

Travelers' Guide. Passenger trains arrive at the Reynoldsville station as follows: Eastward. Westward. REYNOLDSVILLE POST-OFFICE. Mails arrive and leave the post-office as follows: Arrive. Depart.

LOCAL LACONICS.

Volume 2 No. 1. See "Joshua Simpkins." Best $2.00 shoe in the world at Robinson's. "Joshua Simpkins" at the opera house to-night. Very pretty tea sets for $4.75 at Schultze's. There will be services in the Presbyterian church next Sunday. George Washington Stokes, junior, is now clerking for Bell Bros. T. J. Davis is just recovering from a hard tussle with rheumatic gout. The Clarion Assembly will open the 19th of July and continue for three weeks. A. L. Peters, of Hopkins, has a new one horse Conklin truck wagon for sale at a bargain. Buckskin Bill's Wild West Show gave two fair performances here yesterday. It is a good twenty-five cent show. Harry L. Hastings, of Brookville, has leased Gardner's photograph car on Main street. He took charge of it on Tuesday. "Our Country Cousins" was played to a good audience at the opera house last Friday night. The people were pleased with the show. W. W. Ford went to Brookville last Friday and got his commission as Justice of the peace. His office will be in Miss Hays' office. The G. A. R. Memorial sermon will be preached in the Baptist church on Sunday, May 28th, by pastor of the church, Rev. E. T. Derr. W. H. Furgus and John L. Sliffer, both employees at Hopkins, are laid off work, one by a very sore hand and the other from a sprained wrist. Parlor suite, six pieces, also 100 yards Brussels carpet. Will be sold reasonable. Enquire of J. S. McCreight, Geo. Mellinger or F. K. Alexander. There will be a meeting of the Lecture Association at B. E. Hoover's dental office on Thursday evening. All members are requested to be present. J. G. Brown, an employee at Hopkins, had two leaders severed in his left wrist last Thursday morning by a tooth flying out of a tooth-inserted saw. It has been reported in the county that Arthur Morrison, Republican candidate for county treasurer, has withdrawn. Such is not the case. He has no intention of withdrawing. William B. Sutter, of Clayville, ex-sheriff of Jefferson county, now a Republican candidate for the office of prothonotary, etc., was in Reynoldsville last week looking after his interests. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold its annual convention at Punxsutawney to-day and to-morrow, May 10th and 11th, commencing at 2.00 P. M. to-day. Esq. E. Neff, Sam'l Bloom, R. J. Wiseman, D. J. Thomas and John Wiley were at Rathmel last Friday night and assisted in the installation of the new officers of Thistle Lodge No. 19, A. P. A. Dr. A. B. Bowser, of this place, was elected by the Jefferson County Medical Association as one of the delegates from the Association to attend the State Medical Convention to be held at Williamsport next week. Miss M. E. Moore, our leading milliner, will receive several new things in summer millinery this week. New hats, new flowers and trimmings in all the latest styles can be found at her store at the lowest prices. The Jr. O. U. A. M. will give a box supper in the G. A. R. hall on Saturday evening, May 13th. A general invitation is extended to all women in Reynoldsville to attend and take a box of catalog with them. This week we announce the name of V. H. Lewis, of Corvick, as a Republican candidate for nomination for county treasurer. Mr. Lucas expects to circulate among the people of Reynoldsville latter part of this week.

Samuel Whitmore, young son of Johnathan Whitmore, while attempting to climb a fence three weeks ago fell off and sprained his right leg so badly that he is not able to get around yet without the assistance of crutches. The Brookville Furniture Company has made an assignment. About $3,000 unpaid stock subscriptions, with a lot of partly finished furniture, caused the assignment. It is thought the concern will come through all right yet. Henry A. Reed, the shoe man, has at last something to help suffering humanity. He has the infallible Corn Cure, which never fails to remove corns and does not injure the feet. No cure, no pay. Why suffer when 25 cents will stop the cause. J. G. Allen, of Warsaw township, Republican candidate for prothonotary, was in Reynoldsville on Monday. Mr. Allen is well known in the county and will stand a fair chance of getting the nomination. He has been postmaster at Allen's Mills for eighteen years. The Pittsburg Times said editorially last week that Prof. Hughes, who was re-elected superintendent of the Jefferson county schools, is only twenty-six years old. The Times missed it just twenty-four years. Prof. Hughes was fifty years old on the first day of this month. Invitations will be issued this week for a dance in the opera house on the 29th inst. for benefit of the Juvenile band. "Old Hick'ry Farm," which was played for benefit this band, left the boys fifteen cents out of pocket, and now they will try to get "filthy lucre" out of the mazy dance. E. B. Covill, the gentleman who has charge of the machinery at Big Soldier, got a little skin knocked off one of his fingers last Thursday and then got poison in it from the handling of some old stuff around the engine house. His hand and arm swelled considerably and he had a painful time with it for a few days. Prof. J. G. Daily, the noted singer of Brookville, and the Bellview quartet will furnish music for the Prohibition convention and mass meeting to be held in Centennial hall Reynoldsville, Pa., next Wednesday, May 18th. The W. C. T. U. will serve dinner and supper in G. A. R. for the delegates who attend the convention. The Prohibition Club will meet in the Centennial hall Monday evening, May 15, at 8 o'clock. An important and interesting question will be discussed, one that involves the attention of all persons. Not only the Prohibitionists are invited to come, but every person. The W. C. T. U., the Sons of Temperance and all other temperance organizations are invited to be present. We call attention to the announcement of Robt. M. Swisher, a Republican candidate for Prothonotary. He is well known in all parts of the county and for several years past has been in the mercantile business in Frostburg and Clayville where he became well acquainted with men of all occupations and trades. He was a soldier and was discharged from the army in 1865 by reason of "no more war." The law suit which Solomon Shaffer, J. Van Reed and R. C. Osborne had with the Brown brothers, of Sabula, Pa., in the Cameron county courts last week involved $14,146.00. The Reynoldsville gentlemen had three attorneys employed, one of whom was the brilliant George A. Jenks, of Brookville, and after a hard struggle our townsmen got judgment for the above amount. J. Van Reed was indirectly interested in the case. Two tailors had a few unpleasant words on the street Monday evening and one of them wanted to fight and did strike at his brother tailor. A young man standing near interfered and said you must not fight here. The fellow who was anxious to show his fighting qualities struck at the man who tried to prevent a fight. The blow missed its mark, but the would-be-pugilist got a right hander on the neck. The at first intended peacemaker had to pay five dollars for not controlling his fist. Mrs. E. D. C. Mair, of Pittsburg, the State superintendent of railroad works of the W. C. T. U., will speak in the Centennial hall, Friday evening, May 12, 1893, at 8.00 o'clock. She will address a parlor meeting at the home of Mrs. E. T. Derr at 2.30 on the afternoon of the same day. All ladies of the town are invited to be present. Railroad men are especially invited to attend the evening meeting. A special meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at Mrs. Derr's at 2.00 P. M. next Monday. A special train composed of an engine and two cars, the "Virginia," private car of President Yates, of the B., R. & P., and General Superintendent Barrett's car of the same road, was run over the R. & F. C. R'y yesterday. A. G. Yates, Geo. E. Merchant, J. H. Barrett, James Bruce, W. T. Small, and Hon. S. B. Elliott, officials of the B., R. & P. R'y and Bell, Lewis & Yates Coal Mining Co., were on the train. George Mellinger joined the party here and went with them to Big Soldier on an inspection tour.

The Only One in Town. Bell Bros., the clothiers, have had the Barr Cash Carries System put in their store at this place. Under a New Name. The tannery at this place is doing business under a new name since the proprietors, Hall & Vaughan, have become identified with the United States Leather Co. It is now known as the Elk Tanning Co. Summer School. There are five rooms open in the Borough school building, which are being taught by the following young ladies: Louisa Koehler, Edith Sechrist, Mary Mule, Julia Stoke and Mabel Clark. Prof. A. A. Wingert intended to teach, but did not get enough pupils to justify him in devoting his time to it. A New Siding. The A. V. R'y gravel train has been working the past four or five days hauling dirt from the cut at Hopkins to fill in below the freight station at this place for the purpose of laying a track on the lower side of the station to run freight in to be unloaded. At present the second track from the passenger station is the main track, but there is some talk of converting what is now used as a freight house siding into a main track sometime after the new siding is put in. Modern Samson. Several gentlemen were standing in front of Alexander's drug store one day last week and H. M. Iseman offered Alex. Whitehill a dollar if he would throw a 12 1/2 pound keg of lead across the street. Alex tried it but did not have sufficient force to clear the mud by ten feet. Ed. C. Burns came along and he was asked to throw the lead across the street. Ed. got it over and came very nearly getting it far enough to smash in a window, as it was, however, nothing but a keg of lead was destroyed. Edward has a great muscle. New Way of Initiating. There are several lodges in Reynoldsville which are composed of ladies. One night last week one of these lodges met and had a candidate to initiate. The candidate was sent to the ante-room while preparations were being made for her to "ride the goat." The ladies got a little excited and the entire initiatory ceremony was gone through with before it was discovered that the candidate had not been brought in from the ante-room. The joke was too good for some of the ladies of the lodge to keep, and they told it. Board of Trade Meeting. The regular monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Board of Trade was held last Friday night. President W. B. Alexander presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Several communications from manufacturing establishments were read. Several important matters for the good of the town were discussed, among others was paving the streets. In the course of time the Board of Trade will be a great benefit to the town if the citizens take an interest in the organization. There are about 127 members now and all, if possible, should attend the regular meetings of the Board. A public hall will be secured for holding the meeting in before the next night. The committees are all live men, which is an excellent thing for the health of the organization. Early Demise. Alonzo Foster, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Foster, of Main street, died at ten o'clock on Friday night, May 5, 1893, after an illness of nine days, from inflammatory rheumatism, which went to his heart. The funeral services were held at the home of the parents Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. C. McEntire, and was largely attended. The remains were buried in Beulah. Alonzo had been playing with some other boys along the banks of the Sandy Lick creek and had either fallen or waded into the water which was the beginning of the ending of his young life. He was a regular attendant at the M. E. Sunday school and a member of the writer's class. His conduct in Sunday school was always commendable and he seemed to be interested in the lessons studied. Lost His Monkey. Dr. M. F. Phillippi came over from Sykesville Monday morning and brought a little monkey with him. The monkey was lost loose in Hotel McConnell and when it saw one of the hotel girls it gave an awful shriek and hastily made its exit through the hall and out at the back door. Search was made but the monkey could not be found. Dr. Phillippi left on the noon train for a western trip, but he left two dollars at the hotel for the party who returned the monkey. James Mahoney, for a two-fold purpose, to see the mammal and to get the reward—more particularly to get the latter—crawled in under Swartz's store and there he found the runaway fastened by a chain which it had on when it got frightened at the hotel girl. Jim got the monkey out from under the building and got the two dollars. This small portion of a menagerie is now at Dr. McCreight's.

Jr. O. U. A. M. Re-union. The fortieth anniversary and the first annual re-union of the West Middle District of the Jr. O. U. A. M. will be held at Punxsutawney on Wednesday of next week, May 17. The order from this place will be well represented. The program will be as follows: Parade forms on north side of public square at 1 o'clock sharp. 1st, Drum corps. 2nd, E. H. Little Post G. A. R. 3rd, Grandfather's school house. 4th, Thirteen young ladies representing thirteen states. 5th, Modern school house. 6th, Forty-four young ladies representing present number of states. 6th, The councils of the Jr. O. U. A. M. The position will be given out at time of forming parade. Parade moves at 1.20 P. M., and march to the west end of street car line in Clayville. Counter march to the Hall of Lilly May Council. Parade will halt and a flag will be raised on pole in front of the hall. Address by George Row, of Indiana. Parade will then move east to Gilpin street, on Gilpin to Union, on Union to Penn, on Penn to north-east corner of public square. Enter square, form around speakers' stand erected there. Address of welcome, Rev. T. M. Hartman. Response to the address of welcome, Rev. M. D. Litchliter, of McKeesport, Pa. Evening program: Lecture in M. E. church by Rev. Owen O. Ward, of Erie, Pa. In the C. P. Church, awarding prizes to the councils having the largest per cent. of members in line and the council coming the longest distance; lecture, "The Perils of Columbia," M. D. Litchliter; suitable music will be arranged to make the evening pleasant; admission, 10 cents; Mr. Litchliter comes highly recommended as an eloquent and patriotic speaker. Closing Exercises. A. J. Postlethwait, teacher of room No. 4 in the borough schools, was sick two weeks during the term and his school did not close until two weeks after the other rooms. Wednesday of last week the school closed with appropriate exercises. About one hundred visitors were present. The program was as follows: Welcome.....Chara Geister Recitation.....Charles Deter Song—"Our Country's Flag".....Seven girls Song—"Columbia".....Mary Kerr Reading.....Ellen Mitchell Exercises—"The Twelve Months".....Twelve girls Song—"Whippoorwill".....School Recitation.....Mary Kerr Reading.....Miriam Harries Recitation.....Anastasia Murphy Song—"Our President".....School Recitation.....Florence Stone Recitation.....Ella Shaffer Song—"Columbia".....Maud Hosh Song—"Maggie Burns and sister".....John Northy Recitation.....Robaine Lusk Exercise with dolls.....Twenty-four girls Recitation.....Celia Reppert Reading.....Ellen Kyto Recitation.....Maud Biffers Song.....School Recitation.....Annie Shannon Song.....Five girls Farewell.....Frankie King A Big Runite Duped. John C. Dillman, proprietor of Hotel Dillman, had business in Big Run one day last week and while there he was introduced to a Big Run politician as a People's Party candidate for county treasurer. The Big Run man claimed to have considerable political influence and was willing to use it if he was furnished with "hoodle." Dillman carried the joke through and requested the man, who held the vote of Big Run in his power, to come around in the morning after the bank opened and he—Dillman—would furnish the money, as he was a little short of ready cash that evening. The Big Runite came around in the morning dressed in his best, thinking, no doubt, that he had struck a "snap." John C. had driven home the night before and the "hoodle seeker," in an off-hand way, learned that for once he had been the victim of a political joke. There are quite a number of fellows just now who have a wonderful amount of political influence that can be purchased at a fair price, and one feature of it is that any or all candidates can buy it. Such influence has not much wait. Wrong Name. Among the marriage license published in last week's Brookville Republican was the following: "William Mathews, of Rathmel and Maggie Schultz, of Reynoldsville." There was a mistake made somehow in the name of the lady, it should have been Maggie Sheets. Miss Maggie Schultz is well known for many miles in the surrounding country, having been assistant postmaster here for four years, was an assistant in the Seeley, Alexander & Co. bank for a short time and is now a clerk in Schultz & Son's grocery store. Miss Schultz has had to explain the mistake many times in the past week. We don't know whether Miss Schultz has any intentions of getting married soon, but the man who is fortunate enough to get her will get a good wife. An Anniversary. The fourth anniversary of the organization of the general Epworth League will be celebrated in the M. E. church of this place on Sunday evening, May 14th, by the following program: Anthem.....Choir singing.....League Prayer.....President Salutory.....Miss Lou Foust Singing.....Miss Lou Foust Working of the League.....Rev. P. J. Slattery Recitation.....Miss Elsie Ross Song.....League Recitation.....Miss Olive Jones Solo.....Miss Lizzie Binney Recitation.....Miss Nellie McKee Recitation.....Miriam Harries Collection.....Lloyd Gourley Closing Hymn.....Benediction.

Dempsey and son, Milton, went to Bennezette yesterday to visit Irven Dempsey and enjoy a few days fishing for trout. Dr. J. S. Bardwell, of Ridgway, brother-in-law of Ed. D. Seeley and Mrs. O. F. Smith, visited in Reynoldsville several days last week. James Calhoun, of Snyder township, Republican candidate for nomination for county treasurer, was in Reynoldsville several days last week. David Hartman was called to Adams county, in the Eastern part of the State, last week on account of the death of a sister, Mrs. Polly Van Dyke. Orlando A. Gray was at New Brighton last week attending the State Council of the O. U. A. M. as a delegate from the Reynoldsville Council 304. Dr. B. E. Hoover and wife spent Sunday with Daniel Foust's family at New Bethlehem. The Dr. returned Monday and Mrs. Hoover will remain all week. Rev. and Mrs. E. Cressman, of Ridgway, formerly of this place, were in town this week. Rev. Cressman is now pastor of the First Evangelical Lutheran church of Ridgway. James Mitchell, of Lawsonham, superintendent of the Avondale Coal Works, was in Reynoldsville several days last week and visited Big Soldier and the other mines in the section. A. J. Postlethwait, a Reynoldsville pedagogue, went to Punxsutawney Monday and from there he will go to Pittsburg this week, where he expects to remain during the summer. Dr. J. W. Coleman, who has been a student at the Jefferson Medical College, at Philadelphia for three terms, returned to Reynoldsville this week a graduate from that institution. Miss Jennie McEntire, who has been at Pittsburg for nearly six months, returned to Reynoldsville last week to remain for a time. Sickness in Jasper McEntire's family called her here. Mrs. M. B. Wynkup is attending the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society convention in the M. E. church at Punxsutawney to-day. She is a delegate from the Reynoldsville society. While the school bell was performing its duty Monday morning in announcing the school hour, it became detached from its holdings and fell to the ground. Fortunately there was no one hurt and there was not much damage done. Prof. A. A. Wingert, of Chambersburg, Franklin county, Pa., who taught the Rathmel school the last term, left for his home yesterday. Next week he will visit the city where girls are noted for big feet—Chicago. Prof. is a gentleman and scholar. M. C. Kaufman, news agent on the Low Grade passenger trains, went to Williamsport yesterday as a delegate from Century Council, No. 789, of this place, to the Grand Council Royal Arcanum of Pennsylvania, which is in session in that city to-day. J. C. Hirst, who went to Tawas City, Mich., the first of March where, if he liked the place, he expected to move his family, only remained a short time. From there he went to Rimerton, along the Allegheny river, as soon as he can get a house. Will G. Kline, of this place, who has been and is a great seeker after knowledge, has just returned from the Clarion Normal. He will take a rest from his studies for a few months and assist his father on the farm. In the fall he will be registered as a law student. He is a bright young man. Mrs. D. H. Krumanoeker, nee Lizzie Woodring, of White Haven, is visiting her parents at this place, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Woodring. This is the first time Mrs. Krumanoeker has been here since she was married, January 20, 1892. Mr. Woodring went to Driftwood yesterday to meet his daughter and little grandson. S. T. Dougherty went to West Virginia Monday morning. Mr. Dougherty has purchased what will be valuable land there after while. The valuation of land in the section where he bought has increased five dollars per acre since February. He expects to spend most of his time there from this on and may possibly move his family to Pittsburg to live. Experiences On the Rail. Last Wednesday evening on train No. 5 on the A. V. R'y, in charge of Pat. Horn as engineer and M. J. McEntire, conductor, was running at a good speed just above Panocest the train made a quick stop. Up went the car windows and a rush was made for the doors to see what was the matter. A short distance in the rear of the train something was lying in a heap in the middle of the track. Oh, horror! had another victim been run down by the merciless iron horse? A man, woman and little girl who lived in a house hardly ran out and the conductor and a number of passengers ran back to look at what they supposed to be the mangled remains of something. It was a sheepskin, and nothing more. The engineer and fireman avow that some one pulled the "stop bell" on them. No one in the train could be found who had pulled the bell or who had seen anyone pull it. If the bell did ring, was it the work of a ghost? The sheepskin was laid across the rail so that the engineer and fireman could not tell what it was, and to be on the safe side Horn applied the air, but he will not give in that the bell did not ring. Pat Horn is a little man but he can haul a passenger or freight train over the road as fast as any of them, in fact a little too fast for real comfort when behind time. Railroad men are ever and anon having experiences. In the early days of the Low Grade railway when considerable oil was shipped over the road and freight trains ran on through to Renovo, Pat Horn made the fastest run ever made on the P. & E. railroad. In those days stub switches were used which run a train off the track if turned wrong. There were two sections off the Low Grade, Horn was hauling the first section, which pulled in on a siding six miles this side of Renovo to pass a P. & E. train, the second section being too late to make that siding. After the P. & E. train passed Horn started with his train for Renovo and the flagman neglected to turn the switch after the train got out of the siding and it was not until they had pulled into the yard at Renovo that the mistake was discovered. Horn knew that it meant a big wreck and sure death to perhaps three or four of the crew who were following him if that switch was not thrown for the Main track. His brother was firing for him and he said, "here, you get off and let this brakeman fire for me, one Horn is enough on this engine just now," and his engine was cut loose from the train and Horn started back for that switch, and it is said he went back like a whirlwind. His engine had just been stopped and the switch turned when the second train off the Low Grade went thundering by. The crew were surprised to see Horn there with his engine and no train or crew, yet they gave him a friendly wave of the hand as they passed by, little thinking of what an awful death he had barely saved them from. When the Low Grade road was being built Mike J. McEntire was conductor on the gravel train and a reckless fellow by name of Jim Costello was his engineer. A man was killed at Summit tunnel and the gravel train was sent after the corpse to haul it to a town down the road for burial. When the train was ready to start the engineer said: "If this train jumps the track that man has gone to hell, and if it doesn't he has gone to heaven." The train was wrecked and M. J. McEntire had his leg broken in the wreck.
