The name Chautauque is a contraction of an Indian phrase meaning "a foggy place." Have you ever visited the lake? The Clarion Assembly will hold its annual session on its grounds near Strattanville, Pa., from July 19 to August 9. Excellent lectures, instruction in the Chautauque Normal Union course of study and meetings in the interest of the C. L. S. C. daily. Chaplain McCabe will make two addresses on July 20, morning and afternoon. Everybody invited.

The question is being asked, why there could not be a law to protect bank depositors as effectually as nonholders are protected under the United States banking law. In Scotland there is a law which makes each stockholder responsible for the bank's liabilities to the full extent of his personal fortune. This would do no harm to the honest and careful banker and would prevent the dishonest one from living in affluence after he had ruined the people who had trusted him.

An exchange has made up a list of nine classes of people who are no good to a town. First, those who go out of town to do their trading. Second, those opposing improvements. Third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business. Fourth, those who imagine they own the town. Fifth, those who think business can be done without advertising. Sixth, those who deride public spirited men. Seventh, those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves. Eighth, those who oppose every public enterprise that does not benefit themselves. Ninth, those who seek to injure the credit of a fellow townsman.

"Home," says Robertson, "is the one place in all this world where hearts are sure of each other. It is the place of confidence. It is the place where we tear off that mask of guarded and suspicious coldness which the world forces us to wear in self-defense; where we pour out the unreserved communication of full and confiding hearts. It is the spot where expressions of tenderness gush out without any sensations of awkwardness and without any dread of ridicule. Let a man travel where he will, home is the place to which his heart untrammelled fondly turns. He is to double all pleasure there. He is to double all pain. A happy home is the single spot of rest which a man has upon this earth for the cultivation of his noblest sensibilities."

The 20th annual session of the Chautauque Assembly will lack none of its interests on account of the World's Fair. Great improvements have been made on the grounds since last year, among which is the system of sewerage that cost $36,000, the new $22,000 amphitheater, which in comparison with the old one is like an Indian wigwam beside a palace. In the frame work of the amphitheater there are two hundred tons of steel, and to seat and enclose this skeleton 500,000 feet of lumber and four tons of nails have been used. The immense structure is covered with steel sheeting. Long lines of sidewalks have been made. These are concrete, and made in the highest style of that art. The cement used was imported from Germany. Chautauque is a delightful place to spend a week or two during the hot season, and while you are enjoying the fresh breeze, there is a fine array of the best musical talent, orators, &c., that the country affords, which you have the privilege of hearing free. If you have never visited Chautauque, by all means go this season.

I'd like to be a boy again, without a woe or care, with freckles scattered on my face, and hayseed in my hair; I'd like to rise at four o'clock and do a hundred chores, and saw the wood and feed the hogs, and lock the stable doors; and herd the hens and watch the bees and take the mules to drink; and teach the turkeys how to swim, so that they would not sink; and milk about a hundred cows and bring in wood to burn, and stand out in the sun all day and churn and churn; and wear my brother's cast-off clothes, and walk four miles to school, and get a licking every day for breaking some old rule, and then go home again at night and do the chores once more, and milk the cows and feed the hogs and mules galore; and then crawl wearily upstairs to seek my little bed, and hear dad say, "That worthless boy! He doesn't earn his bread!" I'd like to be a boy again, a boy has so much fun, his life is just one round of mirth, from rise to set of sun. I guess there's nothing pleasanter than closing stable doors, and herding hogs and chasing bees and doing evening chores.—Ex.

Sandy Valley. Mrs. Ella Beebe, of this place, spent Friday with friends at West Liberty. Dora Beebe, of this place, spent the past Sunday with friends at Horntown. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coax and son, of Pittsburg, are visiting relatives at this place.

Cal Guthrie has purchased a new mower with which he is doing some very fine work. The woods are swarming with berry pickers, all anxious to see who can "get their pail full first."

Mrs. Lucy Case and daughter, Cora, of Brookville, visited the family of Wm. Bonner, at this place, during the past week.

Ellis Shoemaker "stole eggs and bought a new buggy." Ellis thinks it is pretty nice, but is afraid to take it out for fear it will get muddy.

Mrs. Myrtle Rhodes and daughter, of Falls Creek, visited Mrs. Rhodes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Dean, at this place during the past week.

Mrs. Winfield Horn, of this place, has just returned home from Kittanning, to which place she was called to visit the deathbed of her mother, Mrs. Rachel Hunter.

We suppose that Sandy Valley is not an exception to the general rule of cities in regard to the weather. Our large, industrial town is very warm nowadays, although the air is cooled by an occasional shower of rain.

Delegates were elected last Sunday to represent the M. E. S. S. of this place at the convention at Grove Summit, August 3rd. Those chosen were Mrs. Caldwell and W. T. Cox, but as Clista says that Bill cannot go unless she goes, we do not know what he will do. We sincerely hope that he will conclude to take her along as we do not wish to stop harvesting to bury him.

Miss Netta Coax, of this place, returned home Friday last from Pittsburg, where she has been attending college during the past three months. Netta was heartily welcomed by her many friends here, all being very glad to see her smiling face among us once more and to listen to her telling of the manner in which they hoe corn and potatoes "all the way down to Pittsburg."

The funeral of Mrs. Rachel Hunter, of Kittanning, which took place Saturday of last week at Sandy Valley, was attended with all the ceremony due a beloved relative or friend, as a last token of love and esteem. Mrs. Hunter was formerly a resident of this place, being a daughter of Mr. Peter Cox, one of the oldest settlers of Sandy Valley. A husband and daughter are left to mourn her death. By her own request she was laid beside her mother, Mrs. P. Cox, who died the 16th of last September. We extend our sympathy to those so quickly bereft of one they held most dear.

The Memorial Home Again.

(Brookville Jeffersonian Democrat.) The following communication relative to the Memorial Home, at Brookville, is from the secretary of the Woman's Relief Corps Department of Pennsylvania:

Editor Jeffersonian Democrat: DEAR SIR.—In an article in your paper of June 8th, "They Make No Concession," you state that "there was to have been a meeting of the directors of the Memorial Home at the home building last Friday &c, and that the purpose was to consider the matter of turning over the title to the property, to the Relief Corps of the state, and giving that organization a large share in the management of the institution."

Your informant was altogether mistaken both as to the meeting and its object, as it was not a meeting of the directors, but a special meeting of the incorporators of the Memorial Home, called for the purpose of considering the resolution passed by the W. R. C. convention at Lebanon providing for the control and perpetuation of the Memorial Home association, and by which each corps in the state can have a membership and equal representation in the association. We are glad to say that the resolution was passed with but one dissenting vote. This resolution gives each corps in the state, not only a representation, but a membership in the association, upon the payment of $25.00 which is to be used to liquidate the debt of $5,000 which still remains upon the home property; and this membership continues as long as the corps shall exist, with no further payment. Many corps have already become members of the association, and we hope that every corps in the dept will come forward and share the responsibility of providing for the helpless people now in the home. We deeply regret that a comrade of the grand army of the republic should advise the W. R. C. to withdraw from the home all their support, knowing if they do so, it means the closing of the doors of the home and the returning of the children to the poverty from which they have been rescued and all the evils which result from a neglected, uncared for life, and the old people to the almshouses where many of them were when the home was opened. In justice to those who have had the interests of the home at heart, we ask you to give this a place in the columns of your paper.

Very Respectfully,

ABBIE LYNCH.

To the Cities by the Sea via the P. R. R.

On July 27th next the second of the popular 12-Day Excursions to the seashore will leave Pittsburg by special train at 8.50 A. M., arriving in Philadelphia at 7.16 that evening, where the night may be spent, and any regular train taken the next day for the shore. The tickets will be valid for return passage for twelve days, and a choice of destinations allowed—whether Atlantic City, Cape May, Sea Isle City, or Ocean City. The rate of $10 from Pittsburg and proportionately low rates from other places is remarkably cheap, and affords an excellent opportunity for an economical trip to the ocean.

These rates apply on regular trains leaving Pittsburg at 4.30, 7.00 and 8.10 P. M., or on special train leaving at 8.50 A. M. on the above mentioned date. The special train leaves Clearfield at 9.38 A. M., tickets $8.90.
