WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1893.

"The trouble with the man who knows nothing is that it takes him so long to find it out."

The attendance at the World's Fair is on the increase. The increase last week over the week before was something like 110,000.

We need not go to some neighboring town to get proof for the statement that as cats, mousing, pay no attention to the passing elephant, so faultfinders allow a whole menagerie of virtues to pass them unnoticed.

Richard Winlock, of Heath township, was elected by the Democratic county committee of Jefferson, which met at Brookville on Monday, as a delegate to the State Convention which meets in Harrisburg the 19th of September.

It has been said, and truthfully to, that we live to-day, as it were, in a great social university. Aids to knowledge are all about us. The ploughman has better opportunities than the student in the middle ages, or even in our colonial times.

Here is some excellent advice from an unknown source: "Keep clear of personalities in general conversation. Talk of things, objects and thoughts. Do not needlessly report ill of others. The smallest minds occupy themselves with personalities. There are family boards where a constant process of depreciating, assigning motives, and cutting up of character goes forward. They are not pleasant places. One who is healthy does not wish to dine at such a dissecting table. There is evil enough in man, God knows; but it is not the mission of every young man or woman to detail and report it. Keep the atmosphere as pure as possible, and fragrant with gentleness and charity."

The Hindu places a clock in his show-rooms, not because he ever desires to know what the hour is but because a clock is a foreign curiosity. Instead, therefore, of contenting himself with one good clock, he will perhaps have a dozen in one room. They are signs of his wealth, but they do not add to his comfort, for he is so indifferent to time that he measures it by the number of bamboo lengths the sun has traveled above the horizon.

A full line men's leather boots at Robinson's.

At reasonable prices. I will sell one heavy mare and colt four years old, one horse four years old, one horse three years old, two mares eight years old, one mare colt two years old.

Go to Riston's for ammunitions of all kinds.

A Woman Swindler. Look out for a well dressed lady traveling through the state working all the towns. She comes in and offers to give you instructions in painting and sells you a lot of material, gives a few instructions, goes on to the next house and so on until she has worked the town and then she skips.

The people of Reynoldsville and vicinity know when they have a good thing; that accounts for the great increase in business at Reed's shoe store.

Ladies slippers 25 cents at Robinson's. Horace G. Miller, of the Punxsutawney News, and Miss Lenore Stockdale, of the same place, were married as the closing exercise of an Epworth League meeting in the M. E. church, of their town, on the 15th inst.

All persons indebted to me will please call and settle before Sept. 1st and save cost of collection.

A Curious Sentence.

The following curious sentence, "Sator aropo tenet opera rotas," is pretty bad Latin, but may be freely translated, "I cease from my work; the sower will wear away his wheels."

It has these peculiarities: First—It spells backward and forward the same.

Second—The first letter of each word spells the first word.

Third—The second letter of each word spells the second word, and so on with the third, fourth and fifth.

Fourth—the last letters read backward spell the first word; the next to the last the second word, and so on throughout.

Fifth—There are just as many letters in each word as there are words.

A Few Here.

When a boy begins referring to his father as "old man" it is time to begin watching him. It is an unmistakable symptom of developing freshness which should be nipped in the bud.—Oil City Bizzard.

There are a few boys in Reynoldsville who need the pruning knife applied.

Ten pin hat racks for 10 cents, at H. J. Nickle's.

A Reduction of Wages.

The Northwest mining company has posted a notice at Crenshaw that wages are to be reduced shortly. The notice states all employees who do not care to submit to the cut are at liberty to seek employment elsewhere. It does not say what the reduction will be, but it is expected that the order will take effect the first of next month.

"Fire! Fire!"

REYNOLDSVILLE, Pa., July 5, 1893.

To all whom it may concern: My dwelling house on Hill street, Reynoldsville, Pa., was struck by lightning on June 25th and was insured in N. G. Pinney's agency, Brookville, Pa., by Walter Spry, solicitor. The loss was paid Thursday and I can recommend Pinney's agency as prompt and reliable.—10-6. JOHN WILLIAMS.

Customers Too Particular.

Some years ago the proprietors of a so called "ulster house" in London placed in their windows a placard setting forth a new rule of their establishment, namely, that no orders given by Americans would be executed unless the orders were paid for beforehand. The proprietor on being interviewed declared that American ladies were much too hard to please—infinite more so than English ones. They insisted upon having their things made to fit or they refused to take them. "I had an ulster sent back to me the other day, for instance," he remarked, "by an American customer merely because it was longer in front than it was at the back." Only that and nothing more!—Lucy Hooper in Home Journal.

The Name of Stebbins.

The Stebbins family is fairly numerous. It is not now a classic name. Its owners wear it ignorantly. More the shame for them. It is by right a classic name, borne as it was by the first of Christian martyrs—St. Steven, sometimes spelled Stephen. Steven is the Dutch way of spelling it. Spell it in Spanish—Esteban. Drop the initial silent e and then you have Steban. Among the ignorant the step to Stebbins is very short. And the honorable name of St. Steven takes on degradation, even as the fine old Norman-French name D'Aubaine becomes the homely Dobbins.—Davenport Democrat.

Died For Love at Ninety-nine.

At Rostoff, on the Don, Prokop Dogobionko, an old corporal of the Russian army, aged 99, committed suicide by hanging. Before perpetrating the deed, however, he drank a litre of spirits, according to Russian custom. Dogobionko had fought in the battles of the Beresna and of Leipzig. Preparations were being made at Rostoff to celebrate the corporal's birthday when the old gentleman made away with himself. Under Dogobionko's spirit bottle a letter was found which stated the motive for the suicide. He was madly in love with a girl of 16, who would have nothing to do with him and who had styled him an "old gentleman."—Petersburg Herald.
