LOCAL LACONICS.

Ladies slippers 25 cents at Robinson's.
Very pretty tea sets for $4.75 at Schultz's.

A new cigar factory will be opened in Reynoldsville in June.
A full line of low shoes at Robinson's from 75 cents to $1.50.

The Robekahs served dinner and supper in Centennial hall yesterday.
A number of the stores were closed from 12 noon until 5:00 p. m. yesterday.

Bing & Co. have a fine line of latest style dress goods. Call and see them.
A break down at Hopkins mill Monday at noon gave the employees a half holiday.

The program of the Keystone band concert will be published in the STAR next week.
A. L. Peters, of Hopkins, has a new one horse Conklin truck wagon for sale at a bargain.

Attend the Keystone band concert to be given in Reynoldsville opera house Thursday night, June 8th.
A convocation of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias was held at Brookville on Tuesday evening of last week.

The Erie annual Conference of the M. E. church will be held in DuBois in September. Bishop Hurst will preside.
Rev. W. E. Donaldson, of Allegheny, Pa., will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening.

The Woman's Relief Corps served dinner to the members of the Grand Army Post in the G. A. R. hall yesterday.
The present indications are that we will not even make an attempt to celebrate the Glorious Fourth in Reynoldsville. Why not?

The Clarion Assembly will present a better program this year than on any previous year. Make calculations on attending it.
Court convened at Ridgway last week and the civil list was the largest in the history of Elk county. Elk county, generally, is not much on courting.

The young people of the Epworth League cleared nineteen dollars and 22 cents on their ice cream and strawberry festival in the G. A. R. hall Saturday evening.
The contractor for paving Main street, from Hotel Belnap to the Arnold block, has been let as follows: Arthur O'Donnell to furnish the lumber and John M. Hays to pave the street. Mr. Hays expects to commence the work the first of next week.

A fellow well filled with fighting whiskey paraded Main street Friday night looking for a man—whom he did not want to see—that he could "knock out" in a very few minutes. The "cooler" would have been a suitable place for him.
The Reynoldsville Keystone band have just received a new $60.00 Double Bell Euphonium horn. It is a beauty. J. S. Hibbard plays the new horn. This band have two other horns away getting them silver plated. All the other horns in the band are silver plated.

Davis McCracken, a Reynoldsville merchant who has been doing business here these many years, has had the wooden awning taken down in front of his place of business and will put up a canvass awning in its place. Mr. McCracken, ordered the new awning, but it is too large and he returned it for another one.
William S. Perry, of Clayville, brother of Mrs. Mary Ann Barry, of this place, died at his home last Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of almost one year. He had reached the three score and ten line in life's journey; was regarded as an upright man, was a member of the Punsutawney M. E. church, and lived a conscientious christian life. He leaves a wife and two children.

Mountain Queen Temple, No. 28, Ladies of the Golden Eagle, was instituted at DuBois last Thursday evening. Mrs. Robert Sayers, who was elected Noble Templar of Pleasant Valley Temple, No. 25, instituted at Reynoldsville Monday of last week, and Mrs. Joseph Reed, Vice Templar of same lodge, visited the DuBois lodge on the night it was instituted to get better acquainted with their duties.

The Keystone band will give a grand musical concert in the Reynolds opera house Thursday night of next week, June 8th. Everybody should attend and help the boys as they are in need of money to pay some extra expenses lately incurred. The admission will be 15 and 25 cents.

The employees of the tannery have been getting their pay in full every Thursday. Recently the two weeks pay was adopted and now the Company are adopting a new system. Hereafter when the men receive their pay it will not be in full, but two weeks' work will always be kept back.

The young men of the Reynoldsville Juvenile Band cleared fifty dollars out of the dance in the opera house Monday night. The boys have decided that there is more money in giving the people an opportunity to trip the light fantastic toe than giving them a good entertainment. They were out of pocket about thirteen cents on "Old Hickory Farm."

While the woman of the period makes garden and rakes flower-beds and lettuce beds till her back aches, it is disheartening to watch great mobs of abandoned, profligate chickens wandering aimlessly around in the distance, looking up at the clouds and affecting to talk about the weather, while they pretend they don't see anybody digging worms and scratching places for them.

Frank J. Black, the enterprising proprietor of Hotel McConnell, has been using one of the large windows in his hotel as a bulletin to give the base ball news every evening since Saturday. This is rather expensive and Mr. Black may not keep it up very long. Perhaps if those who are interested in ball games will "chip in a little" to help pay for the telegraphic returns it will be kept up during the entire season.

A number of sheep in the Horn Settlement have been killed by dogs during the past month, and some of the farmers are on the warpath for dogs. Henry Iseman had business in that section and his bird dog, "Daisy" went with him. Mr. Iseman stopped to talk with a friend and "Daisy" wandered onto forbidden ground and met instant death. Mr. Iseman does not know who killed his dog, but he feels very much grieved about it.

A free-for-all fight was one of the excitements on East Main street just before six o'clock Saturday evening. No arrests made yet. The town can not afford to hire more than one officer, F. P. Adlesperger, and it is impossible for him to always be where needed. One man should be on duty every evening between the Arnold block and the opera house. An officer can find something to do in the East End of town frequently.

Hotel McConnell bus team are well fed and have little work to do, consequently are "lively" most all the time. One morning last week while being driven in a wagon, one of them playfully kicked-up in front of Hotel Belnap and got its leg over the tongue of the wagon and both horses started to run, but were stopped in front Hotel Dillman by being run into the sidewalk. Thomas Black and Clarence Patterson were on the wagon. Mr. Black jumped and sprained his right ankle badly. Otherwise there was no damage done.

J. C. Williams, who has been in the photograph business in Reynoldsville for several years, has given up that business and moved onto Rev. J. E. Dean's farm, near town, in the house formerly occupied by Chas. T. Dean, who has moved his family to Prescottville. Mrs. Williams has been sick for about a year and a half, and Mr. Williams' health will not permit the close confinement necessary to run his gallery, and hence the doctor advised a change for both of them, and that is why they have moved to the country. Two of their children have the diphtheria very badly.

John S. Barr, of Pinecreek township, Republican candidate for prothonotary, &c., was in Reynoldsville several days last week. In 1872 Mr. Barr was elected sheriff of Jefferson county. He made a good sheriff, but did not make any money out of the office, on the other hand on account of the hard times and his lenient way of dealing with the people who were in trouble, he lost considerable money. He has not asked for an office since that time until now. The ex-sheriff has many friends who are working for him and he feels very sanguine of securing the nomination. Mr. Barr's locks are turning silvery, yet he is about as spry as any of the candidates in the field.

St. Marys, one of Elk county's old towns, is not noted for many magnificent buildings nor an overabundance of business proclivities, and yet it can boast of several things which our own live town might be proud of, viz: good streets, a pretty public diamond, surrounded with a good flag-stone pavement and a large fountain in it and an excellent grand stand from which the brass band of that town weekly play their best music. Hall & Kaul are the business men of St. Marys. Engineers are now at work surveying a new railroad, which, if built, will be from ten to twenty miles long and will be a benefit to St. Marys, as that will be the western terminus of the road and the other end will connect with the A. V. at Bennezzette. This road is not an assured thing yet.

Game Law.

An exchange says that under the new game law book agents may be killed from August 1 to October 1, spring poets from March 1 to July 1, scandal mongers from January 1 to December 1, inclusive, umbrella borrowers from February 1 to May 1. Open season all the year on life insurance agents and picture peddlers.

Close Early.

During the summer months in many towns stores close at 8 p. m., thus giving the merchants and clerks an opportunity to get out to enjoy the fresh air. Why not do that in Reynoldsville? Of course two or three stores will not care to close at that hour unless all close at 8:00 o'clock. Try it for the month of June and see how it works.

Soon Ready for Business.

The safe to be used by the First National bank for the present has been put into the room in Centennial where the business of the bank will be transacted until the first of October, at which time it is expected the new building on corner of Main and Fourth streets will be ready for occupancy. The First National expect to be ready for business in a very short time now.

An Explanation.

We mentioned last week that some potatoes belonging to J. W. Johnson, of West Reynoldsville, had mysteriously disappeared. A little daughter of Chas. Herpel found the potatoes and there being no one around the little "tot" thought some person had lost them and she carried them home. The parents did not know who owned the potatoes until they saw the notice in the STAR.

Ye Faithful Editor.

It was an editor, courteous and faithful, who, on being asked if he had ever seen a bald-headed woman, replied in this manner: "No, I never did. Nor did I ever see a woman waltzing around in her shirt sleeves with a cigar in her teeth and dodging into every saloon she saw. We have never seen a woman go fishing with a bottle in each pocket and sit on the dump ground all day and go home drunk at night. Nor have we ever seen a woman yank off her coat, spit on her hands and say she can whip any woman in town. No, God bless her, she isn't built that way."

Lamp Exploded.

A home in West Reynoldsville narrowly escaped destruction from the fire fiend last Thursday. Miss Katie, daughter of Martin Phalen, used a lamp without a globe on it to heat her curling iron for bangs. She left the lamp burning and went down stairs. The hired girl went up stairs soon after and discovered smoke issuing from the young maiden's room. The lamp had exploded and the fire had already destroyed some of the furniture in the room and was rapidly spreading. If the discovery had been a little later it would have been too late. By quick work the flames were extinguished and the damage confined to one room.

Business Changes.

Several business changes will take place in Reynoldsville inside of the next two weeks. J. C. Williams, the photographer, who has been in business here for a number of years, will move onto Rev. J. E. Dean's farm, near town. M. M. Fisher, the harness maker, will move into the building near Centennial Hall, formerly occupied by Williams' gallery. Thomas Mahoney, a butcher, will open a branch shop in the room now occupied by Fisher's harness shop. Ed. J. Schultze, one of our butchers, intended going out of that business and fitting up the room now used for a meat shop for a billiard parlor, but he has given this up and will continue running his meat shop as heretofore.

Don't Lack Check.

The DuBois people long ago gained a reputation for "cheek" and their actions in regard to the excursion to Clearfield over the new road is only showing that their "cheek" is not getting any less. We would not be surprised if they would take hold of the inaugural train and invite Hon. S. B. Elliott, Mr. George Mellinger and other officials to accompany them. The would-be-newspaper writer who does his best—and that is all that can be expected of any one—to furnish Reynoldsville news to the DuBois Courier, but only succeeds in airing a few personal grievances, has attempted several times to get the business men of our town to hold a meeting and make arrangements to go on the excursion train, but the business men of Reynoldsville are not so everlastingly "cheeky" and will not do anything until they receive invitations from the proper authorities. The invitations were not received in time to issue them before to-day. The allotment for Reynoldsville is one hundred and twenty-five and, in order that the full number may go, it is desired that all who may receive them and not be able to accept shall send them, together with time card and postal enclosed in envelope, to B. R. & P. R'y, care of M. Luedgeran, DuBois, when they can be issued again to others who can go. It is desired, on the part of those directing affairs, that all business men and prominent citizens be invited that the invitations will allow.

A Sewer First.

EDITOR STAR:—I don't often take the liberty to bother you with a communication, and as the sailor's prayer was, "O Lord, I am not one of these fellows that is always asking favors of you, but if you'll save me in this storm, I'll promise not to bother you again." In looking over the columns of the STAR I saw a notice asking for sealed bids for paving Main street, which, I have no doubt, some people may think is just the thing, but let us stop here and look the field over and see if it is the thing or not. Some one may cry out, there is another foggy heard from, he would rather go through the mud clear up to his ears than spend one dollar and enjoy comfort. Not so, my dear readers of the STAR. I am heartily in favor of improving the town, and am always ready to keep my end of the double-tree square, but I wish to say just here, I am opposed to starting wrong. I don't want to see the cart ahead of the horse. In the first place let us do the one thing needful and all the rest shall be added thereto. Now then, while I will admit that there must be something done with our streets, yet I surely think the first step should be to drain the street and then pave it if you think best. Suppose you pave the street now and a Board of Health comes along and says this street must be drained. Will it be policy to cut through the paved street to put in a sewer? The cry is, it will cost too much, we are not able to do it now. On a rough estimate I think it is about 720 feet from the Arnold block to the run, and thirty inch tiling will cost about $3,30 a joint. Thus the tile would cost $1,188.00 Now the property owners will pay for the aforesaid sewer. All it would cost the Borough would be across the alleys and streets.

Last, but not least, will say if we are going to do something, let us do it right and two rights cannot put us wrong. You may pave, you may stone, but as long as you have no sewer to carry off the water, you never will have a sure foundation to build on.

A TAX-PAYER.

Wm. Conrad.

William Conrad, who has been a resident of Reynoldsville almost a quarter of a century, died at his home on Jackson street at eight o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Conrad was born in Berks county, Pa., in January, 1814, and was in his eightieth year when he died. Over fifty years ago he moved onto a farm in the neighborhood of Paradise Settlement where he lived until he came to Reynoldsville. When he first came here he assumed proprietorship of the St. Charles Hotel which stood where Dr. King's residence now stands. He had a family of fourteen children by his first wife. She died over four years ago and four of the children have been laid in the tomb. A little over two years ago he was married to Mrs. McCallister, of Allegheny, who survives him. Mr. Conrad was apparently in his usual health Sunday, but a stroke of paralysis in the evening was too much for his constitution which had been weakened by the storms of many winters and on the following morning death gained the victory. The deceased had been a member of the Lutheran church for many years, though not a regular attendant. The funeral services will be held at his late residence at 9:00 o'clock this morning and his remains will be buried in the cemetery near Ben. Yohe's farm.

Will Wear Badges.

Hereafter all inspectors for the Oil City Fuel Supply Company will wear badges when around inspecting meters. The badge is a nicker one about the size of a policeman's badge and it has the name of the company engraved on it, and it is also numbered. U. G. Scheafnocker's badge is No. 67. The company deem this advisable to protect their patrons from villainous fellows who can go to houses, especially in the early morning in large places, and represent themselves as employees of the company sent out to inspect meters, when their real purpose is to get an opportunity, if possible, to steal at that time or else get the run of the house for future use. There is one case on record where a stranger went to a house in a city with a monkey-wrench in his hand and said he had come to inspect the meter and the unsuspecting lady let him in and he committed a fiendish crime. As the company has issued the edict that the inspector must wear his badge, if you don't know Mr. Scheafnocker, make him show his badge before he can gain an entrance into your house. In this day and age when the imps of the nether regions stalk through our land in broad daylight, we consider that the Oil City Fuel Supply Co. have adopted a good plan to protect their patrons from impostors.

Bob Bardette bids us remember that good things in this world are always cheapest. Spring water costs less than whiskey, a box of cigars will buy two or three Bibles; a state election costs more than a revival of religion; you can sleep every Sabbath morning in church for nothing, but a nap in a Pullman car costs you $2; the circus takes fifty cents, the theater costs you $1, but the missionary box is grateful for a penny; the race horse scoops in $2,000 the first day, while the church bazaar lasts a week, works twenty-five or thirty of the best women in America nearly to death and comes out $40 in debt.

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

ANOTHER MEMORIAL DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED.

Sunday Services Largely Attended—A Large Parade Yesterday.

For years it has been customary in Reynoldsville to hold union memorial services on the Sunday before Decoration Day, and the pastors of town are invited in turn to deliver the sermon. This year Rev. E. T. Dorr, pastor of the Baptist church, delivered the sermon in the Baptist church, which did not hold near all the people who wanted to attend the services. The G. A. R., W. R. C. and S. of V. turned out in a body and numbered over seventy. Rev. Dorr selected his text from II Timothy iv-7, "I have fought a good fight." The Reverend gentleman delivered an excellent sermon. The church was tastefully decorated with stars and stripes and flowers. The singing was good.

Although it has been many years since the smoke of battle has cleared away, yet the noble work done on the battle field by our brave boys has not been erased from the minds and hearts of the citizens of this free land. Memorial Days come and go and the men, women and children, who know not by experience, the hardships of sleeping in the cold with only a blanket wrapped around the shivering body, or a long march through mud and slush, or facing the enemy in a hard battle, join with the remnant of that Grand Army in helping to strew flowers over the graves of departed comrades, and thus pay homage to them for their loyalty to their country. The citizens of Reynoldsville always turn out well on Decoration Day, and yesterday was no exception to the other days, as a large crowd participated in the parade. There were six hundred in line and four hundred others went to the cemetery who did not march. There were at least a thousand people in the cemetery.

The parade formed on Main street as follows: Sunday schools; Reynoldsville Keystone band; J. O. U. A. M.; P. O. S. of A.; O. U. A. M.; Prescottville Cornet band; S. of V.; firing squad; G. A. R.; W. R. C. The parade started on time to the cemetery. At the gates the procession opened ranks and the G. A. R., S. of V. and W. R. C. passed through and gathered the flowers from Sunday school children. They marched around the cemetery and came back near the gates where a monument is reared in memory of the unknown dead and a halt was called and Marshal, Joseph Shaffer, had charge of the exercises which were as follows: Singing by choir, "God Speed the Right;" a short address by Commander Major Epler; music by Prescottville Cornet band; prayer by Chaplain Wilder Boyles; Miss Lizzie Binney sang a solo, entitled, "Tread softly, a soldier's sleeping there," and the choir joined in the chorus; short addresses by comrades, Samuel Sutter, Capt. T. C. Reynolds, Frank K. Mullen and Wilder Boyles. The entire assembly made the hills and valleys ring as they joined in singing, "My country 'tis of thee, Sweet land of liberty, Of thee I sing; Land where my fathers died! Land of the Pilgrim's pride! From every mountain side Let freedom ring!"

The firing squad, which was composed of six Sons of Veterans, fired the salute, Rev. E. T. Dorr pronounced the benediction and the old soldiers proceeded to scatter flowers on the graves of their departed comrades and the remainder of the procession fell in line and marched back to town.

Town Council's Doings.

Special meeting of the Town Council was held last Tuesday evening and the business transacted was to bond the borough for $5,000. The following resolution passed unanimously:

Resolved, That we issue coupon bonds to the amount of $5,000 in sums of $100 each, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. Said bonds to be divided into four payments, viz: $1,000 payable in three years; $1,000 in five years; $1,000 in seven years; $2,000 in ten years.

An act of assembly requires that when bonds are issued that a tax be made for same. On motion a tax levy of two mills will be made for payment of interest and principal on bonds.

We believe it is the intention of Council to pave Main street from the iron bridge to Presbyterian church before they stop, but nothing has been done yet in the matter. The Council have decided, as stated in the STAR two weeks ago, to pave from Hotel Belnap to Arnold block.

W. W. Crissman Withdraws.

LINDSEY, May 29, 1903.

To the Republicans of Jefferson county:—I take this method of announcing to my many friends that I have withdrawn my name as a candidate for the nomination of county treasurer at this time. I do this because my business engagements are such that I cannot spend the time to give the county anything like a thorough canvass. I am deeply grateful to my many friends for their support while I was a candidate. I wish success to the nominee and will do all in my power to insure his election. In withdrawing I have the pleasure of knowing that I have many warm friends who would cordially support me should I be a candidate in the future.

I remain yours, W. W. CRISSMAN.

PERSONALS.

J. Van Reed was at Hiramburg last week.

Dr. J. B. Neale was in Pittsburg this week.

David Postlethwait was at East Brady this week.

Miss Jessie Love visited in Hiramburg last week.

Mrs. E. C. Sencor visited relatives at DuBois last week.

Mrs. Harry H. Mincer was in Brookville last Wednesday.

Prof. W. H. Stamey was at Bradford on business this week.

Miss Myrtle Bloom visited friends at Punxsutawney last week.

Charles Kah spent Sunday with his parents at Fairmount, Pa.

Prof. W. J. Weaver went to Harrisburg on business last evening.

Anron Rodgers, the marble cutter, was at New Bethlehem on Monday.

Clarence A. Repsher, of Punxsutawney, Pa., was in town over Sunday.

Mrs. Thomas Stanley, of East Brady, is visiting friends in Reynoldsville.

Dr. B. E. Hoover was at Winslow, Pa., this week visiting his parents.

Chas. T. Dean expects to go to Illinois this week to remain for sometime.

Wallace Lowther is in town this week. He will go to Clearfield to work.

Mr. and L. M. Simmons spent Sunday at Oil City with Mrs. Simmon's parents.

Miss Mary Cooper has been visiting at Brookwayville during the past week.

Frank and Miss Bertha Barclay, of Big Run, were in Reynoldsville on Monday.

Miss Belle Clark, of Brookville, was the guest of Miss Bertha Ayers during the past week.

Mrs. M. I. McCright, of DuBois, visited Dr. J. S. McCright's family at this place last week.

Mrs. G. F. Cant is visiting her parents at Punxsutawney. Mr. Cant spent Sunday in that village.

Mrs. M. Carey has returned home from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jas. M. Marsh, at Silgo, Pa.

Daniel Brewer, of Perry township, Republican candidate for county commissioner, spent Sunday in Reynoldsville.

Miss Isabella Arnold and Miss Britta Butler were at Brookville last Wednesday attending the Sunday school convention.

Mrs. Harry P. Thompson, of Portland Mills, Pa., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sutter, at this place during the past week.

Joseph McKernan, baggage master at the A. V. R'y station, is laying off this week and Hubert Farroll is "thumping" baggage in his place.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Miller, Mrs. Mary Ann Barry and son, William S. Barry, were at Clayville last Thursday attending the funeral of William S. Perry.

Mrs. Henry C. Kellar is enjoying a two weeks' visit. She will visit friends and relatives at the following places during her absence: Tarentum, Ford City, and Widnoon.

Mrs. Jessie Lowther, who has been living at Hiramburg, Pa., several years, returned to Reynoldsville last week. She will live with her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Mincer, for the present.

Two Reynoldsville ladies left here Monday for a three months' visit in England. Mrs. James Pomroy will visit at Northumberland, Eng., and Mrs. William Pomroy will visit at Cornwall, Eng.

We mentioned last week that Jas. S. Abernathy was called to Jamestown, N. Y., on account of the death of his wife's father. The funeral took place on Wednesday and on the following morning her brother, William Davis, died. Mrs. Abernathy will not return to Reynoldsville until sometime in July.

Miss Minnie Beer, daughter of R. D. Beer, of West Reynoldsville, who returned to her home at this place last November from Hot Springs, South Dakota, where she had been several years as a telegraph operator, left Reynoldsville last Wednesday morning for the same place in Dakota, where she will again resume her position as telegraph operator. Miss Minnie is a good operator, and in Dakota telegraph companies pay a woman who can do as much work as a man the same wages as a man. Generally women do not get paid for what they can do, but mostly get woman's wages for man's work.

Card of Thanks.

The Commander and comrades of John C. Conser Post 102, G. A. R., desire through the columns of the STAR to extend thanks to the Reynoldsville and Prescottville cornet bands, also the choir for the excellent music furnished during the memorial exercises of yesterday. Neither do we forget the ladies of the Relief Corps, who so gallantly contributed the refreshments which sustain the inner man. Language fails and the simple expression, God bless the noble ladies of the W. R. C. of Reynoldsville, is all we can say. We also extend to the different orders and Sunday schools who participated with us in the solemn exercises our heartfelt thanks. COMMITTEE.
