We visited Emporium last week when the town was handsomely decorated and was well filled with visitors and brass bands. The band tournament was the cause of the elaborate decorations. Judging Emporium from a two hours' visit, when dressed in a festive attire, we cannot but remark that it is a pretty town, but well hemmed in by mountains.

We stated several weeks ago that there was good prospects of a new railroad being built through St. Marys. A charter has been granted to the St. Marys and Southwestern railroad, with a capital stock of $300,000. The road, if built, will run from St. Marys to Croysland and connect with the Clarion River R'y. The directors were elected last week among whom was B. E. Wellendorf, formerly of Reynoldsville. Mr. Wellendorf was also elected chief engineer.

Capt. T. C. Reynolds, who works at the weigh office at Big Soldier, came very nearly crippling himself for life. Tilton works at night and he left the weigh office before daylight last Thursday morning to come home on a coal train. He jumped off the train at the company store, but the darkness and inexperience of jumping off moving trains was too much for him and he took a tumble and his right knee was badly bruised and skinned up.

When Rev. Derr and wife were returning from Johnsonburg last week on B. R. & P. R'y passenger train a little accident happened which frightened them. The train was running by a working train and one of the men had carelessly laid his shovel down on the flat car and the shovel went through the window where Mr. and Mrs. Derr and their baby were sitting. Fortunately no one was injured save a little scratch on the baby's face, made by a piece of glass.

A man may object to being awakened from a peaceful sleep by a feline concert or a dog jubilee about the midnight hour, but when brought back from slumberland by angelic-like music, the man who would "kick" should be ostracized from a civilized community. Last Monday night while enjoying the sweet repose that is only known by the newspaper fraternity, especially the country editor, we were awakened by the most delightful music we have heard for many a day. The music was produced by a dozen young men of our town. Come again.

The Ridgway bank closed its doors last Thursday. It is claimed that the assets of the bank are $304,000.00 and liabilities $216,000.00. The stockholders in the bank are Daniel C. Oyster, of Ridgway, Alfred Short, of North East, and the Hezekiah Horton's estate, of Horton township. The capital stock of the bank is $50,000 and the stockholders are individually liable. W. H. Osterhout and O. B. Grant were appointed receivers. The bank paid interest on deposits and the working people generally had their little savings deposited there. D. C. Oyster is president of the bank.

Mrs. John M. Hays, of Reynoldsville, and her mother, Mrs. Hannah Prescott, of Punxsutawney, left here last Wednesday morning for Randolph, Cedar Co., Neb., where Mrs. Hays' brother, Ed. Prescott, lives. From there they will go to Colridge, Neb., to visit Mrs. Prescott's sister, Mrs. Morrison. Ed. Conser, of Clark, South Dakota, and George Conser, of California, brothers of Mrs. Prescott, will go to Colridge with their families in time to hold a family reunion on the Fourth of July. Mrs. Hays expects to visit Rev. W. P. Murray's family at Omaha before she returns and will also visit the World's Fair. The two ladies do not intend returning to Reynoldsville until the first of October.

No Paper Next Week.

It is customary with all well regulated country newspapers to omit publications two weeks in the year, Christmas time and Fourth of July week, consequently we will not issue a paper next week.

Cut His Leg.

Albert Strouse, son of Noah Strouse, who lives near town, cut an ugly gash in his left leg just below the knee on Monday. Albert was peeling bark and his axe caught on a limb of a tree and glanced off onto a limb of a young man with above results. Albert came to town and Dr. Neale put three stitches in the cut.

Tied at Salamanca.

John M. Strouse, a promising young man of Winslow township, and Georgianna Hurd, a fair maiden of Henderson township, left Reynoldsville on the early train yesterday morning for Salamanca, N. Y., where a preacher will be engaged for a short but important ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Strouse will return to Pennsylvania. A few little obstacles are not to be considered when Cupid makes a success in shooting the arrow of love.

Bet on the Wrong Man.

It is said that a Rathmel lady who was anxious to bet a little money on the prize fight at DuBois last Friday night, and, of course, wanted to win, came to Reynoldsville and hired the fortune-teller who was travelling with the museum that was here last week, to tell her which man to bet on to win. The revealer of future events told the Rathmel woman to bet on McHugh, which she did and is now out of pocket $25.00 in cash. The woman, whoever she is, was served right, in the first place for being foolish enough to believe that the fortune-teller could tell her what was to come to pass, and in the second place for wanting to get some other person's money for nothing.

A Railroad in Jail.

A freight conductor on the Low Grade Div. of the A. V. R'y became enamored with another Low Grade conductor's wife and the twin left East Brady, where both parties live, on Friday morning, but were intercepted by the strong arm of the law at Oil City and brought back to the cages from whence they had flown. A large crowd was at the train to meet them on their return, among whom were about fifty "young Americans" who enjoyed the affair and were loud in demonstrating their feelings in the matter. The runaway husband, in default of $1,000 bail, is now languishing in jail at Clarion. The deserted wife is the party who is making it lively for her fickle husband. The runaway woman left a family of several children.

A Great Show.

Fuller & Crowley's museum visited Reynoldsville last week. The wonderful aggregation is composed of two men, one woman and two children. There is not much "freak" about the boy and girl. The woman, who fixes her hair and dresses in a museum style, claims to be a fortune teller. One of the men has one leg that is shorter than the other. These people are aware of the fact that this world is well filled with people who are easily humbugged. The most wonderful part of the museum is that the proprietors stay in one place four days in succession. In some towns this so-called museum does a good business, but Reynoldsville was not one of the places. Some of the other towns in this section will be honored (?) with a visit from the traveling museum.

Democratic Ticket.

The Democratic primaries were held last Saturday and the county convention was held at Brookville Monday. There was not as much enthusiasm manifested as there was at the Republican primaries, as the only contest of importance was with the candidates for sheriff and commissioners. The Crawford county system of nominating was used at the convention Monday. A committee was appointed to adopt a new system. The following ticket was put in the field: Prothonotary, &c., J. J. Young; register, recorder, &c., W. D. Kane; treasurer, Al. Hawk; sheriff, E. W. McMillen; commissioners, Samuel States, M. F. Woods; auditors, S. R. Kelly, Chas. A. Morris; delegates to State Convention, Messrs. Neale, O'Harran and McCracken. W. K. Fetzer, of Brookville, was elected county chairman.

Struck by Lightning.

During the heavy storm which passed over this place last Sunday evening lightning struck the dwelling house of John Williams on Hill street. The electrical element struck the chimney and ran down the water spout without doing much damage. Mr. Williams was on the porch where the lightning ran down and split a post and he was knocked insensible for a few moments. There are two stove pipe holes in the flue, one in the parlor and the other in the sitting room, and the carpet and other things in the rooms were almost destroyed by soot. The family had all just gone from the sitting room into the kitchen and Mr. Williams stepped onto the porch when the electrical visitor arrived. Two lamps were burning at the time and were both extinguished, leaving the frightened family in total darkness.

Program for Fourth.

The preparations for a big time at Reynoldsville are still going on. So far arrangements have been made for a big parade of fire companies, brass bands, lodges, special Darktown fire brigade, fanatics, industrial exhibition, &c., and various kinds of races, such as bicycle, sack, two-barrow, foot, &c. There will be two games of ball and a grand exhibition of daylight fireworks. Dinner, supper and festival in G. A. R. hall. A dance in the opera house in the evening. The program for the day is as follows:

Wish Them Joy.

J. C. Froehlich, an enterprising merchant tailor of Reynoldsville, and Miss Mary C. Wheeler, daughter of David Wheeler, were married at the home of the bride's parents last Thursday evening at eight o'clock. Rev. E. T. Derr performed the ceremony. On Friday evening the Reynoldsville Keystone band and Prescotville Cornet band both accompanied the happy couple. Mr. Froehlich has been in business here a few years and has won many friends and made a success of his business, while Mary Wheeler has been known in Reynoldsville ever since she was a little "tot" and has the esteem of all who have become acquainted with her. They will remain with Mr. Wheeler's family for a short time and then will go to housekeeping. Some person started the report Tuesday evening that the couple had been married and a crowd of calthumpians went to Mr. Wheeler's residence about eleven o'clock and serenade what they supposed was a newly married pair, but the calthumpians were disappointed. Mr. Froehlich was not there at all. Then some one started the report that all arrangements had been made for the wedding Tuesday evening, even to having the preacher there, but the license did not come. This was false. Thursday evening was the only time set for the wedding.

After the Canada Thistle.

There was a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture at Bethlehem, Northampton county, last Wednesday and Thursday. James McCracken, the member from this county, read a paper on the Canada thistle, having previously been appointed to investigate the subject. He had been making experiments with this pesky weed and discovered that an application either of sulphuric acid or spirits of turpentine would kill them. He demonstrated his theory to the satisfaction of those present.

Gave Him a Call.

The Presbyterian congregation of Reynoldsville have found a minister whom they think will fill their pulpit successfully and have given him a call. Rev. W. E. Donaldson, of Allegheny, is the gentleman who was selected at the congregational meeting last Wednesday evening. Rev. Donaldson has not accepted the call yet, but it is expected that he will do so. The entire congregation seem to be well pleased with Mr. Donaldson. He is a married man and has a family of several children.

Birthday Surprise.

Last Sunday marked the sixtieth anniversary of Ed. D. Seeley's birthday. His wife decided to give Ed. a little surprise and a few gentlemen friends were invited to call about six o'clock Monday evening. The guests were all at the house when Mr. Seeley went home to supper. An excellent meal was served and a good time had by all. A new leather-covered rocking chair remained in the house after the visitors had departed.

Fare One Way.

In accordance with its usual liberal policy, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh R'y will this year sell excursion tickets for the 4th of July holidays, between all stations on their line, at a single fare for the round trip. Tickets will be sold on July 2nd, 3rd and 4th, good for return passage until July 5th, 1893.

Taking Testimony.

John VanVliet, of Brookville, who was appointed by the Court as master and examiner in the preliminary injunction served on the school board of Reynoldsville, came to town yesterday and is taking testimony in the case at M. M. Davis' office. Mr. VanVliet is to report the law and facts in the case.

A Good Lecturer.

Rev. J. Bell Neff lectured in Centennial Hall last evening to a small, but appreciative audience. His lecture, "Luck and Pluck," was filled with eloquence, wit, humor and good advice. Those who stayed away certainly missed an excellent lecture.

More Paving.

The council held a special meeting last evening and decided to do more paving on Main street, as follows: From iron bridge to Belnap House to connect onto what has already been paved, and from Arnold corner to Presbyterian church.

Will Elect Teachers.

The Reynoldsville School Board will meet at Seeley, Alexander & Co.'s bank at 1:30 p. m., Thursday, July 6th, 1893, for the purpose of electing teachers for the ensuing term. JOS. M. CATHERS, Sec.

MEDITATE ON FACTS.

Must Have More Dwelling Houses—The School Question a Momentous One.

As is well known a Board of Trade was organized in Reynoldsville several months ago and various committees were appointed to look after the different interests of the organization. The committee on manufactures have not been idle but have been quietly making efforts to induce several manufacturing establishments, that are looking for new locations, to come to Reynoldsville, among which is a carriage manufacturing concern of Carlisle, Pa. Last week H. H. Lockwood, of Carlisle, came to this town for the purpose of looking around with a view of moving the carriage manufactory, which he represents, to our town. Mr. Lockwood was well pleased with Reynoldsville and the inducements offered for a carriage factory. He said that coal was a hundred per cent cheaper here than where he is now located, freights cheaper from Pittsburgh than from Philadelphia to Carlisle, and ash, hickory and other wood used in manufacturing carriages from one hundred to one hundred and fifty per cent cheaper here than where now located. He also said that there was no reason why Reynoldsville should not be the largest manufacturing town in the state. Personally, Mr. Lockwood would like to move to our town, but there are two disadvantages confronted him which will in all probability rob Reynoldsville of an establishment that would be a great boon to the town. The obstacles are lack of houses to accommodate the sixty-five families that would come with the carriage factory, and the condition of our schools. The men who work in the factory are all skilled workmen and get good wages and want good houses to live in. They are a class of men who believe in giving their children a good common school education.

What is an obstacle in getting the carriage factory into the place that will be of much value to our town. What shall we do? Will the money men of town build good dwelling houses to rent, which are even now in demand, or will they keep their money under lock and key, is one of the important questions that now stare the town's future in the face. And in the second place how under heaven is the school question going to be settled? Will the school board and citizens reach an amicable settlement, or will the "high" continue? is a momentous question not only for the interest of the children of our town but also for the town's best welfare. If Reynoldsville is ever to become a better town than it now is the people must aid in advancing its interests. A town that amounts to anything now days must keep up with the times in improvements. Good school buildings, sewerage, paved streets, street car lines, &c., are some of the demands of this age. The man who advocates such improvements for Reynoldsville is met with a howl, "that is too expensive" or "that is not the way it should be done" &c., &c. The enterprising business men of our town must arise above the current of non-improvement or sooner or later all will go down together. True Reynoldsville is a live town for its size, but we should not be satisfied until we become a city of ten or fifteen thousand people and have many manufactures within our borders.

Card of Thanks

I take this method of expressing my gratitude to the Republicans who stood by me so nobly during the recent primary campaign. I feel complimented for the large vote received considering all the effort made for the nomination. Although unsuccessful, yet I am a faithful Republican and will support the ticket now in the field. I take my defeat gracefully. Respectfully, Sandy Valley, Pa. W. T. Cox.
