, legal or moral, by force or intimidation, to keep others from taking their places or to attempt to occupy, injure or destroy the property of their employers.

Seventh—In all controversies, arbitration having failed, reliance should be placed upon the power and adequacy of the law.

Eighth—Whether assumedly legal or not, the employment of armed bodies of men for private purposes, either by employers or employees, should not be resorted to and such use is an assumption of the State's authority by private citizens.

Ninth—States have undoubted authority to legislate against the employment of armed bodies of men for private purposes, but the power of Congress to so legislate is not clear, although it would seem that Congress ought not to be powerless to prevent the movement of such bodies from one State to another.

In conclusion, the committee says that its investigations have led it to conclude that the fault is not wholly on one side, that middle ground seems to be in the direction of arbitration. Without making any recommendations, but pleading for arbitration, the committee closes its report by saying: "To that end we bespeak the co-operation of all patriotic citizens, and your committee will welcome any legislation which will tend to secure to the laboring man his every right without depriving the employer or the State officer of a bribe, punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by 10 years imprisonment."

LATER NEWS WAIFS.

LEGISLATIVE.

By a vote of 20 to 23 the Minnesota Senate killed the memorial to congress in favor of free coinage of silver. A bill introduced by Representative Moore declares the acceptance of a railroad pass by any legislator or State officer to be a bribe, punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by 10 years imprisonment.

FOREIGN.

Four skaters were drowned in Lake Baldozell, near Reichenau, Switzerland, and three were drowned in the Lake of Morat.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Forty charred bodies have been recovered from the County Insane Asylum, near Dover N. H. The search for the remains of the other victims is in progress.

FIRES.

A fire next to Delmonico's famous place in New York on Sunday in the building occupied by Redfern, the women's tailor, ruined 20 gowns valued at $150 to $250 each. About 70 people had narrow escapes. Loss, $70,000.

DISASTERS, ACCIDENTS AND FATALITIES.

SIX MINERS KILLED.—Sunday morning a slide occurred on the wall rock of one of the tunnels at the Orient mines of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, at Villa Grove, Colorado. Six were killed and six injured. The names of the killed are: James H. Morgan, Hugh Connolly, Mike Novak, E. D. Johnson, Ed. Carter and P. J. Breen. The wounded are: Joe Murphy, Tom Walsh, Ben. Mainor, Mat Koelner, John Dolphin and James Smith. The wounded are attended by Dr. Griffith, the company's physician, and removed to the company's hospital at Pueblo.

NEBRASKA'S NEW SENATOR.

Judge Allen, a Populist and Grand Army Man, Chosen. Wm. V. Allen, Populist, was elected United States senator from Nebraska on joint ballot of the legislature, Thursday. The vote for Paddock, Republican, was 57. All the Independents and Democrats voted for Allen, who received 70 votes. His election was then made unanimous.

Judge Allen was born at Midway, Madison county, O., January 20, 1847. In 1866 he moved to Iowa, and enlisted at the age of 15 years in Company G, Thirty-second, Iowa, in the war of the rebellion, and carried a musket for three years. He studied law with L. L. Ainsworth, of West Union, Ia. Nine years ago he came to Nebraska, locating at Madison, his present home. His conversion to the Populist idea of politics occurred during the campaign of 1880, and since that time he has been enthusiastic and constant in the advocacy of that party's principles. Previous to his going over to the Populists he was an enthusiastic Republican, stumping the state for his party ticket and doing splendid work for it. He is still an enthusiastic Grand Army man. The newly elected senator is a giant in stature; it is said his mental caliber is consistent with his physical make-up.

Learned Something.

Edward Everett Hale, writing in the Atlantic Monthly the story of his boyhood, says that the members of his father's family, children included, "went to meeting" every Sunday, morning and afternoon, as did all other "respectable people." Any one who had been seen driving out of town on that day would have lost credit in the community. The afternoon service was ten minutes shorter than the morning service, Doctor Hale remembers, though he has never known what occasioned the difference.

At the close of the afternoon service Sunday school was held—"a very different thing from what it is now." "You were expected to learn some thing, and you did."

Doctor Hale has often said, and still believes it is true, that fully one-half of all he now knows about the facts recorded in the Bible was acquired in the Brattle Street Sunday-school before he was 13 years old.

"We had little books," he says, "which contained facts on these subjects. We had to study these books as we did any other school-books, and we recited from them as we recited any other lesson."

"I do not think there was much said or thought about making Sunday-school agreeable to the children. We were told to go, and we went; we were told to learn a lesson, and we learned it."

In those days a Sunday evening service was a thing almost unheard of in Boston—quite as much an innovation as calling an Episcopal minister a rector is now to old-fashioned Episcopalians. According to the Puritan theory each family is a church, and the father is a priest competent to carry on worship. Any proposal for a Sunday evening service anywhere else except at home was thought to be an interference with the rights and duties of the family.

"At this moment," says Doctor Hale, "you will find in old Boston families the habit of going to visit one another on Sunday evening, but not of going to church. Where the people go to church steadily on Sunday evening, you may generally guess that they are not of old Boston blood."

Cabbage Stalks Sixteen Feet High.

The manufacture of cabbage walking sticks is quite a trade in the Isle of Jersey, and the enormous size to which these stalks grow renders their conversion into these useful articles a somewhat easy matter. There is a local song greatly admired by tourists containing the words: "Here we grow the cabbage ten feet high," and, incredible as this may appear, they have even reached a height of sixteen feet. These cabbage walking sticks can be bought in London.—Philadelphia Record.

"Each Spoonful has done its Perfect Work,"

Is the verdict of every woman who has used Royal Baking Powder. Other baking powders soon deteriorate and lose their strength, owing to the use of inferior ingredients, but Royal Baking Powder is so carefully and accurately compounded from the purest materials that it retains its strength for any length of time, and the last spoonful in the can is as good as the first, which is not true of any other baking powder.

A Testimonial Worth Reading.

MT. STERLING, KY., FEB. 13, 1889.

I desire to make a brief statement for the benefit of the suffering. I had been afflicted with catarrh of the head, throat and nose, and perhaps the bladder for fully twenty-five years. Having tried other remedies without success, I was led by an advertisement in the Sentinel-Democrat to try Hall's Catarrh Cure. I have just finished my fourth bottle, and I believe I am right when I say I am thoroughly restored. I don't believe there is a trace of the disease left.

Respectfully, WM. BRIDGES, Merchant Tailor.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. I had a fullness after eating, and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. Sometimes a deathly sickness would overtake me. I was working for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. I used August Flower for two weeks. I was relieved of all trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I have gained twenty pounds since my recovery. J. D. Cox, Allegheny, Pa.

Do Not Be Deceived. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, Durable, and the consumer pays for no tin or glass package with every purchase.

We offer for you a ready made medicine for Coughs, Bronchitis and other diseases of the Throat and Lungs. Like other so-called Patent Medicines, it is well advertised, and having merit it has attained a wide sale under the name of Piso's Cure for Consumption.

It is now a "Nostrum," though at first it was compounded after a prescription by a regular physician, with no idea that it would ever get on the market as a proprietary medicine. But after compounding that prescription over a thousand times in one year, we named it "Piso's Cure for Consumption," and began advertising: it in a small way. A medicine known all over the world is the result.

Why is it not just as good as though costing fifty cents a dollar for a prescription and an equal sum to have it put up at a drug store?
