Catarrh, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health.

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering hu-manity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and could not smallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave medi-eine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me any good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsapariin, teiling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been

Saves Another Life! INDIGESTION AND HEART TROUBLE CURED:

Suffered for Eight Long Years!

MRS. MILLER SAYS :- "I had been troubled for eight years with stomach and heart diffi-culties." I lived mostly on milk, as every-thing hurt me so. My kidneys and liver were in a terrible state. Could neither sleep nor in a terrible state. Could neither sleep noreat. I had been treated by the best Chicago doctors and elsewhere without any benefit whatever. As a last resort I tried your Syamp-Root, and have only used three bettles. Can now cat anything, no matter what. Nothing hurts me, and can go to bed and get a good nights sleep. Swamp-Root cured me. Anyone doubting this statement can write, and I will gladly answer."

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS

Proceedings of the Senate and the House

FORTY-REVENTH DAY.

SENATE.—The bill intended to secure the construction of the Nicaragua ship canal occupied the senate to-day. It provides that 3 per cent bonds of the company to an amount not exceeding $100,000,000 shall be guaranteed, principal and interest, by the United States, these bonds to be issued as money is paid out by the company in the construction of the canal. The government is to own the capital stock of the company with the exception of $12,000,000, and the shares to be delivered to the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica. The bill went over until to-morrow, and after an executive session the senate adjourned.

House.—The senate bill was passed au borizing the Union Rallroad Company of Pennsylvania to construct a bridge across the Monongahela river in Allegheny county, Pennsylvania. The District of Columbia committee, notwithstanding the protest of the committee on appropriations, held the floor the rest of the day. Haif a dozen measures of entirely local importance were passed and the house adjourned.

passed and the house adjourned.

FORTY RIGHTH DAY.

SENATE—The Nicaraguan canal bill was before the senate to-day, but no action was had. Mr. Quay offered a resolution, which was a treed to, calling on the secretary of the treasury for information as to whether any part of the appropriation for the world's fair had been paid, and if so, under what modification of the rule as to Sunday closing. He also gave notice of an amendment to an appropriation bill, making appropriations connected with the world's fair conditional on Sunday closing. After a short executive session the senate adjourned.

House,—In the house the debate on the invalid pension bill continued to day, but it was without special interest. The debate on the bill was prolonged, but uninteresting, and without disposing of the measure the house adjourned.

house adjourned.

FORTY-NINTH DAY.

SENATE—In the senate to-day amendments to the sundry civil bill, including the World's fair items, were disposed of. The amendments allowing to the widows of Chief Justice Waite and Justice Miller of the supreme court the balance of their husband's salary for the year of their death, $8.745, and $7.419, were agreed to. Mr.Quay withdrew his objections to the world's fair items, being assured that the ground had been covered, and they were passed. The Nicaraguan canal bill had to give way to-day to the sundry civil appropriation bill, which occuried the time until adjournment.

Howeve—The pension bill was under discussion, but no final action reached when adjournment was had.

SENATE—The session of the senate to-day was occupied in the consideration of the senate vivil appropriation bill. Mr. Faulkner gave notice that, in consequence of the very scrious illness of one of the late Senator Kenna's children, the memorial services for Mr. Kenna were postponed from next Saturday until Monday, February 27. Adjourned.

Hoyer.—The house resumed in committee of the whole the consideration of the pension appropriation bill. The amendment to the pension is aw providing for the transfer of the pension bureau to the war department was disagreed to by a vote of 53 to 95. The amendments relative to requiring pensioners under the act of 1880 to show that they were disabled for manual labor, and have not an annual income of $600, and providing that no widow shall be granted a pension if she was not married within five years after the close of the war in which her husband served, was also defeated without division.

The feature of the day was a personal col-lision between Turpin of Alabama, and Waugh of Indiana, which, but for the badliy was the feature which have resulted waggi of indian, with the consideration of friends, might have resulted seriously, but, as it turned out, any injuries that were received were received by the peacemakers. When order was finally restored the house, finding it was in no temper to proceed with the consideration of the bill, adjourned.

Senate.—The question as to the issue of 3 per cent bonds to maintain the gold reserve was precipitated on the Senate to-day. The amendment was offered by Mr. Sherman, and a point of order was raised against it by Mr. Stewart. The point was after discussion, overruled by the vice president, and an appeal from that decision was laid on the table by a vote of 28 yeas to 18 mays. The merits of the amendment were discussed for the rest of the day, and without disposing of the amendment, the senate adjourned.

House.—The pension appropriation bill was passed and the postoffice appropriation.

Motse.—The pension appropriation bill was passed and the postoffice appropriation bill was considered without final action. The car-coupler bill was postponed until Tuesday next. The senate bill was passed extending to the North Pacific ocean the provisions of the statutes for the protection of fur seals. The House then, in committee of the whole, considered the postoffice appropriation bill. An amendment was a greed to increase the appropriation for the payment of the salaries of postoffice clerks, and without disposing of the bill the house adjourned.

FIFTY-SECOND DAY.

SENATE.—By the expeditious method of Vice President Morton the Senate almost escaped a long debate on the 3 per cent. bond issue amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill which subsequently lasted for five or six hours. As soon as the bill was taken up Mr. Morton put the question on Mr. Mills's amendment, to make the bonds redeemable at the pleasure of the United States, and declared it lost. Then he put the question on the Sherman amendment and declared it carried. Mr. Stewart realized the situation, and at his susgestion the question was reopened. Some hours later when the vote was about to be taken again an amendment was offered by Mr. Brice, and the debate on it went on almost up to the point of adjournment, when Mr. Brice withdrew it. The Sherman amendment was then agreed to by a vote of 30 to 16. The sundry civil bill went over without final action. No further action was taken on the bill, but Mr. Allison gave notice that he would ask the Senate to remain in section on Monday until the bill was passed, and the Senate then adjourned.

House—Congressman Bynum of Indiana to-day rose to a question of privilege in the house, and read an extract from a St. Louis paper saying that the investigation of the Whisky Trust by the sub committee of the indiciary committee was a "discreditable farce." He said the press's right of censorship over public officials should not be exceeded. The testimony to be presented to the house would soon show whether the investigation was a farce. Eulogies of the late Congressman Warwick of Ohio were given to-day, after which the House adjourned.

AN APPEAL FROM KAIULANI. The Hawaiian Princess Addresses the People of This Country.

The Princess Kaiulani has sent the following address to the American people:

lowing address to the American people:

"Four years ago, at the request of Mr. Thurston, then Hawaiian United States Minister, I was sent away to England to be educated privately and fitted for the position which, by the constitution of Hawaii, I was to inherit. For all these years I have been patiently and in exile, striving to fit myself for my return this year to my native country. I am now told that Mr. Thurston is in Washington asking you to take away my flag and my throne. No one tells me even this officially.

"Have I done anything wrong that this wrong should be done me and my people? I am coming to Washington to plead for my throne, my nation and my flag. Will not the great American people hear me?"

Many experiments have been made in find out what and where the organ of taste is in the lower creation; but it is easier to say where it is not. Crayfish and worms seem to have very decided preferences in the matter of food, though no special taste organ has yet been found. Lobsters like decaying food; the crab is more dainty in its diet. Snails and slugs show a decided prefer-ence for certain kinds of food, as garden lovers know to their cost; peas and cabbages, dahlias and sunflowers are great favorites; but they will not touch the white mustard. Some prefer animal food, especially if rather high. Spiders have only a slight sense of taste; flies soaked in paraffine seem quite palatable to them; though one species, the dia-dema, is somewhat more particular, and refuses to touch alcohol in any form

The antenna of insects do not appear to contain any organ of taste, for w and ants quite readily took into their mouths poisonous and unpleasant food, even swallowing enough to make themselves ill, while some bees and cock-roaches fell a prey to the temptation of alum, Epsom salts, and other nauseous foods placed in their way, These sub-stances were not, however, swallowed, but were soon spat out, the creatures spluttering angrily, as it disgusted with The protoscis of the fly and the tongue of bees and ants are furnished with numerous delicate hairs set in minute pits; these are perhays connected with the organ of taste; but, though the exact locality of this sense in insects is uncertain, we know that groups of cells in the tongue of animals, called taste bulbs, form, in part, the ends of the organ of taste.

Engulfed in a Glacier.

By the friction of the lowermost por tions of the glacier over its rocky bed, together with the rise in temperature in the milder belt below the snow line, vast caverns are melted. These caverns have been explored at the immense risk of the lives of the explorers, because the weight of the superincumbeut may cause the collapse of the walls at any moment. In the year 1861 a couple on their bridal tour visited the Mer de Glace, and feeling, no doubt, that nothing in nature could interrupt such happiness as theirs, ventured into one of these caverns. They had barely entered the first arch, the husband supporting the young wife over the slippery surface of the floor, when there was a dull roar, a flash of broken ice-particles in the morning sun, and the poor lovers were entombed. Their bodies, clasped in each others arms, were found some two years later, at the foot of the glacier, in a pertect state of preservation. The young wife's face was lifted toward the bended face of her husband, with a touching expression of trust in his courage and strength to save her from the impending doom. Even the rough guides shed tears as they beheld this solemnly beautiful picture in death .- Demorest's Magazine.

Few "Kid" Gloves are Made of Kid. Kid gloves are not made of kid; in fact, few of them are. The cheap ones are not kid and neither are the dearest ones. Ladies' gloves that cost under a dollar and a half or two dollars a pair are all made of lamb skin. It is likely that gloves paid for at a higher price than that will be of kid, but the very best and most expensive kid gloves are made of the skins of young colts .- New York Sun.

An Age Gage.

A Tennessee inventor has patented a gage for determining the age of horses. The device consists of a steel plate, having a tapered body portion, one of its longtitudinal edges being marked by lines and figures. By applying the scale to the teeth of a horse, its approximate age is said to be determined.—American Farmer.
